

WEST—as the West itself

Is This Gasoline For You Westerners

THE question is often asked, "How can I choose my gasoline? I don't see it. It goes into my tank from a hose while I sit in the front seat. By local or state ordinance it must perform satisfactorily—at least enough so that it is hard for me to tell the difference in gasoline. If it doesn't function so well, it may be the car itself. So how can I judge?"

But you can judge in another way. When you hire a man you inquire as to his record. When you buy a car you want to know if the manufacturer is reliable. How he has progressed. And if his product is a quickly thought-out assembly. Or has it developed as the inevitable perfection of years of conscientious labor.

So with gasoline and oil. And when you buy non-detonating Union Gasoline and Aristo Motor Oil, consider these facts:

Union Oil Company of California is the oldest major producing and refining oil company in the West.

In 1881, when the oil production of Western America was 147,000 barrels, Lyman Stewart founded in Santa Paula, California, the company which seven years later became the Union Oil Company of California. Union Oil Company of California has expanded as the West's development has expanded. It discovered five of the greatest California oil fields, and has pioneered in many of the most important steps in oil progress.

Union Oil Company built the first oil refinery in the West, constructed the first pipeline to tide-water in the West, and had built, at its order, the first oil tanker used on the Pacific Coast.

Union Oil Company was started in the West by Westerners. It is owned by 10,200 stockholders, 76% of whom are citizens of the West. Its present officers and sixteen of the twenty directors are Westerners.

Union Oil Company backs its gasoline and oil with one of the most complete organizations in America—600 producing wells, 50,000 barrels of crude a day, seven huge refineries, 13 deep sea tankers, 860 miles of pipeline, 500 service stations, 300 distributing plants.

These things you do not see, but in every gallon of non-detonating Union Gasoline and each quart of Aristo Motor Oil they are all represented, working to serve you, guaranteeing satisfaction and service.

Union Oil Company of California

This is one of a series of announcements by the Union Oil Company which we believe will be of special interest to all Westerners. Others acquainting you with the development of the oil industry will appear from time to time. Look for them in this publication.

Gypsy Healer Pays $100 For Advising Cemetery Stunt

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) BOSTON, July 11.—Fear of a prescribed midnight visit to a graveyard as a cure for stomach trouble led Joseph Seana to report in the police treatment given him by Mary Jones, a gypsy fortune teller. She was fined $100 in court today.

Seana said he paid her $10 to massage his face to cure his rheumatic knees and when that failed she extended the massage to his neck and chest for $50 more. Then she demanded $500, he charged, for her advice to go to a cemetery at midnight, undressed and light a candle over a new grave to help his stomach disorder. He balked at that.

five, Evelyn Brent has one of the most captivating roles of her career, an interesting departure from her field roles in such engrossing photoplays as "Silk Stocking Sal," "Smooth As Satin," and others in which this brilliant young star has been presented under the auspices of E. E. O.

The mammoth background of the fires of war adds a note of magnitude to "Secret Orders," for the story which Conrad Norcross wrote with one another in the story. There is none of actual warfare, the drama being centered rather in the human element that coursed through the network of intrigue behind the scenes.

Filled with the romance and drama of Russia after the fall of the Czar, "The Volga Boatman," Cecil E. de Mille's second independent production for Producers Distributing Corporation release, strikes out into an hitherto unexplored vein of strongly entertaining photoplay background. The great song, "The Volga Boatman," served as the inspiration for the story which Conrad Norcross wrote for the screen. Leonard J. Coffey made the film adaptation. This picture coming to the Liberty Theatre Sunday.

ANTLERS THEATRE

"Teaser" Defined by Type Star.

What is a "teaser?" As a word it has much the same social standing as "Flapper," "Cokecater," "Sheik," and so on. It has become a part of the English language.

Laura La Plante, Universal star appearing in "The Teaser," coming Wednesday and the Antlers theatre, offers the following definition:

"A teaser is a girl who likes to flirt. She likes to appear something she is not. She wants to appear naughty. She is never sincere. Her smiles and eyes never tell her 'she's' the truth. She likes to think she is a vamp—but at the last minute, when things become too dangerous—she suddenly becomes very innocent."
