THOUGHTS FOR CONGRESS.

Our national legislature is again in session after a long rest, and with new members. Whatever faults are found with congress, the country looks forward with hope to each new session, expecting it will do something to remove obstacles from the country's progress.

Congress is about what people make it. If we folks pay little attention to the doings of the lawmakers, we can not expect them to rise to a high level.

In spite of having been born rich some youths rise above it, though it sometimes takes a spell of adversity to bring out the real man that's in them. A grandson of John D. Rockefeller furnishes us with an illustration of such a case.

Upon the heels of an American loan of one hundred million dollars to Italy comes the announcement of an Italian boycott in Rome of a film featuring Rudolph Valentino because the cinema sheik, an Italian subject, has taken legal steps to become an American citizen.

Chicago is planning to hold a world's fair in 1937. By that time, perhaps, the gunmen in that city will have thinned out the resident population sufficiently to admit room for a million or more visitors.

AFTER HOURS.

Vim is great and pep is splendid, and go-getting's fine, by jings, but when workday hours are ended let us think of other things. Jabez Joop is gaining riches, selling houses, lots and farms; and he never, never switches from that theme, replete with charms.

THE LITTLE TOWNS

By Strickland Gillilan

Oh, little towns along the way! We wonder what the brakeman say when yelling back into the cars. We know not what your title are. Yet you are towns, with homes and lawns.

Neat little towns along the way, you've given what we know today. As statesmen, scholars, preachers, scribes, and school teachers.

So you withstand the stupid gibes. The thoughtless city, cut-up frames in mentioning the small towns' names.

forward bringing that land into cultivation.

"A sound policy," Mr. Jardine continued, "will correlate reclamation with other problems such as inland waterways, which I hope to see further developed, reforestation and the use of cut-over lands. It must also be concerned in isolated regions with industrial development and the use of raw materials there found. Why should we not have shoe factories in our livestock areas and textile factories in our wheat lands? This would bring a larger population and larger markets which are among the most immediate needs of the farmers in these regions."

Representative Cranton, Michigan, chairman of the subcommittee on appropriations for the Interior Department, advice caution in future developments, calling attention to what he called overoptimism of earlier projects. In regard to reclamation of cut-over and swamplands he said: "We have somewhat further to go before the federal government should appropriate money for this purpose on any extensive scale."

ANSWERED LETTERS

Ether N. V.—Handball is an exercise for men who need exhilaration from exercise in a concentrated form. You will be able to get an exercise that you need from the following: Stand with your feet together, and hold your arms in a horizontal position with the right hand directly in front of you and the left one directly toward the front from the waistline while still holding your arms out from the body with the right hand going down toward the toes and the left one going upward high over the head.

Mrs. J. K. L.—An easy method for getting at the split ends of the hair to slip them, is to wind the hair into a number of very tight strands, and then rough the ends with your hands. That will expose all the short ends so that they may be easily cut off by running the scissors along the length of the strand.

Mrs. E. H. G.—The formula for the eye lotion you refer to is made as follows: Boil a pint of water one minute, and while the temperature is still at boiling point, add one heaping tablespoonful of boric acid powder.

John G. F.—Unless chilblains become so bad that they blister, they can usually be cured at home. The indications are redness, intense itching, and burning. A very old remedy was to plunge the feet into the snow, but the same effect may be attained by giving the feet an extremely cold bath. An improvement upon this treatment is to immerse the feet for a minute or two in very cold water, the same time in very cold water, then wring, and so on, until there is complete relief from all the uncomfortable symptoms.

NEW DISHES THIS WEEK

TOMORROW'S MENU table with columns for Breakfast, Luncheon, and Dinner, listing items like Baked Apples, Cereal, Scrambled Eggs, Coffee, Ham-Meatoni Baked Dish, etc.

Squash Cream Soup: Heat four cups of sweet milk in the top of your double boiler and when hot add one and one-half cups of sifted squash (or pumpkin may be used in the same way). Also add two cups of boiling water, one-third cup of chopped celery and one-fourth cup of minced raw onion and let cook for 20 minutes.

Bread-Cheese Baked Dish: This is a good way to use up leftover crusts of bread. Crumble them and measure. You will need one and one-half cups of the stale bread. Soak it in one pint of cold, sweet milk. Now beat two eggs with a pinch each of salt, pepper and paprika and add to them one and one-half cups of chopped mild American cheese. Turn this egg mixture into the soaked bread crumbs, beat all together, add two tablespoons of melted butter and turn into a buttered baking dish. Place the dish in a shallow pan containing a little hot water and bake in a moderate oven till firm in the middle—perhaps 25 minutes. Serve hot.

6. Something is necessary besides tuberculosis germs to cause tuberculosis, and that something is lowered resistance from any cause so that the germs have conditions ideal for development. These lowering factors are: an improper and insufficient diet; overwork and lack of sufficient rest and sleep; lack of fresh air; unhygienic surroundings; vicious personal habits, such as the use of alcohol and morphine.

WE'LL ALL BUY AS MANY AS WE CAN

I have been buying some candlesticks recently. Rare, genuine anti-ques—pretty expensive. Now I am buying many more. Not so expensive, only one cent a pair. They are going to give me more lasting happiness than my rare, genuine anti-ques. They contain little lights—little candles softly giving off beams that are going to prevent physical suffering and bring fresh hope and courage to many despairing hearts.

1. Tuberculosis is caused by specific germs called the tubercle bacilli. They are so named because when they settle in the tissues, in an effort to protect the system nature builds little walls, forming tubercles, around them. The tubercle bacillus was discovered in 1882 by Koch.

830 WARRANTS OUT TO COLLECT DELINQUENT OREGON INCOME TAX

(Associated Press Licensed Wire.) SALEM, Ore., Dec. 14.—For the collection of approximately $50,000 in delinquent state income taxes, the state tax commission is sending out the sheriff of the state about 830 warrants authorizing the seizure of property if the taxes are not forthcoming. Under the law this drastic action may be taken after the taxes have been delinquent sixty days.

State Press Comment

His Appeal.

An appeal for strengthening the hand of the law is made in the annual report of the department of justice just laid before President Coolidge and congress. Incident to the appeal is a request for more stringent penalties.

It is a good thing that the highest authorities in the nation are at last awakening to the widespread and growing disregard of law. If the violations are partly due to the state of mind brought on by the war, the spell ought sometime to begin to pass away.

There was a matter of only 22,000 liquor cases pending in the federal courts in June, 1924, and 25,000 cases pending in June, 1925. And here is the distressing statement in the report, that during the fiscal year ending with June, 1925, no fewer than 48,000 liquor cases were disposed of in the federal courts, to say nothing of the thousands upon thousands of cases concluded in other courts. And there are the other and growing violations by bandits and other kinds of criminals.

Compulsory Auto Insurance

When we contemplate the fact that 80 per cent of all the 16,000,000 automobiles in the United States are purchased on the installment plan, and that 40 per cent of those in use are not yet paid for, the outlook is not brightened for collecting indemnity from the average auto driver, who collides with us. A poor man run down by a financially irresponsible driver is likely to become with his family a charge on public charity.

Indemnity insurance companies and others. But in whatever way the insurance is handled, it is obvious that every person who drives should be made responsible for the damage he may inflict by his vehicle. There are more or less serious objections to such a law, but the fact remains that without some such law we are wholly unprotected from the judgment-proof driver of a colliding car.—Portland Telegram.

Measured in terms of income the farmers of America are better paid this year than last, according to the report of the secretary of agriculture. The gross income from farm crops for the fiscal year has increased 7 per cent over that of the previous year, or from $11,390,000,000 to $12,100,000,000. Better average of prices now prevails than has prevailed for five years. This is a real and not a paper gain, for the price of produce has risen from 66 as compared with pre-war prices to 87, which is a gain as compared with the rise of prices of non-agricultural goods.

We sold about 159,000,000 bushels of wheat (including flour) this year as against 63,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1914. This was because of short crops in other countries. We have raised 3,014,000,000 bushels of corn which is a fourth more than the previous year, though but about an average crop. Our market fortunes in corn and wheat hinge greatly upon the condition of the crops of the world at large. The same may be said of many other of our products.

For example, we are enjoying high prices for butter just now because Germany is using more butter and less lard on its bread, and because Siberia is not yet come back to its large butter exports. Denmark and the low countries are sending to nearby markets butter supplies they formerly shipped to us. We get little butter now from abroad, and we do not yet make quite enough for home use. We do sell much more farm produce abroad. The volume for the year ending June 30, 1925, was 21 per cent greater than the previous year and 26 per cent more than the average of the five years just preceding the war. The value of our agricultural exports this year was more than double that of any previous year.—Portland Telegram.
