LEGIONNAIRES MAY ABANDON IDEA OF MEETING IN PARIS

(Associated Press Local Wire.)

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 6.—La Grande was chosen for the 1927 convention for the Oregon department of the American Legion in their convention this morning. Their vote was unanimous this morning. Astoria was the only other bidder and after La Grande took a large preference over that city, the vote in the Astoria delegation moved that a unanimous vote be extended La Grande.

There is a move on foot by the Hood River delegation to enter a resolution to have Oregon oppose the Paris, France convention, because of the French attitude towards America at the present time. The resolution is expected to be presented this afternoon and indications are that it will be carried.

The Oregon American Legion today was given a political aspect with the arrival of Governor Pierce, L. L. Patterson, Fred Stelwer, Congressman Crumpacker and others.

STATE TAX ON GASOLINE AND DISTILLATES MOUNTS

(Associated Press Local Wire.)

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 6.—The state tax on gasoline and distillate collected on sales made during the month of June, 1926, amounted to $339,688.53, according to a statement by Secretary of State Kizer today.

Taxes were remitted on 11,108,476 gallons of gasoline and 257,369 gallons of distillate.

The June sales of gasoline represent an increase of approximately 15.4 per cent over the sales made during June, 1925, distillate sales having increased in about the same proportion.

To date the motor vehicle fuels tax measures have brought to the state treasury the total sum of $7,413,269.98.

Of the amount collected under the law of 1921, there has been returned up to July 31, 1926, the sum of $463,351.52 to operators of farm tractors, motor boats, commercial cleaning establishments, etc. pursuant to that provision authorizing refunds of the taxes.

Motor vehicle fuel taxes are credited to the state highway fund, becoming available for expenditure in the construction and maintenance of state highways.

WIFE, WEAPONS AND HORSES, DRUSE LOVES

SOUDEIDA, DJEBEL DRUSE, Aug. 6.—(A. P.)—The Druse loves three things above all; his wife, his weapons and his horse.

The Druse morals are of exemplary purity. The slightest flirtation with death. Never can a young Druse woman, who has been careless enough to allow her admiration and love for some young warrior bold to become too visible, hope to marry the choice of her heart.

Cheer Husbands to War

The women play a great part in the preparation of a Druse military expedition. When the tribesmen mount their horses and rally forth to war, only their wives and the elderly women of the tribe have a right to range themselves along their passage and chant cries of encouragement.

The young girls must remain home. If the advancing cavalier, waving his scimitar or his rifle in honor of the cheering, singing women, is a veteran of many campaigns, the women cry: "You have right to salute us and be proud, we know your valorous deeds."

Should the passing horseman be going to war for the first time, however, they shout: "Be humble, we shall see you at work, then decide whether you are worthy of our cheers."

Are Excellent Nurses

But it is in nursing the wounded back to health that the Druse women render the most valuable services to their warriors. Handed down to them from generations of warfare, their knowledge of surgery and medicine makes a practical trained nurse out of every mother and sister of the men in the field. They manufacture their own balm and drugs out of herbs and although not officially known as such, can boast of one of the best "Red Cross" in the world.

CHAMPION TEST RIDER

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(A. P.)—Miss Nancy Debenham has proved the champion motorcycle test rider of England.

Against a field of some forty men competitors, Miss Debenham, still in her teens, won her race with a good lead, and was awarded the gold cup for the best performance in a 200-mile reliability trial conducted by the London Cycling club. She achieved the distinction on a 21-horsepower machine, which was the lightest one taking part in the contest.
