ROUGE 3 THOUSAND YEARS OLD PROVES JUST AS GOOD NOW

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—An assertion that the ancient Carthaginians relied on advertising and used time defying rouge was made before the Philadelphia forum today by Count Baron de Prorok of Paris. He spent seven years in northern Africa as a member of the Franco-American expedition, excavating on the site of the ancient cities of Carthage and Utica. Included in the discoveries was a submerged city of the island of Djerba, which the count visited in a diving suit. A pottery lamp unearthed near Carthage, he said, bore the trademark of the maker. An inscription read "Please buy our lamps, the cheapest in Carthage." "We also found a pot of rouge that one woman of our party found was as good as the day it was made three thousand years ago," he added.

REMEMBER The Date March 25th "The Private Secretary"

The First Message MR. WATSON, come here, I want you! exclaimed Alexander Graham Bell on March 10, 1876, during an afternoon of experimentation, and over a wire connecting two rooms, the young assistant heard the words, — the first spoken sentence to be so transmitted. Fifty years have passed. Today there are 17,000,000 telephones in the United States, giving voice to human need, as Bell's crude transmitter did then. Fire breaks into a home, sickness strikes at a family circle. "Come here, I want you," is the summons, and the telephone speeds it on the way. Business of importance demands the decision of one who is on the far side of the continent. "Come here, I want you," is the summons again, and as if by magic, a personality is projected through space, questions are asked, answers given, problems solved—by telephone. Every telephone call is an echo of the first message. For whether it is the physical presence or the listening ear that is desired, the impulse that lifts the telephone receiver, "I want you."

MINT GROWERS ARE SIGNING LONG TIME SELLING CONTRACTS

SALEM, March 6.—A condition is opening up in the Oregon mint industry which promises to revolutionize it and in the next few years make it the center of that industry for the entire country, according to men interested in the situation. Large users of mint products are doing something they have never done before, coming directly into the country and contracting directly with growers for their products over a three-year period. It is reported that the American Chicle company has entered into a large contract with a grower for three years on a basis of $5 a pound per year, that Whigley interests also have entered into a contract with a grower in this district and other large interests are planning to come in here who always have purchased their mint oil in the east heretofore. Some of the oil may come from here, but the buying has been through the east.

The theory why this is happening is based on uncertainty of conditions in the big mint producing centers of the middle west where last year a heavy freeze stamped out a big percentage of the crop and mint oil users were forced to buy where they could and paid 8 or 10 prices for it before the season was over. On buyers paid $25 a pound for mint oil in San Francisco this spring. In this section there never is danger of destruction of the crop and it is figured the big buyers are beginning to see the advantages of getting a sure crop which they can depend upon from year to year. Big mint men here say that this move on their part is the opening wedge which will send practically all of the big buyers here as time goes on.

CEDERSTROM WINS AND AMORT LOSES IN EUGENE BOUTS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) EUGENE, Ore., March 5.—Roy Cedarstrom of Marshfield downed "Wildcat Pete" of Reedsport and Jimmy Schultz threw Paul Amort in the double main event of the wrestling card which marked the opening of the new Gak Street gymnasium here last night. Cedarstrom took the first fall and the "Wildcat" the second in the first bout. Cedarstrom was holding the ropes to pull himself up during the sparring for the third fall, and Pete, in an effort to pull him away, grabbed him about the waist and yanked. Cedarstrom released his hold on the ropes and fell on Pete, who was unable to recover and was downed.

Schultz took the last two falls after dropping the first to Amort. Sailor Jack Woods, of Portland, was referee.

Schultz lost the first round of his bout with Paul Amort when the husky grappler made him pat the mat after applying a painful toe-hold. However, he wasn't to be stopped and came back for the second frame and stuck a toe-hold on Amort after nine minutes.

This left both grapplers on even terms for the third and deciding fall but Schultz jangled around until he placed a Japanese toe-hold on Amort, causing him to yell with pain and slap the mat.

A double main event card was announced for Cottage Grove March 11 in which Amort and Amort will wrestle the star of Eugene and Ken Paddock of Roseburg will box.

PUBLIC INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN ANNIVERSARY

Fifty years ago today there was no telephone. Fifty years ago on Wednesday, March 10, the telephone became a demonstrated reality. Re-enforcing the printed invitation notice from the men and women of the local telephone organization, received by the customers of the service, posters were placed in the telephone office windows and on company bulletin boards expressing the hope that the public would join in helping to commemorate March 10's birthday event.

The poster speaks of the nationwide observance of the occasion in which will unite the 360,000 men and women who supply the every hour human effort in linking together as in one great neighborhood, America's 16,000,000 telephone.

Speaking on behalf of the employees, who are the real hosts of the occasion, Manager J. R. Farrington, of the Telephone company said that the hours when visitors would find it best to visit the central office will be from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

"It will be next Wednesday," said Mr. Farrington, "and we hope that the day will bring a large response from our patrons and friends."

PERUVIANS AND CHILEANS CLASH ON ELECTION DAY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) ARICA, Chile, March 6.—Fighting between Chileans and Peruvians occurred at Tacna last night following the arrival of 150 Peruvian voters there to take part in the forthcoming Tacna-Arica plebiscite. The Peruvians traveled from Arica to Tacna on a special train with a band and were met at the Tacna station by a number of their fellow countrymen. A parade was organized to escort the new comers to their headquarters.

As they marched the Peruvians shouted "Viva Peru!" and Chilean sympathizers responded with "viva" for their country. Finally a stone was thrown and the two factions came together using fists, sticks, stones and knives.

Chilean police reserves and troops were rushed to the scene and restored order.
