Weddings, here and in the north are providing interest for society folk this week, and a number of nuptials will be consummated during the remaining weeks of the month.

Among the most prominent and one of wide social interest, both here and in college circles, for which many guests, numbering from Portland, Eugene and other northern points, will be assembled, is the wedding of Miss Iris Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Rice and Donald Helliwell, son of Ernest Helliwell, and both members of prominent Roseburg families, which will be a large affair Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at St. George's Episcopal church. Rev. Ernest Potter Rummels will read the service.

Miss Jeannette Rice will be maid of honor and bridesmaids are the Misses Lenore Helliwell, Fern Reymers, Marion Porter and Evelyn Quine. Miss Phyllis Ann Bolter will be flower girl. LaVerne Hawn will be best man and ushers are James Pickens, Allen Hewitt, Phil Singleton and George Bradburn.

A wedding of the following week which will gather many from Salem and other points is that of Miss Vivian Marsters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Marsters of this city, and S. C. Endicott, of Bandon, which will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Marsters has been instructor of home economics in the Salem high school during the past winter and has been a much feted bride elect this spring.

Bridge Arranged for Popular Visiting Matrons

At a smart affair this week, which comprised two popular visitors, Mrs. S. C. Endicott, of Bandon, and Mrs. Russell Dunham, of Marshfield, Mrs. W. F. Chapman, Mrs. C. W. Wharton, Mrs. J. P. Barker and Mrs. L. G. Broadway were joint hostesses, asking a number of prominent society women to the Chapman home in Laurelvale for an afternoon of bridge Tuesday.

Games were in progress in the galley decorated rooms, arranged with bouquets and baskets of the season's flowers. First prize was received by Mrs. George T. Bolter and Mrs. Endicott received guest prize.

Miss Florence Wharton and Mrs. Harrie Booth assisted at the luncheon tables, where covers were placed for the Mesdames S. C. Endicott, Russell Dunham, B. Casey, J. F. Jones, J. I. Love, A. A. Wilder, H. H. Stapleton, H. C. Waddell, George T. Bolter, George A. Bradburn, G. W. Wimberly, J. E. Sawyers, S. L. Kidder, S. A. Sanford, J. C. Sutherland, E. B. Stewart, J. C. Hume, J. H. Booth, Mark N. Tisdale, of Sutherlin, B. C. Zigler, Walter S. Hamilton, George E. Houck, Dave Lenox, Nathan Fullerton and the Misses Elizabeth Parrott and Rosa B. Parrott.

Miss Florence Wharton Visiting Parents Here

Miss Florence Wharton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wharton of 203 North Chadwick street, is spending a few weeks visiting her parents. Miss Wharton has been instructor of physical education in the Boise, Idaho, schools during the winter. She plans to leave the first part of July for Los Angeles, where she will deliver a series of lectures. Miss Wharton is a member of the National Y. W. C. A. and will visit together for the east to visit for six weeks. They plan to stop at many points of interest enroute and will spend the greater part of their time in New York City.

Mrs. Fred Schwartz, who has been the guest of friends in Klamath Falls and has been enjoying a visit there for the past two weeks will return home Sunday. Mrs. Schwartz, who is a member of the Roseburg Woman's Club, will motor to the place today, returning home with Mrs. Schwartz.

Club Matrons and Guests Enjoy Afternoon

An enjoyable afternoon was spent by the ladies of the Bellview club and a few guests at the home of Mrs. S. M. Kelly at Kelly's Korner Thursday.

Mrs. J. C. Ponder, retiring president of the Roseburg Woman's Club, was a guest and gave an interesting talk on the convention of the Federated Women's Clubs at LaGrande this spring. The custom of holding the meetings of the club the second Thursday of each month, has been changed, and in the future the latter will meet the first Friday in each month.

Miss Mildred Matthews, of Portland, gave two delightful vocal solos and Mrs. F. L. Russell entertained with a reading. At the close luncheon was served.

Guests were the Mesdames Harry Hatfield, P. Strader, R. Oliver, G. Newport, F. L. Russell, J. C. Ponder, Miss Mildred Matthews, of Portland, and members present were the Mesdames W. F. Price, E. E. Boyer, F. Boyer, W. A. Pearce, W. E. Bolser, R. C. Lovelace, J. O. Arthur, and J. J. Kester.

Miss Naomi Scott, of Portland, who appeared in the recital at the Helmholtz Conservatory last evening is remaining over the week end in Roseburg as the guest of Miss Helen Casey.

Affair Compliments Two Popular Young Women

Miss Iris Rice, whose marriage to Donald Helliwell will be solemnized on July 16, and Mrs. Fred Lockwood, a recent bride, were again the inspiration for a charming evening affair on Wednesday, when Mrs. T. B. Virden and Mrs. S. L. Kidder joined in entertaining in their honor at the home of the former on north Jackson street.

The guests were gathered about bridge tables in the rooms bright with bouquets of Dorothy Perkins roses and gladioli. Miss Lorlene Conlee held high honors, receiving first prize, and Miss Rice and Mrs. Lockwood received the guest prizes.

Luncheon was served at the small tables by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Walter S. Hamilton, Mrs. W. E. Ott and Mrs. J. E. Sawyers.

Bidden to the affair were Miss Iris Rice, Mrs. Fred Lockwood, the Mesdames A. B. Crawford, George T. Bolter, Dexter Rice, W. E. Ott, A. F. McKenzie, Jack Crawford, C. A. Lockwood, Chas. W. Wharton, Harry Hildeburn, Roy Bellows, Harrie Booth, C. F. Harpster, Glen D. Smith, James E. Sawyers, Merrill Throne, Walter Fisher, Nathan Fullerton, Walter S. Hamilton, George A. Bradburn, Russell Dunham, of Marshfield, H. Lee Connolly, the Mesdames Helen Casey, Gertrude Rast, Marion Porter, Rosina Porter, Lorlene Conlee, Thelma Newhard, Vera McMillin, Virginia Whiting, Fern Reymers, Grace Carroll, Jeannette Rice, Lois Cobb, Faye Geddes, Florence Wharton, Jane Wharton, Emma Ueland, Bess Wharton, Dorothy Orent, Maxine Sykes, Helen Falbe, Evelyn Quine, and Naomi Scott, of Portland.

Portland Musician to Instruct in Conservatory

Miss Naomi Scott, of Portland, has been engaged by the Helmholtz Conservatory of Music and Art to fill the vacancy in the violin department, previously under the splendid direction of Mrs. A. J. Young, who recently resigned to remain at home during the winter following her trip east this summer.

Miss Scott comes with the highest recommendations from Mr. William Wallace Graham, of Portland, one of the best known instructors of that city. Mr. Graham pronounces Miss Scott to be a most artistic soloist and well equipped for her teaching. At the recital last evening at the conservatory hall she charmed her audience with her beautiful resonant tone, her artistic interpretation and her very adequate technique evidencing years of training and thorough mastery of the violin. Miss Scott is of most pleasing personality and is sure to win the love of her students. She will return September 1 to reside here permanently.

Mrs. A. W. Nelson and children, of Jamestown, North Dakota, are enjoying an extended trip with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clemens, and will probably remain in Roseburg until early fall. Mrs. Nelson will be remembered by many here as Miss Elsie Clemens, and is being greeted by many of her girlhood friends.

Party Motoring to Eastern States

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wells and Miss Dorothy Chase left the first of the week on a motor tour east and will spend three months visiting various points of interest. They will spend the greater part of the time in Wisconsin, there visiting relatives and friends. They left by way of the Yellowstone trail.

Ladies Sew at Worthington Home

Mrs. Henry Worthington provided a pleasant afternoon for the ladies of the Art and Embroidery club Wednesday, asking them to her home on 523 east Lane street to sew.

Afterward a short business meeting took place and luncheon was served at tables with clever place cards marking each cover. Mrs. Chas. Wamsley, Mrs. J. W. Dowell and Mrs. Jess Hicks assisted.

Spending the afternoon were the Mesdames Neil Burhans, E. E. Morgan, Wm. Carsten, Ora Decker, E. Rhoads, Jess Hicks, L. W. Ingles, J. C. Stephenson, F. S. Cawfield, W. H. Palm, C. D. Palm, Henry Snyder, Mae Pindel, Floyd Satterly, Miss Susie Lewis, and guests, the Mesdames Clayton Kogley, B. F. Shields, Chas. Wamsley and John W. Dowell.

Mrs. Ruby Bloom will entertain the ladies at her home on 202 Broadway street Wednesday, June 16.

Double Wedding Solemnized at Mission

At a pretty double wedding the marriages of Miss Clara Applegate, of Canyonville, to George Grace, of Portland, and Miss Lois Bartley, of Canyonville, to W. Williams, of McCloud, California, were solemnized Monday at the Canyonville Gospel Mission before a number of relatives and friends.

The brides, the former in peach crepe de chine, carrying a bouquet of madonna lilies and ferns, and attended by Miss Ola Blankenship, and the latter in a gown of white crepe de chine and satin ribbon, with an arm bouquet of roses and fern, attended by Miss Ruth Shaffer, advanced to the minister, Rev. A. M. Shaffer, who read the impressive services.

Ted Ross and Wesley Dunbar were best men.

Mrs. Grace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Applegate, of Canyonville, and a member of the 1925 graduating class of the high school at that place. Mrs. Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Bartley, of Canyonville, and also graduated from the Canyonville high school this spring.

Selecting the Early Summer Sports Costumes

The Tailored Mode Is Favored in the Suits, Cape-Coats, Tweed Coats, Two-Piece Frocks and Sports Accessories. Plaids Are Smartly Worn

Small checks, too, in various color combinations are very smart when accompanied by a single toned coat of slightly mannish outline.

In the tailored mode it is interesting to note that the mannish mode has returned with interesting details. Colors may be vivid and distinctly feminine, but the lines of the tailored sports ensembles are distinctly masculine in cut and detail.

The accessories which are used with such effectiveness in the sport world are very important in their tailored chic. The blouses and vestees which accompany the trim suit are crisply fresh and tailored to the extreme. The necks are rather high, but compromise frequently in a turned-down collar of comfort and becomingness.

Handkerchiefs for sports are rather larger than those which boasted a colorful but tiny air of importance last season. Scarfs are in general replicas of those worn by men during the winter months and boast horizontal

Picnic Dinner Given for Guest

For Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ueland of Montana, who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ueland, Miss Emma Ueland entertained with an informal picnic dinner at Idler's, the Ueland home Thursday evening.

Afterward the group enjoyed an evening of music and conversation. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ueland, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Whitton, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ueland, Mrs. A. W. Nelson, of Jamestown, North Dakota, the Mesdames Bess Wharton, Jane Wharton, the Mesdames Joe Murphy and Frank Clemens and Donald Wimberly.

Portland Woman Guest of Miss Baldwin

Miss Emily C. Partridge, of Portland, was the guest of Miss May Baldwin at her home on 327 north Kane street Thursday, leaving Friday morning for California points. After a brief visit there Miss Partridge will go to New York City, sailing for England July 7. She will visit different points of interest in that country, spending about three months abroad.

Even in mid-summer, when mountains and seashore are the home of the summer girl, it is well to cast an appreciative eye upon sports apparel in the new and interesting woollens—and all the accompanying accessories that the smart shops are featuring.

The interesting patterns which have found their way to add chic to the new woollens are smartly used in the two-piece costumes in either contrast fabrics, or in one-toned effects. Among the favorite materials seen in the sports models are twills, variations of the long popular khaki, balbriggans, tweeds and homespuns.

Plaids, being a favorite alike in silks and woollens, are being greatly favored in the sports mode.

They achieve a decided air of interest when used in bright colors to establish the chic of either skirt or jacket in the mode of the two-piece costume.

Plaids, however, do not limit themselves to the suit or sports costume, but find themselves in full favor as a dashing cape, cape-coat or swaggar topeant. Frequently, too, they are a brilliant addition to the coat by forming a colorful lining in woolen, twill, tweed or silk coat.

Skirts, being still very short, are particularly smart when fashioned of English plaids and an accompanying jacket of trim lines and harmonious color in a one-toned woolen

To Spend Summer in Eugene

Mrs. Jacobs and daughters, Miss Crystal Jacobs, who has been instructor of commerce in the high school, and Mrs. Fenton, leave Sunday for Eugene, where they will be during the summer months. They will be domiciled in the Professor Scott home while there, and expect to make side trips to Siltcoos and Triangle lakes. Later they plan a trip to Crater Lake.

Matrons Play Bridge at Craven Home

Lovely clusters of delphinium and snapdragons brightened the rooms and centered the table of Mrs. W. T. Craven, who hosted the matrons of the Monday Bridge club and a few guests for 1 o'clock luncheon at her home on Corey avenue Monday.

Afterward several tables of bridge were in play and club prize was won by Mrs. J. C. Ponder, while guest prize was received by Mrs. George Bacher. The club members at play were the Mesdames H. C. Waddell, Dean Bubur, Ben C. Zigler, George A. Bradburn, J. I. Love, J. C. Ponder, guests, the Mesdames Russell Dunham, of Marshfield, Harry Winston, bars in gay colors, animal designs upon an interesting background or polka dots on fields of blue, red or yellow.

Floral decorations are not amiss in the tailored mode, but they, too, conform to the simplicity of the ensemble by appearing tightly bunched in colorful bouquets.

Shoes in the Harzardians and calskins are simple in design and are worn with hose of interesting designs or plain woollens.

Anna Q. Nilsson has selected a decidedly smart and modish costume in woollens for sports occasions. The long coat of cross bar tweed covers a white flannel skirt and wooden overboots in interesting design and color. Miss Nilsson is wearing one of the newest hats for sports—a felt in broad brimmed design which is masculine in its appeal. Novelty kid shoes and an interesting belt in bright shade complete Miss Nilsson's chic appearance. Miss Nilsson is seen in the leading role in the First National film, "The Greater Glory."

Handkerchiefs for sports are rather larger than those which boasted a colorful but tiny air of importance last season.

Scarfs are in general replicas of those worn by men during the winter months and boast horizontal

Sewing Enjoyed by Young Ladies Friday

The Elgarose Stitches Club met at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lundeen Friday afternoon and formed plans to continue their work through the summer. Sewing was the pastime during the first part of the afternoon and afterward games were enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close.

Spending the afternoon were the Mesdames Ora Olson, Violet Bloomquist, Elvora Anderson, Alida Anderson, Hildegunde Johnson, Hilda Sjogren and Mrs. Lundeen.

Mrs. Anna B. Clark Leaves for Los Angeles

Mrs. Anna B. Clark, former Roseburg matron, who has been spending the winter here, left this week for Los Angeles, there spending the summer months. She will be home later by her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Clark, who has been studying at O. A. C. during the winter months.

THINGS LIKE THAT.

Here is the road beside the brook
And here the byway that we took
And here the log on which we sat
And talked of love and things like that.

Not out; ah, no. Two students wise
Not love we talked, but analyzed—
The latest gossip in the frat,
Engagements, weddings, things like that.

For you were young and I was poor—
Might even flunk; I wasn't sure—
And so I dared not come out flat
And talk of love and things like that.

But now and then I take a book
And find the byway that we took,
And think of eyes and things like that.

In other words, I'm doing fine;
And so I thought I'd drop a line
To ask—wherever you are at—
That you would write—and things like that.

For I'll be out of here in June
And I'll be making money soon,
And then I'm coming right out flat
And talk of love and things like that.

Davis-Booth Wedding Brilliant Affair Monday

The marriage of Miss Barbara Booth, of Eugene, to Mr. Frederick Kerr Davis, son of Mrs. Ida F. Davis, of Camden, New Jersey, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Booth, parents of the bride, in Eugene, Monday afternoon, was an event of the week of interest to society. The bride is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booth of this city. The ceremony took place in the living room of the beautiful Booth home, where an improvised altar, banked with combinations of white candytuft, white floss and lavender butterfly hush and ferns, stood. Tall white candelabrum on either side of the altar gave the only light.

The bride, advancing on the arm of her father, was gowned in lovely white satin of straight model and flare skirt. The yoke of rare Brussels lace also formed the point of the collar in back, and the Georgette puff sleeves were bound with a narrow band of lace. She wore a single strand of pearls. A cape shape tulle veil of full length was held close to the head by an orange blossom wreath, extending to the back, and the coronet of lace in front was held in place with a pearl ornament. The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, pansies, cecil brunner roses and fern.

Little Mary Elizabeth Booth, flower girl, leading the procession, was trooped in pale pink georgette with ruffles formed of the self-colored silk, and a wreath in her hair completed the costume. Clesta Ann Booth, the train-bearer, wore blue georgette.

An aisle was formed from the stairway to the altar by loops of white satin ribbons, where the bridal party proceeded, while John Stark Evans played "Nocturne," from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Nights Dream." Miss Rose McGrew sang, "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mr. Evans.

The ceremony was read by Rev. J. Franklin Haas of the First Methodist Episcopal church before two hundred assembled guests.

A reception was held afterward at the Booth home, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Booth received with the bridal party.

The table for the bridal party with covers laid for twelve, was placed in the library, and a three-tier wedding cake, with decorations in silver flowers and leaves centered the table. Four silver candlesticks with green tapers were placed about the cake. Places for the guests were laid at small tables in the dining room and on the porch. Assembling in the rooms were Mrs. L. L. Lessie and Mrs. R. G. Smith, of Portland, Mrs. Genevieve Masters of Salem and Mrs. Waldo J. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a short wedding trip after the reception and on their return expect to reside in Eugene for the summer.

Housewarming at New Rand Home

On Saturday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Rand had a pleasant surprise in the form of a housewarming when a group of their friends gathered at their new home on 911 South Hamilton street. A picnic supper on the lawn was followed by a pleasant evening.

Enjoying the affair were the Mesdames M. Richardson, Myrtle Nelson, Harvey, Deardorff, Weed, Mr. and Mrs. L. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Will Long, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Honnigh, Esther Meyer, Edna Harvey, Mary Edgerston, Adena Lobck, Anna Lobck, Bill McDowell, and Ed McDowell.

Shower Honors Miss Rutter

A number of friends of Miss Edith Rutter, who marriage to Thomas F. Epping took place Monday, gathered at the A. E. Rutter home in Edgewater Saturday evening for a shower and to surprise the bride-elect.

Games and other entertaining features were enjoyed by the guests and Miss Rutter received a number of gifts for her bridal chest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rutter.

Eugene Girl Weds Here Thursday

At a quiet ceremony attended by only a few friends from Eugene and Roseburg, Miss Mildred G. Branten, of Eugene, and Alfred E. Archibald, of Corvallis, were married Thursday afternoon at the Presbyterian manse.

Rev. W. E. McCullagh read the service. Miss Marion Marsters, of Eugene, was the bride's only attendant, and Paul Amort, of this city, was best man.

Mrs. Archibald is a graduate of the University of Oregon and has been teaching during the past year. Mr. Archibald attended O. A. C. and is employed by the State Highway department in that city. He has visited here a number of times and is known to many in Roseburg.

The couple left Thursday evening for Grants Pass and other Southern Oregon points to be gone a week and enroute to Corvallis, will stop over here Friday to be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Amort.

Epping-Rutter Nuptials Monday

At a pretty home wedding Monday, Miss Edith Rutter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rutter of Edgewater, became the bride of Thomas F. Epping. The ceremony was read by Rev. H. B. Mow, before only a few relatives and friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a frock of white taffeta. Her bride's bouquet was combined of white roses, sweet peas and carnations. Miss Jessie Rutter was her only attendant.

Alva Wilson was best man. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Rutter home, with Mrs. A. E. Rutter presiding. Covers were placed for the bride, party and Mr. and Mrs. Epping. The bride's bridesmaids were Mrs. E. C. Knuth of Wyeck, the Mesdames Gertrude Epping, Ruth Epping, Kathleen McClain, Gwendolyn McClain, Bernice Rutter, Jessie Rutter, Rev. H. E. Mow, Alva Wilson, Albert Rutter, Leland Rutter.

After a short honeymoon trip to Columbia River highway points, Mr. and Mrs. Epping will be at home at Days Creek.

Mrs. J. Wendell Wright and daughter, Miss Esther Wright, and Miss Carmelita Blacklock left the middle of the week for points in Idaho. Mrs. Wright will stop at that state, visiting at Buell, for a short time. Miss Wright and Miss Blacklock are remaining there to visit during the summer. Mrs. Wright plans to visit in Nevada and other mid-western points and later will go to Los Angeles and Pasadena to visit before her return to Oregon.

Community Circle Joins Afternoon

On Wednesday Mrs. Emma Swift entertained the Teanille Community Circle. Readings were enjoyed, and a short program and a talk were also features of the afternoon.

A dainty luncheon, served by the hostess, followed. Present were the Mesdames A. Coats, V. Rice, O. Barnes, V. McDonald, E. Rice, F. Rookard, M. Sibold, A. Watson, Higgins, two new members, Mrs. R. Hahn and Alta Hahn, and Blanche Barnes, Helen Barnes, Viola Howard, Kathryn McDaniel, and Othol Stoner.

Final Meeting of Smick P. T. A. Held

The year has been a most auspicious one for the year was held Tuesday evening of this week at the J. J. Kester home, and installation of officers for the ensuing year was held. Mrs. Pitzer Beckley, the re-elected president, and Ross Lovelace, the re-elected secretary-treasurer, were the ones installed in office.

A vote of thanks was extended the Strawberry Carnival committee from the association for the prizes awarded the school and the splendid courtesy given them during the carnival. The financial report showed a balance of $40 in the association treasury.

This year has been almost successful one for the association, which has given its help in improvements and addition to the school grounds. The victory, which was purchased has given a great deal of enjoyment to the school children. From the money (continued on page 4.)
