SHERIFF WILL CARRY AID PLEA TO GRAND JURY

added a burden which sheriffs of former days did not have. The paved highways and better roads have made the automobile theft situation serious, and in addition to all this the state is imposing each year more and more work upon the sheriffs without remuneration.

"The records show that for fourteen months before I came into office there was not a man in jail for violations of the prohibition laws, and there had never been an arrest for moonshining. The bulk of the work of prohibition enforcement has come during recent years. It has now reached a point where one man giving all of his time to the investigation of reports of liquor law violations cannot keep pace with the work. When the entire force is employed in prohibition law enforcement we must neglect the misdemeanors and other cases which are reported so that proper enforcement of the laws of the state is impossible.

"Auto thefts are growing in number daily, and we must constantly be on the lookout for stolen cars. Crime everywhere is on the increase. New laws are being added by every legislature, yet the sheriff's office of Douglas county has received no additional help for the past twenty years.

"In former days the tax office and criminal departments could be combined and in tax collection season extra clerks were employed. We have saved a great deal of money in the tax department by segregating the two offices and cutting down the extra clerk hire. When the two offices were together the chief deputy acted as jailer as well as tending to tax collections. Now we have our tax force down to the point where all persons are busily employed all the year and we require a very small amount of extra help.

"The old system allowed one deputy to assist the sheriff in the field, but now that deputy is kept busy in the office doing the work which the state has imposed, and attending to the clerical work. Automobile registration, temporary licenses, and all work connected with the handling of the automobile license fees through the sheriff's office are attended to by this deputy who is also the jailer. He must be at the office constantly and consequently this leaves the sheriff alone in the field.

"The field work has now grown to a point where one man alone cannot handle it. I have the right, given by law, to call in extra deputies as I need them from other points of the county, but this is not as efficient nor as economical as would be a salaried deputy.

"If I use the regular deputies from outside points, I must call them to Roseburg, pay them mileage here, give them instructions, pay mileage back, and then mileage again both ways if they come in with prisoners, together with wages while employed. They are not familiar with the case, other than the instructions they receive, and consequently are not able to do the service which they might otherwise render. This system is not as efficient as having a regular salaried deputy who is in every way familiar with the reports coming to the office, and who can keep in constant touch with the investigators.

"It has been my desire to conduct the office of sheriff as economically as possible. The change in the tax department saves the county several hundred dollars each year. A change made in the system of handling the money collected from taxes, turning the money over to the treasurer at once, so that it draws interest, saves the county over $2,000 annually. The system we inaugurated in handling ballot boxes, that of having them handled by one deputy sheriff instead of by the election officials, has saved hundreds of dollars. We have saved to the county many times over what we have asked in the way of help in law enforcement. We believe that the employment of such a deputy would be a paying proposition as the additional fines which he would bring in would more than make up the amount paid for his salary.

"It is plain that the small force which we now have, cannot properly cope with the situation as it exists today. The county court could easily determine this fact, if it would make an investigation, but this it declines to do. The court apparently is not interested in law enforcement as is deliberately attempting to handicap us in our efforts.

"My only recourse, so far as I can see, is to appeal to the grand jury. The records of the office are open for their inspection. We can show just what we have done and what we have received as assistance. I believe that the grand jury will bear me out in the claim that more money must be provided to meet the crime situation in Douglas county."

ENGAGEMENT MISS VIVIAN MARSTERS ANNOUNCED SAT. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Marsters, of 1003 North Jackson street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Vivian Marsters, to Mr. Harry L. Peary, of Salem, at an informal party on Saturday evening, to which a few intimate friends were invited.

The Marsters home was attractive with decorations of holly, mistletoe and other motifs symbolic of Christmas, and a beautifully decorated tree stood in the corner of the sitting room. The engagement, announced in the form of a story, was made known in a clever and unusual manner. Following the announcement Miss Verus Houser gave two vocal solos, "Oh, Promise Me" and "When I'm With You," with piano accompaniment by Miss Dorothy Marsters. Later a buffet luncheon was served. Miss Dorothy Marsters and Miss Frances Dutree assisted during the evening.

Miss Marsters, the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. R. W. Marsters, and a member of a prominent Roseburg family, is an accomplished pianist. She is a graduate of Roseburg high school, and of O. A. C. where she was a member of Alpha Rho sorority. During the past three years she has been a teacher of home economics at the Salem high school.

Mr. Peary is the son of Attorney and Mrs. J. N. Peary, of Portland. He is a graduate of O. A. C. and is now a member of the firm of Peary Brothers, Nurserymen, of Salem. The wedding will be an event of early summer.

NO CHANGES MADE IN FOOTBALL RULES (Associated Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—After taking steps designed to eliminate "over emphasis" in football and barring from its membership any individual connected with the professional game, the American Football Coaches association, in annual session today, voted not to recommend any change in the rules for 1926.

This decision marked the first time in recent years that no suggestions have been framed for altering the gridiron playing code and was in contrast to last year's meeting when several drastic changes were urged. The coaches, after acting to correct alleged "over emphasis," listened to a speech by E. H. Hill, chairman of the National Rules committee, to remove three "evils" which he characterized as scouting, slide line coaching and proselytizing.

TURKEY THEFTS ALLEGED Jess and William Wiles, who reside east of Oakland, were arrested yesterday charged with the theft of turkeys. They are accused of having stolen ten turkeys, the property of J. E. Cooper, and have sold three of the birds. Seven turkeys identified by Mr. Cooper as his property were found at the Wiles place. The two men were arrested and are being held in the county jail pending a hearing.

MAKES LONG RUN E. A. Britton, Douglas county Boy Scout executive, made a run of five miles on Christmas day, carrying out a promise made to friends several weeks ago. While working out for the basketball season, Mr. Britton, who has run the long distance races on numerous occasions, said that he would be in condition for a five-mile run by Christmas. Friends who heard him insist that he would have to prove his statement and held him to his word. On Christmas day they measured a course east of the city to the Smick school and return, two and one-half miles each way. Mr. Britton covered the distance in 35 minutes and 40 seconds.

FOOTBALL COACHES LAUNCH ATTACK ON PROFESSIONALISM

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The American Football Coaches association, in annual session today, launched an attack upon the professional game and approved measures designed to curb the "over emphasis" of college football.

Upon the recommendation of Hugo Besdek of Penn State, the association voted to refuse membership after September 1, 1926, to any individual actively engaged in any capacity with professional football, adopted a resolution preventing coaches hereafter from selecting all-American or other all-star teams for any agency and also went on record as favoring restrictions of football practice during the college year to two hours daily starting not earlier than September 15.

AGED MAN FOUND DEAD IN CABIN WEST OF CITY

John Gladden, aged 80 years, was found dead yesterday in his cabin located west of Roseburg near the intersection of the Looking Glass and Melrose roads. Apparently he had been dead since Tuesday.

The body was found when a neighbor went to the cabin to invite the man out for dinner. Corner Ritter was notified and made an investigation, finding that death was caused suddenly by heart failure. Although the body had lain in the cabin for several days it was in a fair state of preservation.

Mr. Gladden has lived alone on his small farm for several years. He leaves several children, located in various parts of Idaho. A son, O. P. Gladden, of Moscow, is on his way to this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the Undertaking Parlors.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 28.—The rudderless freighter West O'Rowa reached Hakodate, Japan, Sunday, victor in a battle of nearly a month with the Pacific ocean. Crippled by the loss of her rudder on December 1 the vessel, after repeated attempts by other steamers to tow her, made her way to the Japanese port by steering with a jury rudder composed of two hawsers dragged from her stern.
