

WILD TURKEYS ARE ADDED TO OREGON GAME BIRD STOCK

Pheasant Hunting Poorer This Year; More Deer Bagged—May Open Season on Elk

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., Nov. 5.—Oregon may soon include wild turkeys among its game birds. The October report of the state game warden says that three wild turkeys, a gobbler and two hens, are soon to be received from the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club of Woodmont, Md., in exchange for two Columbia blacktail deer recently sent the latter. The birds will be received at the Pendleton Game Farm. Arrangements for the exchange were made early this year, said Mr. Averill, by former Game Warden Burghdoff.

Joseph Hendricks has been placed in charge of the Pendleton farm and Lawrence Demagalaki has been returned to the Eugene farm, the report says.

A saving of over $1200 annually has been effected, says the report, by a discontinuance of the practice of furnishing groceries to men employed on the hatcheries and egg stations in the vicinity of Bend.

District Deputy Game Warden Haselbine of Canyon City recently brought from the Deer Flat reservation in Idaho 10,000 perch which were planted in water not suitable for trout near Burns.

All trout to be liberated now from the Dolph Creek hatchery have been distributed, the report says. Particular attention has been given to stocking the streams adjacent to Multnomah and Clatsop counties since these two counties furnish a very large proportion of the money received from the sale of angling licenses.

"With the closing of the season on deer and upland birds," says the report, "the services of all special deputy game wardens have been terminated. Only the force of regular game wardens is now in the field."

Indications are that Chinese pheasant hunters were not as successful as in former years, especially in the Willamette valley. Large numbers of the birds were taken, however, in Coos, Klamath, Jackson and Josephine counties, while Malheur county furnished the largest number of birds. In Umatilla county while shooting was better than in Willamette valley, it was not up to the standard of the three previous seasons.

It is believed more deer was bagged than in any previous season for many years.

The number of elk in the Blue Mountains, adjacent to the corners of Umatilla, Grant, Union and Baker counties is probably large enough to justify a limited open season on adult bull elk, says the report.

Some systematic method of making a game census of the state is advocated.

Cooperation of deputy wardens in curtailing expense is now bearing fruit at the rate of between $500 and $1,000 a month, according to the report. At the same time the report was issued, however, Averill made public a recommendation of salary increases for 19 wardens aggregating about $5,570 a year. The increases would be paid out of the $12,368 surplus funds of the commission on hand on November 1. No increases were recommended for 19 other wardens.

SAVED FRIEND FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Heckman Decided to Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Note Results—

Council Bluffs, Iowa.—"I had pains in my back and sides and headaches, so that I could not do my work. Once in a while I would be sick a week. A friend told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had kept her out of the hospital, so I thought I would try it, as I had tried a number of other medicines. Now I feel like a different person and am telling my friends about the Vegetable Compound helping me, hoping they will let it help them, too."

Saved From An Operation

Monessen, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious case of female trouble. The worst pain I had was in my right side and back with swelling in my side so that I was unable to walk at one time. I was ordered to go to the hospital, but here I am, still without an operation. I saw your advertisement and have taken the Vegetable Compound with splendid results."—Mrs. J. NEZ, Box 522 Denver Ave., Monessen, Pa.

Awaits Outcome of $1,000,000 Suit

John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president in 1924, is now directing Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's fight to void the $1,000,000 suit for alleged breach of promise filed against him by Evan Burrows Fontaine, dancer. Young Whitney, heir to many millions, is married. The dancer is seen on the beach at Atlantic City, where she is awaiting the outcome of the suit, begun several years ago.

tax reduction was determined upon today by the House Ways and Means committee.

This is the figure set by Secretary Mellon. It was agreed to by the committee after it had gone over estimates of government expenses for the next fiscal year with Director Lord of the budget.

Although some members favored a greater reduction, Director Lord warned them there was little likelihood of a treasury surplus exceeding $300,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year.

Chairman Green, announcing the committee's decision, said it was not absolutely binding and indicated the limit might be exceeded slightly if necessary to accomplish the widespread tax revision desired by the committee.

With its goal fixed, the committee before consideration of new rate schedules, taking up first the income taxes, considered the heart of the revenue law. The chairman predicted an early decision on income schedules.

AGGIES SAVE GRID STAR FOR CONTEST AGAINST U. OF O.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 5.—Schulmerich, back field mainstay, will not play in the Pacific University football game Saturday according to Coach Schissler's present plans, as the big halfback is still limping somewhat from the leg injury received in the Stanford game and the coach is going to take no chances of his being out of the Oregon game the week following.

Schulmerich's brief stay in the Montana game caused no trouble to his injury so he should be in fine condition in another week. Edwards, Snider, Dennman, and Luby are now in the first string backfield. Coach Schissler cut training short last night and invited the entire squad to a party he had prepared in its honor.

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 5.—With the Oregon Agricultural College game in view, as a feature of the annual homecoming of the University of Oregon, the Oregon football team is going through the stiffest practice sessions of the season.

Hodgen, halfback, who was injured in the California game, is out again, and the whole team is reported to be in good condition. Odds here favor the Aggies by 6 points, though Oregon is working hard to dispel the idea that the invaders may win.
