CHRISTMAS TRADE AHEAD OF LAST YEAR; STORES OPEN NIGHTS

Christmas trade is running ahead of last year, much to the surprise and pleasure of Roseburg merchants. It had been expected that the Christmas business would not be as great in volume as last year, but to the contrary practically every merchant in the city reports his business better than last season, and what is still more surprising most people are paying cash and there is less credit being asked than previously.
People are buying gifts fully up to the usual standards of practicability and cost and altogether the Christmas spirit is being reflected very favorably in the business activities.
In order to accommodate the late shoppers and to handle the heavy Christmas rush the stores are staying open every evening up to Christmas time.

The campaign for new members being waged by Umpqua Post of the American Legion is meeting with excellent results. The post has already secured 250 new members, with a large number promised before the first of the year. Practically every old member is signing up for another year, while many new members have been gained. The accomplishments of the organization have made a great appeal to veterans who find the American Legion engaged in worth while activities.
