Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lanterman, of Mandan, North Dakota, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harding, enroute to their home after a motor trip west. Mr. Harding was friends with the Lantermans at his old home in Mandan.

Cars Collide—
A car belonging to E. R. Tolinger was damaged last night in a rear end collision with a truck belonging to S. W. Taylor. According to the report filed at the city hall by Mr. Tolinger, the truck was parked on the highway while the tail light was being repaired. The accident happened just south of the Shady Point crossing.

Kline Shows On Way South—
J. Ed Russell, press representative of the Abner K. Kline Shows, spent the day in Roseburg greeting friends. Mr. Russell states that the Kline shows, which were a carnival attraction here in the spring, are on their way to Grants Pass, Medford and Klamath Falls, before going to California for the winter. The season has been very satisfactory, he says, particularly from the weather standpoint. Roseburg, however, was one of the best exhibiting places on the circuit and not alone was it one of the most profitable stands, but the members of the company themselves enjoyed their visit here better than at any other place on the circuit.

Hart, came in yesterday to look after the flipper, billiard and card room which they will open in the new Koski building, adjoining the new Marshfield hotel. They have $9,000 worth of fixtures, especially built for the new place coming. — Coos Bay Times.

Palates Given Treat—
The circus was not the only thing in Roseburg today that gladdened hearts at the News-Review office, although in the added medium of such gladness we should refer more particularly to our palates. Some excellent cider presented by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hatfield, of South Deer Creek, gave us a feeling of complete physical satisfaction and imparted at the same time a cheerier view of life generally. The melons which the donors added also belonged to class A-1. We endorse unqualifiedly the combination of South Deer Creek soil and human energy and horticultural skill.

Gold Beach Editor Here—
W. E. Hasser, Mrs. Hasser, and their daughter, Katherine Jane, of Gold Beach, are in Roseburg today, enroute to Ashland and Crater Lake for a weeks vacation. They will return via the Redwood highway.
