ILLINOIS GUNMEN MURDER MAYOR AT DOOR OF HIS HOME

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
 BENTON, Ill., Dec. 13.—A theory was advanced today that hired gunmen killed Joe Adams, mayor of West City, near here, who was shot down by two unidentified men as he stood in the front doorway of his home late yesterday. It was another episode in the gang warfare that has disrupted the peace of Williamson, Franklin and Saline counties during the fall and winter and was the culmination of two previous attacks on the mayor. Adams was called to his doorway yesterday after his wife, Beulah, answered a knock and found two young men standing there. They told her that they had a letter for her husband. The mayor came to the door, extended his hand to receive the letter and was answered with two shots from the gun of each of the men. He turned, staggered and fell, with three bullets in his body and died forty minutes later. He was able to tell his family only that he had not recognized the men.

Two southern Illinois mayors have met violent deaths within the last two months at the hands of gangsters.

Joe Stone, civic head of Colip, a small town, fell dead from machine gun fire on the main street on the night of November 6, after he was lured with Police Chief John Keith to a resort where it was reported there was trouble. Stone's assailants felled him as they sped by in three automobiles which had been waiting on a side street.

MONTEREY GOLF LAURELS ARE WON BY HARRY COOPER

 DEL MONTE, Calif., Dec. 13.—A little man with a mighty set of clubs carried the title of the Monterey peninsula golf champion and an additional $1,200 in his pockets today.

It is Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, who came out of Texas virtually unknown a year ago to capture the $10,000 Los Angeles open tournament, and at the same time earn the sobriquet of "Lighthouse Harry." Yesterday he added to his honors by clubbing a title from the green fairways of Pebble Beach against one of the greatest fields ever assembled outside of the national open championships. A total of $5,000 was given in prizes.

Cooper's score for the 72 holes was 293, two strokes better than his nearest rival, Larry Nabholz, of Cleveland, Ohio, who finished the four rounds in 295.

Aside from Cooper's victory, one of the features of the tourney was the sensational finish of Nabholz. At the start of the final 36, he was in sixteenth place. A brilliant 89, which equals the course record, during the morning, placed him among the leaders.

H. Chandler Egan of Medford, Ore., twice national and present California amateur champion, found the going rough, but finished fourth among the Simon pures with a 317.

THEATRES

ANTLERS THEATRE
 Frank Lloyd's Latest, A Smashing Sea Story.

When Frank Lloyd produced "The Sea Hawk," it was justly acclaimed the greatest photoplay of its kind that had ever been brought to the screen. There were sea-battles, hand-to-hand fights and love sequences galore—enough to thrill the most critical theatre-goers. Such was its success, that when Lloyd signed a contract to produce Paramount pictures, the first film assigned him was "The Eagle of the Sea," a romantic tale of pirates.

Last night, at the Antlers Theatre, the finished product was flashed on the screen. For ninety breathless minutes, dressed in corsair clothes, enslaved between our teeth, we hoarded merchantmen, fought alongside of Jean Laffite, most daring of the buccaneers; rescued Florence Vidor, and yelled till we were hoarse as a Spanish galleon sank beneath the waves.

"The Eagle of the Sea" may truly be called Frank Lloyd's masterpiece. He has produced a drama that ranks high in the achievements of picture history. Lloyd has combined love and romance in New Orleans with adventure and daring on the high seas. He has given us heartstirring love scenes in moonlit gardens and thrills without end during massive battles.

LIBERTY THEATRE.
 Duel With Whips Unusual Feature of Ibanez Story.

A desperate battle with bull whips in which two men, stripped to the waist, slashed at each other with their rawhide weapons, is one of the sensational spectacles, perhaps the first time ever shown on the screen, in the vivid Comopolitan filmization of Ibanez "The Temptress," which is now at the Liberty Theatre.

Cattlemen in the South American plains battle with bull whips to settle their differences, and it is one of these old battles that is reproduced by Antonio Moreno and Roy D'Arcy in the new production.

duction. The men, with their long whips, stand in a circle of spectators and slash at each other until one drops. Both suffer fearful punishment.

This is one of a number of thrills in the exotic romance of South America, in which Greia Garbo, the famous Swedish screen beauty, and Antonio Moreno play leading roles.

The building and wrecking of a huge dam in the Andes, sensational rides over the South American plains in pursuit of the bandit, "Manos Duros," played by Roy D'Arcy, and other thrills embellish a gripping romance of a charmer who victimizes all men but who himself suffers from a strange trick of fate.

The story was adapted and scenarized from the original by Vicente Blasco Ibanez by Dorothy Farnum, who scenarized the recent Ibanez success, "The Torrent." It was given a lavish presentation, with gorgeous stage scenes, colorful South American revels and other spectacular details.

OREGON SPIRIT PLEASES DR. ARNOLD B. HALL

 EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 13.—Evidence that the people of Oregon are prepared to make adequate and generous provisions for higher education is significant, in the opinion of Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon, who has returned from the second lap of a trip which has practically covered the state.

President Hall was particularly impressed with the prosperity of the state, the reputation he received in Corvallis, and the spirit of cooperation between the Oregon Agricultural College and the University of Oregon, he said.

The president commented upon the beautiful scenery of the state, the fine hotels, excellent highways, and the number of automobiles he saw on his trip.

GAME VIOLATIONS DRAW FINES IN YONCALLA COURT

Fines totalling $225 were imposed in the justice court at Yoncalla by Judge J. J. Brown the latter part of last week on charges of violations of the state game laws. Harry Doris of Yoncalla paid a fine of $25 for disturbing the traps of a licensed trapper; Scott H. Goodman, C. T. Miller, E. C. Blair and E. S. Anderson, all residents of the Kenog district, were fined $50 each for killing deer and having fresh venison in their possession in closed season. Mr. Miller was also arrested and entered a plea of guilty to trapping without a license, but this case was continued for sentence. The arrests were made by Deputy Game Warden Ed Walker, F. M. Brown, chief deputy state game warden and H. E. Meach, state ranger warden.

W. F. OSBURN, EUGENE HOTEL MAN, DEAD AT 71

 PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13.—William F. Osburn, 71, hotel man of Eugene, Ore., widely known throughout the state, died at a hospital here Sunday. He had been stricken with illness Thursday while here attending the annual convention of the Oregon Hotel Men's association. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rosa Glasson Osburn and two nieces, Mrs. Vernita Glasson of Marshfield and Mrs. Volney Heneway of Eugene. Before entering the hotel business in Eugene, Mr. Osburn was a compositor on the Morning Oregonian, Portland.

TWO ROSEBURG BOYS SURVIVE CUT ON O. A. C. TEAM

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 13.—The gullotine has dropped here on a board of rock basketball aspirants with the result that only 28 freshmen escaped with their necks and will report for further training under Coach "Slats" Gill.

New men coming to college next term and those who have not already tried out for the basketball team will be given a chance to show their wares at the opening of college in January, according to the Aggie coach.

"Severely men through one reason or another are unable to report for practice the first term so I am making arrangements to take care of these and everybody will be given opportunity to compete," remarked Coach Gill.

Molalla high school will furnish the first competition for this year's yearlings when they meet in a practice tilt here Monday night. Coach Gill has not announced a starting lineup. He intends to use all 28 men at one time or another in the game so that he can get a definite line on his material.

More than 15 games will be played by the rocks this year. The complete schedule will be announced later.
