THRILL HUNTERS

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER D.

Amy was taking her meals in her room, a subtle way of annoying Dr. Paul, who believed it every wife's duty and privilege to preside, thrice daily, at her husband's board.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays he was busy for hours in the operating room at the hospital and it was in the afternoon of one of these days that Val Haddon, taking advantage of his absence, came to see Amy.

She met Clara a distrust with a show of friendliness and went on to Amy's room where the girl heard their effusive clasp of greeting. Later her mother's raised voice cried, "It's unbearable! I can't stand him, Val; I've got to get away, even for a week or two!"

Clara rushed into a far corner of the library, upset as always by Amy's temper. Of course Amy didn't feel that way—not so horribly—about Daddy Paul. There'd been a time, long ago, when she adored him, or seemed so. But these last couple of years she'd been nursing animosity to a smouldering hatred that flared occasionally, threatening destruction.

It was true that Amy had some cause for indignation. Why couldn't Daddy Paul have been more reasonable? He might have given up some of his archaic ideas and let her live a little as she wished, since he loved her so much. He was much older than Amy and a doctor, knowing life should be longer, he had no right, for instance, to censor Amy's women friends—to forbid Val the house.

Clara followed him out later, pausing at the hall table to glance at the mail. Copyright 1926—King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Did you ever follow a hunch? It's a pretty good idea. Sutherland valley has something to offer.

QUEBEC NOW HAS THE SUSPECTED D'AUDEMONT

(Associated Press London Wire.)

QUEBEC, July 12.—Three American giving their names to the police as Benjamin Langman, Emmanuel Harounian and Joseph Harounian, are held here awaiting investigation by the authorities of Quebec, Quebec.

American police are searching for Ray, Roy and Hugh D'Autremont of that city, charged with dynamiting a Southern Pacific train near Siskiyou on the California-Oregon border in 1923 and killing the engineer, fireman, brakeman and mail superintendent. The three held by the police are under suspicion of being the men sought for the crime, the Dominion police said.

Do you know that Sutherland has a chance to become the largest city in Southern Oregon?

Returns After Visit—Mrs. Mary Wallace has returned to Ashland after spending the week end here visiting her brother, St. M. Guiney. Mrs. Wallace stopped over here last week after visiting at the coast. She is well known here and taught in the Douglas county schools a number of years ago.

FEELING LOTS BETTER NOW

Writes Ethel May Snider Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Hartford City, Ind.—Doing housework and taking care of a sick woman proved to be too much for Ethel May Snider, R. 1 of Hartford City, until she started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Overwork had so undermined her health that she had to give up all outside work, and when she saw this medicine advertised in the "Star" and other papers, she went to a drug-gist and got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She took it regularly, was greatly benefited and now feels very much better.

Ethel May Snider's experience is similar to that of thousands of other women in all walks of life, who have sent testimonials to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass.

From Maine to California, from Wisconsin to Texas, and from Nebraska to Florida letters are received every day from grateful women who say the Vegetable Compound has helped to restore their health.

ARGUMENT FOR INITIATIVE BILLS FILED AT SALEM

(Associated Press Salem Wire.)

SALEM, Ore., July 10.—The last of the affirmative arguments for initiative and referendum measures going to the voters at the November election were filed today with the secretary of state. Today in the official minutes of law for affirmative arguments, and days more is allowed for negative arguments.

On measures referred to the people by the legislature the resolution is provided for the appointment of committees by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house to prepare the affirmative arguments, for initiative measures, and the negative arguments, for referendum measures.

Any person or organization may submit negative arguments to either initiative or referendum bills. The fee charged by the state for arguments is $100 a page in the voters pamphlet.

Affirmative arguments were received today at the following measures:

Grange income tax bill, argument prepared by George A. Ratnoff, state minister, C. E. Spence, governor, Pierce and others.

Denial anti-income tax and anti-inheritance tax resolution, arguments prepared by Senator Bruce Dennis and Representatives Herbert Gordon and Charles J. Shelton.

Seaside normal school bill, argument prepared by Senators W. S. Knapp and A. O. Dennis and Representatives E. C. Bates, Ralph Cowgill and W. A. Hall.

Amendment relative to filling vacancies in public office, argument prepared by Senator W. J. H. Clark and Representatives E. O. Potter and Claude Buchanan.

DESERT AIR LINE

JERUSALEM, July 12.—The Cairo-Karachi air line serving will soon be an accomplished fact, week having already been commenced on hangar construction at the terminus.

It is expected that the new aerial transport system will reduce the present trans-desert traffic, and soon, it may be expected, a trip from Egypt or Palestine to India and back will be no more than a weekend jaunt.

WITH THE AUTO TOURISTS AT THE CAMP GROUNDS

"We are on our way to San Francisco from the Biggest Little City in Oregon," as our hosts in known, said F. M. Cookman of Carr, Atchafalaya. "We notice the heat that we have experienced since arriving on the coast, we are used to the cool breezes from the Great Lakes, but at the same time feel that Oregon is the most promising state that we have been through."

"We have just started on our trip, which will carry us to Yellowstone Park, through Kansas, and back by the way of the Grand Canyon," and F. E. Carter of Los Angeles, Mr. Carter is accompanied by Mrs. Carter and this is their first trip into Oregon and they expressed themselves as being very favorably impressed with the state.

From Mexico to Youngstown, Idaho, with lightening trips to Portland, Seattle and Yellowstone Park, is the route to be followed by F. E. Carter and wife of Youngstown, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Walsh have enjoyed a prolonged stay in California and are now on the way home.

G. E. Stewart, wife and family enjoyed a stop in Roseburg, while enroute to Seattle from Los Angeles. This is the third trip that Mr. Stewart has made into the northwest and he stated that the improvements to the cities along the highway indicate a substantial growth.

The recent heat wave that has settled over Southern Oregon has been the main topic of conversation among the tourists in the camp grounds. Most of them are surprised to find the mercury playing around the top of the thermometer tubes and are almost convinced that California is not the hottest place on the coast.
