MYSTERIOUS BUNK!

Once in a blue moon now some bright, old-fashioned cynic says: "Aw, I never read the advertisements. They're full of bunk."

But when one starts to look for it, the "bunk" in advertising shows a mysterious tendency to be absent. Specimens of it are hard to locate.

The reason for that is simple. Bad goods cannot be successfully advertised. To stand up under the pitiless glare of publicity, merchandise must be honest. It must live up to its promises. Otherwise you would quickly cease to buy it.

So advertisers discovered long ago that for them, too, honesty was the best policy. More!—the only possible policy, if they were to remain advertisers!

Read the advertisements. They are not full of bunk. On the contrary, they are full of honest information and interesting news. They show you ways to be more comfortable. They make life easier. They help you to be happier and healthier. They teach you prices and values.

No doubt about it—advertisements do you many a service. Read them every day!

IT WILL PAY YOU TO READ THEM.

MARTIN DURKIN'S FATE SOON TO BE IN JURY'S HANDS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, July 7.—If Martin Durkin, charged with the murder of Federal Agent Edwin C. Shanahan, made the large sums of money he often carried by bootlegging it was not known to Betty Andrews Werner, his former sweetheart.

Betty was summoned for the second time as a material witness for the prosecution, answered in the negative when asked "if the defendant at any time was a bootlegger?"

The defense rested after the state had cross-examined Durkin briefly. The prosecution immediately set out in rebuttal to prove that Durkin's professional business was not the sale of liquor but of stolen automobiles. Walter Schmidt identified Durkin as the man who sold him a motor car and given a bill of sale under the name of Durkin. Durkin had said he never had dealings with Schmidt. Other rebuttal witnesses were put on the stand to refute defense testimony, principally Durkin's own, about the youth's activities.

A letter threatening the Durkin prosecutors and signed by "The Liberty League" was received today by Prosecutor Romano. He dismissed it as the work of a "nut" and said it was but one of about a dozen letters of the sort which had come to the state's attorney's office.

PIERCE REFUSES TO AID PORTLAND IN VICE CRUSADE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SALEM, Ore., July 7.—Governor Pierce today refused, in a letter to Stanley Myers, district attorney for Multnomah county, to send Attorney General Van Winkle to Portland to take charge of the prosecution of gambling and vice cases in which indictments were recently returned by a grand jury.

The governor holds that all evidence necessary for the prosecution is in the hands of the district attorney, and he declares that Myers, if he uncovers evidence of bribery of public officials, to present this also to the grand jury. The governor's letter says in part:

"In the prosecution of these gambling cases you will be expected to spare no effort in securing the conviction and punishment of all persons guilty of such crimes, and if you have or discover evidence of bribery of public officials which you deem sufficient to convict, it will then be equally your duty as district attorney, charged with the prosecution of all crimes in your county, to submit such evidence to the grand jury and if indictments are returned thereon to prosecute such cases to the full extent of the law."

MANY OUT FOR RED CROSS SWIMMING DEMONSTRATIONS

The cool weather is somewhat of a handicap for the swimming classes being conducted at the Umpqua Park, according to George Hughling, American Red Cross swimming expert, who is giving instructions to all swimmers and beginners in classes conducted morning, afternoon and evening. Yesterday there was a great deal of interest shown, and in the life saving demonstration in the evening more than one hundred people were given instruction and advice.

There was a good attendance at all classes today in spite of the cool weather, there being much interest shown. In the class of beginners Mr. Hughling has pupils of all ages, one lady of more than 60 years being included. Several of the non-swimmers were able to swim after the first lesson given them.

The swimming classes are given under the auspices of the American Red Cross with local arrangements made by the Roseburg chapter and Kiwanis Club.

Beware of that man So-and-So

You hear of So-and-So everywhere. Somebody complains of So-and-So's tooth paste; someone else wants to sell you a second-hand So-and-So automobile. So-and-So's shoes, So-and-So's garden hose, So-and-So's Fountain pens—versatile man, So-and-So!

So-and-So doesn't advertise. He employs salesmen who—say things. But So-and-So doesn't go on record about anything. Not he!

You buy a So-and-So vacuum cleaner. It doesn't vac, or it doesn't clean. Well, what of it? So-and-So didn't say it would. You saw it. You bought it. Caveat emptor! Beware of the products of that man So-and-So!

When a man believes in his product he usually signs statements about it—advertisements. He tells what his product does, how it does it, why it can do it. Then he follows it with his name, and address, in good plain print, "Bill Jones, maker of—."

You're safe in buying from Jones. He's out in the open—nothing up the sleeve. He advertises. You know exactly what you're getting before you pay for it. Read advertisements always. Back of them stand the Jones—not the So-and-Sos—of the world.
