"Hungry Enough to Eat a Bear"

Half the joy of going fishing is in the healthy, hearty appetite it creates. The fresh air, exercise—climbing, wading, whipping the streams—the battle royal with a gamey beauty—all bring the fisherman back to camp "hungry enough to eat a bear." Almost anything tastes good at such a time, but the trip is much more enjoyable if the lunch basket or "grub box" is well stocked.

Skaggs Stores carry a wide variety of lunch goods and foods for the camper—the sort that go fine with fried trout or—without them. Some of these are featured today at prices which will save you enough to go a long ways toward paying for the trip.
