PRUNE DICKIN'S

By BERT G. BATES

GOOD EVENING FOLKS

For some unknown reason we arose before the blithesome tinkle of the battered alarm clock. This a. m. and hurriedly leavin' into our Shinin' serge.

DUMBELL DORA THINKS

Faith is what causes people to eat hash. Today is the 13th and it's a dern unlucky day for the kid who has a hat in school and think about the camels brown' around over on the circus lot.

gone when he had straw in his hair and holes in the seat of his pants.

The Portland Beavers won a ball game yesterday and the local devotees of the game exchanged numerous nickels as a result.

Only this a. m. we saw a damsel on the main drag wearin' a cretonne coat and we hope last year's fatal epidemic doesn't strike the village with as much force and cause the gals to tear down the window curtains in their effort to keep pace with Dame Fashion.

The nicest thing about orderin' strawberries at a beanery is that you don't hafta hull 'em like you do at home. But you hafta eat a dern sight more sand.

A dirigible flew over the North Pole yesterday and we have yet to discover whether they're tryin' to find up there.

Just before noon we walked over to the circus grounds and imbibed some pink punch and it's a good thing the Umpqua water was gr. tastin' in the first place.

Late Perkins sez: "I'd walk a mile to see a camel."

COLLEGE ATHLETES HOLD WORKOUT ON FINLAY FIELD

Four northwest college track teams limbered up and took light workouts under the watchful eyes of the four coaches yesterday afternoon on Finlay field. The teams were stabled in Roseburg on the way to the Pacific Coast Conference meet at Palo Alto this week end when the Staata was halted for three hours by a wreck on the line farther south.

University of Oregon had the largest team with 14 men sprinting and starting on the dirt track. Oregon Agricultural college had a nine man team on the train as well as Washington State college. Montana had only four men in its contingent.

Russell Sweet, the famous sprinter from Montana took a few starts and loped around the track for several turns. The powerful dash man, who lost first place by a scant two inches to DeHart Hubbard in the intercollegiate meet at Chicago last year, is expected by Coach Doc Stewart to come close to breaking the conference records in both the sprints in the coming meet. He has done the 220 this year in 21 flat and the century in 5.8.

Proctor Flanagan, of the University of Oregon, Pacific coast intercollegiate champion in the broad jump was last Saturday in the Washington-Oregon meet leaped 23 feet 6 1/2 inches to better his coast mark by almost an inch over a saugy sprints but due to the absence of a jumping pit did not try to jump.

Among the other prominent athletes on board the train was Johnny Devine of Washington state who won the two-mile at the National intercollegiate meet at Chicago last year by running it in 9 minutes and 32 seconds. The contingent of distance men was probably the greatest gathered together on the coast. Clayton and Butts of O. A. C. in the mile and Bell of O. A. C. in the two-mile were members of the relay teams who distinguished themselves this year in the Drake relays and the Kansas City relays in the middle west and the Seattle relays two weeks ago at Seattle. Clayton has made the mile in 4 minutes and 22 seconds this year and stands a good chance of breaking the coast record. Sloan of O. A. C., another 4:22 miler, was also with the mile man O. A. C. team. Gillette, of Montana who placed third in the intercollegiate meet at Chicago against the fastest milers in the country worked with Devine and several other distance men several times around the track and with five or six short starts finished his workout.

CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR TO SPEAK IN CITY TONIGHT

Elton K. Watkins, democratic candidate for U. S. senator, is to arrive in Roseburg this evening and will speak tonight at a meeting to be held in the circuit court room. Arrangements for the meeting have been made by Clyde Lecker, of Portland, who has been spending several days in Roseburg in the interest of Mr. Watkins' candidacy. Mr. Watkins has been drawing large crowds at his meetings in other parts of the state. Mr. Lecker says, there being a great deal of interest shown in the platform advocated by the candidate. Tonight's meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

TRACKS CLEARED AFTER TRAIN WRECK YESTERDAY P. M.

The derailment which occurred at Dole yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, was cleared away last night about 7:30 p. m., and traffic was resumed shortly after that hour. The wreck was caused by a loose rail. Section workmen, it was stated by S. P. officials, had drawn the spikes from a rail in making repairs, and had neglected to send out a flagman to warn approaching trains. An extra freight was sent out and came around the curve quite suddenly upon the loosened section of the track, with the result that the engine and six cars were derailed.

The engine and three cars remained upright, but three other cars were turned over in the ditch and were badly damaged. About ten rail lengths of track was torn up. The Roseburg wrecker was called, while additional workmen were rushed to the scene by automobile. The tracks were repaired and opened so that trains were able to go through before 8 o'clock. Trains number 11 and 12 were held up for six hours, while freight traffic was also delayed.

Fortunately none of the train crew were injured, although several had narrow escapes, particularly a brakeman who was riding the top of one of the cars, when it overturned, and saved himself only by jumping as the car toppled over. McCormick-Deering gas engines have double the life of other engines on account of removable cylinder sleeves. Look ahead when you buy. Wharton Bros., agents.

LEO BECKLEY BADLY HURT BY HORSE'S FALL

Leo H. Beckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Beckley of this city, broke his leg Tuesday morning while practicing for the gymkhana at O. A. C. His horse stepped in a hole and fell, throwing him to the ground. Before he could get out of the way, the horse fell and came over on his leg, breaking it between the knee and the hip. Reports from his doctor state that he will be confined to bed for seven or eight weeks, and after that he will have to wear a cast for six more weeks.
