

"Now Your Can Write Your Book"

When Nathaniel Hawthorne destined to become a great literary man, returned home discouraged because he had lost his job, his wife encouraged him with the words, "Now you can write your book." But he could not have done this if they had not saved their money. If you save your money and deposit it in the Roseburg National Bank you adversity may be a door for larger opportunity.

SOUND INVESTMENTS - Where your money is working and bringing in good returns - Either in first mortgages on land in Douglas county which we are acquainted with and an investment of a loan of forty five per cent on a conservative estimate of the value of the land (and with thirty years of experience in Douglas county we feel that we are capable of judging the value of land). OR, we have municipal bonds on towns and cities we know, and there is no safer investment than bonds such as we are offering for your surplus funds.

BERT G. BATES TO ENTER MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY

Mr. and Mrs. Bert G. Bates will leave next week for Hollywood, California, where they will be engaged in motion picture work. Mr. Bates, whose humorous columns "Prune Pickles" in the Roseburg News-Review and "Non-ense" in the Oregon Journal and "Salvage Dump" in the Pacific Legion, have won for him nationwide recognition. He will be engaged as "gag man" until the first of the year and will then direct a picture for Miss Marion Mack, who is Buster Keaton's leading lady in his latest production, "The General." The story which Mr. Bates is writing the continuity and sequences for, is "Alice in Movieland" and Miss Mack is to be starred in it. Mrs. Bates, who has had considerable training as a classical dancer during the past year under Miss Katherine Ludlow, of Portland, will be dancing bits in pictures for a time. "Prune Pickles", the News-Review's feature column will be continued by Mr. Bates and will appear daily on the editorial page.
