

CLEAN

Perhaps you have considered cleanliness in gasoline as simply freedom from impurities or foreign substances. That is important, certainly. But it isn't the whole story. True cleanliness in gasoline means much more than physical cleanliness. Associated Gasoline is distilled in such a way as to be given a scientifically correct "chain" or series of "boiling points." Starting with the more volatile parts, these boiling points gradually rise, in unbroken sequence, on up through the heavier or power-producing parts or "fractions."

That is why Associated ignites instantly and "burns" or explodes completely, thus yielding all the power there is in each "charge." This is true gasoline cleanliness, only suggested by the sparkling clearness of Associated Gasoline. Get "more miles to the gallon" through sustained quality.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PROSPECTORS AGAIN TRAMP MOUNTAINS FOR PRECIOUS ORES.
DENVER, Oct. 22.—Prospectors in large numbers again are tramping the mountains of Colorado, seeking precious metals. Mining camps now find it profitable to work grades of ore which a few years ago it did not pay to dig from the ground.

Progress in the science of metallurgy, one of the principal factors in rejuvenating the industry, has caused an increase of 20 per cent over the prewar amount of metal obtainable from complex ores, while the cost of handling ore has slightly decreased. The rise in prices of silver, lead, copper and even zinc, long considered the "poor relation" among metals, is another factor.

A percent of the credit for the favorable situation also is given the statesman. Colorado miners declare the fact that Poland was induced by special price concessions to use silver coinage, leading to a generally increased demand from other quarters, was largely the work of American men who used their influence in foreign fields to help American mining. The advance in the price of zinc is attributed in part to the act of Great Britain prohibiting the shipment of zinc bearing ores outside the Empire. The workings of the Dawes plan, they say, has brought an increased demand for copper in Germany.

The discovery that raw limestone will precipitate the copper in copper sulphate without the intermediate aid of iron, which heretofore has been used, has simplified and greatly reduced the expense of extracting copper.

EPIDEMIC AMONG TULE LAKE DUCKS NOT YET SOLVED
(Associated Press Leased Wire.) SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 22.—Although not ready to give up the investigation, George Tonkin, federal game warden of this district, upon his return here yesterday from the Tule Lake district, admitted that he is still mystified regarding the cause behind the wholesale killing of wild ducks in the vicinity of the lake.

In describing the situation, Tonkin said thousands of ducks have died and in places surrounding the lake "it looks as though an army of hunters had passed through the country, shooting the limit of ducks without removing the carcasses."

Next Sunday morning another letter from the head of the church will be read and discussed, hear it. Next Sunday evening the subject is: "Working For Jesus." Let me stress the evening service. We will spare no pains from now on to make it the best service of the day. Make it more profitable by your presence. Our church night meetings on Wednesday evenings are growing still more. This is fine. It means much to our work. Training classes are now being organized to take care of the demand. There will be several of them in operation on Wednesday evenings. Come and take your choice. Schedule of meetings and classes will appear in next Friday's paper. Plans are now well under way for a Father and Son banquet at the church during Father and Son week.
