FORMER STUDENT U. OF O. ACCUSED OF MANY THEFTS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 27.—Portland detectives today arrested Cecil J. Pearce, 25, charged with thefts of medical supplies and apparatus, and jewelry. He was also charged with having stolen supplies from the army at Eugene.

Pearce, who graduated from the University of Oregon with the class of 1925, came to Portland to continue his studies at the University of Oregon medical school. He was employed at Luckey's jewelry store at Eugene part time and also at the Mercy Hospital, Eugene, while studying at Eugene. Police said that when they searched his room today following his arrest they found medical supplies, surgical instruments, bits of jewelry and army shirts.

Police were investigating disappearance of articles of jewelry which W. W. Eristow of Luckey's jewelry store, Eugene, said had disappeared.

Pearce's arrest followed an investigation by H. C. Anton, special agent of the Portland school district, of the disappearance of a microscope from Lincoln high school at the summer course Pearce was married three months ago.

HOME TALENT SHOW WINS PRAISE FROM HUGE AUDIENCE

A theatre crowded to the fullest capacity last night greeted the home talent production "Smiles," offered by Director George Hall, under the auspices of the guilds of St. George's Episcopal church. The production was a welcome diversion from the usual variety of stage offerings, being in the nature of a high class musical entertainment, interspersed with specialty dancing numbers and clever tableaux. The show had no connected plot, but was divided into several parts, each having its own motif. One of the striking features was the gorgeous costuming, which behind the footlights, and upon the beautifully decorated stage, provided a colorful atmosphere for the catchy music which marked the entire production.

With a cast of over 350 juveniles and adults it is impossible in limited space to give due credit to each of the participants. People are always interested in any entertainment in which children participate and last night they were not only pleased by the fine manner in which the youngsters carried off their difficult parts, but were amazed at the accomplishment of so thoroughly training them in such a short space of time.

Each participant, youngster or adult, carried off his or her part in an excellent manner, there being no breaks or halts in the entire performance. The entire production plainly showed the touch of a superior type of directing.

Those in charge of the show have asked that their thanks be conveyed to all who participated and helped with the production, and particularly to the Ladies Shoppe for the special costumes provided, to Judie's Furniture store for the stage furniture, and C. E. Chowler for the lighting effects.

GREAT CROWD ATTENDING TENT REVIVAL SERVICES

Great crowds are attending the series of revival services conducted by the lady evangelist in the big tent on Rose street.

Meetings have been held every night at 7:30, and every night has seen the tent well filled. Sunday night an illustrated message was given, the "Scarlet Thread." The Evangelist took scriptures from Genesis to Matthew, showing the scarlet thread all through the Bible, and that blood was shed to make atonement for the sin of the people up until the crucifixion of Christ, then she illustrated beautifully when Christ cried out: "It is finished." The veil of the temple was rent on the platform revealing the illuminated cross. The sermon was very much enjoyed, over 500 people being in the tent.

Monday night, the evangelist gave a chart lecture on the second coming of the Lord, explaining the

COOLIDGE FAVORS TRANSFER OF TAX POWER TO STATES

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Coolidge sees much good behind the present widespread agitation against the centralization of authority in Washington. But he feels that if legislation like the federal inheritance tax is repealed, leaving that field open to the states, such a course will impose upon the state governments a heavy responsibility for carrying out the functions thus given them.

An outline of the president's views, made available today at the White House, disclosed that he believes it would be preferable to have the states assume many functions of government that are now carried out in cooperation with the federal government.

Recent visits to the capital of several states governors on taxation matters have been closely observed by Mr. Coolidge, who views their appeals for repeal of the federal inheritance taxes as a step in line with increasing other functions of state governments. One of these functions which he believes could be carried out to a much larger extent by the states is in highway construction. He appreciates that a definite policy could not be laid down in this matter as in many states the population is scattered over a large territory, which entails difficulties not confronted by eastern and mid-western states which are more thickly settled.

In this connection, the federal government would necessarily make allowances to states in which are located large tracts of the public domain as well as those with a small population, but in general it is the program of the administration to encourage highway development by the states rather than a continuation of its promotion from Washington.

RUTH ADMITS HE'S BEEN A SAP AFTER LOSING A FORTUNE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Rube Ruth, baseball's bad boy, whose extravagances and "follies" are figured to have cost $5,000,000 in an interview given to Colliers' weekly, once was fined $9,000 by Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees, the story also reveals. This, it says, was the outgrowth of continued violation of training rules in 1922, culminating in a "wet party" on Broadway, but the fine later was rescinded, because Ruth was "riding the crest of one of his inspired batting streaks, hitting a homer almost every day."

This precedent was not a part of public knowledge. Incidentally, late this season Ruth was fined $5,000 by Miller Huggins for "misconduct off the field" while the Yankees were in St. Louis.

Ruth, in his story, recounts his misdeeds, and recalls tremendous losses thru gambling, ill-starred business ventures and in fighting legal suits, all of which he figures at $250,000 besides an amount estimated to have gone for high living, parties, charities, gifts, etc. Once he admits, he lost $35,000 on a single horse race.

"I have been the saddest of saps," he adds, "but I am going to make good all over again."

You Needn't Add Bran to Quaker Oats

It already contains the "roughage" that makes laxatives seldom needed

YOU needn't add bran to Quick Quaker or Quaker Oats... the "bulk" that you need is already there. It ranks as a bulk food because Quaker milling leaves a large percentage of oats' gentle "roughage" stay.

Some people, we are told, don't know this important point about Quick Quaker and Quaker Oats. Start today. Note how well you will feel, how seldom laxatives will be needed.

All the richness of oats and milk... the protein, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins... plus the "bulk" so necessary to your diet, are contained in this supreme breakfast dish... an almost perfectly balanced food.

COMMUNITY CHEST COMMITTEE WILL MEET THIS EVENING

There will be an important meeting of the community chest committee this evening at 7:30 in Senator B. L. Eddy's office. Further investigations of the organizations to be included will be discussed and the budget completed.

Working with the committee are four sub-committees, the committee on prospect lists, publicity committee, workers committee and a finance and auditing committee.

The duty of the prospect list committee is to prepare for the solicitors, a list of all prospective givers.

The publicity committee is to advise the public through the press, speeches, advertisements, posters, etc., what the community chest is, what it is for, how it works, how much money is needed and what for and in fact it is to furnish all information to the public regarding the movements of the community chest.

The workers committee organizes the solicitors teams for the financial campaign and instructs the various members as to their duties.

The finance and auditing committee audit all the pledges brought in during the finance campaign and turn all money received to the bank. There is paid out only through checks signed and countersigned by the proper officials appointed by the community chest committee.

People of Roseburg and business men especially express themselves as highly pleased with the community chest organization. They realize that is going to provide for the benefitting organization better than they have been provided for in the past and it is to be done on less money, too. Then too, it does away with a lot of drives being put on at various times of the year. The community chest is a time saving, money saving, control retaining system and certainly provides for a highly satisfactory method of giving money to educational and charitable institutions.

The Great Pacific International Exposition
Portland, Oct. 31 to Nov. 7 — Let's Go!

A. C. RUBY OF PORTLAND AND HIS "BIG SIX." THERE ARE EIGHTY ENTRIES FOR THE IMPERIAL HOTEL $1,000 SIX-IN-HAND DRIVING CONTEST

THE Pacific International Live Stock Exposition opens Saturday, October 31st, running until and including Saturday, November 7th. The building covering over ten acres of ground under one roof is the annual gathering place of livestock which constitutes the greatest affair of its kind in the world, all of the best in the West competing against the champions of Eastern shows that come to the Coast by a special train made up of freight, express and Pullman cars for whose swift passage even the crack passenger trains are side-tracked.

The Horse Show which is held in connection with the Exposition is in itself of international importance and its record offering of $28,000 in prize money attracts the best horses from all portions of the continent, more than a dozen carloads coming from east of the Missouri River.

There are 85 events on the 1925 program, of which 13 are stakes averaging in value $1500 each, which have been subscribed by enterprising business men and institutions of Portland and Seattle.

A. P. Fleming, who has managed the horse show since its first year in 1919, has been the great factor in its upbuilding and is considered to deserve more credit than any other one person for the remarkable comeback of the horse show game on the Pacific Coast.
