

Unusually Attractive Weaves and Designs Feature Summer Dress Fabrics

These beautiful and varied patterns appeal to the artistic nature of every woman, while the colors are fit into fashion's demands.

Every yard is perfect and new in floral designs, often with gorgeously colored background, as well as in the more subdued effects.

Ladies of Roseburg and outlying districts are invited to visit the Silk Store and look these beautiful dress fabrics over.

Cakes for Christmas Time

IF ONE wishes to give a very choice and acceptable present at holiday time there is none which will prove more popular to the friends who are not housekeeping than a well-made fruit cake.

Sponge Cake for Two.—Beat the yolks of two eggs until light, and add one-half cupful of sifted sugar and one-eighth teaspoonful of cream of tartar dissolved in one teaspoonful of cold water.

Luncheon eclairs.—Bake the usual cream puff in very small finger-sized puffs.

The little people especially love to make things. With a little paste and pretty wall paper they may cover plain boxes and make them very beautiful.

A large, inexpensive basket may be used, decorated with ground paper and filled with things like the above adding apples, a jar of home-made mince-meat, a bottle of grape juice, as well as fruit cake, cookies or mince pie.

Two jumps ahead of the other fellow is the man who reads the classified ads for short-cuts to economy.

Medical Man Gets No Thrills in Sideshow

The sideshow is commonly regarded as blood-curdling and mirth-provoking. It has become a byword to indicate lightness, hilarity and utter nonsense.

With a medical friend, I visited the sideshow before entering the big circus tent. I enumerate some of the exhibits:

- 1. A number of small cetinas. 2. A case of acromegaly—a man eight and one-half feet tall. 3. Two albino, mental, subnormal, who seemed unhappy, uncomfortable and constantly blinking, advertised as "men from Mars." 4. A sad case of rickets, advertised as "man from Borneo." 5. A pathologic case of obesity, a young girl weighing more than 300 pounds.

Simple Chemise Worn by Marie Antoinette

I studied with interest the other day a certain modest and pathetically simple garment displayed in one of the showrooms of the Carnavalet museum.

Below this exhibit was the notable chemise worn by Marie Antoinette in the Temple.

Where is the woman of today who, confronted by this pathetic relic, would dare ratify the judgment of history and charge with contempt a queen whose chemise she would scorn to wear even down to her last son?—Le Matin, Paris.

Posmipity Rebuked

A certain man is inclined to be pompous and obstinate. A short time ago he visited a navy dockyard, and somehow managed to get aboard a vessel where visitors were not to be received.

The officer looked at him a moment. Then he walked over to an anchor chain and with his pocket-knife scraped a bit of rust from it. Returning to the visitor, he offered him the flake of rust, and said:

Be Lenient in Judging

Learn to make allowances for the old and young, the wise and the foolish, the wealthy and impoverished, the tender and the hard; be lenient; help instead of condemning. Many people never get out of the shadow. Penury pulls at their heartstrings and ill-health discolors their outlook.

The benefit of a charitable fellowship is that the man who gives it is wonderfully helped. Southey says: "He who is most charitable in his judgment is generally the least unjust." Things brighten for him and he remembers, when he sees another less favorably placed than himself, that place might easily have been filled by himself.

So long as a man is trying, though he may fail, he is worth help and tolerance, for such a man is doing his best.—London Trib.

Locomotive's Breathing

The puffing of a railway engine is a common enough sound, but few people know by what it is regulated. Actually the number of puffs made by a locomotive in the course of a journey depends on the transference of its driving wheels.

Where Flu Comes From

David was playing that one of the dolls was seriously ill. He was heard to remark to Nancy: "This doll has the 'flu' so bad, she can't get from the back bedroom."

Question of Color

Mrs. Newberry (to her neighbor)—What sort of roast do you think would go well with a bean-and-white dinner service?—Progressive Grocer.

U. S. VETERANS IN FRANCE JOIN FOES OF WAR DEBT PACT

(Associated Press Special Wire.) PARIS, July 8.—Ambassador Myron T. Herrick is perturbed at the decision of the Association of American Volunteers in the French army to take part in the proposed demonstration Sunday in opposition to ratification of the American debt settlement.

Under present plans the American volunteers will be stationed before the Alan Roger monument in the Place de l'Etat Libre, where they will receive a wreath from the French veterans' association as it marches past.

Ambassador Herrick said today that the posters announcing the parade were a direct slap at the United States, and at himself. Consequently he feels that if Americans take any part in the parade it will embarrass him officially. He felt that it was inadvisable that the American volunteers would bear a share in the demonstration.

LA BARBA RETAINS TITLE BY BEATING RIVERS, MEXICAN

(Associated Press Special Wire.) LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Fidel La Barba, king of the flyweight boxers, today was among the battered thrashed ranks of titleholders, who in this year of aspects in championship row, have repulsed successfully the lightning blows of their challengers.

In a fast and furious ten-round battle here last night the champion, defending his title for the first time since ascending it last August, took a reverse decision over George Rivers, Peruvian, usually known to boxing followers as George Rivers.

As he twice before had done, La Barba outclassed the little Mexican boxer, but his victory, as time, it was the consensus of opinion, was far more sensational than others.

Ringsiders gave the crown wearer at least six rounds and had challenged anything from one to three, with the rest even.

To those who had seen La Barba in his previous fights, the battle he waged last night came as a surprise for he discarded the strenuous tactics he usually employed and fought a purely offensive fight throughout, and won a tipping attack on legs and rights to Rivers' body and head.

The title aspirant, too, fought a remarkable battle, but he was unable to do much at long range, scoring his greatest in the clinches, his jabbing rights and lefts often shook the champion.

In the absence of an official count, it was estimated that between 7,500 and 8,000 fans saw the titular scrap. The champion was guaranteed 47 1/2 per cent of the total receipts, which were estimated at $22,000. As the challenger, Rivers was to get 15 per cent.

PORTLAND'S NEW THEATRE BLOCK TO COST $2,000,000

PORTLAND, Ore., July 8.—A $2,000,000 theatre to occupy an entire block will be erected in Portland by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, it was announced yesterday.

The structure will be designed by New York theatre architects and is expected to be one of the most magnificent theatres west of New York.

It was estimated the equipment alone would cost $250,000 including a $125,000 pipe organ. Its seating capacity will be 3,500.

Taking into consideration rentals involved and cost of construction, the deal is the largest of its kind in the history of Portland.

And Now the Cowgirl Is Declared a Myth

A former state official of Kansas has declared that the cowgirl of fiction and tradition is a "mythical creature." If he had merely talked it, perhaps no one would have paid much attention, but he has written it in reminiscences filed in the archives of the Kansas Historical society at Topeka.

He says that the great open spaces of the state were once a prize treasure, and he has created doubt in the minds of their readers.

Are we to believe that the splendid creature who rode like the whirlwind and outshot Wild Bill Hickok is a myth? How she dashed through prairie after prairie, turning stampeeded cattle into a gentle, lowing herd by her master presence after the cowboys had given up the job and how, when desert water holes proved dry, she saved the herd from dying of thirst by discovering through intuition streams of crystal purity? What a glorious figure she was riding at the head of a cowboy cavalcade to take vengeance on a band of "rustlers," and how indelibly brave when she dashed, a two-gun woman, into a lynching bee and rescued her hero! Are we to believe that all this never happened and that the cowgirl never existed?—New York Sun.

Sent to Destruction Over Niagara Falls

At least three vessels have gone over Niagara falls, says the Boston Globe in reply to a query. The first was in 1827, when an old craft was sent over with a boat, a buffalo, a dog and some geese as passengers. The boat jumped from the bank before it reached the rapids, and swam to the shore and was rescued. The geese went over the falls and came to the shore below alive, while the other animals were not seen.

Another vessel, the Detroit, that had belonged to Commodore Perry's fleet, was started over the cataract in the winter of 1841, but grounded midway in the rapids, and was finally broken up by the ice.

In 1837 a burning vessel was sent down the rapids and over the falls. This was described as a most magnificent sight.

Ice Age May Return

There is no way of telling whether or not the ice age, as called, will return or what changes in the climate will occur in the future. It is known that the ice sheet invaded the northern part of the United States four or five times, and between these several invasions there were long intervals, during which the climate was as mild as now.

In some cases, indeed, the climate is present. It is also known that the length of each of these interglacial stages was longer than the time which had elapsed since the appearance of the last ice sheet. From this it may be inferred that it is quite possible, at least, that another advance of the great ice sheet may occur.

The Right Thing!

Do you know why we shake hands? In early days men lived alone save for his woman back in the cave. He fought the wild animals alone and dragged home his loot alone. Men warred on one another for the most part. When primitive man was too weak to fight he would drop his club upon meeting another man in his path and hold out his empty hand to show that he was unarmed. And the extended hand was used in the handshake.

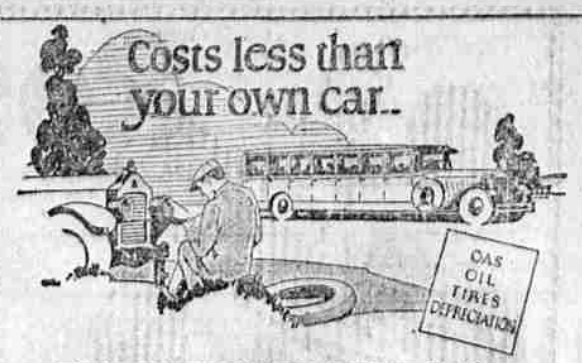

Today's form says that a person coming into a group does not offer to shake hands. It is up to the members of the group to make him welcome by offering the hand, if they care to.

Hoists Lift Stone Horses

With modern hoisting equipment ponderous steel horses, heavy safes and other large objects are raised with comparative ease. In placing the large stone horses on the palace of justice in Rome several unusual difficulties were encountered, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. To protect the sculptures from damage, chains were fastened about the horses' feet so that the statues could be swung away from the wall and prevent damage.

The present stone of the land made it hard to balance, but the placing had to be done ground and through a network of specially designed scaffolding.

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR APPEAL ON BOND SEIZURE

SALEM, Ore., July 8.—The supreme court will hear arguments next Monday in the case of Frank Keefer against District Attorney Stanley Myers and Sheriff J. J. Burdick of Multnomah county in which Keefer is protesting against the use of evidence of papers taken from his office. The papers are alleged to have been taken after Keefer had been arrested for operating as a bond broker without a permit from the state corporation department. Arguments were heard yesterday over Keefer's petition for a writ of injunction, but instead of issuing a temporary writ the supreme court set the case for argument on its merits next Monday.

The seizure of papers took place at the time Keefer was arrested by Jack Eakin of the State Corporation Department, Sheriff Burdick and District Attorney Myers. Among the papers were Oregon bonds, in connection with which there was a scandal, and other securities aggregating $200,000 to $300,000. These, according to Corporation Commissioner Creech, were in Keefer's grip and he was ready to hand a train.

To Visit Here—Mrs. Louise Howe, of Brownsville, is expected at the end of the week and will visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Householder for a week or so. Mr. Howe will motor here Monday and will enjoy a fishing trip before returning home.

FLOODS RAVAGE JAPAN; THIRTY REPORTED DEAD

(Associated Press Special Wire.) TOKYO, July 8.—The recent heavy floods in Hiroshima, Yamaguchi and Wakayama prefectures caused a landslide which crushed the walls of many houses and killing probably 30 persons. This number has not been verified, however. The rainfall in western Japan is the heaviest in years, inundating farms and houses and washing away bridges. The water is reported to be subsiding.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 7.—An entire family is dead in Valparaiso as a result of a landslide from the mountain Arayau which crushed their house.

A mass of earth and stone smashed the dwelling of Pedro Alvarez and killed his wife, mother-in-law and five children.

MYERS PROMISES TO BE AN ALL-COAST WORKER

(Associated Press Special Wire.) SEATTLE, July 8.—Jefferson Myers of Oregon, a member of the United States shipping board, promised Seattle last night that he will work for the interests of the Pacific coast without partiality to any city.

"Give me support," he said, "and you will get all the ships you want. I am a western man; my heart is in the development of the west and there will be no partiality to any city. I am an enthusiastic admirer of Seattle and its business men and I'm interested in all of your state. I am as I have invested considerable funds in Washington."
