JUNIOR PLAY WILL BE PRESENTED THIS EVENING

The seat sale for the junior play, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," to be presented this evening at the Antlers Theatre, has been very good and a large assemblage of good and a large assemblage of greet the players when the curtain goes up at 8:15 o'clock.

The stage settings, which were mostly designed by the stage managers and staff, are very effective and the hard work of the cast under the supervision of competent coaches, and the work of the property managers promise to make the play a good success. The public schools were dismissed this afternoon in order that the pupils would have an opportunity to attend the matinee at 3:30 o'clock.

BURIED CITY IN MISSOURI MAY BE OBJECT OF SEARCH

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

HANNIBAL, Mo., Dec. 3.—Citizens of Bowling Green, Mo., declared today they had no information as to any discoveries by a party from St. Louis, which has been carrying on excavations on a farm one mile north of that town intermittently for several months.

Press dispatches had stated that R. D. Burchard and assistants announced the discovery of ruins of a buried city possibly of a preglacial age.

Efforts to obtain information from members of the party failed, Bowling Green residents said.

OFFSPRING OF TURKEY AND CHICKEN USHERS IN NEWEST DELICACY

DES MOINES, Iowa, Dec. 3.—The latest style in barnyard fowls, the "turken," produced by the union of a turkey gobbler and a chicken, will be shown at the poultry show here next week when ten specimens will be exhibited.

Roy Beck, real estate promoter and breeder of the new poultry hybrid, believes that next November it will be the turken's turn to crow—at 70 to 80 cents a pound. The turken's meat is said to be predominantly turkey in flavor, but more delicate and finer texture.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Dec. 3.—Turkhens have been produced here for five years by E. T. Spencer and sold in poultry markets.

Spencer mated Rhode Island chickens and Bronze turkeys and exhibited the product at farm bureau fairs. The turkhen weighs more than a chicken and less than a turkey and resembles neither.

BIG MAIL ORDER BUSINESS BY AMERICAN LIBRARIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—(A. P.)—American libraries are doing a large mail order business.

Free books, delivered by parcel post, have been offered by the St. Louis Public library several years and in 1924 approximately 2,500 volumes were distributed to patrons, many of whom are blind.

In Chicago and Seattle a borrower deposits a dollar to pay postage on books mailed. When the amount is nearly exhausted, the reader is notified so it may be renewed.

The Free Public Library in East Orange, N. J., delivers books by messenger at the expense of the borrower and many libraries throughout the country have instituted the "vacation privilege" system, under which a patron may keep books during the summer or have them exchanged by mail or express.

As a part of its adult education movement, the American Library Association is encouraging the development of the mail order distribution of books.

CROWN WILLAMETTE PAPER CO. SAID TO HAVE SOLD CONTROL

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 3.—The Portland Telegram says today that "on the authority of one of Portland's foremost bankers," it was stated in the local financial district today that the control of the common stock of the Crown Willamette Paper company had passed yesterday to an investment banking group at $200 a share for the 200,000 shares, approximately, outstanding. This class of stock controls the corporation.

The group mentioned as having obtained control is headed by Blythe, Witter and company, in association with the Continental Commercial and Trust Savings Bank, Chicago, and Blair and company, of New York.

BLOCK DENIES IMPENDING SALE OREGON PAPER PLANT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3—Louis Bloch, president of the Crown Willamette Paper company, denied today reports that a banking group was negotiating for the purchase of his company. Mr. Bloch issued the following signed statement:

"The article appearing in a morning paper to the effect that a banking group was negotiating for the purchase of the Crown Willamette Paper company properties is not correct and no deal for the sale of the properties of the Crown Willamette Paper company is either pending or contemplated."

GALE PLAYS HAVOC AT CONEY ISLAND

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The gale which is lashing the Atlantic coast today tore up beaches at Coney Island, flooded restaurants on the boardwalk and carried tables, chairs and at least one building out to sea. Two barges in New York harbor were torn loose from their moorings and were drifting out to sea.

Police of the marine division succeeded in taking the building in tow after it had drifted off Sandy Hook. The structure, 45 by 100 feet, contained $25,000 worth of canoes and small boats.
