BEND'S PROJECTED NEW WATER SYSTEM FACING A CONTEST

BEND, Ore., Nov. 20.—The Tumalo Irrigation district notified the city of Bend yesterday that any attempt of the city to divert the water of Tumalo creek under the provisions of chapter 53, laws of 1925, would be opposed by the district because the waters have been adjudicated and are now appurtenant to the lands within the boundaries of the Deschutes county municipal improvement district, commonly known as the Tumalo project.

The bids for a pipe line to Tumalo creek are to be opened to night by the city council, against which a temporary injunction was issued this week prohibiting it from delivering $600,000 worth of bonds recently sold to a Portland bond house.

"WHAT PRICE GLORY" AT HEILIG THEATRE EUGENE TUESDAY

One of the most important productions of the season is the sensational war drama "What Price Glory," which will be seen at the Heilig theatre, Eugene next Tuesday night, Nov. 24th. This is the play which has astounded the entire English speaking world with its frank exploitation of what actually happened in the ranks of the American Expeditionary force in France.

While all the players in this terrific comedy drama from the pen of Maxwell Anderson, a former San Francisco newspaper man, and Captain Laurence Stallings, formerly of the United States marines, are men, with the exception of one, the play is reported to have a tremendous sex appeal as in the case of "White Cargo."

GRANGE'S BLUFF FAILS.

(Associated Press Local Wire.) DETROIT, Nov. 20.—The Detroit News today quotes C. Harold Wills, president of Wills Saulte, Clare, Inc., motor car makers, as saying that Harold "Red" Grange, appeared at the main offices of the company at Marysville, Mich., last

Don't forget the Charleston Contest at Maccabee Hall Saturday night for a cash prize—Miss Dorothy Ogle who won the prize last Saturday will probably take part again.

800 ATTENDED MUSICAL TREAT

The concert given last night at the Presbyterian church, given by Ott's Music store, was attended by over 800 music loving people of Roseburg and vicinity, and was pronounced by all to be an unqualified success.

Probably a number of people who attended the recital given last night by Miss Elizabeth Spencer and Lucile Collette were at first puzzled and disappointed when they discovered a phonograph cabinet occupying the center of the stage. However, this was only for comparison, and Miss Elizabeth Spencer reached the side of the Edison singing with her own records, pausing from time to time, apparently at random, and permitted her re-created performance to be heard alone. This gave an opportunity to compare one with the other and it is no more than just to state that there was not the slightest shade of difference between the re-created voice and the original voice.

In the course of the evening similar test were made by Miss Lucile Collette on the violin and piano, with the same miraculous results. There must have been a slight difference in volume when the artist stopped singing or playing, but it was not noticeable, for the tone which came from the cabinet was round and luscious with all the vibrant, pulsating quality of that which came directly from Elizabeth Spencer's throat, and the instruments of Lucile Collette. It was only by watching the singer's lips or the violinist's bow or the piano keys, that one could be sure when they sang or played or when they did not.

This proof was convincing. If it were not, another proof was offered. After Miss Spencer had commenced to sing one number, the lights were turned out—ostensibly so the audience could not watch the singer's lips.

It did not seem difficult to determine in the dark when the singer sang and when she did not. The writer was pretty sure about it himself until the lights were turned on again and it was discovered that Miss Spencer was not off the stage at all, and that the New Edison alone had been heard.

Ott's Music store is to be congratulated on bringing these fine artists to Roseburg who were well appreciated by all attending.

CASCARA QUININE

TOOK ALL SHE HAD THEN KIDNAPED HER, AGED WOMAN SEES

(Associated Press Local Wire.) NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Joseph Gustavson, formerly of Salt Lake City, was indicted today on charges of kidnaping the 82-year-old widow of Luman H. Stewart, chief accountant of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad company.

Gustavson, who said he had been twice divorced, is interested in a patent food which purports to effect rejuvenation without gland operation. When arrested today he declared the charges grow out of financial advances made to him by Mrs. Stewart for investment. These have approximated $25,000, he told the police.

Mrs. Stewart told Assistant District Attorney Murphy she had $40,000 left her by her husband. Gustavson started by borrowing $10,000 without security to put in a taxicab business, she said. Later he obtained $15,000 more with which to promote the patent food and finally secured her power of attorney. He induced her to sign four different wills, the widow said, the last of which made him her sole beneficiary and he removed her furniture, the pictures on the wall and the family silver. The straw that broke the camel's back, she told Mr. Murphy, was when Gustavson took away with him the deed to her husband's grave and had her taken to the Bellevue observation ward.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH REVIVAL

The revival at the Christian church is growing from night to night. Two families responded to the invitation last evening after a powerful sermon by Evangelist Kellems. He has a great message and preaches it well. The gospel has by no means lost its power, it will win. No small contribution to the success of the meeting is the singing of Mr. Filwood. He has a fine tenor voice and sings his gospel messages very effectively. Last night a good delegation from the church at Myrtle Creek attended the meeting. We appreciate much their interest in the work here. Don't miss Kellems' sermon tonight on "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" —CORRESPONDENT.

EXCITING CHASE LANDS PORTLAND HOLDUP YOUTH

(Associated Press Local Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 20.—After a spectacular chase in the course of which two policemen were forced to hold up their hands, two other officers today captured a youth who confessed to two Portland daylight holdups, one of which was committed this morning.

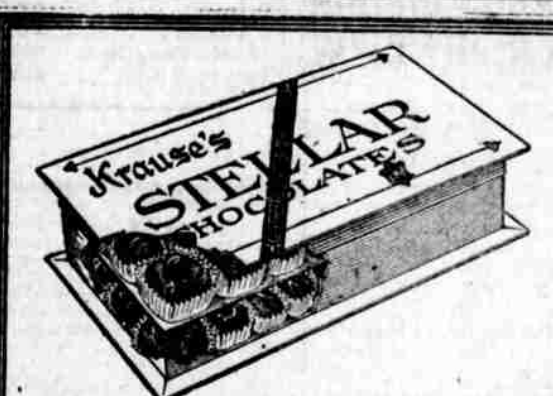

The chase began when Forest Bradley, employe of an auto company, recognized on the street a machine stolen yesterday from the company. He gave chase through the downtown streets, and the fugitive finally escaped after threatening Bradley and two policemen with a revolver. The police and the fleeing youth engaged in a pistol battle. The youth was caught later by two officers in another part of the downtown district when he was recognized while afoot.
