The Trowel and Float

No. 1 August 2, 1926 Vol. 1

Bill Bates over at the News-Review office says most people think they know how to run a newspaper, and we're no exception to that rule.

But we can't afford our own newspaper, we're too busy with the fuel and building material business.

So we have arranged for this little corner in the News-Review and we're going to devote it to the news of our business.

We may not talk about content and plaster all the time, maybe some of you Roseburg folks may get your names into our "newspaper" occasionally.

Also, we may decide to write editorials or high brow editorials, or give Bert a run for his money.

But we'll at least try to be interesting and we hope you'll watch for the Trowel and Float each week.

There are lots of things around our place of business that we'd like to tell you about from time to time. New merchandise arriving. New ideas.

Comments from our customers. Things that we believe would interest you a lot more than if we tried to tell you all the time about getting The Trowel and Float ready each week, just remembering that we're also going to give you the best service we know how to deliver.

And while we're at it, we want to make this space of some service to you, and we wish you'd advise us from week to week—critique or commend, as you think we deserve. We'll need your help and "moral support."

That's the big aim of this institution, always.

MARKET RATINGS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 2.—Local produce markets are well supplied with fresh fruits this morning and prices continue at a popular level. Large arrivals of peaches, pears, prunes and crab apples flood the street and produce dealers are urging the trade to urge home canning while supplies are liberal and the market reasonable.

Both Oregon and California peaches are now on the market with a few Washington Elbertas coming in. Fancy J. H. Hales from the Penryn section in California are meeting a ready demand.

Fancy Bartlett pears are down to $2.25 and $2.50 a box with the Oregon harvest just getting under way.

Local crab apples are plentiful at $3 to $3 1/2 a pound.

Steers, good $8.00@8.35; medium $7.00@8.00; common $6.00@7.00; canners and cutter steers $5.00@6.00; heifers, good $7.00@7.25; common and medium $4.50@7.00; cows, good $4.25@6.50; low and medium $4.25@6.25; cow and cutter $2.00@4.25; bulls, good best (yearlings excluded) $5.00@5.75; common and medium (canners and bolognas) $4.00@5.00; calves, medium to choice (milk feeds excluded) $9.00@10.50; vealers and common $5.50@9.00; culls, medium and choice $10.50@12.00; culls, common $6.50@7.50.

Hogs: Medium, good and choice $13.50@14.75; medium weights (200 to 250 lbs.) common, medium, good and choice $11.00@15.00; light weights (100 to 200 lbs.) common, medium, good and choice $15.00@15.35; light hogs (180 to 250 lbs.) common, medium, good and choice $14.50@15.25; packing hogs (rough and smooth) $11.50@12.00; slaughter pigs (90 to 130 lbs.) medium, good and choice $14.50@15.25; feeder and stocker pigs (70 to 130 lbs.) medium, good and choice $15.00@15.00; (50 lb. or city hogs and roasting pigs excluded in above quotations).

Lamb, medium to choice $16.00@12.00; culls and common $8.00@10.00; yearling wethers, medium to choice $7.50@10.00; ewes, common to choice $4.00@5.25; culls $2.00@4.00.

(Outside quotation based on best Mt. Adas, eastern Oregon and similar type lambs. Few valley lambs selling above $10.25.

Eggs steady. Current receipts 25c; fresh medium 26c; fresh standards 28c; fresh standard extra 31c.

Butter steady. Extra cubes, city 41c; standards 40c; prime firms 38c; firms 36c; prints 45c; cartons 46c.

Milk steady. Best churning cream 42c net shipped track in zone 1. Cream delivered Portland 41c. Raw milk (1 per cent) $2.25 41c, f. o. b. Portland.

Poultry nominally steady. Heavy hens 25@26c; light 16@17c; springs, white 17@18c; dark 22@24c; to 26c; young white ducks 22@23c; colored 15@17c.

Potatoes steady, $1.00@1.50 per sack; new potatoes 3c lb.

Onions steady, $1.00@1.25.

Nuts: nominal Walnuts No. 1.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 2.—Light hens and springs are going into the cooler to hold down the surplus in the local market. And still country receipts continue liberal. Prices are weak at 15c to 16c for light hens and 13c to 14c for loghorn broilers, in spite of all reports to the contrary. Heavy hens and springs remain steady under a brisk demand and moderate receipts. Heavy hens quoted up to 25c and 26c with colored springs scarce at 24c to 26c.

Proving high prices in the local butter market have resulted in some adverse stock coming out. While there is a temporary shortage in the fresh make, cooler supplies are double a year ago, not only at Portland, but throughout the entire coast territory. Print and cube prices opened steady and unchanged.

But values are barely steady. Liberal advances during the past week brought ruling prices to a level where short held storage stocks could be brought out and peddled at a handsome profit.

Prices are unchanged today.

Values along the coast on country dressed calves responded to the weakness shown at the yards this morning and while the run at North Portland was heavy, there was only a handful received by front street commission houses. Demand was lacking and prices were more or less nominal at 15c to 17c. Choice light hogs remained nominally steady at 20c.

Supplies of early varieties of apples exceed the demand even at the ruling low prices.

It is hard to get the public to realize that all fruit crops this year are from two weeks to a month early. Already the berry and apricot season has slipped by without the homewife fully aware of it. At least demand for home canning was the lightest in several seasons and now that the above commodities are gone the demand is increasing.
