

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

By GRACE CARROLL

All contributions to this page, society, women's clubs, and personals, should be telephoned to the society editor by Friday

Myth Henderson and David Oleman Married at Pretty Home Ceremony

With provisions of gaudium and gypsophilia decorating the rooms and an arch achieved from ferns and centered with a huge white bell forming the background, the marriage of Miss Myth Henderson, daughter of J. C. Henderson, of Portland, and David Oleman, son of Mrs. Oleman, of Portland, took place Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Henderson, of Roseburg.

The bridal party formed a pretty picture, advancing to the improvised altar, the bride charming in bouffant model of shell pink and silver taffeta, the skirt of which extended to ankle length, was trimmed in wide bands of cream silk net. Small silk flowers, applied on the front of the skirt, accentuated the style. She wore silver slippers and hose to match and a band of orange blossoms formed the band in her hair. A beautiful necklace of three-strand pearls, a gift from the groom, was a compliment to the costume, and the bride carried a shower bouquet of bouvardia, Cecil Brunner roses, gypsophylla and maiden-hair fern.

Mrs. Elmo D. Henderson, the bride's only attendant, wore a lovely frock of pastel blue and silver taffeta, a basque waist and sleeveless model, with wide skirt banded in contrasting taffeta. Silver slippers and matching hose completed the costume and she carried a shower bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses, bouvardia and fern. Elmo D. Henderson, of Eugene, was best man.

The impressive service was read by Rev. Joseph Knuts before a number of relatives and close friends of the bride and groom. Preceding the ceremony Miss Vernita Kohlhaugen sang "I Love You Truly," and softly played Mendelssohn's Wedding march as the service was read. She afterward sang "When Love Came Calling."

The bride and groom held informal reception following the wedding. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. F. C. Keenan, the Misses Gladys Smith, Fern Scott and Verlie Tracey.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Henderson and daughter, of Central Point, and Mrs. Roscoe Lowrey, of Portland.

Mrs. Oleman attended school in Roseburg and took a course at the Oregon Normal school. During the past several years she has been department instructor at the Rose school. The groom is a graduate of the Oregon Normal school and also attended the University of Oregon. He has been principal of the Rose school for the past two years and during the summer attended the instructors sessions at Berkeley, Cal. Mr. Oleman will be principal at the Junior high school in Laurelwood this winter. Both the bride and groom have a wide circle of friends in Roseburg.

They left on a motor trip for northern points, the bride wearing a lovely three piece imported tailleur model suit in deep blue, with blood felt hat and accessories to match. They will divide their time between Portland and Seaside and on their return in two weeks will be at home in apartments on Chadwick street.

Mrs. George Bradburn Hostess for Bride-Elect

Mrs. George A. Bradburn entertained a group of matrons and maids Friday evening at the attractive Bradburn home in Winston, arranging bridge for their diversion, the affair honoring Miss Marion Porter, a popular bride-elect.

Tables were in play and bridge honors fell to Mrs. L. G. Broadway. At one large table in the dining room, centered with a host of the season's blossoms with tall candles placed on either side, and at smaller tables in the other rooms covers were placed for luncheon. Bidden to the affair were Miss Marion Porter, the bride-elect, Fred Porter, A. G. Waddell, I. G. Broadway, Charles Wharton, Nathan Fulton, F. W. Chapman, Fred Renner, M. B. Green, A. J. Hoelling of Portland, Fred Lockwood, Donald Helliwell, Louis Josse of Portland, Harrie W. Booth, Glen D. Smith and the Misses Rosina Porter, Vera McMillin, Elsie Quine, Fern Reymers, Vernita Kohlhaugen, Elizabeth Renner, Bertha Kohlhaugen, Eva Rice, Thelma Trebren, Helen Falbe, Verus Houser, Grace Carroll, Virginia Firebaugh and Claudia Firebaugh of Berkeley, California.

Mrs. Bertha Parrott Home From East

Mrs. Bertha Parrott, who has been visiting in the east for the past two months, has returned to Roseburg. Mrs. Parrott was a guest of her mother in Minnesota a greater part of the time.

After visiting in Minnesota she took a trip to Dutch and Lake Superior and from there to Seattle, New York, returning home the northern route, she visited in Alexandria, Minn., and Williston, North Dakota. She was the guest of friends in Portland for several days also on her return.

Miss Porter Complimented With Bridge Party

Among the prominent social affairs of the week was the bridge party Tuesday evening given in compliment to Miss Marion Porter, a bride-elect who is being extensively entertained, for which Mrs. Donald Helliwell and Miss Fern Reymers were hostesses, asking a group to the attractive apartments of the former on Kane street.

Several tables were in play and first prize was received by Mrs. Glen D. Smith. Miss Vernita Kohlhaugen received second prize and guest prize went to Miss Porter. Assisting at the exquisitely appointed luncheon tables at the end of the game were the Misses Vera McMillin, Evelyn Quine and Thelma Trebren.

Included in the guest list were Miss Marion Porter, honoree, the Mesdames Fred Lockwood, H. Lee Connelly, Glen D. Smith, George A. Bradburn, Fred Porter, A. G. McMillin, Dexter Rice, Keith Wright, Merrill Thorne, Walter Fisher, Harrie W. Booth and the Mesdames Vera McMillin, Rosina Porter, Evelyn Quine, Eva Rice, Verus Houser, Helen Casey, Helen Falbe, Lois Cobb, Vivian Orcutt, Grace Carroll, Vernita Kohlhaugen, Dorothy Orcutt, Gertrude East, Thelma Trebren, Bertha Kohlhaugen and Elvie Hillsproom of Marshfield.

Roseburg Matron Home After Visit

Mrs. S. K. Sykes, who has been spending two weeks in Portland visiting as the guest of Mrs. Joe Sykes, has returned to Roseburg. Various trips by auto were enjoyed by Mrs. Sykes during her stay, among them a trip over the delightful Mount Hood loop, and visits to the popular beach resorts.

Mrs. Roscoe Marsters Hostess to Group

Mrs. Roscoe Marsters asked the members of the Northside Sunshine club and a few friends to her home on Thursday afternoon. The guests chatted until the tea hour and a dainty luncheon was served at tables placed in the rooms brightened with the season's blossoms.

Covers were placed for the Mesdames Lee Goodwin, F. S. Rogers, R. H. Harness, E. F. Chilton, Elita Marsters, J. S. Nichols, Robert Chilton, B. S. Nichols, Mrs. Fisher, George Marsters, Fred Bowen, Carrie Norney, W. L. Scott, L. Marsters, Charles Staton, Leland, David McKay and Ralph Sands.

Miss Elvie Hillsproom of Marshfield, who has been the house guest of Miss Helen Falbe at the J. K. Falbe home on Douglas street, returned to the east today.

Mrs. Stanton Attends School of Music

Mrs. Charles C. Stanton, local instructor in piano music, has been spending the week in Portland, where she is attending Mrs. Clifford Moore's Fundamental School of Music. This is a course in methods, and is designed for instructors in primary and kindergarten music, and is rapidly proving one of the most popular schools on the coast. Mrs. Moore, the instructor of the school, is well known among Roseburg musicians, having been one of the leaders in the state music teachers' convention held in Roseburg this year. She conducted a special summer course in methods early in June in the city of Portland and another school in Seattle in July. Because of the popular demand a third class is now being instructed. Mrs. Stanton being one of those in attendance.

While in Portland Mrs. Stanton is taking advantage of the opportunity to visit with her mother, Mrs. L. W. Myrick.

Mrs. and Mrs. H. S. Durman and Mr. and Mrs. John Moxley, of Eugene, will motor here today to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wharton over the week end.

Affair Honors Popular Brides-Elect

Mrs. A. C. Marsters and Mrs. S. E. Collier joined in entertaining with a shower and garden party for Miss Marion Porter and Miss Myth Henderson, two popular bride-elects. Saturday afternoon of last week to which a large group of smart maids and matrons were invited to the attractive Marsters home on Kane street. Zinnias and marigolds in brilliant tones and fragrant sweet peas brightened the rooms where the guests were gathered, participating in a musical love story and singing were Mrs. J. S. Rogers and Mrs. L. W. Everett sang a duet, "There is a Wedding in the Forest," and a humorous reading was given by Mrs. Merrill.

At a large table the honorees were presented numerous lovely gifts, brought in a charmingly decorated basket. Luncheon, served at small tables on the lawn, followed, and guests were Mrs. George Bradburn, Mrs. H. C. Waddell, Mrs. Roscoe Marsters, and Mrs. Bailey and the Misses Vivian Orcutt, Jennette Rice, Helen Churchill, Ruth Rosenberry, Frances Butner, Pauline Bubar and Vera McClintock.

Beulah Jarvis and Elmo Henderson Wed

Surprising their friends, preceding the Oleman-Henderson nuptials Monday evening, at which they were attendants, Miss Beulah Jarvis of Roseburg, and Elmo D. Henderson, of Eugene, were married at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage at 7 o'clock.

Miss Vernita Kohlhaugen and Fred Porter were the only attendants and the ceremony was read by Rev. Joseph Knuts. Mrs. Henderson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Jarvis, is a member of a well known Roseburg family. She attended school in Roseburg and has a wide circle of friends here. Mr. Henderson is the son of J. C. Henderson, of Portland, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Henderson of Roseburg. Following his graduation from school here he was at the Roseburg Bootie and is now engaged in business in Eugene, where he and Mrs. Henderson will make their home.

Harry Crocker to Wed in Portland Sunday

John Shields, of Portland, who is spending the month here visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shields, and his father leave today for Portland to attend the wedding of Harry Crocker, formerly of Roseburg and Miss Natalie Towner of Montana. John Shields will be best man at the wedding.

The ceremony will be an informal affair Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, taking place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams. Mr. Crocker and his bride will come to Roseburg next week to spend a month.

The bride-elect is a niece of Mrs. C. P. Shields, of this city, and during the past winter has been visiting in Portland. Mr. Crocker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Crocker and a graduate of Roseburg high school. He attended O. A. C., and during the past year has been making his home in Portland, where he has won recognition in music as well as in the People's orchestra there.

Maple Grove Scene of Picnic Wednesday

The popular Maple Grove was the setting for an entertaining evening Wednesday when a group of Roseburg folk held a picnic there.

Contests and games were a part of the evening's pleasure and at dusk a bonfire added to the pretty setting where the supper was enjoyed. Participating in the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Cook and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reibel and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Angus and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Crainer and family, Mrs. Alice Lee Rapp, and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Weber.

Bible Classes Join in Picnic Thursday

On Thursday afternoon the members of the Bible class of the Christian church motored to Roswell Springs to enjoy a picnic and entertainment. A good party was enjoyed and they were joined by the members of the other classes of the Christian churches of Oregon and Yoncalia.

Swimming at the Roswell tank entertained several and others found pleasure on the tennis courts. In the evening a picnic supper was served from the tables at the camp ground.

Mrs. Phipps Entertains at Her Home This Week

Mrs. M. Phipps of Portland, has been a pleasant afternoon for the members of the Ten Mile Community Club and a few friends, asking them to her home one day this week.

An entertaining program of reading, singing, and the club and some by a group from the Willits Christian church was enjoyed by the guests, and following luncheon was served.

Dancing Party at Skinner Home Honors Couple

On Saturday evening of last week the L. B. Skinner home at Winston was the setting for a delightful dancing party honoring Miss Marion Porter and George Bradburn, whose marriage will be an event of the month for which Mrs. Skinner was hostess.

The speakers in the program were Mrs. L. B. Skinner, who presided, and Mrs. Marion Porter, who acted as emcee. The program was a most successful one and the evening's diversion.

A kitchen shower later in the evening proved a surprise to the honor guests.

Scarfs Throughout the Day

Small Scarfs Are Seen in the Daytime, While at Night They Grow Up to Be Shawls

The very first place that the scarf has achieved in the correct ensemble for the summer months has made it an accessory to be counted upon for all occasions.

There are scarfs of gay tones for sports, and there are scarfs that really are shawls that are seen covering the filmy evening dresses.

Beginning with the first hours of the day, the scarf for sports looms large on the sartorial horizon. There are scarfs of silk, plain or figured, scarfs of kasha or woolen fabrics to match the sports costume, or there are knitted scarfs which create a colorful aspect to the ensemble. The latter scarf is very new and attractive in its rainbow coloring and adds a gay note to the one-toned costume of either white, gray or beige in silk or kasha.

The silk scarf for sports is frequently contrasted in tone to the costume. It accompanies, flatters and is very smart and are also very beautiful in the scarf which are worn with the sports costume. Stripes, too, are seen in almost all hues in rainbow effects and create a gay appearance. Stripes may run in either horizontal or vertical lines and still achieve a chic note.

The kerchief scarf is a very gay affair and is frequently knotted and pinned on one shoulder. Here a colorful note is frequently added to an otherwise one-toned outfit, and it gains in chic as the result.

For the street or motoring, where a tailored appearance is desired, a scarf of sheer silk in several colors is smartly worn.

In the evening the scarf becomes more elaborate and really becomes a shawl or cape. Huge squares of chiffon, brocade, laces or silks are found draping the shoulders with colorful and decorative results.

Figured and plain chiffons and silks are worn with equal effectiveness, and in many cases it is the manner in which it is worn that adds to the chic of the evening scarf, or shawl.

Scarfs which combine different tones in chiffon and which are voluminous are the smartest. Pale pink and black, rose and black, yellow and green, and other striking combinations are found very lovely in the formal scarf. The brocade scarf is no less chic than the chiffon and is equally as large. It, too, drapes with colorful results around the bare shoulders and adds much to the evening appearance. Laces, too, are seen in all colors.

Scarfs may be in squares and worn as a Spanish shawl, or may be cut in long lines and tied at one side. They may also assume a coat effect and be heavily fringed. Embroidery, too, plays an important role in the evening scarf.

Corinne Griffith, who delights in the scarf for all occasions, has an elaborate and very beautiful collection. Miss Griffith wears several of her scarfs in the First National film, "Mile Modiste."

Members of Family Gather for Reunion

The Mathis family of South Deer Creek are enjoying a reunion, the first time in several years when the members have been together to celebrate.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mathis and three sons arrived Sunday from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. They were met by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mathis, who motored there to return home with them. The Misses Clara, Frances and Olive Mathis, of Los Angeles, have also arrived and the group expect to be together during the month of August.

Miss Groves Completes Dinning Course

Miss Harriet Groves has just returned from Portland, where she has been taking a normal course in the Dinning system of instruction of Mrs. Jean Warren Garrison, Dinning normal teacher. She completed the course satisfactorily and secured her certificate as an assistant teacher of the Dinning system, and has accepted a position as instructor at the Moore music studio.

The Dinning system is a foundation training for people of piano and other instruments, and develops laboratory method rather than mere performance.

Mrs. L. B. Moore, also, an accredited Dinning teacher, having taken the course in 1921 at Los Angeles, Cal., under the direction of Miss Helen Vance, and since that time has been conducting classes in Roseburg. Regular classes in Dinning, Kindergarten and teachers training course, will start Monday, September 13th.

The very first place that the scarf has achieved in the correct ensemble for the summer months has made it an accessory to be counted upon for all occasions.

There are scarfs of gay tones for sports, and there are scarfs that really are shawls that are seen covering the filmy evening dresses.

Beginning with the first hours of the day, the scarf for sports looms large on the sartorial horizon. There are scarfs of silk, plain or figured, scarfs of kasha or woolen fabrics to match the sports costume, or there are knitted scarfs which create a colorful aspect to the ensemble. The latter scarf is very new and attractive in its rainbow coloring and adds a gay note to the one-toned costume of either white, gray or beige in silk or kasha.

The kerchief scarf is a very gay affair and is frequently knotted and pinned on one shoulder. Here a colorful note is frequently added to an otherwise one-toned outfit, and it gains in chic as the result.

For the street or motoring, where a tailored appearance is desired, a scarf of sheer silk in several colors is smartly worn.

In the evening the scarf becomes more elaborate and really becomes a shawl or cape. Huge squares of chiffon, brocade, laces or silks are found draping the shoulders with colorful and decorative results.

Figured and plain chiffons and silks are worn with equal effectiveness, and in many cases it is the manner in which it is worn that adds to the chic of the evening scarf, or shawl.

Scarfs which combine different tones in chiffon and which are voluminous are the smartest. Pale pink and black, rose and black, yellow and green, and other striking combinations are found very lovely in the formal scarf. The brocade scarf is no less chic than the chiffon and is equally as large. It, too, drapes with colorful results around the bare shoulders and adds much to the evening appearance. Laces, too, are seen in all colors.

Scarfs may be in squares and worn as a Spanish shawl, or may be cut in long lines and tied at one side. They may also assume a coat effect and be heavily fringed. Embroidery, too, plays an important role in the evening scarf.

Corinne Griffith, who delights in the scarf for all occasions, has an elaborate and very beautiful collection. Miss Griffith wears several of her scarfs in the First National film, "Mile Modiste."

Members of Family Gather for Reunion

The Mathis family of South Deer Creek are enjoying a reunion, the first time in several years when the members have been together to celebrate.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mathis and three sons arrived Sunday from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. They were met by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mathis, who motored there to return home with them. The Misses Clara, Frances and Olive Mathis, of Los Angeles, have also arrived and the group expect to be together during the month of August.

Miss Groves Completes Dinning Course

Miss Harriet Groves has just returned from Portland, where she has been taking a normal course in the Dinning system of instruction of Mrs. Jean Warren Garrison, Dinning normal teacher. She completed the course satisfactorily and secured her certificate as an assistant teacher of the Dinning system, and has accepted a position as instructor at the Moore music studio.

The Dinning system is a foundation training for people of piano and other instruments, and develops laboratory method rather than mere performance.

Mrs. L. B. Moore, also, an accredited Dinning teacher, having taken the course in 1921 at Los Angeles, Cal., under the direction of Miss Helen Vance, and since that time has been conducting classes in Roseburg. Regular classes in Dinning, Kindergarten and teachers training course, will start Monday, September 13th.

Reunion of Brauninger Family Takes Place Sunday

A reunion of the Brauninger family will take place Sunday, 29 members of the family and a few friends gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Blake for the day. A dinner in the afternoon will be followed by an informal time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kennedy and son and Mr. Parker, of Porterville, California, will arrive Sunday morning to be present for the reunion and others from out of town who will participate are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hoffmeister and children, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brauninger, Mr. and Mrs. L. Grubbe and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brauninger, all of Wilbur.

To Return From Visit in East

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Pierson and two sons, Merlene and Harry, who have been making a tour of eastern states during the past four weeks, are expected home next week.

They have been detained at Garden City, Kansas, for a week or so on account of the illness of their youngest son, Harry, but continued on their journey home this week.

Number Enjoy Beach Picnic at Coast

Several Roseburg folk were numbered among the group of vacationists at the Haddon-by-Sea Auto Park joining in a no-host picnic at the beach Friday evening of last week.

Dancing and music were a feature of the entertaining evening following the supper. Among the Roseburg folk spending the week there who participated in the evening's pleasure were Mrs. R. L. Thatcher, Mrs. L. A. Dillard, Mrs. H. C. Darby, Mrs. Nettie Trickett, Mrs. Belle Schindler, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Young, Mr. and Mrs. George Weber, Mr. and Mrs. F. Frederickson and Miss Mabel Schindler.

MOVIE NOTES

ANTLERS THEATRE

Should it ever be your good fortune to visit Louise Fazenda, in the great house in Hollywood, which is one of the results of her hard work, she will show you the room which is set aside for her collection of costumes, all those used in her various whimsical roles, and character dress of all sorts, ancient and modern, for all sorts, ancient and modern, for this is one of her hobbies. Her home, which has the air of having stood for centuries, is also a treasure house of beautiful prints and rare antiques. And she is a unaffected about it all.

"With the first money I earned," she says, "I wanted a ready-made suit, a big hat with a plume, perfumes, trinkets — because I had never had them —" but later on I found out, what I must really have known down deep even then — that the real ornaments of a home are the friends who frequent it. I've forgotten the name of the bird who said it, but whoever he was, he had the right sort of life."

LOUISE FAZENDA in "FOOTLOOSE WINDOWS," a Warner Picture

Gloria looks so tender and sweet and lovable, it is hard to believe she is an impetuous and tempestuous society heiress with an ungovernable temper, in her latest starring vehicle, "The Entangled Lady," playing at the Antlers Theatre. You remember the ditty about the little girl who had a little curl — when she was good, she was very, very good, but when she was bad — That's Gloria in this new and stimulating comedy-romance, written especially for her by one of the greatest popular writers of the present day, Fannie Hurst.

It is quite the most captivating role Gloria has had for in these many months, and she plays it with a sparkle and zest that is a joy to behold.

LIBERTY THEATRE

An old prospector, ambushed and stricken, a desperate race down a precipitous mountain road to stop a runaway, a split-second rescue from the toppling rock-bombardment as it plunges down the cliff, an epic battle in a lonely cabin, a dramatized mine-shaft — these are some of the highlights of "The Dead Line," Rob Custer's latest release for FBO, now playing at the Liberty Theatre. With every foot of film pulsing with action and thrilling situations, and punctuated with comedy touches, the picture is unquestionably Custer's best production.

The preview notices of the Co-

Summer "Aides" to 'Keeping Cool

To keep cool is the height of our ambition during the hot months of the year. Some of us may be fortunate enough to flee to mountain, lake or seashore as soon as old Sol's rays become unbearable, but for those of us who must stay at home regardless of the mercury's soaring, a way to keep cool must be found.

But many believe that in order to keep cool, they should eat as little as possible, forgetting that they need nourishment in summer as well as winter. Besides our usual reasons for eating food — we are hungry, and it tastes good — there is the big fundamental reason: That the body requires it to promote growth, repair broken-down cells and tissues and produce energy and heat. In winter time this last function is an important one, but we can well afford to leave it somewhat out of consideration in summer time. Fortunately our appetites help us here for we do not seem to crave heat-producing foods and drinks. At the same time there is the possibility that we follow the dictates of our appetites too closely, we may not get enough of the proper food elements to meet other requirements which are just as vital in hot weather as they are in cold. Cold foods and drinks as a steady diet are liable to cause nutritional and digestive troubles, but the proper kind of both, if taken in moderation, are refreshing and healthful.

Cold, pure fruit drinks are helpful in reducing the temperature of the body, and if sipped or drunk slowly one can avoid the gastric disturbances which the rapid drinking of cold beverages frequently causes. Fresh or canned fruits contain mineral salts, vitamins, acids and sugars and in cold drinks they are not only pleasantly cooling, but are wholesome as well. Synthetic or manufactured flavors used in many beverages, while generally harmless, usually have none of the food value of the fruit juices which they imitate.

Oranges, lemons and limes have long been used for drinks, and now grapefruit is meeting with equal popularity. Although grapefruit is the latest addition to the citrus family, it is the first of these fruits to be canned, and in this form it is not only easier to handle, but more enticing in flavor, because it is tree-ripened fruit. In beverages grapefruit can be used just as it comes from the can, or the pulp, which is the inner meat and juice separated from the membranes, can be pressed gently to extract the juice.

The following fruit drinks are all easy to prepare and are the sort that can be served with meals, between times, at parties, or when company just drops in.

Current Cool: Three cups fresh lumbina sea drama, "S-O-S Perils of the Sea," praise the brilliant effects obtained with the coloring of the flames, when the huge ship crashes, lands on end and plunges to the bottom.

In "S-O-S Perils of the Sea" the artist has a fine opportunity to display his talents. This feature which comes to the Liberty Theatre on Sunday, contains a series of thrilling sea spectacles. Elaine Hammerstein is the star and a well-known cast of popular favorites support her.

Four cups (quart bottle) — grape juice, one can grapefruit, one pint water, one quart ginger ale.

Mix water, grape juice and syrup and juice from grapefruit pulp. Chill, and when ready to serve add cold ginger ale.

Day Lumber camp near Reedsport.

The lack of a clear title to the rights of ways for part of the highway has held back the beginning of the work in part, it is declared. Practically all details have been attended to and every detail is in readiness to go ahead.

The teams and crews are to be brought up from the coast from Curry county. Low tide will be utilized to get the stock around the points of high land.

DAILY WEATHER REPORT

U. S. Weather Bureau, local office, Roseburg, Oregon, 24 hours ending 8 a. m.

Relative humidity 5 p. m. yes. 25

Precipitation in ins and Hundredths Highest temperature yesterday 89

Lowest temperature last night 51

Precipitation, last 24 hours — 0

Total precip. since last month — 0

Normal precip. for this month — 33

Total precip. from Sept. 1, 1925, to date — 23.73

Average precip. from Sept. 1, 1927, to date — 31.12

Total deficiency from Sept. 1, 1925, to date — 10.39

Average precipitation for 41 wet seasons, (September to May, inclusive) — 31.12

Fair tonight and Sunday, somewhat higher temperature, Sunday humidity below normal.

ARTHUR W. PUGH, Meteorologist

POETS' CORNER

Signed Contributions for This Department May Be Sent to the Society Editor of The News-Review, and Will Be Used as Space Is Available.

The following written by Mrs. Dora Moore, who with her husband recently returned from Myrtle Point to make their home in Roseburg, has as its theme, historic facts of an old stage coach left standing beside the road near Myrtle Point.

There's held in memory many things of struggle hard and long. Oh tell the story now to me, how on the narrow trails

Your drives, killed by ruffians, who robbed you of your mails.