SOCIETY

By GRACE CARROLL

All contributions to this page, women's clubs, and personals, should be telephoned to the society editor by Friday

The week ushered in by Armistice Day has been a quiet one. Thanksgiving casting its shadow on the social calendar, and the holidays which bring home the college folk, and herald many an intimate family gathering, are always keenly anticipated.

The chrysanthemum show, held on Armistice day, claimed the attention of all school patrons and friends, as well as all those who are keenly interested in flower culture. Each year's success brings plans for an increased and better showing for the next season.

Attractive Bridge Luncheon at Jost Home

One of the attractive affairs, which marked the week's social calendar, was the one o'clock luncheon and bridge party at the home of Mrs. W. S. Jost on Reservoir avenue, when Mrs. Jost, Mrs. J. C. Ponster, Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mrs. J. J. Whipple, Mrs. F. C. Ziegler, Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, C. Bee, R. D. Williams, A. J. Ford, R. L. Devaney, M. S. Allen, A. J. Young, A. J. Hochradel, A. G. Sutherland, A. G. McMillan, B. Casey, R. L. Gedney, W. F. Harris, Fred Haynes, E. Malden, H. E. Coleman, T. B. Virden, Charles Rusko, and Miss Frances Howell.

The guest list included the Mesdames George Kohlhaugen, H. P. Ogdens, T. E. Singleton, J. L. Love, O. D. McAllister, George Wharton, Jack Wharton, S. G. Sellick, R. L. Whipple, Fred Schwartz, C. Bee, C. Ziegler, G. V. Wimberly, C. Bee, R. D. Williams, A. J. Ford, R. L. Devaney, M. S. Allen, A. J. Young, A. J. Hochradel, A. G. Sutherland, A. G. McMillan, B. Casey, R. L. Gedney, W. F. Harris, Fred Haynes, E. Malden, H. E. Coleman, T. B. Virden, Charles Rusko, and Miss Frances Howell.

Engagement Announced At Luncheon

The following, taken from the Morning Register, of Eugene, November 7, will be of interest to the many friends here of Mr. Bell.

The engagement of Miss Waverly Lesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lesley, of 1525 Ferry street, Eugene, to Mr. Walter Bell, of Roseburg, was announced Thursday at a Psi Lambda Theta luncheon.

Country Club Party Next Week

One of the enjoyable events of next week will be the 6:30 dinner and party given at the Country Club by members on Wednesday evening, November 18.

The evening will be spent in dancing and tables will be placed for cards, following the dinner.

Elks Dance and Card Party Next Week

One of the interesting events on next week's social calendar is the Elks dance and card party to be held at the hall on Thursday night, November 19.

The dances, which are given during the winter season each year, are very popular, and this one promises to be one of the enjoyable parties of the season.

"Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" to be Presented

The Junior class of the Roseburg high school will present "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," a three-act comedy by James Smith, at the Astoria theatre, December 1st.

Tryouts were held and the cast chosen October 25 and rehearsals began immediately. The cast includes Daphne Hughes, who plays the part of Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh, a polished English society lady. Pauline Babar will be Violet De Salle, a charming young girl and sister of Mrs. Adelaide Bumpstead-Leigh. Mrs. De Salle, the unsuccessful society woman and mother of Violet and Adelaide, will be played by Elizabeth Abraham. The polished young gentleman, Anthony Rawson, is played by Alfred Ellison. He is the fiancee of Violet but can still flirt with Nina, the maid. Nina is played by Jessie Gibbs. Geoffrey Rawson, "the black sheep" of the Rawson family, is Glenn Bacon. He is really a fine young fellow and falls in love with Violet. Justin Rawson, the always irate father of Anthony and Geoffrey is Bert Knight.

Popular Reedsport Girl Weds

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reed in Reedsport, Nov. 8, at high noon, when their popular and accomplished daughter, Miss Eva Isabelle was united in marriage to Mr. Robin Lawrence Reed of Portland by Rev. B. E. Calver, who read the impressive service of the Episcopal church.

The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of white chrysanthemums and candles and the home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the bright tinted blossoms of autumn.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white, accented with cream crepe, daintily headed and of simple lines. She wore pearls and carried a prayer book.

Miss Floretta Janelle was maid of honor and was attractive in a gown of shell pink accented with chiffon. She carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums of harmonizing color.

Nelson A. Perkins, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Mrs. Robert Durbin.

On informal reception followed the ceremony. The wedding was a very quiet one witnessed by a small group of guests, including Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith, Mrs. P. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins, Capt. and Mrs. Westerdale, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durbin, Miss Floretta Janelle, Nelson Perkins, Louis Knapp, and Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Clark.

Immediately following the wedding luncheon, the happy young couple left amid the best wishes of the whole community, for their home in Corvallis, where Mr. Reed is a member of the O. A. C. faculty, serving as the popular wrestling coach for the college.

Mrs. Reed is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college.

Robin Reed is holder of the Olympic amateur wrestling championship in his class. Mr. Reed has entered the professional class in recent months and has been very successful.—Port Umpqua Courier.

Miss Palmer Weds In California

The following from the Fullerton, California, Daily Tribune, of October 26th, will interest many Sutherlin people. The groom is a former well known Sutherlin boy, and is a son of Mrs. D. W. Banker of this city.

Artistic and lovely were the appointments at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moll on Carhart Hill for the wedding solemnized there Saturday evening.

Miss Carol Palmer, Mrs. Moll's niece, who has been making her home there and Ralph Thomas Shaver of Los Angeles were married before more than 60 of their friends from Long Beach, Los Angeles, Santa Monica, Glendale and Pasadena, at 8 o'clock.

The guests were seated in the living room that had been beautifully decorated with potted palms and large baskets and bouquets of chrysanthemums. Preceding the wedding ceremony a quartet played wedding music by Healey. In this quartet were Mrs. F. I. Moll, cellist, Miss Mable Moll, Dute, Mrs. Nellie Calander Mills, violin and Mrs. V. W. Ramsey, piano.

To strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march, played by Mrs. Moll, the wedding party entered the room and met Dr. Herbert Booth Smith of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, of Los Angeles, and Rev. Graham C. Hunter, who were standing in the bay window above that had been beautifully decorated. During the plighting of the troth, Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Ramsey played "Oh Promise Me." The impressive single ring ceremony was used.

The bride was beautifully dressed in white silk lace dress made over a straight silk slip of white. She wore a long chiffon veil held in place by a strand of pearls; a large shower bouquet of white and pink roses and ferns was carried by her. The bridesmaids, her sisters, Miss Thelma and Doris Palmer of Santa Monica, were dressed in frocks alike, of crepe de chine, one of apricot and the other of green.

The little flower girl, Frances Moll, wore a green dress of soft silk and carried a pink basket filled with pink rose pedals. Following her was the ring bearer, Mary Ruth Moll, who was dressed in lavender and carried the ring on a silk cushion of white, covered with white satin ribbons. The best man was Clarence Henderson of Los Angeles.

The alcove was beautifully decorated with potted palms placed against the windows that were covered with yellow silk curtains which formed a soft background for the greenery and the lavender chrysanthemums used. A long silk cushion of white was placed on the floor for the kneeling.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony and at that time Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Ramsey played two selections. Light refreshments were served, and the bride's large cake was cut by the bride.

Following the honeymoon the couple will live in Los Angeles, where they are building a home. Mr. Shaver is connected with a bank furniture manufacturing firm in Los Angeles. The bride has made her home in Fullerton with her aunt and uncle for the past five years. She is well known in Fullerton and vicinity as well as many of the Southern California communities.—Sutherlin Sun.

Fullerton P. T. A. Has Meeting

The regular meeting of the Fullerton P. T. A. was held Thursday evening, November 12 at the school house, and was opened by a community sing, led by Mrs. M. S. Hamm.

A review of the book, "The Job of Being a Dad," was given in an interesting manner by Rev. H. L. Caldwell, on the occasion of observance of Book Week, held November 8 to 14. The theme was very ably handled, showing the sense of responsibility which every father should have in regard to his son. The chairman of the membership committee reported that the P. T. A. has now fifty-four members. An assessment of fifty cents to replenish the treasury was decided on by the members. Following the business session, a vocal solo was given by Mrs. Frank Libburn, and Mrs. Minturn gave a report of the P. T. A. convention in Portland.

Mr. O. Arthur gave an interesting article on "Getting the Boy to Read." T. H. Ness, representing the Kiwanis club, gave a very instructive talk "The Barometer" was given to Miss Swinney's class room for the largest attendance of parents at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Rapp Hosts at Costume Party

The spirit of fun, when girls imitate boys, and boys masquerade as girls, was revived when Mr. and Mrs. Leo D. Rapp were hosts to a group of their friends, at their apartment on Casa street, on Saturday evening of last week, inviting them for the evening, to a costume party.

The girls came dressed as boys and the boys were amusingly costumed as girls. In rooms bright with decorations of autumn leaves and flowers, games were played, for which the winner of each game was given a certain number of points, and a prize was offered to the one receiving the highest number. High score for ladies was received by Mrs. Earl Burr, and for gentlemen, was received by Mr. James Goodman.

Following several hours of fun a luncheon was served. The guests invited were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Quire, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bushford, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Harsh and Mr. and Mrs. James Goodman.

Smick P. T. A. Has Interesting Meeting

The Smick Parent-Teacher Association held its regular monthly meeting, Friday evening of last week, at which time important business was taken up.

Arrangements were made by committees for the pie social held November 13, and plans were completed to make the affair a success. Following the business session a short program was enjoyed. Members C. Hedgcock, and Mrs. Price presented an instructive paper on "Junior Red Cross Work in the Schools."

Interesting Play Presented at Baptist Church

An interesting play was presented by the Missionary Society of the Baptist church, in the church parlors on Thursday evening, to a fairly sized attendance of friends.

The play, depicting missionary life in foreign fields, was very interestingly worked out.

Following the play a short musical program was given, including a vocal solo by Charles McElhinny with accompaniment by Miss Verita Kohlhaugen, piano, and Mr. W. E. Ota, violin, solo by Mrs. W. Fred Strang, accompanied by Miss Kohlhaugen; a vocal duet by Mrs. Strang and Miss Grace Wickham. Later refreshments of cider and doughnuts were enjoyed.

Miss Henderson Entertains Rose Sewing Club

Miss Myth Henderson charmingly entertained on Tuesday evening at her home on Miceli street, inviting for the evening the members of the Rose Sewing Club.

Bright autumn blossoms attractively arranged in tall vases and baskets decorated the rooms and the conversation and sewing club members present were Misses Florence Thompson, Florence Sneider, Vera Carothers, Edna W. Toroman, Margaret Carr, Verlie Tracey, Elmer Sherck, Mesdames E. McReynolds, A. Farleigh, A. J. Carraway, M. Keenan and E. Coffell. Invited guests for the evening were Mesdames Gladys Smith and Beulah Jarvis.

Dinner Party For Mrs. Grizzle

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stevens were hosts at a dinner party at their home on Monday night, complimenting Mrs. Wilbur Grizzle, of Long Beach.

Lovely chrysanthemums were used about the room and a centerpiece of the same flower in white was used at the table where covers were placed for Mrs. Wilbur Grizzle, Miss Verita Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chilton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richards, Mr. Lewis Holdenrich, and Mr. and Mrs. Stevens.

Later several tables of five hundred were in play and first prize was received by Mr. Heidenrich.

North Circle of Aid Enjoys Afternoon

One of the pleasant affairs of the week was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. B. Bailey, when with Mrs. E. A. Patten, Mrs. Bailey jointly entertained the members of the North Circle of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Chrysanthemums formed a bright note of color in yellow and white arranged in baskets and vases about the room. A short business session preceded the afternoon's diversion of games and conversation. Later luncheon was served by the hostesses at small tables centered with chrysanthemums, to twelve ladies.

Fullerton P. T. A. Entertains Pupils

The Fullerton P. T. A. entertained the pupils of the school at the school house on Friday evening, November 6.

Games and a social time occupied the young folk, and later a luncheon was served by a number of ladies. A good attendance of pupils enjoyed the affair.

Dinner Party at Crawford Home

Mrs. A. B. Crawford and Mrs. D. E. Owens entertained a group of intimate friends at a dinner party on Wednesday evening at the home of the former on Chadwick street.

Red, white and blue formed an attractive table decoration, carried out in a centerpiece of carnations. Red, white and blue candles at each end of the table gave the setting a patriotic effect and place cards of quaint soldiers were used at each cover. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunsaker, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Henniger, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Owens, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crawford and Mr. B. W. Bates.

Later cards formed the evening's diversion.

Bellview Club Has Interesting Meeting

Mrs. C. E. Roseland was hostess at the Bellview club at her home Thursday inviting the members for the afternoon.

Instructions on sewing and mending on the sewing machine were given by Mr. Thomas, who has been giving demonstration work in this city for some time. Following the regular business meeting the hostess served a luncheon. The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting, when the regular custom of exchanging gifts will be carried out. This meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. A. Pearce on December 10.

Those present were Mrs. P. W. Beckley, Mrs. Fred Boyer, Mrs. E. E. Boyer, Mrs. Z. W. Parker, Mrs. J. J. Keater, Mrs. V. A. Lovelace, Mrs. R. C. Lovelace, Mrs. W. A. Pearce, Mrs. A. A. Murphy and Mrs. J. O. Arthur.

Bridge and Sewing at Jost Home Friday

Having their friends together at a series of affairs this week, Mrs. W. S. Jost, Mrs. J. C. Ponster and Mrs. H. D. Harris entertained at the home of Mrs. Jost on Friday at the second of bridge afternoons.

An interesting three-course, one o'clock luncheon served by the hostesses, assisted by Mesdames M. S. Allen, J. L. Love and Floyd Frear, preceded the afternoon's diversion of sewing and bridge. The tables were centered with small vases of bud, roses, and lovely white and yellow Mrs. E. Kershav and McKinley chrysanthemums decorated the rooms. Receiving first prize at bridge was Mrs. B. West, second prize, Mrs. F. R. Dunlap, and consolation prize was received by Mrs. Fred Hruby.

Those sewing during the afternoon were Mesdames L. A. Dillard, Washington Hughes, F. W. Chase, Bert Wells, John Ruyman, C. S. Heintzel, G. C. Finlay, V. S. French, A. Abraham, I. M. Irwin, Floyd Frear, C. R. Pream, H. Barr, and Walter Good. The ladies playing bridge were the Mesdames H. C. Church, A. McElli, C. A. Lockwood, A. S. McKenzie, F. R. Dunlap, Leon McClinton, C. B. Wade, Fred Hruby, B. West, Fred Strang, S. N. Young, W. G. Burt, W. R. Conlee, Carl Remyers, E. H. Stewart, A. J. Carmax, P. Bond, H. West, Art, A. J. Allen, William Bell, J. E. Eager, Paul Bubar and Dean Bubar.

Joseph Wharton Honored on Anniversary

Mr. Joseph Wharton was complimented on Friday evening at dinner, honoring him on his eightieth birthday anniversary, for which Mr. and Mrs. F. Wharton were hosts at their home in West Roseburg.

Lovely yellow and white Turner chrysanthemums were used in the rooms, and at 6:30 o'clock dinner was served at one large table cut with a load of small bright chrysanthemums. Later cards formed the diversion of the evening.

Present to honor Mr. Wharton were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, Miss Beza Wharton, Miss Jane Wharton, Donald Wimberly and William Wharton.

Roseburg Woman's Club Meeting Next Tuesday

The Roseburg Woman's Club will hold an interesting meeting at the Moose hall on Tuesday afternoon, and following the business session a splendid program will be presented.

The theme of the afternoon will be "The American Home." The program, which is in charge of Mrs. A. C. Mather, will include a talk on "What Women Want in Their Homes," by Mrs. A. G. Sutherland; "Home Problems," by Mrs. Max Kinneid; a musical reading, by Mrs. A. H. Canaday; an address, "Home Making," by Dr. Louis Albert Bahks and special music will also be a feature of the afternoon.

Roseburg Woman's Club to Sponsor Card Party

The Roseburg Woman's Club is sponsoring a card party at the Moose Hall on Monday evening of next week, the proceeds of the affair to go to the fund of the new clubhouse.

The hall will be decorated for the affair and tables will be placed for five hundred and bridge, the games to open at 8 o'clock. Gentlemen and ladies' prizes will be offered. Refreshments will be served by a committee of ladies of the club.

Miss Mary Helen Elliott and Miss Marion Ness Motored to Eugene this morning to attend the U. O. A. C. football game. They will spend the week end with Miss Bertha Kohlhaugen.

Mrs. O'Brien Honored at Association Dinner

The Woman's Benefit Association entertained with a dinner at the Macabee hall this week, honoring Mrs. Caroline M. O'Brien, the district deputy, who visited here this week.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock and following, a business meeting and social time was had. Mrs. O'Brien, who is visiting the different branches of the association, in southern Oregon, is enroute to Ashland, where the Southern Oregon rally will be held on December 2. The members of the local branch of the association expect to take a large class from this city to the rally.

Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, wife of Circuit Judge Hamilton of Roseburg, left this morning for Eugene with her daughter, Mrs. Allen Carson of Salem. Mrs. Hamilton has been confined at the Hotel Benton because of illness the last few days and was not able to leave until this morning.—Corvallis Times.

Liberty Theatre. Pack up your powder puffs, your lipstick and rouge puffs, girls, and go and see "Under the Rouge," now showing at the Liberty Theatre. It's a picture that will make you laugh and cry. It's a story for every man, woman and child, for every person who has even gone so far as to paint a horse or barn.

It's a just, honest-to-goodness melodramatic picture of the naughty people in a good world. And they are only naughty because fate had placed them from the cradle in an environment of criminal surroundings. Lipsticks and paint don't make them what they are—they don't mean a thing in the story, only that there are good, clean souls in the tinge of the underworld just as there are in other strata of society.

Tom Moore and Eileen Percy are two of the characters, who start out as good bad people, and end up just country folks, broadcasting love and happiness.

Antlers Theatre. "Scaramouche" now promises to top the record of "Madame Intertiffy." The romantic novel by Sabatini is generally conceded to be the most successful of its kind since the days of Alexandre Dumas, while Long's book, although popular, never gained fame until it reached stage and operatic form.

As a play "Scaramouche" has had a very successful career. The Andre-Moreau of the stage production is Sydney Blackmer, remembered for his work in "The Mountain Man" and "The Love Child." Margalo Gilmore plays the role of Aline, Andre's boyhood sweetheart, around whom the story revolves.

On the screen the balance falls heavily in favor of "Scaramouche." Rex Ingram's production being believed by a majority of critics to be the best picture in the history of the industry. In this version there are a trio of stars—Ramon Novarro as Andre, Alice Terry as Aline, and Lewis Stone as the Marquis de la Touz d'Azry, the hated aristocratic leader—the same three whose acting was so impressive in Ingram's earlier success, "The Prisoner of Zenda!"

At the Antlers Sunday and Monday.

Miss Dangler Returns.

Miss L. Carroll Dangler, who will be remembered by many Roseburg housewives as the most charming young woman who conducted the News-Review cooking school several months ago, has just returned from the Hawaiian Islands, where she had been holding a number of these same sort of schools. Miss Dangler is in the employ of the Westinghouse electric company and has made an excellent record during her period of service with that company. News of her return to San Francisco was received yesterday by S. J. Stewart and R. W. Turnbull. Westinghouse representatives who were in Roseburg for a short time conferring with the electric dealers of the city.

When the Simon girls ask ev'ry day, "When did you hear from Jim?" "Dye, think I'd tell such a thing As you," I said, "Bout him?"

But I did tell a girl you know Exactly your address. I saw her picture in your trunk So you won't care, I guess. She didn't ask me how you were, But said, "Don't tell your brother That I have been here every day. I come to see your mother."

Now Ma and I have cleaned the house From attic to the cellar. I helped in all the rooms but yours. Ma wouldn't let a feller Ransack that room for love nor gold. She often goes there, too. Sometimes I see them both in there. Say they must be true blue.

They never ask me in at all But sit there sewing steady. I guess there must be some event For which they're getting ready. If I could find out what it is I'd tell you right today But now I'll send our love to you Five hundred miles away.

Your brother Ted. —From Everyday Life Series by Orpha Collins.

ARABIAN DANCE FEATURES PORTIA MANSFIELD GROUP

The program for the coming Dance Concert by the Portia Mansfield Dancers is widely varied and reveals almost all types of dancing. One of the most dramatic examples of modern interpretive dancing is the "Chanson Arabe" danced to music from "Scheherazade" (Rimsky-Korsakoff). The story is of an Arabian dancing girl, captured by pirates and includes a thrilling Dervish Dance by the girl as she prays for deliverance. Jeanne Fuller does the Dervish Dance, while a dashing Pirate Dance by Harold Ames is also included. Later in the program a graceful "Waltz Fantasie" is danced by Jeanne Fuller and Harold Ames to the strains of a Mana Zucca waltz. The Dance Concert takes place at the Antlers on Sunday, matinee and evening and Monday evening.
