FINLAY FIELD IS NAME TO BE GIVEN GROUNDS

High School Students and Alumni Honor Former Athletic Coach.

DEDICATION NOV. 18

Overwhelming Vote Received in Favor of Naming New Athletic Field for Roseburg Dentist.

By a vote of more than three to one the name of "Finlay Field" has been approved by upper class students and alumni of the Roseburg high school for the new athletic grounds in West Roseburg. The name is selected in a spirit of gratitude for the services given by Dr. Gilbert C. Finlay, local dentist, over a long period of years in coaching and encouraging athletics in the city and particularly in the schools.

The selection of a name was submitted by the school board to the juniors and seniors of the high school and to former students and graduates, a group of ten suggested names being offered for a choice of one. The name Finlay Field was selected overwhelmingly, this title receiving more than three-fourths of all the votes cast.

Although the final approval of the name lies with the school board, it is certain that in the face of the great sentiment in favor of the name the school board will officially designate the grounds in accordance with the vote.

Dr. Finlay, for whom the field is being named, has long been a prominent figure in the athletic life of the community. He came to Roseburg in the summer of 1911 and that fall, while starting a dentistry practice in Roseburg, volunteered his services as coach of the high school basketball team. From that time on Roseburg won the southern Oregon championship with amazing regularity, its teams exhibiting unusual skill and ability, as a result of the coaching received.

Dr. Finlay, himself a good athlete, particularly in baseball and basketball, encouraged the development of athletics outside the school, and was one of the organizers and active members of the old Roseburg athletic club which for many years was a prominent organization of the city. This club, made up largely of graduates from high school and college, put out some strong basketball teams, and games with the high school boys and outside basket tossers were of annual occurrence.

Some of the leading athletes in Roseburg were developed under the coaching of Dr. Finlay. He exhibited a surprising ability to take young men apparently having little qualities for athletic brilliance, and making from them a superior team possessing the fighting qualities which are so vitally necessary in school athletics.

In 1916 Roseburg was admitted to the state basketball conference and after having won the southern Oregon championship for several years went to Salem for the first time to try for state honors. In the first all-state tournament the Roseburg team walked away with the first prize in an easy fashion.

Since that year Roseburg has had a paid athletic coach in the high school the greater part of the time. Dr. Finlay, however, has been sought by practically all of these mentors for advice and aid (Continued on page six.)

ONE OUT OF EVERY 100 IN CHICAGO IS ENGAGED IN CRIME

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Crime in Chicago costs the city so much each year that it could well afford to pay each of its estimated 3,000,000 crooks $20,000 annually, or $60,000,000 to leave town, Charles H. Rolden, president of the Chicago crime commission, told a church audience yesterday.

Holden estimated that approximately one per cent of the city's 3,000,000 population are engaged in criminal pursuits and asserted that crime had increased here 100 per cent since 1910.

EARLY FREEZE IS OCTOBER VISITOR IN MIDDLEWEST

Blinding Snowstorms Halt Trains in Different States—Three Men Perish.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—October's reputation as a month of indolent sunshine and placid autumn beauty has gone by the boards this year. Instead of an intermezzo has come the discordant notes of the tempest driving snow and cold weather into the middlewest. Death even has lurked in the swirling snowflake harbingers of bleak winter days.

Freezing temperatures generally were sprinkled through the prairie and mountain states last night, the lowest mark being registered at Cheyenne, Wyo., 18 degrees. Denver reported 24 and Rapid City S. D., 26, among other low marks. While rising temperatures were predicted for today over most of the territory the cold apparently was progressing eastward, with lower mercury marks in prospect in the lake states until Tuesday.

Three deaths resulted from winter's first general visit to the northwest, two men being killed at Red Wing, Minn., and one at Minneapolis, by trains while they were blinded by snow. From one to four inches fell in various Wisconsin and Minnesota communities.

Nine men, marooned at the summit of Pike's Peak when the automobile highway was closed for traffic by heavy snow, were rescued unharmed by a special "rooster" train from the Rockies. A few hardy mountaineers, however, are now winterfast, except to the few hardy mountaineers.

INJURED FATHER DEMANDS MORE PAY AFTER CHILD BORN

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 19.—Chief Justice McBride of the supreme court has issued an alternative writ of mandamus in the case of George J. Casady of Portland against the state industrial accident commission, in which Casady, to whom accident insurance is being paid by the state, demands further compensation on account of a child born since the injury of Casady. The return date has not yet been fixed.

BABY COSTS $8 PER MONTH FIRST TWO YEARS OF ITS LIFE

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—An ingenious statistician has found that to every family each baby costs $8 per month extra during the first two years of its life.

The figures are effective only after the stork has performed his chief duty and his assistant, the doctor, has rendered his bill, together with that of the nurse. They also are based on the assumption that the mother does not indulge in the luxury of a maid.

REDUCE SURTAX TO 20 PER CENT MELLON'S IDEA

Treasury Secretary Gives Plan for 300 Million Dollar Slash.

PRODUCER FAVORED

Would Abolish Estate and Gift Taxes—Less Securities—Less For the Autos.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—A tax reduction of $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 was recommended to congress today by Secretary Mellon.

Without attempting to lay down definite schedules, he suggested that a reduction in surtaxes to 20 per cent in place of present 37 per cent would not cripple the treasury.

This would reduce the maximum tax, surtax and normal, levied on the largest income to 25 per cent. It now is 42 per cent.

The secretary also advocated these additional changes: Repeal of the estate tax. Repeal of the gift tax. Repeal of five levies on trucks, tires and accessories.

Repeal of a number of miscellaneous taxes, such as that on works of art, brought from abroad. Repeal of the publicity section of the income tax law.

He opposed repeal of the tax on tickets to theaters and other places of amusement and various other proposals for amendment of the present law, including any extension in the jurisdiction of the board of tax appeals.

The secretary's recommendations, based upon the conclusion of treasury officials, that a surplus of $250,000,000 is in prospect this year in federal revenues, was submitted to the house ways and means committee at the opening of its hearings on tax reform.

He made reference in his statement to an "inequality in taxation," produced by the earned income exemption allowed in the present law, but he added, that if the 20 per cent maximum surtax is accepted, the inequality fostered by the clause giving credit on the incomes below ten thousand dollars as earned incomes "will not be so pronounced."

Against Securities Exemption. The treasury secretary also renewed his advocacy of a constitutional amendment abolishing tax exempt securities. He observed, however, that the amount of outstanding tax exempt securities now is so large—he estimated them at fourteen billion dollars—that the government should attempt taking away the "artificial" advantage held by these securities. Enactment of the proposed 20 per cent surtax will do the work, the secretary added.

The gift tax was characterized by the secretary as one of a "great many artificial restraints and inequalities now in the taxing law." He declared "the excuse for the gift tax would entirely disappear" if the 20 per cent maximum on incomes is adopted.

Autos Show Aid Road Upkeep. "The $35,000,000 might be taken off," Mr. Mellon said, "but so long as the government is contributing the $90,000,000 a year to the roads on which these autos run, they certainly ought to pay their way."

Missing Eureka Girl Now Believed Slayer of Male Escort on Hunting Trip

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 19.—District Attorney A. W. Hill stated today that he was in possession of conclusive evidence that Henry Sweet, the Dyerville youth who was found shot to death in his automobile on the highway south of here a week ago, was killed by a bullet from the rifle of Miss Carmen Wagner, his hunting companion. Miss Wagner has been missing since the shooting.

The rifle, carefully concealed, was found yesterday in a clump of scrub oaks near the shooting scene. One ejected shell, which fit the rifle, was found behind a chicken house 75 feet from the point where Sweet was found. The shell corresponded in age and texture with the five remaining in the magazine of the rifle.

JUDGE BAGLEY RESISTS U'REN'S PREJUDICE CLAIM

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 19.—Constitutionality of the law permitting affidavits of prejudice to be filed against judges and compelling the judges in such cases to relinquish the bench to another jurist is attacked in the case of W. S. U'ren against Judge George J. Bagley of Washington county.

The case grows out of a divorce proceeding of Byron Clifford Saltus against Ethel Gertrude Saltus in which U'ren submitted an affidavit of prejudice against Bagley. The latter as judge of the court refused to recognize it and U'ren filed original proceedings in mandamus in the state supreme court, an alternative writ being issued by Chief Justice McBride on October 9. Bagley today filed a demurrer to the writ.

Mrs. Putman told police that they had stopped to repair a minor accident to their automobile when the bandits approached, first to offer assistance and then to rob.

The writer told the police the thieves took from her a set of earrings valued at $1,000, a $500 vanity case, papers worth $4,500 and $75 from her and her companion.

GERMANY SOON TO BE ENTIRELY FREE OF ALLIED TROOPS

PARIS, Oct. 19.—Evacuation of the Cologne bridgehead, now held by British troops, is expected to result from the agreement reached in the security conference, although it was said in French official circles today that no promise, verbal or written had been made to that effect.

Foreign Secretary Chamberlain of Great Britain and French Foreign Minister Briand, who returned today from Locarno, were discussing with Premier Painleve this afternoon the question of re-allotting the territory in the Rhineland between the forces of the allied powers after the evacuation of Cologne. This was taken to mean that the bridgehead would be returned to the Germans within a few weeks.

Renewal of German cooperation in the administration of occupied territory is being considered by the allies. The desire of the latter is, it is said, in official circles, to give the Germans every satisfaction possible in the administration of German territory on the left bank of the Rhine.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The preamble to the pact negotiated at the Locarno security conference declares it is the desire of high contracting parties "to guarantee protection and security to the peoples who suffered under the scourge of war from 1914 to 1918 and to safeguard peace in those areas which have repeatedly been the scenes of European conflicts."

The contracting parties also are "actuated by a desire to assure the signatories of a complete guarantee of such treaties within the scope of the covenant of the league of nations."

PARIS, Oct. 19.—Expectations that the evacuation of the Cologne bridgehead would be one of the first tangible results of the security agreement reached at the Locarno conference were strengthened by declarations made by the British foreign secretary, Austen Chamberlain this afternoon after an interview with Premier Painleve.

Mr. Chamberlain said he had talked with the French premier about the "logical consequences of the Locarno security pact," and added that those logical consequences will soon become apparent.

The girls were held as detained witnesses, their bonds being fixed at $500.

NEXT BOXING CARD COMPLETED: DATE FIXED OCTOBER 30

Cal Herman and Duke Evans to Clash in Headliner—Semi-Final Will Be a Hummer.

Friday, October 30th is the date definitely set for Roseburg's next boxing card, Promoter C. H. Clough announced today. Cal Herman, the Salt Lake welterweight who disposed of Ernie Woodward in four rounds at the opening bill two weeks ago, will again be seen in the headliner, and his opponent will be Duke Evans, one of the fastest 145 pounders on the coast, who recently stayed the 10-round limit with Lefty Cooper, the Minneapolis flash and runner-up for the national title.

The bout between Herman and Evans will undoubtedly be a much harder one than the main event of the last card. Herman demonstrated his ability to take much more than the clever Woodward was able to deliver, and Evans, according to his record, has enough speed and power to give Herman a fight.

The semi-final of six rounds, as previously announced, will be between Battling Mitchell, of the S. P. show, and Henry Brown, of former Sutherland fame. Henry is working out daily under the direction of a middle-aged ring veteran, who drifted into our midst several days ago and those who have been watching Henry in action predict that he is going to give Mitchell a real engagement. Mitchell, too, is keeping in tip-top shape, working out daily with capable partners, and his followers are confident that he will make Henry salt the canvas in quick time.

Anyway, it promises to be a real slam-bang affair, no matter which man wins.

Preliminary events will be announced by Promoter Clough later. These will be arranged from local material, and only the boys who display the best stuff will be given a chance to whet the appetites of the spectators.

TO ENTERTAIN TEACHERS

Intelligentsia of New York's Underworld Lands in Police Net, But Carnival of Robbery Goes On

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Intellectual criminals who read Shakespeare, studied higher mathematics, used silencers on their pistols and depended on a rabbit's foot for luck, have been revealed with the capture of 12 of 13 members of the "cowboy" Tessler gang.

The last pair of a dozen under arrest for 28 holdups were taken to night in their luxurious east side apartment, within a block of one of New York's most fashionable sections. Editions of Shakespeare, Boswell's life of Johnson and treatises on higher mathematics were found on the library table. Ropes for tying their victims were under a bed. A rabbit's foot was on the floor. A shillings library was found in the bedroom apartment of "Cowboy" Tessler, their leader.

A woman member of the gang, Hamilton, was the armorer. She kept pistols in good condition, issuing them when needed. This task was delegated to her because she could conceal weapons more easily than a man.

TOM MURRAY SENTENCED TO GALLOWES

Leader of Murderous Break at Penitentiary Will Hang December 18.

FINAL PLEA IN VAIN

Shot at 5 Times in Prison Without Warning, He Claims—Spared Two Guards.

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 19.—Tom Murray, convict, convicted of the murder of Guard John Sweeney in the prison break of August 12, was this morning sentenced by Judge Percy R. Kelly to hang for the crime on Friday, December 18.

The sentence was imposed after Murray had made a stich case in the court, pleading for mercy on his record and his youth. As by the court he had anything to say relative to why he should not be sentenced to pay the extreme penalty, the convict replied.

"Yes, I might say something," said in a clear tone of voice continued.

"The prosecution in this case has tried its best to dig up my criminal record, but the best they have been able to do is to show two crimes, a burglary in California committed when I was 18 years and didn't know any better, and the Florence bank robbery.

"After being released from San Quentin, I went straight for two years before we stuck up the Florence bank.

"Shot at 5 Times in Prison. They have said that I was a killer. In the Florence job we could have killed, but we didn't. During the time I have been in the penitentiary, I have been shot at five times without warning. They would shoot first and talk afterward.

"In the break we could have killed several we didn't even shoot at. I had John Davidson in my power, and if there was any man at the prison I would have reason to kill, it would have been him. But I didn't.

"We could have killed Guard Gardler as he ran ahead of us toward the state hospital to give the alarm, and we could have done the same thing at Monitor and at the Newmans. I could have taken the clothes at the Monitor boys, but I only took a coat and kept my prison pants. There are several who could have killed and kept from giving information about us. But we didn't."

Murray Finches. There was a hush over the crowded court room as Murray spoke. As he finished and stood half facing the court Judge Kelly said:

"The law gives the court no discretion. You are to be delivered to the warden of the Oregon State penitentiary within 20 days and on the 18th day of December you are to be hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may God have mercy on your soul."

Murray finched for the first time during the course of his trial when sentence was pronounced, but he sat down quietly beside Will R. King, his attorney. For 10 minutes prior to the convening of court, Murray sat in the court room, and maintained the same attitude.

Female Who Advertised for Male at Fixed Price of $400 Harvests Big Sucker List and Disappears

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 19.—The mysterious "Jordan" who advertised for a husband of four months' duration to clear up an estate and offered $400 for the use of the man's name, appeared in person at the Capital-Journal office late Saturday evening, claimed the 50 odd letters and telegrams which came for her and disappeared in the night. Only an office boy was present to give her the communications and as a result her identity is still concealed behind the cloak of mystery.

But her opportunities were not all wrapped up in the bundle she received Saturday evening, as since then 49 more communications have been received as well as an additional photograph.

The latest photograph is from

Robert H. Norman, of Oakland, California, and says he is 'ambitious and idealistic and foresees great possibilities and opportunities in life.'

St. Maries, Idaho; Denver, Colorado; Ronan, and Anaconda, Montana; Lincoln, Nebraska; Tracy, California; Marion, Indiana; Omaha, Nebraska; as well as Oakland and San Francisco, were among the latest places to be heard from with applicants for the lady's hand.

Many of the inquiries are approaching the subject carefully. They address their communications to the Capital-Journal directly, inquiring about the woman, something of her antecedents, and in other words, want to be shown before taking the final dip into a venture so surrounded with mystery.

Rose Pastor Stokes Divorces Rich Socialist Husband After Living Like Friendly Enemies

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Throwing off the "mantle of shame," which she considers imposed upon her by law, Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, who stated that only the cessation of mutual love has caused her to be divorced.

The Rose of the Ghetto, cigar worker and reporter who 20 years ago became the wife of J. G. Phelps-Stokes, wealthy socialist and helped him spend his millions in ways that sometimes got her into trouble with the law, in a statement published today, tells why a romance that attracted wide attention ended in divorce court at New York, N. Y., last Saturday with a decree for her husband on the only ground possible under the New York law.

"Though living under the same
