OFFICER OPENS TESTIMONY FOR COL. MITCHELL

Supports Charges Made By Accused Man Against Bureau Heads

INDIFFERENCE SHOWN

Alien Activity Near Canal and Inadequate Bases On Islands Given No Attention

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The government's air policy both at home and in far off American possessions were assailed today in defense testimony before the Mitchell court martial.

Captain Robert Oldys, of the air service, called to support Colonel Mitchell's charge of near-treasonable disregard of national interests in aviation, declared he had in his possession a letter written by the American minister to Guatemaal in 1923, warning of a scheme by "alien interests" to establish a foothold in Central America near the Panama Canal. The minister, the witness said, unsuccessfully urged the Washington government to establish an air mail service to Central America. Actual presentation of the letter in evidence was delayed, temporarily at least, by objections from the prosecution.

Captain Oldys also quoted at length from the aviation report presented 1923 by the Lassiter board of army officers, containing recommendations for air defense of the Philippines and Hawaii, which the witness said, had been approved by the Secretary of War, but never carried into effect. This report, he said, described the situation in the air services as "unfortunate and critical."

So many objections were interposed by the prosecution that Colonel Blanton Winship, law member of the court, reminded Colonel Sherman Moreland, the prosecutor, of his previous statement that he would not object to testimony intended to prove the truth of Colonel Mitchell's charges if it was offered in extenuation or mitigation.

Colonel Moreland said he must continue to object on the ground that the evidence being offered was "incompetent, irrelevant and not obtained from the best sources."

Captain Oldys then told the court that while he was stationed in Hawaii there were so many forced landings and airplane smashes that there was a threat to hold pilots financially responsible for the loss of their craft.

When the captain said there were no tactical air units on the Pacific Coast, Major General Howze, president of the court, asked:

"Has Rockwell Field been abandoned?"

"There is a depot there."

"Any flying personnel?"

"Only a dozen officers. They test machines turned out of the depot."

The witness said he had recommended that avitors be transferred to the Pacific Coast, but the general staff did not approve the recommendation.

General Howze asked him if he thought the general staff ought to be guided by his recommendations.

"As the general staff is at present constituted, I do, sir," Captain Oldys replied.

Then Brigadier-General Ewing E. Booth asked Captain Oldys how he would organize the general staff.

"The same as Colonel Mitchell," the captain said.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of the Shenandoah commander, will be recalled Monday by the naval court of inquiry investigating the disaster in which her husband was killed, for questioning about statements made yesterday by the defense in the Mitchell court martial.

ONCE BANK RUNNER, NOW ITS PRESIDENT.

WASHIGTON, Nov. 10.—Robert V. Fleming, who entered the service of the Riggs National Bank as a runner, today became president of the institution, one of the largest in the east, at the age 35 years. He succeeds Milton E. Alles, who died here several days ago, and who rose from the position of a janitor in the treasury to that of a financial leader in the capital.

EMERY SENTENCED TO 3 YEARS IN PRISON

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 10.—Loyal V. Emery, of Sutherlin, Oregon, who entered a plea of guilty in circuit court here Saturday on a charge of forgery, was today sentenced to serve a term of three years in the state penitentiary. Sentence was pronounced by Judge G. F. Skipworth.

Emery is well known in Roseburg and throughout Douglas County, where he has lived most of his life. His home originally was at Umpqua. He has been in trouble several times as the result of issuing bad checks and two years ago narrowly escaped indictment by the Douglas county grand jury on the charge of forging a note, according to the court officials. His operations are reported to have extended to a number of cities, and after he had been jailed at Eugene, a request was received by the local authorities from San Francisco for information regarding him, following his passing, it was alleged, of a worthless $25 check in that city.

UNIFICATION IS FAVORED BY NORTH METHODIST BODY

Affirmative Majority Big, But Southern Branch Is 858 Short so Far of Margin Needed

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. — The Northern Methodist church has voted for unification with the Southern Methodists. The vote has been under way for months and passage by the constitutional majority necessary was announced today as 16,315 for and 811 against.

The Southern Methodists are still voting with the result there still in doubt.

Dr. R. J. Wade, secretary of the General Methodist Episcopal Church, who made the announcement, said that although the constitutional majority had been passed on the vote of 106 conferences, 49 conferences of his church had not yet officially reported their votes.

The statement in part follows:

"If there should be a two-thirds majority in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for unification, then the Methodist Episcopal church would call a special general conference to meet with the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which meets in its regular session in May, 1926.

"The Methodist Episcopal Church, according to the official vote, has definitely decided for unification, and it is assumed that the majority of votes will continues to be very large. Should a two-thirds majority be secured by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and that is more probable at the present time than for some months past, the breach caused in 1845 would be healed and the two churches would eventually become one.

Official tabulations of the southern church vote, as made public Sunday at Nashville, showed 2,634 for unification and 2,015 against it, the former being 858 votes short of a constitutional majority on the vote today.

YEGGS BLOW P. O. SAFE, BUT SHOUT DRIVES THEM OFF

SHERIDAN, Ore., Nov. 10. — The safe in the post office was blown open here at 3:25 o'clock this morning and, although there was a large amount of cash in the strongbox, the three yeggmen were frightened away before they had an opportunity to gather up their spoils. Hearing the explosion, H. P. Garsten, a merchant, who was sleeping in his store opposite the postoffice, looked out the window and shouted at the trio. One of the men fired a bullet through the window just above Karsten's head. As they ran the men scattered. They left their tools behind.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 10.—Bids for the construction of the new Southern Oregon normal school at Ashland will be opened at a meeting of the board of regents in Salem on Thursday of this week. It is thought the building will be completed by January 1, 1927.

The cost will be about $175,000, appropriated by the 1925 legislature.

GOOD TIME IS EXPECTED FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Merchants Give Legion Greatest Cooperation By Closing

PARADE AT 10 A. M.

Football Game Between Post Team and U. of O. Rooks is Feature for Afternoon

With good weather conditions the Armistice Day celebration tomorrow will be a great success. Everything is in complete readiness, and all indications point to a most enjoyable observance of the day. The local post of the American Legion has been given the best of cooperation on the part of the merchants of the city, who are closing their places of business all day in order that their employees may have an opportunity to join in the celebration.

Postmaster Heinline announces that in recognition of the holiday the post office will be closed all day. There will be no carrier delivery, but locked boxes will be served as usual, while special and perishable matter will be delivered. Mails will be made up and dispatched as usual, and rural and star routes will be served.

The street stunts and country store start at Cass and Jackson streets at 9 a. m., followed by the big parade at 10 o'clock and the memorial program at 11. In the event of rain the school children will not participate in the parade, but other entries will be made regardless of weather conditions. All participants should form in their places between 9:30 and 9:45 a. m., so that the parade may start promptly at 10 o'clock.

The memorial program at the Antlers Theatre will be featured by an address by Associate Justice O. P. Coshow, a former Roseburg attorney, known as one of the best orators of the state.

All ex-service men are invited to the free chow at the Armory at noon. This feed is furnished by the American Legion Post and is free to all veterans.

The afternoon will be given over to the machine gun demonstration and football game at Finlay Field in West Roseburg.

The Roseburg football team is a husky, heavy and fast aggregation, and fans are assured of a good game. The squad is made up to Baiff, center; Diidel, Doan, Oaks, Dolan and Stratton, guards; Wright, Busenbark and Jones, tackles; Bdower, Patterson, ends; Watson and Maddox, quarter; Perrin, Rapp, McCabe and Riebel, half and Whipple, full.

Shy Huntington, former U. of O. football star, will serve as referee.

The Eugene All-Star who will play the Roseburg team are University of Oregon freshmen. The university has three Rook teams and is sending one of the strongest to this city for tomorrow's game. These boys have had the benefit of good coaching and training, and although they will doubtless be lighter than the Roseburg team, have the advantage of several weeks of training and conditioning.

The Armistice Day celebration will close in the evening with a big mardi-gras dance at the Armory.

CHRYSLER, HUDSON STOCKS IN TUMBLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—A dramatic collapse in stock prices took place on the New York Stock Exchange shortly after mid-day when a flood of selling orders was hurled at recent speculative favorites, more than a dozen issues being carried down five to nearly 30 points. Chrysler Motors fell 27⅞ points and Hudson Motor about 10 before the end of the third hour.

FARMER ON TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

McMINNVILLE, Ore., Nov. 10.—As court recessed at noon today the jury had been selected to try J. F. Trent. McMinnville farmer, charged with second degree murder for the slaying of George O. Hamblin of Portland, and the serious shooting of the latter's father, F. E. Hamblin.

Trent, it is charged, killed young Hamblin and wounded the father on the night of September 26, when he believed them to be robbing his watermelon patch.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Weaver and son, Allen, of Myrtle Creek, spent shopping and on business.

Denver Church Directors O.K. Plan To "Execute" Sufferer, if Incurable

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 10.—The board of directors of a Denver church has officially voted in favor of a "warm blood execution" for Barney Haughey, prominent attorney and politician, who is suffering from a malignant disease, provided Haughey is found to be incurable and desirous of dying, and a way can be found to take such action legally.

The directors voted on the question at the request of Haughey, who lies in a hospital while physicians battle for his life. Haughey is a member of the institution—the Liberal church, which accordmx to its bishop, Frank H. Rice, has members in every state in the union.

Bishop Rice announced that the directors voted "as an official act of the church," favoring "the warm blooded killing, based on our love and affection for Barney Haughey."

Haughey is 67 years of age and was an independent candidate for mayor of Denver at the last election.

JAMES R. THRONE OF EDENBOWER IS CALLED BY DEATH

James R. Throne, father of John M. Throne, of the Umpqua Valley Bank, died at his home at Edenbower Monday evening, November 9, at the age of 78 years and 29 days. Death was due to paralysis, which manifested itself in the first stroke 18 months ago. From this he partially recovered until six weeks ago, when he sustained a second stroke from which he was unable to rally.

Mr. Throne was born at McElhatten, Pennsylvania, October 11, 1847. By occupation he was a farmer. After the death of his first wife in that state, he came to Oregon in 1900, settling on a ranch near Glendale, in this county. Later he moved to the neighboring locality of Anchor and ultimately, about five years ago, again changed his place of residence, this time to the fruit ranch at Edenbower, which continued as his home until he passed away.

Mr. Throne is survived by his second wife, Mrs. Martha Throne, and four children by his first wife. The latter, besides John M. Throne, of this city, are Edward C. Throne, of Anchor, Ore.; William S. Throne of Phillipsburg, Pa., and Mrs. Gertrude M. Peters, of Wellsboro, Pa. Two nephews and a niece also mourn his demise, these being Al. Merrill Throne, of this city; Robert F. Throne of Denver, Col., and Mrs. Thelma Gildes, of McMinnville, Ore., all children of the late Norman F. Throne, who died at Ashland several years ago. There were no children of Mr. Throne's second marriage.

Possessed of a genial personality and of an inexhaustible fund of good humor, Mr. Throne was well liked by all of his acquaintances and neighbors, and his numerous charitable deeds, performed unostentatiously, endeared him to many a recipient. A member of the Baptist church, he adhered to the tenets of Christianity as became a man of his faith, and his passing is sincerely mourned by relatives, friends and acquaintances alike.

The funeral will be held from the chapel of the Roseburg Undertaking company at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. H. L. Caldwell, of the Baptist church. Interment will follow in Masonic cemetery.

FATHER OF DEAD IMBECILE CHILD RESTS HIS CASE

LITTLETON, Col., Nov. 10.—The defense testimony of witnesses for Dr. Harold Elmer Blazer, Englewood, Colo., physician, who is charged with the murder of his daughter, Hazel, the 34-year-old "child-woman," who never grew from infancy, was brought to a close shortly before noon today when Lewis Mowry, chief counsel for the accused man, said briefly:

"The defense rests."

Dr. Howell T. Pershing, Denver alienist, was the last witness summoned by the defense. He testified that in his opinion the country doctor was insane on the day he was found in the Blazer home in a stupor, lying beside the lifeless body of his first born.

Pershing, a cousin of General John J. Pershing, said that Blazer was suffering from melancholia on the day the homicide was committed.

"The letters Blazer wrote, directing the disposition of his and his daughter's bodies, alone are enough to indicate to me that he was suffering from severe mental disorder," Pershing declared.

The courtroom was less crowded today than yesterday. The sensation seekers apparently had their fill and did not care to listen to the highly technical testimony of alienists, called by both defense and prosecution. Pershing remained unshaken in his declaration that Blazer was "not responsible for his acts" during the period immediately preceding and following the slaying of the imbecile girl on February 24, 1925.

Joe Snyder, Canyonville resident, was a business visitor in this city for a few hours yesterday, returning home last evening.

PART NEGRO WIFE OF RHINELANDER RESISTS HIS SUIT

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Counsel for Mrs. Alice Jones Rhinelander, now being sued for annulment of her marriage to Leonard Kip Rhinelander, on the ground of fraudulent representation of her race, today admitted in open court that their client had some colored blood. Attorney Davis, counsel for defense, contended that it was young Rhinelander's father, Philip Rhinelander, who was behind the annulment suit.

"The Rhinelander millions," he said, "not Leonard's, but Philip's, are back of this move to crush a concededly humble family to save what they consider to be an ancient name, trailing back to the Hugenots of New Rochelle. It was not enough that they should enter this humble home and take this girl, but because father gets cross about it, he had to drag her in the mud."

Mrs. Rhinelander's counsel said young Rhinelander forced his attentions for months on Alice Jones, had accepted night after night the hospitality of her family and had met many of her relatives. When the question of marriage arose Mr. Davis quoted him as saying: We'll have to keep this secret."

Alice Jones frequently had expressed doubt as to the advisability of the marriage, Davis asserted.

Davis said that in meeting Alice's relatives he must have seen traces of negro blood in them.

"But yet they say," he continued, "that he had no suspicion that there was colored blood around."

Mr. Davis intimated that he might produce letters written by young Rhinelander to his future wife, if the plaintiffs continued to introduce her letters to him.

"If they wish to start throwing mud," he told the jury, "I'll wreck this boy by his own letters."

APARTMENT HOUSE ROW RESULTS IN FISTIC BATTLE

As the result of an apartment house row in which Mrs. Max Kleinan sustained a severe beating, Mrs. Jean Murphy, Mrs. Charles Machen and Mrs. Leonard, tenants of the Gaddis apartments on North Jackson street, were charged with assault and battery in the city court last night. Mrs. Kleinan yesterday called for city police officials who found her suffering from a bleeding nose and a bruised and battered face. She stated that she had objected to parties staged by the Murphy family in their apartment, and had gone to the landlady with her complaint. Mrs. Murphy, she told the officers, aroused the other occupants of the apartment house and the three women and Mrs. Kleinan engaged in a fistic encounter.

Mrs. Kleinan informed the officers that Mrs. Murphy had told untruths concerning her to the other women, and had thereby aroused their anger, and that the three women had cornered her and attacked her at once.

Attorney R. B. Compton was employed by the three women and appeared with them in the city court yesterday evening, entering a plea of not guilty to the charge. They stated that Mrs. Kleinan had been circulating false reports about them, and that when they went to her apartment for a show-down, that she attacked them.

The case is to be heard in the city court on Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 1:30 p. m.

PIERCE PROCLAIMS NOV. 11TH HOLIDAY

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 10.—Governor Pierce today issued a proclamation declaring tomorrow, Armistice Day, a legal holiday and a non-judicial day. NUISANCE LIST TAX FEELS AXE OF COMMITTEE

Auto Vehicles, Cigars And Amusements Benefited by Big Slashes

ART, FIREARMS ALSO

Over One Hundred Million Dollars Reduction in Federal Revenue Agreed On

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—Reduction of the automobile taxes and repeal of many of the special excise levies was voted today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Under a provision approved by the committee, which is writing a new tax bill, automobile passenger cars would be taxed at 3 per cent instead of five per cent, and the levy on automobile trucks, wagons, tires and accessories would be wiped out.

The tax on all grades of cigars was reduced and the levy on alcohol was cut in half.

Other taxes which the committee would repeal are those on jewelry, camera lenses, photograph film and plates, firearms and ammunition, smokers' articles, works of art and mah jongg sets.

No change was made in the taxes on admissions and dues, although the committee voted to exempt theaters housing the spoken drama from the admission tax if the treasury deems it advisable.

The following occupational taxes, which apply on proprietors, were repealed:

Brokers, including pawn brokers, ship and custom house brokers; billiard rooms and bowling alleys, shooting galleries, riding academies, autos for hire, tobacco manufacturers and yachts and motor boats.

It was also agreed to reduce from $3 to $1 the annual tax on physicians who dispense narcotics and to cut from 50 cents to 25 cents the tax on each deed or conveyance, amounting to $500.

Lops Off One Hundred Million.

The total amount of revenue which the government would lose as a result of the changes would amount to slightly more than $100,000,000 annually, Chairman Green said, and would wipe from the statue virtually every so-called nuisance taxes.

Many of the levies which the committee voted to repeal yielded less revenue annually than it cost the government to collect taxes, said Chairman Green.

In reducing the alcoholic tax the committee would cut the rate of $2.20 a proof gallon to $1.65 a gallon effective as of January 1, 1927, and to $1.10 a gallon, effective January 1, 1928.

The cuts ordered in the taxes on cigars follows:

Small sizes from $1.50 to 75c a thousand; class A from $4 to 2.50; class B from $6 to $4.50; class C from $9 to $7; class D from $12 to $10.50; Class E from $15 to $13.50. It was estimated this would cut $12,000,000 annually from the tax burden of the industry.

MUSSOLINI HOLDS FASCISTI IN CHECK

ROME, Nov. 10.—The Fascisti have obeyed Mussolini's orders that no reprisals be taken for the plot to assassinate him says L'Imperio, extreme Fascist organ, but nothing could stop them in the event of another attempt from staging a St. Bartholomew's night to destroy all the enemies of Fascism.

The paper favors the reestablishment of capital punishment and its infliction upon Tito Zanibont and "the other traitors" implicated in the plot against the premier.

WASHINGTON WILL PAUSE AT 11 A. M. ON ARMISTICE DAY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 — A cessation of governmental, industrial, commercial and business activities for a brief space at 11 o'clock tomorrow in observance of Armistice Day, was recommended to the country today by President Coolidge.

The president's desire was made known at the White House, where officials said that method of observing the anniversary had been unanimously approved by the cabinet at today's meeting.

The federal government itself will set an example. In the president's opinion, the pause should be for one or two minutes as practicable.

HYMAN HUNTLEY'S TRIAL DRAWS FOLK FROM THIS COUNTY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

MEDFORD, Nov. 10. — Hearing of testimony in the trial of Hyman Huntley, 58, charged with first degree murder, began in the circuit court today, after Bert H. Smith of Ashland, had been selected to fill the vacancy caused by the illness of A. R. Brown, of Ashland. Huntley is accused of mortally stabbing Jesse James Gibbs, 28, in a quarrel on the night of September 2, over the alleged attentions paid by Gibbs to Mrs. Huntley.

Up to noon today, four witnesses, city policemen Joe Cave, Leggitt and Sundermann, and Sheriff Jennings, had testified as to the surrender of Huntley, following the fatal affray, and conditions at the Huntley home.

The court room at the morning session was packed, including a number from Douglas and Coos counties, friends of the defendant, and Gibbs.

There will be no hearing of the case tomorrow on account of Armistice Day.

SPEC WOODS AND ERNIE WOODARD FOR MAIN EVENT

Expected to Put Up Good Battle on Card Also Featuring Boles and Dundee

Spec Woods and Ernie Woodard will be the principals in the 10-round main event of the next boxing card to be held in Roseburg, on November 20, it was announced by promoter C. H. Clough. Both of these welterweights are known to Roseburg fight fans, and there is no uncertainty about their putting up a lively scrap.

Woodard was defeated by Cal Herman in the first card held in this city about six weeks ago, but the showing he made won a lot of admirers for him, and the fans have been anxious to see him perform again in a local ring. Woodard carried the fight to Herman, and had the Salt Lake wrestler-scrapper in a bad way in the second round. In the opinion of many who saw the argument, the fight would have gone longer than it did but for Woodard's over-eagerness to complete what appeared to be a certain victory for him. Herman's greater experience and better generalship won for him, but Woodard gained far more credit for his showing in the four rounds that the bout lasted than did Duke Evans, the human grappling hook, who managed to stay the limit with Herman in the second card because he hung on instead of trying to fight. Since his fight at Roseburg, Woodard has had two bouts at Salem, winning one and losing the other. He is still young and in prime condition and defeat is increasing his knowledge of the game without in any way lessening his effectiveness. Whether he wins or loses against Woods, the fans are assured of an exhibition worth the money.

Woods is a veteran in the game and has met all of the leading welterweights of the coast. During the past year he has fought at his home city of Bend and at Klamath Falls. Local fans saw him in action at Sutherlin about three years ago and his cleverness and speed made a big hit. He has a big advantage over Woodard in experience, but if he puts the Portland boy away he will have to use everything he has.

The semi-final of six rounds ought to be a hummer. Ace Boyles, the colored lightweight blash of Coos Bay, will exchange wallops with Charley Dundee, who has been making his home here for a month past. Boles has a big reputation in this part of the state, and much is expected of him in the coming bout. Dundee is practically an unknown quantity to the local fans, but in his workouts he has shown so much class that he has gained a big following and the prediction is made that he will take Bole's number. If Dundee beats the colored glove artist in a decisive manner he will probably be carded in the headliner of the next succeeding card.

Promoter Clough gives the assurance that the usual preliminaries of four rounds each will be up to the standard of the preceding bills.

CORN CROP GREATER.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

MINSTREL SHOW BY LEGION POST HUGE SUCCESS

Great Crowd Well Pleased By Home Talent Performance

COMEDY IS CLEAN

Good Wholesome Fun Provided Throughout The Production — Dance Numbers Specialty

The minstrel show presented last night by Umpqua Post of the American Legion, was without question one of the finest home talent entertainments to be seen in Roseburg in many years. The truth of this assertion is proven by the reception given the revue by the audience, which packed the Antlers Theatre to its fullest capacity. From the opening curtain to the stirring, patriotic finale, the great crowd was kept roaring with laughter or enthralled with the entrancing music or the beautiful unique dancing numbers. From start to finish the show was good, clean fun and entertainment, having absolutely nothing of an objectionable nature, even in the jokes and crossfire. The dialogue was new and humorous and carried off in a style which would do credit to veteran minstrels.

The original stage settings, designed by John T. Coyle, director, were simple yet gorgeous in appearance, and gave a pleasing atmosphere to the production. Vocal solos by Jack Coyle, Harold Bemis, Leo Devaney, Frank Rogers and Bert G. Bates, featured the minstrel, while one of the most appreciated numbers was the bone solo by "Shorty" Schneider, whose rattling bones swung the whole audience into time with the catchy music and won encore after encore, to which he responded until almost worn out.

Mr. Oscar Berrie, commander of Umpqua Post, served as interlocutor, while the minstrel circle was made up of Walter Fisher, Harold Bemis, Eugene Bowden, Ted Post, V. Greiger, Harry Boyle, Stanley Haney, Leon McClintock, H. C. Church, Harry McCabe, Frank Rogers, L. A. Dillard, Floyd Wilson and Charles McElhiney.

The endmen were Jack Coyle, Leo Devaney, Roy Bellows, Bert Bates, Russell Lintott and Parks Schneider.

The minstrel orchestra led by Miss Dorothy Cordon at the piano, was a great adjunct to the show, its accompaniements being perfect, while the crowd was kept entertained during intermissions by its fine music. The orchestra was composed of Miss Cordon, at the piano, James Goodman, saxaphone and flute; Charles Caw, saxaphone; Wm. Ott, violin; Delaine Strader, traps; "Jazz" Spraggen, banjo; "Baldy" Evans, banjo.

The second part of the show was made up of vaudeville numbers, any one of which was equal to any of the high class vaudeville numbers to be found on the "big time" circuits.

The opening number, "The dance of the Silhouettes," was something new and unique in Roseburg. It is not only weird, but it is very entertaining and as presented by Miss Peggy Conlee and Mr. Marion Weatherford, won hearty applause from the crowd.

The next number "The Goose Hollow Brass Sax Band," made up of James Goodman, Charles Caw, Louis Langenberg and Walter Germain, gave the crowd some pleasing saxaphone quartette music as well a a whole barreiful of fun.

An added feature number was presented last night when "Banjo Jack" Dille, well known to radio fans, presented a series of banjo solos which took the audience by storm. Mr. Dille, a disabled ex-service man, has recently arrived in Roseburg to make his home here. He is an exceptionally fine banjo player, and last night pleased the
