As the Christmas season fast approaches, one notices that everywhere there is the hurry and bustle of shopping, preparing for the visit of merry Santa on Christmas eve.

This week has seen just the beginning of the Christmas rush, and most hostesses are entertaining at only intimate bridge parties, luncheons and informal dinners, social events giving way to the preparation for Christmas parties, the Christmas ball, and different organizations are making plans for charity work among the poor and needy of the city.

Jeanette Rice Pledged to Phi Chi Theta

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 9.—Jeanette Rice of Roseburg has been pledged to Phi Chi Theta, women's national honorary in commerce. The fraternity considers scholastic standing, womanly character, and leadership in campus activities as a basis of selecting pledges. Miss Rice, a senior in commerce, is a member of Alpha Iho sorority.

Pleasant Evening at Hewitt Home

The regular business and social session of the C. O. M. E. class of the Christian Church was at the home of Margaret Hewitt on Tuesday evening.

Following discussion of important business affairs the evening was spent playing games, and later the hostess, assisted by Lois Beckley and Elizabeth Abraham served luncheon to Rose Conroy, Rheta Gates, Lucille Germond, Daphne Hughes, Eugenie Krommings and Donald Radabaugh, Glade Brown, William Knight, Milford Howard, Max Hardman, Dolores McCurdy, Truman Runyan.

Pre-Christmas Party at Geddes Home

Among the festive pre-Christmas parties of the week was that of the North Circle of the Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church, when the members were entertained at the home of Mrs. A. J. Geddes Thursday afternoon.

The rooms were attractive with red and green decorations, and in the music room, to one side was a Christmas tree.

Following a short business session, a program of readings was given, and those participating were Mrs. Harold McKay, Olive Lawrence, Marion McAllister, Evelyn Cummings, and Lloyd Cummings. Later gifts were distributed each guest from the Christmas tree. The surprise of the afternoon came in the form of a large box, festively decorated and covered with paper, which when opened held an old fashioned lunch, with which the hostess served chocolate. About seventeen were present.

View Point P. T. A. Has Pleasant Evening

The members of the View Point Parent Teacher Association held their regular monthly business and social session Thursday evening.

The members discussed means of raising money to help pay for the new Brunswick phonograph for the school. Essays, written by pupils of the upper grades, were brought to the meeting to be judged. Lavurn Krugel received first prize for the seventh grade and Thomas Lindbloom, from the sixth grade, received first prize in his class. Following the program refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Hatfield and Mrs. Joe Brunstock.

Rose Conroy Honored by Friends

A few intimate friends were invited to the Conroy home Friday evening to honor Miss Rose Conroy on her sixteenth birthday anniversary.

Games were the diversion for a time, and later tables were placed for rook. Miss Conroy, assisted by Miss Rheta Gates served the guests luncheon following the game. Enjoying the evening with Miss Conroy were Misses Jessie Gibbs, Ruby Guide, Rheta Gates, Emma Wamsley, and Glade Brown, Ralph Church, George Weber, Donald Radabaugh and Reginald Hatfield.

Group Gathers at Fisher Home

Surprising Mr. W. H. Fisher, a group of intimate friends gathered at the Fisher home in Laurelwood for an informal evening Friday.

The ladies, who had gone to the house previously, prepared a dinner, which was served at 6:30 o'clock when Mr. Fisher and the other men arrived, at a table bright with a centerpiece of the season's blossoms. Following dinner the group were interested in five hundred. Spending the evening with Mr. Fisher were Mrs. C. S. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. John Runyan, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Babar, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Washington Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Young, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Enzer, Mr. Douglas Walls, and John C. Holste, of Portland.

Informal Dinner at Crafton Home

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Crafton were hosts at an informal dinner party Sunday evening at their home, having together a small group of friends.

Seated about a table attractive with a centerpiece of the season's blossoms, were Miss Maxine Sykes, Mr. and Mrs. Bert G. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Harth, Mr. Harry McCabe and Mr. and Mrs. Crafton.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet Monday Eve

Plans for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church, have been nearly completed, and an interesting program has been arranged.

James T. Jardine, director of the O. A. C. extension service, has accepted the invitation sent by L. Antles, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and will be the main speaker of the evening. The annual election of the board of directors will be held at this time and the annual report will be read. Mr. Antles will also read in condensed form, the annual report of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The dinner is in charge of the Roseburg Woman's club, the members of which have prepared a splendid menu.

Housewarming Party at Grimm Home

Surprising Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Grimm, who have just moved to their new home on 243 First Avenue North, a group of friends called at their home for a housewarming Saturday evening of last week.

The time was spent in playing cards, for which Mrs. H. O. Grimm received ladies' first prize, and Walter Kurtz received gentlemen's first prize. Consolation was received by Mrs. C. E. Mansfield. The group of friends presented Mr. and Mrs. Grimm with a lovely Luster tea set, and later luncheon was served at small tables centered with blossoms of the season. Spending the evening were the Misses Jia Laubeck, Jean Whitney, Lucy Ingram, Mesdames T. B. Virden, Floyd Church, Ruth Glyvin, C. E. Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Register, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harness, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bush.

Mrs. Fisher Entertains Prayer Circle

The Northside Prayer Circle had an enjoyable afternoon Wednesday, when the members gathered at the home of Mrs. Wm. Fisher, where, following a short business session, they had a Christmas party.

The bright reds and greens of the Christmas season decorated the rooms, small trees and bells being used about the house. Each lady contributed to the program, which was of the holiday spirit, and enjoyed a grab bag, as is the custom of the circle each year. Later the hostess served a two-course luncheon at small tables with attractive little evergreen trees used as centerpieces.

Guests for the afternoon were the Mesdames H. W. Marsters, W. S. McCullagh, Helen Smick, F. D. Owen, B. W. Taylor and Arnold Wickham, and members present were the Mesdames Horace Hagen, Bert Chamberlain, E. G. Woodcock, L. H. Duff, Mable Smith, Fred Knight, F. W. Woodruff, Gene Henderson, V. A. Honoring Mr. Lindsay were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindsay, Fern Busenbark, Margaret Busenbark, Crystal Fenn, Grace Conn, Agnes Frederickson, and Carl Lindsay, Joel Fern, James Conn, Les Maddox, Ed Reese and Wallace Matthews.

Missionary Society Has Regular Meeting

On Thursday afternoon the Presbyterian Missionary Society held its regular monthly business meeting, following which a program was interestingly presented.

The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. C. P. Gaytor. Mrs. McCullagh gave an interesting reading, "A Study of Venezuela," and Mrs. George Hunk gave a review of the last chapter of the book "New Days in Latin America." The subject of the afternoon session was "The Call to Service," and included a resume of Presbyterian missions in South America.

Anniversary of Mr. Bickle Celebrated

The birthday anniversary of Mr. George Bickle was observed on Monday evening at the Georgiana ranch, where a group of twenty friends and relatives gathered at the Bickle home.

Lovely potted poinsettias, in scarlet bloom, were decorations in the rooms where for a time five hundred held the interest of the group. Mrs. Montgomery received ladies' first prize, and Mr. Wiley received first prize for gentlemen. Mr. and Mrs. Hutham received second prize. Following the game, luncheon was served at small tables. A large birthday cake was cut by Mr. Bickle, and following, he was presented with a beautiful knife and a box of cigars. Later the guests enjoyed a few hours of dancing, a quadrille being an amusing feature. The out of town guests were Mrs. Blakley and Mrs. Custer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bickle, and Mr. and Mrs. Willett, all of Portland.

Olalla Man Weds Last Month

SWEET HOME, Dec. 10.—(Special.)—A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McMaster in Sweet Home November 26 at 2 o'clock when their daughter Vera, was married to J. T. Wilson of Olalla, Ore. Rev. G. E. Williams of Portland, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The rooms had been decorated for the occasion with chrysanthemums and ferns. The bride wore a dress of pale pink georgette crepe over pink satin, and carried a shawl bouquet of pink rose buds and ferns and wore a dainty hair ornament of real orange blossoms, the gift of an aunt in Portland.

Miss Anna Scholl, a schoolmate was bridesmaid. She wore a dress of yellow acetate and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Rosa Davis, an uncle of the bride, was best man. Asa Smith sang "At Dawning," before the ceremony. Mrs. A. J. Sportsman, an aunt of the bride, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Following the wedding the guests went to the dining room where a wedding dinner was served. The tables were lovely with bowls of fall flowers.

Mrs. Wilson has grown to womanhood and is a popular church soloist, is soprano soloist and choir director of the First Presbyterian church of Roseburg, Ore., according to word received here by Mrs. Henry White, telling of Mrs. Strang's success as soloist with the concert band at the Oregon State fair last month.

Bridge Club at Ponsler Home

Decorations of white Hadley chrysanthemums, Lady Hollington roses, and marigolds in baskets and vases, were used in the rooms of the J. C. Ponsler home, when Mrs. Ponsler graciously entertained on Monday, the Monday Bridge Club.

Conversation and bridge occupied the ladies during the afternoon and Mrs. J. E. Enger received first prize at the end of the game. At the tea hour the hostess served luncheon at small tables, attractively decorated with yellow as the color motif, and small yellow candles at each table. Spending the afternoon were Mrs. H. C. Waddell, Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. J. E. Enger, Mrs. J. I. Love, Mrs. George A. Bradburn, Mrs. Dean Huber and Mrs. B. C. Zigler.

Barbers Union to Have Festival

A large crowd of dance lovers will be attracted to the dance on Tuesday, December 15 at the Wigwam Tavern, which is being sponsored by the local barbers' union.

The dance is in the form of a Christmas festival, and the men expect to make it a jolly and interesting affair. The dance hall will be made festive with Christmas decorations and red and green trimmings, and the Swanee Serenaders will furnish the dance music. A bus will run from the Terminal Hotel, starting at 8:30 o'clock, at a low round trip rate, carrying people to the dance.

Woman's Club to Have Christmas Party

An annual affair, taking place next week, which is taking the immediate interest of the members of the Roseburg Woman's club, is the Christmas party on Tuesday afternoon at the Moose Hall.

The hall will be decorated in the bright reds and greens of the season, and a Christmas tree will grace one corner of the hall. The afternoon will be opened with an interesting musical program following which refreshments will be served by the committee in charge. This year the exchange of Christmas gifts will be only a small gift to be used in the rooms of the new clubhouse which will be built at some future date by the club. The ladies also plan to have a tea towel shower, which will be used for the supply at the clubhouse. The committee in charge of the decorations and program are the Mesdames Washington Hughes, H. D. Harris, L. B. Skinner and William Bell.

Plans for the pre-Christmas ball are now under way and the club members have secured the army for the dance, which will be on Sunday evening, December 13. The Swanee Serenaders will furnish music for the evening. Proceeds from the dance will go to the clubhouse fund.

The Women's Benevolent Association will have a meeting on Monday evening to discuss regular business, and following will have an informal Christmas party. A Christmas tree will be the feature of the evening, and an interesting program is being prepared for entertainment.

Mrs. Glenn Smith Complimented at Dinner

Complimenting one of the members, Mrs. Glenn Smith, of this city, whose marriage was a recent event in Eugene, the Omega Mu Alpha Club gave a dinner party Tuesday evening in the Indian room of the Hotel Umpqua at 7:30 o'clock.

The club's colors, scarlet and gold, were used at the table, which was attractively centered with a bowl of fruit, on either side of which tall candles were placed. Unique place cards in gold, with scarlet candles, were placed at each cover. Seated about the table were Mrs. Glenn Smith, honoree, the Misses Ira Rice, Fern Roy, Vera McMillan, Marion Porter, Rosina Porter, Evelyn Quine, Thelma Trefren, and Eva Rice. Following the dinner the group went to the Kohlhagen apartments where Mrs. Smith is residing and the evening was spent in conversation and music. The club presented the honor guest with a lovely coffee urn.

Garden Valley Club Has Pleasant Afternoon

The Garden Valley Woman's Club was pleasantly entertained Thursday of last week, when Mrs. George Bailey was hostess at the club rooms.

This being the first meeting since the summer vacation, the members had many new things to discuss. Following the business meeting, conversation was the diversion, and a guessing contest, for which a prize was offered, Mrs. E. Brown, receiving the prize, was held. Later a buffet luncheon was served eighteen ladies. The next meeting will be December 17, with Mrs. E. Brown as hostess.

Mrs. Strang Receives Mention in Music Circles

The following, taken from the music section of the Sunday Star, a Washington, D. C. newspaper, will be of interest to many people in this city, and Douglas county, in all parts of which Mrs. Strang is known for her musical ability and sweet soprano voice.

Elsie Carleton Strang, known in Washington before her marriage as Elsie Carleton Small, a popular church soloist, is soprano soloist and choir director of the First Presbyterian church of Roseburg, Ore., according to word received here by Mrs. Henry White, telling of Mrs. Strang's success as soloist with the concert band at the Oregon State fair last month.

Missionary Society Entertained Last Week

The Woman's Missionary Society had an interesting meeting Thursday of last week, when Mrs. A. C. Marsters invited the members to her home for the afternoon, with the members of the Sutherland chapter as added guests.

Lovely late autumn flowers decorated the rooms where the ladies chatted and enjoyed a program following the business session. Miss Helen McClintock discoursed on the topic of the afternoon, Mission work, and a number of instructive talks on home missionary work were given by other ladies. Mrs. Cook of Sutherland, recited an appropriate poem. At the tea hour the hostess served luncheon at small tables to about forty ladies.

Local Teachers to Attend O. S. T. A. Meeting

A number of the local teachers and faculty of the public schools are planning to attend the Oregon State Teachers' Association meeting which will be held the last week in this month.

The representative council will meet on Tuesday, December 29, for the transaction of all business. On Wednesday morning the general assembly will meet to listen to addresses from Miss Mabel V. Wilson of the Seattle public schools, Dr. E. P. Cumberly of Stanford University, and Mrs. J. F. Hill, vice-president of the national congress of parents and teachers. Assembly singing will be under the direction of Superintendent W. H. Boyer of the Portland schools; upper grade boys from Elliot school will give a dramatization of familiar songs under the direction of Miss Mabel Hurley, class room teacher. Department sessions will be held Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. The association will close its work with a general assembly Thursday afternoon, when addresses will be given by Mr. Fred W. Steiwer of Pendleton, representing the American Legion, Miss Wilson, and Dr. Cumberly. Third grade pupils from Hoarford school will sing three part songs under the direction of Mrs. Grace Williams McCracken. Representative members of the faculties of the Oregon State Normal School, Oregon Agricultural college, and the University of Oregon, with known class room teachers, and city and county superintendents from all sections of Oregon have been assigned work in the departmental programs.

L. A. of B. of R. T. Enjoy Costume Party

The ladies auxiliary of the L. A. of B. of R. T. had a most enjoyable evening Friday at the K. P. hall, the affair taking the form of an old fashioned dinner party. The ladies came costumed in Colonial dress, and a number came dressed in other frocks of years gone by.

Dinner was served in the dining rooms, with only candles for light, forming a true setting of years ago for the costumed ladies. Dancing and singing were a part of the interesting program. The party was presided by the annual election of officers. The officers for next year are Mrs. Howard Hunt, president; Mrs. A. Dawe, secretary; Mrs. C. H. Thurston, treasurer; Mrs. F. L. Bond, legislative representative.

Elks Christmas Dance Thursday Evening

The annual Christmas dance of the Elks club will be a semi-formal affair of Thursday evening, December 17, and is drawing the very interest of Elks and their families.

The dance will be in charge of the ladies this year, and committees will be appointed this week to make preparations for a successful dance. The hall will have special decorations, the season's colors being carried out to form an attractive background.

Surprise Hosewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Riddle

Friday evening the office associates of County Clerk Ira B. Riddle met at the home of Vernita Kohlhagen and from there proceeded to the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Riddle in Laurelwood for a surprise hosewarming.

An impromptu musical program followed with a group of solos by Mrs. Fred Strang, and orchestral quartet consisting of Miss Vernita Kohlhagen, Messrs. Floyd Frear, Harry Burr and Fred Strang. County Judge Quine on behalf of those present presented Mr. and Mrs. Riddle with a beautiful gift for their new home. Later refreshments were served in the dining room.

Miss Lougherty is a graduate of the University of Oregon, where she and Miss Casey attended together, and is an accomplished young woman. She is a director of Ellsboro White chautauqua, and is enroute to her home from a trip in the interest of that company.

Mrs. V. M. Petterson and daughter, Virginia Lee, of Eugene, are the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lockwood, at their home in Laurelwood.

THEATRES

Majestic Theatre. Robert Keable's sensational novel "Recompense," which was written as a sequel to "Simon Called Peter," will be the featured attraction at the Majestic Theatre for one night.

Mr. Keable's two books, "Simon Called Peter" and "Recompense" have become such household literature that everybody knows Peter, the Army Chaplain, and Julie, the nurse, who battle with life and their own natures with all the sincerity and intensity of two fine, courageous and high-minded hearts.

"Recompense" tells the story of Peter and Julie from the time they are brought together and then separated by war. They endure the bitter pangs of separation, each undergoing indescribable torment mentally and physically in the wilderness of South Africa. Alone they work out their individual salvation, growing cleaner and greater in the process, until circumstances bring them together again in happiness.

Antlers Theatre. "The Perfect Cast!"

"That is how Joseph M. Schenck, producer, characterized the play-actors who supported Norma Talmadge in "Grazing in Paradise," the new starring production, which First National will offer at the Antlers Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Seldom indeed, Mr. Schenck said, had a list of more able actors and actresses been assembled for one photoplay, and certainly never had they been more carefully selected for the characters which they portray.

Eugene O'Brien, heading the supporting cast in the role of Grenfell Lorry, romantic young American, once more appears by popular demand as Norma's leading man. Director Dimitri F. Christoffel called O'Brien "the ideal American type" but insisted that he wear his hair parted on the left side. O'Brien is no stranger to Norma Talmadge's admirers, and he will be enthusiastically welcomed in this new role.

Liberty Theatre. "All Around Frying Pan"

"All Around Frying Pan," an adaptation of Frank Richardson Pierce's magazine story "Forty and Found," is Fred Thomson's latest contribution to western classics and the entertainment of the public. Featuring the famous Altrus Round-up as a part of a picture that needed no such bolstering to make its story stand out.

"All Around Frying Pan" proves the best of the new Thomson series—and that is saying a lot when such fine shows as "The Bandit's Baby" and "The Wild Bull's Lair" are considered. The star is back in his cowboy robes with a vengeance, but Silver King's famous horse, is not cast in quite the heroic mould of former pictures. He starts out as a bad lucker at the Round-up, and Fred is the only saddle pilot who can ride him. Silver is unquestionably the most versatile animal on the screen; for in addition to his real acting ability (and anyone who has seen him knows that that horse can think) he gives a wonderful outflow. How that horse can sunfish, swap ends, and generally go loco! A corking cast gives Mr. Thomson wonderful support, and the picture has been adroitly handled by Director Dave Kirkland. The comedy, as is usual with this star, is a big factor in the story development. The Liberty Theatre will screen "All Around Frying Pan" for the first time here next Sunday, when it begins a 3-day run.

SALVATION ARMY WILL CARE FOR NEEDY AT XMAS

The Salvation Army is making every effort to care for the needy and lonely ones in Roseburg this Christmas, and anyone knowing of any old people, who have no relatives or friends to make their Christmas cheerful, are asked to write or telephone Captain B. M. Humphreys at the Army headquarters, Roseburg, and he will investigate the circumstances and arrange for baskets or messages of cheer.

Captain Humphreys reports that C. A. Lockwood of the Lockwood Motor company, has kindly donated him the use of a car in which the captain may investigate needy cases brought to his attention, and this kindness is greatly appreciated.

Donations from the merchants of the city, of groceries and cast-off toys are used to fill the Christmas baskets and farmers who have not donated in other ways can confer much help by the donation of vegetables, potatoes, or fowls to the army headquarters. A great many ranchers would hardly miss an offering of this kind, yet to many people it would redeem their faith.

TWICE A TREASURE
(A true Christmas story.)
Part I
A picture hangs on our living room wall—
Encircled in a band of gold.
A pure white cross in the center stands,
Beneath is a cluster of graceful ferns
Of many different kinds.
Some are short and some are tall
And 'round this cross they twine,
It was given me by a teacher, dear,
When I was a little child,
And it came from deep in Santa's sack
Who came bounding into our room
One day,
All dressed in fur with a long white beard,
As jolly a Santa as ever could be.

Part II
I loved it then because of the memories that came
Each time I ran across it upon the closet shelf.
For it told of happy school days
And a teacher fond and true.
Part III
In after years, I drew once more
This treasure from its hiding place
And hung it on the wall.
The change in me, then revealed
In it
The artist's meaning hidden there
And then I thought "I wonder
That I had not seen it so before."
O' beautiful cross! With arms outstretched

To all who are in need of peace
To put your statey shaft so straight and strong
Pointing heavenward, all day long!
You tell me of the infant Christ
Who came to earth so long ago,
To teach us how to live.
And the ferns beneath are the blessings that come
To those who try to obey his will.
And the centuries have come and gone
Since the Saviour of mankind was here
His truths still stand like a marble cross
And the happiest people in all the world
Are the ones who put their trust in Him.
Mrs. Euchola V. (O. P. Porter)

WHOSE BOY?
If I should fill the wood-box up
Or pick up every toy
Or sit quite still to read my book
Then I'd be mamma's boy.
If I should always shut the gate
And not tease nor annoy
And always help to do the chores
Then I'd be papa's boy.
And once when uncle came to dine
He said he'd much enjoy
My company if I'd agree
To be his little boy.
But grandma said one day to me
"You always bring me joy,
No matter what you do or be
You're always my little boy."

"RED" GRANGE'S ARM AND SHOULDER IN BAD SHAPE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 12.—With his injured arm in splints and swollen to twice its normal size, Red Grange will sit on the sidelines today while the Chicago Bears play the Detroit professional football game. Grange, worn and haggard, told a doctor that he had not slept for two nights because of pain in his arm. The arm was broken out in red spots and back of his shoulder was a lump as large as a hen's egg.

The physician said that a blood clot had formed and that if it should travel near the heart serious results might follow.
Grange said he first felt the injury at St. Louis but thought it merely a bruise. At Boston it troubled him considerably and at Pittsburgh he went into the game in pain rather than disappoint the crowd.

BANKER'S WILL DISPOSES OF ESTATE OF $300,000

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., Dec. 12.—The will of C. A. McLaughlin, hopman and banker of Independence, has just been made public revealing bequests of $72,000 made out of a $300,000 estate to numerous relatives and one of $20,000 to the First Presbyterian church of Independence. Under the terms of the will former State Senator Louis Lachmund, business man of Salem, is made executor and residuary legatee, it being estimated that Lachmund's share of the estate will approximate $200,000.

OREGON MOTOR VEHICLES INCREASE IN NUMBERS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., Dec. 12.—Registration of motor vehicles in Oregon for the month of November totaled 3,479 of which 252 were trucks and 3,227 passenger cars. The total registrations for the eleven months of 1924 was 214,849, of which 197,992 were passenger cars. This shows an increase of 1,175 over the registrations for November, 1924, and of 22,299 over the total registrations for the corresponding eleven months of 1924 and an increase of 22,220 over the total registrations for the year 1924.
