CARPENTIER AND EDDIE HUFFMAN

BATTLE TO DRAW NEW YORK, May 22.—Georges Carpentier, orchid man of France, to still a great little show man. He demonstrated that when he fought a courageous 10-round draw with Eddie Huffman, blonde California sailor lad, at Madison Square Garden last night. It was a battle between a rugged youth with a two-fisted attack and a cagey veteran with a flashing right. One of the judges cast his ballot for Carpentier, the other for Huffman, while the referee refused to give either a margin.

THE GIST OF THE BIBLE

BOOK BY BOOK

By ALVIN E. BELL, D. D. ARTICLE NO. 19

PSALMS—"THE FIRST PRAYER BOOK"

The Psalms not only stand exactly in the middle of our Bibles, but they are their very central shrine of worship for the saints of the Old Testament and those of the New as well.

They are not only the divinely inspired book of praise and prayer of the Old Testament, but they are as precious to the Christian as to the Jew.

The 150 Psalms stand clearly divided into five books whose close is marked by the doxologies to be found at the end of Psalms 41, 72, 89, 106 and 150.

The Psalms begin with a beautiful, as does the Sermon on the Mount, and appropriately rise to a grand finale of praise in the group of songs known as the "Hallelujah Psalms."

It is doubtful if any human experience can be conceived today that has not its counterpart or remedy in one or more of the Psalms.

Hoary with the age of from two-and-a-half to three-and-a-half millenniums they still have the freshness of the dew that fell this morning.

The Psalms breathe worship in every note. Here it is confession, elsewhere it is supplication, again it is reflection and anon it is praise, but always worship, the bringing of every conceivable human experience into the presence of God, whether joy or grief, trust or anxiety, hope or despair.

There are dirges pitched in minors and anthems written in majors.

There is no real possibility of anyone adequately analyzing the message of the Psalms for another. Each soul must FEEL the message for itself, and feel it as in the presence of God.

One's favorite psalm, with the exception of the 23rd, which is always a favorite, depends upon his particular need at a given time.

In times of darkness it is the 27th; in danger the 51st; in discouragement the 34th or 86th; in joy the 96th or 150th; when seeking forgiveness the 51st; when rejoicing over forgiveness the 32nd; when thankful the 88th, 103rd or 147th; when "down in the dumps" the 130th. When we want to see God in His might it is the 68th; when we want to see Christ in His glory it is the 2nd or the 24th; when we want the fellowship of Christ in our sorrow it is the 22nd; when we are passing through the valley of the shadow of death we want the 23rd.

The Psalms must have been the favorite part of scripture even to our Lord and His apostles, for nearly two-thirds of the Old Testament quotations they bring over into the New Testament are selected from the Psalms. They found Christ in the Psalms at every point.

So today the songs that live are those that sing of Him of His grace. The best in music still centers about Him as in the Psalms, Christianity is of necessity a singing religion, and the explanation is given by St. Paul in the words, "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord."

LOCAL MEN SHOW

HOSPITALITY TO

PEOPLE ON SHASTA

A number of travelers will have reason to remember Roseburg, for the hospitality offered them by the local chamber of commerce last week, during the time that the Shasta Limited was held up here for several hours, owing to a freight wreck at Dilhard, where six cars were derailed.

Jack Boyle, of the local S. P. office telephoned the chamber of commerce, who at once got in touch with various members and city were sent to the station, where the stranded travelers were greeted by the business men, and many availed themselves of the invitation to take a ride over the county. All were unanimous in appreciation of the chamber's hospitality and in evidence of this is the following letter, received this week:

MEDFORD, Ore., May 20, '26. Chamber of Commerce, Roseburg, Oregon.

Gentlemen: I want to commend your organization and particularly your affable Secretary for the courtesy shown the passengers on the Shasta on the occasion of the recent "lay-over" in Roseburg due to the wreck near Dilhard on the 12th instant.

Three hours from home and family after a 30-day trip thru-out the Eastern states, where I roamed and froze on alternate days, and fresh from a Montana-Dakota blizzard, a Seattle fog and Portland drizzle, my emotions were indeed mixed upon being informed that we would be "held up" in Roseburg the balance of the day.

Then a "glad hand", an automobile ride under the guidance of Mr. Hartley of the Western Auto Supply, a personally conducted tour of your city and back country turned an otherwise dull afternoon into a very enjoyable occasion.

Several hundred people on that train, many of them Easterners, will never forget Roseburg and its Chamber of Commerce. Many thanks to you.

Very sincerely, JAMES E. EDMISTON.

CHAUTAUQUA TO APPEAR IN ROSEBURG

H. M. Ellison, of the Ellison-White Chautauqua, was in Roseburg yesterday, and completed plans for the appearance of the Chautauqua in Roseburg under the auspices of the Roseburg Woman's Club. The Chautauqua will appear here next month, and there will be six days of excellent programs, giving Roseburg an opportunity to hear some of the most talented musicians and entertainers of the country.

The appearance of the Chautauqua is always an event looked forward to and this year there will be enough varied programs to suit all tastes. Mrs. C. S. Helms and Mrs. P. T. Binbar are joint chairmen of the committee in charge. A special meeting of the Woman's Club will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Heintz Conservatory to discuss plans for the showing here.

FLASHES OF LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO — Women should rule in cities because city life "centers about the home," Mrs. Bertha K. Landes, mayor-elect of Seattle, told women here.

SALT LAKE CITY—Commercial aviation, with the government taking the lead through air mail service, is growing by leaps and bounds, despite criticism, in the opinion of W. E. LaFollette, western division air mail superintendent. He said the United States made more progress last year than Europe since the war.

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher, wife of the Florida senator, has in her home spiritualistic circles of some of the most prominent people. She told a house committee that she also had received messages from her deceased father.

VIENNA — Beer is being sent by air to thirty folk on the higher slopes of the Austrian Alps. Bottles attached to parachutes are dropped from airplanes.

NEW YORK — Women smokers should beware of cancer warning comes from Dr. Herman Prinz, professor of pathology at the University of Pennsylvania, that in the Orient deaths of women from cancer are much more than among men and in most cases due to use of tobacco.

NEW YORK — Able's Irish Rose" seemed to be perennial, its 1,721st performance Monday will mark the start of its fifth year, a record broken only by 2,000 performances of "Chu Chin Chow" in London.
