Old Abraham Stuck to Middle of Road

A man and his wife took in an accd and supposedly wealthy relative to live with them, thinking they would profit when the old fellow passed away. Later they learned that he hadn't much money, and they were anxious to get rid of him.

and they were anxious to get rid of him.

They agreed between themselves that they would start an argument at dinner. The husband would claim that the soup was too salty; the wife would declare that it was not salty enough. They would leave the matter to old, Abraham. If he agreed with the wife the husband would throw him out, if he agreed with the husband, the wife would throw him out. Consequently, at dinner, the husband said: "Rachel, this soup is too salty."

Rachel tasted the soup and said: "No, my dear, the soup is not salty enough."

"Then," said the husband, "we will leave it to Abraham, and see what he says about it. Abraham, what do you think: Is the soup too saity or is it not saity enough?"

Old Abraham, who was enjoying his soup, didn't hesitate, but said, between sips: "Yell, it suits me."—Los Angeles Times.

Dog Trainers Differ

in Methods of Work Most dog trainers deny the truth of the saying that you can't teach old dogs new tricks. The fact ap-pears to be that a dog more than two years old is more easily taught than the average puppy because he than the average puppy because he is more capable of understanding what you wish him to do.

what you wish him to do.

Many an intelligent dog is spolled by too insistent efforts to correct minor faults in the early stages of his training. His spirit is broken before he has an opportunity to learn things worth while. Many dog trainers, in handling hunting-dogs, or even watch-dogs, insist that they should not be taught little tricks, such as sitting up and begging for food, or jumping through one's hands. The objection is that the trick dog comes to through ene's' hands. The objection is that the trick dog comes to look for signals from his master and is less likely to act on his own initiative. On the other hand, many trainers take an opposite view, and think that learning tricks is good discipline and helps in a dog's general mental development.—Fred C. Kelly, in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan.

"It came about because of my wife who had been hoping for months that she would come back some afternoon and find the luncheon dishes washed. So the other day I decided to surprise her, and started out to wash 'em. I had the water all heated and the dishes in the pan before I thought of soap, and then I went into the bathroom and picked up a cake of bath soap. It was good soap; it made the dishes shine like china; but before I finished my wife came home, and I found I was using her own particular and expensive bath soap. Apfound I was using her own particu-lar and expensive bath soap. Ap-parently she was more surprised than pleased, so I've decided to follow the moral of the tale in the future—'tle careful how you please your wife.'"—Detroit News.

Time and Old Age

Time and Old Age

The orroneous, pernicious, but widespread conviction that "time" makes us old, and that age is autopatically fixed by the number of years behind us, constitutes a deadly assault upon the human family. Time does not make us old. Time has nothing to do with it. Time is an hour glass—a measuring device—not a force. Time can indiuence disease or health no more than a varietiek can influence the speed of a horse race. Age is the result of clunge brought about in our own habits of life. Within the limits of variation we can hasten those changes, or check them, as we will.—From "The Science of Keeping Young," by Alfred W. MeCunn. NOTICE FOR BIDS FOR CITY IMPROVEMENT BONDS
