BERRIES DELUGE MARKET, FORGING DOWN THE PRICE

Canneries and Juice Firms Get Larger Part When the Buyers Refuse to Compete.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., June 1.—There was a deluge of berries in the early growers market today, strawberries, raspberries, logans and currants. Buyers refused to take hold and prices dropped to a level maintained by the cannery guarantee. Bartering concerns and canneries are taking all the fruit they can get at 10¢ cents a pound with crates and hallocks furnished. This means a price of approximately $2.15 a crate to the grower, with less time and trouble in picking. When prices on strawberries reached $2 a crate the growers refused to sell and many loads were taken to the canneries and juiced plants after the early season. At the opening growers asked $2.50 a crate but as the heavy receipts kept pouring in they were forced to lower their ideas. Some berries sold at $2.30 to $2.50 a crate but the bulk of the fruit went around $2.25 with quite a few sales at $2.

Raspberries Around $3.00. Raspberry receipts were the heaviest so far this season and the market broke fully $1 a crate. A few early sales were made at $3 to $2.25 but the bulk of the fruit went at $2.75 to $3 with load lots as low as $2.50 a crate. Loganberries were hard to move and lots were cleaned up at $2 to $2.25 a crate. The loganberry crop is coming on heavy and picking will be in full swing this week. Offerings of currants were limited but there was little demand. Best crates went at $2.50. A half crate of blackcaps brought $2. The strawberry deal is nearing the window. Some of the growers say their patches will be cleaned by the end of this week. Late fields will last another ten days.

ALBANY, Ore., May 30.—Jack Reynolds of Indianapolis and Robin Reed of Oregon Agricultural college wrestled two hours to a draw before nearly 3000 persons here last night in their match for the welterweight professional championship of the world. By the draw decision Reynolds retained his title, but Reed made a great showing against him. Each wrestler took one fall. Reynolds cramped Reed after one hour and 10 minutes with a flying mare. Reed came back and evened the count by throwing Reynolds.

NEW PRESIDENT OF POLAND IS CHOICE OF REVOLT LEADER

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WARSAW, Poland, June 1.—Professor Ignatz Moscicki is the new president of Poland. He was elected by the national assembly today to succeed President Wojciechowski, who resigned following the recent military coup led by Marshal Pilsudski. Marshal Pilsudski was elected by the assembly yesterday but declined the post because he said the constitution did not protect the chief executive against parliament by giving him power to dissolve the legislative body even in case of urgent necessity. Professor Moscicki, elected today, was his choice for the place.

Professor Moscicki was born in 1867. He studied chemistry in Riga University and also in London and for a time was professor of electro-chemistry and electro-physics in Swiss universities. Later he organized large factories to his own patent. After the paper Nilsenian plebiscite he was made director of the fertilizer works at Chorzow, Poland. When the Hague tribunal returned Chorzow to Germany he was appointed a professor in Lemberg University.

Sailor Woods Given K. O. MARSHFIELD, Ore., May 31.—The scheduled 10-round bout Friday night between Sailor Jack Wood of Grants Pass and Bruce Noland, of Marshfield, came to an abrupt ending in the second round when the local boxer-wrestler landed a haymaker on Wood and the latter went to the canvas.

Ace Boles, who was once the pride of Coos Bay, showed the fans last night that as a fighter and boxer he was through. After being knocked down three times in less than one round, Referee Bert Tribbey awarded the decision to Young Harrington, Klamath Falls Indian, on a technical knockout. Boles was helpless from the first blow and was unable to land at all.

It took Roy Cederstrom, a wrestler, just 30 seconds to pin Jimmy Maloney in a mixed bout. Cederstrom grabbed Maloney before the latter was able to land and threw him to the mat. The fighter's arms were tied up in a knot and it was short order before his shoulders were touching the mat.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, June 1.—With 600 passengers aboard, the Washington Irving, pride of the Hudson River day line's Albany-New York fleet, was rammed by a tanker off Hoboken, N. J., today and sank. All passengers were reported rescued before the boat sank. The Washington Irving, said to be the largest passenger carrying river boat in the world, a sidewheeler of 400 tons, had left its pier at the foot of Desbrosses street but a few minutes when it was struck. The identity of the colliding vessel did not appear in the early reports received by the officers of the line here. Water came into the damaged hold so fast that shortly after the last passenger had been taken off the boat had sunk to such a depth that only the superstructure showed above the surface.
