The gay spirits of Halloween have presided cheerily in Roseburg during the past two weeks, and it is doubtful if there was ever a gayer Halloween season than the one just passed. Many and varied have been the forms of entertainment. The weird atmosphere of Halloween sets the time apart from all holidays, when old-fashioned sports are revived. The social round has been varied with luncheons, bridge afternoons and club affairs following in quick succession.

Autumn is a friendly, cozy season and hostesses are taking their cue from the brilliant hills and meadows in decorations for social affairs, calling their friends together in small intimate gatherings. Armistice day brings in a more sober note and all personal thoughts are put aside for that one day, when we join the Legion boys in rejoicing with them over victory.

One of the features of Monday and Tuesday preceding Armistice Day will be the American Legion play, which promises to be the best that the Legion boys have yet presented.

Miss Myth Henderson's Engagement Announced

Announcement was made this week of the engagement of Miss Myth Henderson to Mr. David Ohman, of this city. At an attractive party given Wednesday evening for which Mrs. F. C. Keenan was hostess at her home on Cobb street.

Pink and lavender in delicate pastel shades prevailed throughout the rooms, and the tables were gaily bedecked with chrysanthemum and other autumn flowers in tall vases and baskets. Tables were placed for five hundred, which formed the evening's diversion. Unique score cards in hand painted designs, and pencils also hand painted and finished in polychrome were placed at each table. Guest prize went to Miss Henderson, first prize to Miss Enid Waterman, and second prize was received by Mrs. E. McKeynor.

Later the guests went to the dining room, where tables were placed for a two course luncheon in the center of the room, covering the lights was a large bell, in pink crepe paper, with streamers extending to each cover at the table below, and attached to the end of the streamers were fortunes for each guest. Smaller bells hung from the ceiling centering above each table. The place cards were of pink and lavender hand-painted designs, and small crepe paper banners, filled with nuts were the favors. At each cover was a card, centered with cupid, about who's neck was an engagement ring, holding together two hearts, with the names inscribed below. A large white cake centered one table, and was cut by the guest of honor, Miss Vernita Kohlhaugen received the thimble, Miss Enid Waterman drew the ring and Mrs. A. Farleigh received the money.

Bidden to the affair were Miss Myths Henderson, honoree, Misses Gladys Smith, Heulah Jarvis, Verita Kohlhaugen, Elizabeth Parrott, Florence Snodgrass, Florence Thompson, Enid Waterman, Fern Scott, Verlie Tracy, and mesdames G. Osborne, Down, O. P. Henderson, E. McKeynor, A. Farleigh, A. Caraway and J. K. Falbe.

Miss Henderson is the daughter of J. C. Henderson, of Portland, and the granddaughter of Mrs. O. P. Henderson, of this city. She attended school here, later going to Oregon Normal school, taking a teachers' course. She is a talented young woman, and has been active in affairs of the younger set. For the past number of years she has been teaching the departments at the Rose school.

Mr. Ohman is principal of the Rose school, and a graduate of Oregon Normal school. He is a World War veteran, and following his return home resumed his studies at the college. He has taken a course of teaching at the University of Oregon also.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hudson, former residents of Roseburg, who have been making their home in San Francisco, where Mr. Hudson is connected with an electric company, visited here yesterday with friends. They are motoring north and Mr. Hudson will have charge of the Idaho, Montana, and Washington territory for the company.

Roseburg Woman's Club Meeting Tuesday

The regular open forum of the Roseburg Woman's Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the Moose hall with more than fifty members in attendance. This was the first of the two red letter days which appear on the year's program, this one being devoted to "Applied Education." The subject was discussed from three viewpoints—endowment day, motion pictures, and travel.

This particular meeting commemorated Endowment Day of the State Federated Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Wm. Bell gave an interesting and instructive talk on the origin and growth of the endowment fund. In the early history of the federation there were no means to finance the correspondence of the club activities, so in June 1921, the endowment plan which obtained in many of the states was adopted. Since this year marked the twenty-first anniversary of the state federation, it was decided to place the fund at $21,000. By the close of that year $1,000 of this amount was raised, and at the present about $3,000 has been realized toward this goal. Only the interest accruing from this fund may be used to carry on the work of the federation. Mrs. Bell stressed the point that all local clubs should contribute to this state fund, for only by co-operation may the clubs hope to attain the desired results for women not only of their home town but for those of the state and the nation as well. Provision for such contribution was made for the local club when the board of directors in the beginning of this year voted to increase the membership fee from two to three dollars.

An instructive talk on motion pictures from the manager's viewpoint was given by Mr. L. A. Goux of the Antlers theater. He presented statistics to show that the motion picture is America's greatest industry, that 85 per cent of all picture sales are in the United States. He also emphasized the idea that a diversion which appealed to more than 50,000 people every week could not be ignored. That censorship had been unavailing in purging the screen of undesirable pictures and that such reformations will come about only through co-operation of municipalities, organizations and the education of public taste for higher class pictures was the opinion of motion picture managers.

As a fitting climax to an interesting program, Miss Rosa B. Parrott delightfully entertained the ladies with an account of her travels in Europe. She illustrated her talk with lantern slides, views of the old world. She said that Europeans in copying Americans were losing much of their native charm.

A report by Mrs. W. S. Jost on the Halloween dance showed that over $150.00 was cleared. Mrs. Wm. Bell reported that nearly $80.00 was realized from the two rummage sales. This, with the club house fund to over $500.00.

The club will serve a dinner on November 17 in the K. P. Hall to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. The following committee will have charge of the dinner: Mrs. W. G. Wade, chairman, Mesdames P. A. Bonis, Richard Willott, A. B. McMullen, Louisa Kohlhaugen, A. C. Kidd, W. M. Strohmeyer, Lincoln Antles, A. L. Alkins, David Smith. The table service will be in charge of Mrs. Dean Huber, chairman, Mesdames Fred Hruby, Floyd Frear, Fred Strang, Albert Micehl, C. B. Neal, L. A. Goux, R. R. Quinn, Kenneth Quine, H. C. Church. A committee to have charge of the chautauque was named. Mrs. C. S. Heinline and Mrs. Paul Huber will act as joint chairmen. They will be assisted by Mesdames Washington Hughes, Foster Butler, W. S. Jost, A. C. Marsters, C. B. Neal, Wm. Bell, Lincoln Antles, Mrs. H. C. Harris and Mrs. F. R. Dunlap were appointed to take charge of a card party which the club will sponsor. This party will be held November 16, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The proceeds will go to the club house fund.

The application for incorporation which was made some time ago was favorably acted upon and in the future the club will be designated as the Roseburg Woman's Club, incorporated. The following applications for membership were received: Mrs. E. Edward Huffman, Mrs. Vernon Fields, Mrs. Leo G. DeVaney, Mrs. E. J. Wainwright, Mrs. H. B. Yount, Mrs. Chas. W. Boyd.

This was social day and a number of guests were present. Mrs. W. L. Cobb, assisted by Mesdames Carr, Cavanaugh, Chandler, Coleman, Campbell and Church served refreshments. The program was in charge of Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. Warren Burt, and Miss Rosa B. Parrott.

Informal Afternoon At Thomas Home
Mrs. W. P. Thomas entertained at an informal afternoon at her home on 541 Pitzer street, having as guests the members of Mr. Thomas' Sunday school class of the Baptist church, and a few friends.

Lovely chrysanthemums decorated the rooms, carrying out a color scheme of yellow and white, where sewing and conversation occupied the ladies during the afternoon. Later the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Chas. Hamilton, served luncheon to the guests.

Enjoying the afternoon were Mesdames Wynatt, Hatfield, Grover, Miller, Erickson, Keserette, Allen, Morgan, Madison, Lewis, Pickens, Houck, Parker, Tipton, Strong, Campbell, LaMay, and Hamilton.

Mrs. Marsters Hostess At 1 O'clock Luncheon

Mrs. A. C. Marsters graciously entertained at her home this week at a one o'clock luncheon honoring two visiting matrons, Mrs. Mytun and Mrs. J. Oak, of Philadelphia, who are guests of their sister, Mrs. M. E. Menninger, here.

Baskets of chrysanthemums brightened the rooms, and the table was centered with a basket of McKinley chrysanthemums. Covers were placed for Mrs. Mytun, Mrs. J. Oak, Mrs. M. E. Menninger, Mrs. E. H. Roseberry, Mrs. F. S. Smith, Mrs. S. E. Collier, Mrs. S. C. Gurnee, Mrs. Joseph Knotts, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Marsters.

Later the ladies enjoyed an afternoon of needlework and conversation.

Former Roseburg Couple Celebrate Anniversary

The following, taken from the October 27th issue of the South Side Sentinel, a Marion, Nebraska, paper, will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bodwell, who resided here for many years:

A very pleasant day was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Bodwell, last Sunday, when many of the earlier day friends and neighbors gathered to help them celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary. Many pleasures and perplexities of by-gone days were recalled and those, with the questions of the hour and a wonderfully elaborate dinner, made each one feel the day one not soon to be forgotten.

Following are the guests who were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nutt of McCook, Wm. Nutt, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ludwick, Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Applegate, all of McCook, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson of Grants Pass, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Young and two daughters and son, Mr. and Mrs. George Hess, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cressman and son, Sam, all of Danbury, J. L. and Miss Boda Horton, H. L. Nichols and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Devoe, F. L. Weatherax and three children, Mrs. Wm. Redfield and daughter, Mrs. Jennie Bodwell, Mrs. Louisa Murphy, Mrs. Ellen Nokes, Mrs. Eva Beasley and Eld Murphy.

Business Womens Club Luncheon Friday

The regular monthly luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's Club was held Friday in the Indian Room of the Hotel Umpqua.

The members joined in singing one song before the luncheon and Miss Faye Goddess gave a delightful vocal solo. The vice-president, Mrs. Ethel Webb, in place of Miss Rosa B. Parrott, president, who was unable to attend, presided. A list of new members was presented by Miss Bess Wharton, chairman of the membership committee. Mrs. Wm. Bell, a representative of the Roseburg Woman's Club, was a guest and gave a very interesting address on the new club house which will be built soon by the club. Miss Grace Taylor gave a talk for the club, telling of the members' idea of the clubroom, and for what it will be used. The main business taken up, was the discussion of having a clubroom. The members are taking into consideration having one room in the new club house to be built by the Roseburg Woman's Club, in the near future, where they may have their meetings and members may go for recreation. No definite action was taken.

The prize for the member having the most number from their luncheon list attending during the last three meetings was received by Mrs. S. L. Kidder.

Visiting Matron Entertained Monday

For Mrs. Wilbur Grizzle, of Long Beach, California, who is a guest of her sister, Mrs. F. E. Stevens, here, a group of friends gathered at the F. E. Stevens' home Monday evening, bringing with them a prepared dinner.

In the dining room at a table where six o'clock dinner was served, covers were placed for Mrs. Wilbur Grizzle, Mrs. Harry Jett, Mrs. Maie Lamb, Mrs. M. E. Childson, Sr. and Mrs. R. Childson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. A. Blaxall, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Rekester, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harness, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Stevens and Mr. Mansfield.

The evening was spent in playing progressive five hundred, and first prize club was received by Mrs. F. S. Register.

Friends Surprise Miss Parks

A group of friends gathered at the Parks home on 475 South Stephens street on Saturday evening for a surprise party for Miss Edith Parks, a popular member of the younger set.

The rooms were bright with decorations of colored lights and crepe paper casts, witches, and Jack-O-Lanterns, and games furnished a diversion. Later luncheon was served. Present at the affair were Miss Edith Parks, honoree, Misses Louise Ross, Louise Hughes, Vivian Williams, Hazel Brehaut, Edythe Brehaut, Marie Head, Thelma Parks, Mrs. P. A. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gardner and Leland Bloom, Mrs. E. Williams, Raymond Bloom, Earl LaMere, Thomas Ramsey, Walter Kearney and Horace Parks.

Printed Gown From France

This striking black and white printed frock is from Paris. Long sleeves and fullness posed at the front are distinguishing features.

Twins Celebrate 84th Birthdays Anniversaries

Mrs. Millie M. Reed, of Williamsburg, Kansas, and Mrs. S. D. Houser, of this city, twin sisters, celebrated their eighty-fourth birthday anniversaries on October 16, at each of their homes. It is believed that they are one of the oldest, if not the oldest, twins in the United States.

Mrs. Houser has six children, Oscar, Lonnie and Denny, all of this city, Oras, of Hiddle, Mrs. L. Himsdale, of Forest Grove, and Mrs. H. L. Marsters, of Salem. The children of Mrs. Reed are Mrs. John Gree, of Williamsburg, Kansas, Mrs. V. M. King, of Ottawa, Kansas; Mrs. H. Shupe, Mrs. L. B. Reed, of this city, and N. Reed, of Marshfield.

Rebekahs Have Homecoming Tuesday

On Tuesday evening the Rebekah Lodge held a pot luck supper and a Homecoming with an attendance of about ninety members and out of town guests.

Chrysanthemums in baskets and vases brightened the rooms where supper was served at a large table at 6:30 o'clock, and where later the evening was spent in a social time. Following supper the regular session was held, after which a program was presented.

Mrs. M. Canady gave a musical reading, "The Power of Music," written by Alden Harness, of this city, and composed by him at the time of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. This was a very interesting feature of the program and one which was greatly enjoyed by the audience. Dr. R. A. Moon gave an instructive discourse on "Friendship's Garden." Miss Gertrude Wickham and Miss Grace Wickham delighted the audience with a vocal duet.

B. of L. F. and E. Auxiliary Form Club

The members of the Auxiliary of the B. of L. F. and E. met at the home of Mrs. Verlie Thayer, on Wednesday afternoon and organized a new club, to be known as the Oregon Rose Thimble Club. The purpose of the club will be to promote social interest among the members of the lodge as well as work for the general advancement of the order. The meetings will be held the first Wednesday of the month at the homes of the members. Officers elected for the year were president, Mrs. O. F. Troxel; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. J. Froy.

Hallow'en Party At K. P. Hall

One of the enjoyable Hallow'en affairs given during last week was sponsored by the Neighbors of Woodcraft at the K. P. Hall Saturday evening, when about one hundred and fifty members and guests participated in a masquerade party.

Decorations of motifs suitable to the occasion were used in the hall, where games, dancing and cards were enjoyed during the evening. Prizes were offered for the cleverest costumes and were won by Mrs. C. G. Ginn and Mr. Irwin T. Whiteley. A popular feature of the evening was the fortune teller's booth, where Mrs. B. Pierce presided. Later luncheon was served to the guests.

Festive Party at Singleton Home

The Ernel Singleton home near Glide was the scene of a festive Hallow'en party when Mr. and Mrs. E. Singleton entertained a number of friends. Decorations of autumn leaves and paper Hallow'en favors gave the rooms a gay appearance, where cards and dancing were the diversions of the evening. Later the hostess served a luncheon to the guests.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Silenas, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laneu, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Simmonds, Mrs. McDonald, Miss Laura Silenas, Miss Hilja Silenas, Miss Wilma Wakefield, Mr. L. Engola, Mr. K. Singleton, and Mr. John Nelson.

B. of L. F. and E. Entertained Last Week

The ladies of the B. of L. F. and E. entertained the Brothers of the B. of L. F. and E. at a Hallow'en party at the Macabee Hall Friday evening of last week. Autumn leaves, and flowers, crepe paper black cats, witches, and other Hallow'en designs made the hall festive.

Mr. and Mrs. Egley Dinner Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. D. Egley were hosts at an informal dinner on Monday evening at 6 o'clock at their home in this city.

About a table, centered with a bowl of pretty autumn flowers, covers were placed for Mrs. Martha Ross, Mr. S. J. Chaney, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Knotts and son and Mr. and Mrs. Egley.

Fortnightly Club Resumes Activities

After several weeks' vacation, the Melrose Fortnightly Club resumed its activities for the winter, meeting at the home of Mrs. H. P. Conn Thursday afternoon.

Vases of chrysanthemums brightened the rooms, and needlework and conversation occupied the ladies during the afternoon. Later the hostess served luncheon to Mesdames E. R. Penn, C. D. Busenbark, Wm. Clumer, John Busenbark, Sr., Frank Conn, C. Mabley, R. A. Rubenark and Fred Goff.

Nicholson's Informal Hosts Tuesday Eve

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Nicholson were hosts at an informal party Tuesday evening when they entertained the young married members of the Baptist Sunday school class at their home. Hallow'en decorations in crepe paper decorated the rooms where games and cards formed the evening's diversion. Later luncheon was served at small tables.

Enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. G. Caskey, Mr. and Mrs. R. Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. B. Berg, Mr. and Mrs. C. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Perry, Mesdames H. Hatfield, C. P. Snoddy, Woodley Stevenson, J. W. Rice, W. A. Strickland and McClernan, and Mr. Chas. McElhinny and Rev. H. L. Caldwell.

Helen Virginia Yount Hostess Last Week

Helen Virginia Yount was a charming little hostess on Saturday afternoon of last week when she entertained a group of friends at a Hallow'en party, at the H. B. Young apartment.

The apartment was bright with paper black cats, witches and pumpkins in keeping with Hallow'en and the group played games for a time. Junior Brunna delighted the guests with a few solos on the xylophone. Later the guests, accompanied by Mrs. Yount and Mrs. Frank Hill, went to the carnival grounds where they enjoyed the concessions. Retiring from the grounds they were taken to the Grand Grill, where tables had been prepared and a luncheon was served.

Bidden to the affair were Shirley Mae Brunna, Mildred Ziegler, Sabina Nerbas, Marie Goux, Jane Schultz, Marion Schultz, Agnes Crawford, Ruth Chowler, Phyllis Ann Botler, Lois Hill, Ivan Crawford, Richard Bueette, Leroy Holloway and Junior Brunna.

Masquerade at Melrose Grange Hall Last Week

A masquerade and Hallow'en party was held at the Melrose Grange Hall on Saturday evening of last week. The affair was opened at 8:30 o'clock with a grand march, when all couples in costumes marched before judges to determine which had the most unique costume. The prize winners were Mrs. Morland, who came dressed as a Spanish dancer, and Mrs. Critser, who was costumed in men's clothes.

Following the grand march Jack-O-Lanterns were lighted, and formed the illumination to which the lady members of the Grange gave a ghost drill. Later each member took part in a track meet, four sides being chosen to represent R. H. S. U. of O. A. C. and W. U. At the supper hour a luncheon of sandwiches, pumpkin pie, cocoa and coffee was served.

Mrs. Ennatt Lawler, of San Francisco, is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. N. Fullerton, here for a week or so.

THUMBS.
To Mrs. F. L. C.
My right thumb's sure unlucky,
The old thing's on the bum
Most all the doxgone time it seems
—It's sure a hoodooed thumb.
One time I found a bottle in our corner—wry up top—
So high that fore I reached it I nearly went kerflop.
'Twas full of clear an' sparky stuff,
but fore I took a drink
I tho't I'd taste it with my thumb—
there wasn't any stink
For first I smelt it with my nose—
but "safoty first" 's my rule,
You bet no poison gets me, I ain't nobody's fool.
So I tipped the bottle on my thumb,
an' just stuck out my toogee
To taste the stuff, when, Hully
Gee, I felt like I'd been stung
By 'bout a hundred million bees—
I near fell off that beam
An' opened up my ole trap door,
an' I sure did let off steam.
That doxgone thumb swelled like a toad, and hurt me! Miaser Mee!
Now I don't taste bottles with my thumb—that bottle it learned me.
An' once I cut it on my scythe,
Pop wondered if 'twas keen,
I tho't I'd just find out for him—
an' the darn ole measly mean!
When I run my thumb along it, it cut me to the bone—

Since then you bet, I leave such things abootly, quite alone.
That ole right thumb 'o' mine is sure most allers in a mess, I've had a billion allers stuck in the thing, I guess.
One time I run a fish bone in about a foot or two.
An' it swole up sumpin awful, an'
jumped, an' turned all blue,
An' they took me to Doc. Taylor an' he prodded it. I yelled Like a good one—men he wrapped it in some flimthat that smelted like asafetidee, an' nen he put my right arm in a sling.
An' made me keep it there so that thumb couldn't hit a single thing.
For what beats me B—when that thumb's sore it's allers in the way.
I hit it then, I bet you, a trillyun
times a day
An' Gee! it hurts, but when it's well it never once gets whacked,
Now, "Cross my Heart," that's really a really truly fact.
Some folkses fingers are all thumbs—or so I've heard them say.
I'm mighty glad, I tell you, that I wasn't made that way.
'Cause I'd be sure to have five, six bumped up all in a row,
Two are enough I'll tell you what —an' I guess I orter know.

Announcement of Marriage Made

Of interest to Roseburg folk is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Grete Smith, of Oakland, to Mr. Fred McMullen, of Myrtle Point, at Corvallis, on Friday, October 28.

Mrs. McMullen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Smith, of Oakland, is a student at Oregon Agricultural College, where she is in her second year at college. Mr. McMullen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben McMullen, of Myrtle Point, and a former Roseburg boy. He attended the local high school for a time, and after moving with his parents to Myrtle Point, graduated from the high school there. Since that time he has been attending O. A. C., where he was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. The news of the marriage comes as a surprise to their many friends here. For the present they will make their home in Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates Hosts at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Bert G. Bates were hosts at an informal dinner Saturday evening at their home in Laurelwood, inviting a group of friends. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at a pretty table, where covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. James Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coyte and Mr. and Mrs. Bates.

Later the evening was spent in conversation and music.

Miss Edman and Miss Miller Hostess at Party

Miss Esther Edman and Miss Esther Miller were joint hostesses Saturday evening at the home of the former in Melrose when they entertained a number of the

THE NEW MOTOR COSTUMES ARE PRACTICAL AND CHIC

By VVYVAN DON'ER
It is not surprising to find couturiers seriously at work each season in designing costumes to be worn while motoring.
Take, for instance, one of the two small sketches above—the one at the left. It shows a jumper dress of bold de rose kasha, with skirt of rose and tan plaid, and trimming of the same. The collar is high, and the skirt is plain in the back, with the kick pleat in front, to give room. A hat of the same materials fits snugly to the head—and the whole outfit is colorful and of shades that do not show the dust. The back being plain in blouse and skirt, there is no extra material to wrinkle un-

Esther Ralston, seen in the photo, wears a motoring costume, a little more dressy, especially designed for her to wear in her new Paramount picture, "The Best People." It is composed of pencil blue kasha, with short box-coat that catches in front, at the throat, with a bow of black. The blouse is of cream souffe, pleated finely, and edged in lace.
The hat 's pencil blue felt, with a bow of black velvet, and the stockings are nude, accompanied by black open pumps.

COLORS COME AND GO BUT BLACK AND WHITE STAYS

On the right is shown Debe Daniels in a black and white ensemble. The sketch on left shows how furriers are making up smart costumes in black and white fur.

COLORS may come and colors may go with every season—but always there is a place for the black and white costume, no matter what other color combinations may be the fad. In the collection of every smart couturiere, there is always the black and white dress or coat, or, as at the present time, the black and white ensemble.

One of those black and white ensemble costumes is seen in the photo above, on the striking black-haired, white-skinned beauty, Debe Daniels. Miss Daniels finds this black and white combination a stunning foil for her own coloring, and selected the pictured dress to wear in her new Paramount picture, "Lovers in Quarantine."

The gown and cape are of white, trimmed in applied folds of the black, with the cape lined in black. Chinese motifs appear on the left corner of the cape, and on the panel in front of the dress.
A white felt, trimmed in black velvet completes the outfit.
As an accessory, Miss Daniels carries a vanity case that holds a puff and mirror, containers for lip rouge, eye-brow pencil, and perfume. A fine tassel of black silk finishes it off.

This costume was designed for her photoplay. The other black and white costume seen in the sketch at the left, was designed for her to wear in real life.

The coat is of the newest fashioning. To begin with, it is ever so slightly mounded to the figure. Then there is the flare, obtained by means of little insets of ermine. The coat of course, is seal. The sleeves flare too, in the same way. A high collar, new in its straightness, is worn high up and buttoned. A panel of the ermine slants across the front of the bodice, and then shoots straight down the skirt of the coat.

Miss Daniels had a hat to match, and a triangular bit of ermine in front, very tiar-like and becoming, with a white feather shooting off the right side in a dashing manner.
