SCHOOL PARADE BEST EVER SEEN IN ROSEBURG

The school is the smallest in the city and was given the least money to work out its ideas, it was easily the most clever and uniquely planned entry ever seen in a local parade.

The entire school put on a circus with all the acts. First came the stately group, then the soldier drill team. They girls dressed in brilliant red costumes of toy soldiers executed most difficult marching steps with a remarkable precision, evidencing long and thorough training. At each street corner they stopped and entertained the onlookers with their clever drill in imitation of the Zouave drill team of circuses. Then came groups of bareback riders, mounted on shetland ponies. Boys and girls clad in regulation costumes, making a most beautiful and charming entry.

Then came the midgets, the tall man, the cannibals, wild men and other sideshow attractions. And then the menagerie, dangerous and fearful to behold, all in cages, a truly "glittering, gorgeous galaxy." And last but not least a great array of clowns, and the clown band.

Rose School Fine
Rose school's entry was exceedingly beautiful and artistic, depicting springtime in the Umpqua Valley. Flower costumes, tiny gardeners, maypole dancers, fairy dancers, streamers, banners, and wreaths served to make up a multicolored display which created a beautiful picture as the young marchers wended their way between the thousands of watchers who thronged the streets along the line of march. Decorated wagons, and flower baskets. A tiny house, with a flower garden, was a unique entry, while a beautiful scene was built up surrounding a huge rainbow, about which nestled flowers, rabbits and fairies. Then came the spring gardens with carrots, turnips, beets and other vegetables, and finally the vacation-seekers, enjoying the delightful springtime, so cleverly shown by the costumes of the marchers.

Live Strawberry Show
The high school entry was symbolic of the strawberry. The freshmen represented the cultivators of the plant, and were preceded by a representation of a strawberry plant. The sophomores carried a huge green berry, and were also clad and equipped as cultivators. The juniors had a big ripe berry and represented pickers. The seniors represented the final culmination—strawberries.

Mary Rural Schools
There were more rural schools entered this year than ever before. The Dixonville school entered a fairy garden. A scene that was very beautiful in its bright colors. The Smick school had a very charming and unique entry, a Holland scene with a huge windmill, followed by a group of singers, carrying tulips, churns and gardeners, all wearing wooden shoes. Green school, entered an evergreen float, on which rode the pupils of the school singing their school songs.

Rice Creek school featured its boys and girls in their club work. South Deer Creek school featured broccoli.

The Edenhower school presented Art G. Bum's circus, which was a very clever feature.

Drum Corps Out
The Umpqua Post American Legion drum corps made its first appearance in this parade. The boys came out in their new uniforms and were decidedly well received. The Douglas County Concert Band also furnished music.

The Umpqua Chiefs and Squaws and the Bandon Beachmen with their queen and her attendants had places in the closing section of the parade.

Altogether it was one which will long be remembered in Roseburg for the pure beauty of the entries and for the unique ideas so carefully carried out.

NEW THEORIES IN McPHERSON CASE DEVELOP

man he believed to be Mrs. McPherson in an automobile headed for Los Angeles about the time the evangelist disappeared, said the woman wore a white dress with a blue cape.

Miss Schaffer told police yesterday that she and the Angelus Temple pastor did not go via Culver City on their trip to the beach.

Devotees Still Search
Renewed hope fired many of the religious leader's followers today as they continued their search of the beaches on Santa Monica Bay for the body they believed would be cast ashore on the third day.

Alphas, speed boats, fishing boats and a coast guard cutter participated in the search today. Some experienced seamen have expressed the opinion that the body would be washed ashore some time between the third and ninth day. Others of equal experience, declared the sea may never cast up the dead.

Hills Being Searched
SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 21.—Aimer Sophie McPherson who disappeared on the beach here Tuesday, had been suffering from a "serious nervous condition" for years and may be alive wandering demented in the coast mountains, said Dr. Gustave W. Haas, Los Angeles physician, who declared that he had been treating her prior to her disappearance.

As a result of Dr. Haas' statement, Chief of Police Clarence E. Webb of Santa Monica today sent searching parties into the Malibu hills with orders to comb the mountain sides and canyons for the missing evangelist.

With the search directed toward Topanga and other valleys opening on the Santa Monica beaches, the hunt of the waters of which Mrs. McPherson was last known to have been seen, diminished. However groups of her followers still stood about the sands firmly but sadly expressing their belief that "Sister McPherson was at rest in the sea."

WHY THEY PARTED

"I was down with pain in my right side which at times almost crazed me. Most all of the doctors said operation. But what I want to tell you is the pain disappeared with the first dose of your medicine and I never felt any since. MAYR'S has the right name—gets, sour stomach and dyspepsia have left, too." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Tradition doesn't make your cake

We all love our traditions, often after we know they have played us false.

One tradition of the kitchen is in effect that an all-soft wheat flour is best for the making of cakes and pastry. This may have been truer when all-hard wheat flours were used almost exclusively in the making of home bread. But baking processes are better understood, actually, than they used to be.

Fisher's Blend Brand Flour has been proved the base for a better bread loaf. This no longer needs to be argued since popularity has pinned the Blue Ribbon there. But also it is just as good for cakes and pastry, for a similar reason—it gives better flavor and more moistness, and contains a larger percentage of the cereal elements of wheat.

In the baking of cakes, the proper regulation of oven heat is quite as essential to good results as is the proper mixing of the batter. In all its uses it is highly important that wheat flour should be thoroughly sifted. This insures that the chemical reactions of baking shall be complete and the product fully ready for digestion.
