ILL LUCK STRAIGHT ARMS 'RED' GRANGE IN DASH FOR COIN

(Associated Press Special Wire.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 11.—Refreshed by a night's rest Harold (Red) Grange who was injured in yesterday's football game here was "feeling fine" today and will accompany the Chicago Bears to Detroit, George Halas, manager, said this morning.

Whether Grange will play Saturday Halas said would depend on the advice of a physician.

The Bears' manager announced that an X-ray photograph of Grange's injured arm disclosed that there had been no bone fracture.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Troubles are piling up for Red Grange in his dash toward a million or something near that.

The football flash from Wheaton, Ill., lasted but one period when his team, the Chicago Bears, played the Pittsburgh All-Stars in Pittsburgh yesterday. Then a doctor found that he had burst a blood vessel and a ligament had been torn in one arm.

At the same time the motion picture theater owners of America announced in New York that the football star's proposed picture would not be allowed in any of their theaters if the $200,000 check advanced to be placed in escrow by the Arrow Picture Corporation last Monday should prove to be "bunk publicity."

ANOTHER WORLD WAR MEANS END CIVILIZATION
Hoped America some day would amend the immigration law insofar as it pertains to Japanese.

thus removing the only sore spot. The premier declared that the present policy of non-interference in Manchuria would be continued and that no more Japanese troops would be sent thither unless absolutely necessary. He said that at present about 5,000 railway guards were moving toward Manchuria, the forces being below normal owing to the conscripts' terms ending. He added that replacements would bring the force to approximately 7,000 which at present is considered sufficient.

The conditions in China and Manchuria were puzzling, the premier said. It was not known today what would happen tomorrow and Japan's future policy would be governed by conditions.

World Court Debate Topic.
PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 11.—A national expression of undergraduate opinion on American entrance into the world court and the feasibility of establishing a permanent union of American students for considering important questions will occupy the attention of the National Student World Court Conference at Princeton University tonight and tomorrow.

About one-fourth of the 587 universities, colleges and other institutions of higher education in the United States will be represented by student delegates.

"Should America join the world court," will be debated tonight at the opening session, with United States Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin advocating such action and Clarence Darrow, Chicago lawyer, opposing.
