CHORAL SOCIETY SUCCESSFUL IN FIRST CANTATA

Initial Appearance Made
Last Night Before Large and Appreciative Audience.

The Incarnation, a Christmas Cantata, was presented at the Junior high school auditorium last night by the Roseburg Choral Society and the Knight Orchestra. The auditorium was well filled, the crowd being considered exceptionally large considering the inclement weather and numerous counter attractions.

Under the direction of Elsie Carleton Strang the cantata was given in a most pleasing manner and was a musical treat which will long be remembered by the music lovers of the city.

The program was as follows: Orchestra, "Serenade," Schubert—Shirley Knight, violin; Lotus Knight, cello; William Knight, clarinet; Marjorie Knight, piano. Invocation—Rev. R. W. Achor. Piano, Introduction to Cantata—Frances Lintott.

Chorus of Women, "God Will Arise." Recitation and Air, Baritone, "Behold the Days"—H. A. Canaday. Duet, Alto and Tenor, "He Shall Feed His Flock"—Grace Wickham Deets, Walter S. Fisher. Chorus, "As the Mountains." Air, Soprano, "From Heavenly Heights"—Mattie Lee Taylor. Chorus of Men—"The Glory of the Lord."

Remarks—Thomas H. Ness. Offering.

Orchestra, "Reverie"—Roberts. Tenor Solo, and Oblato with Quartette, "A Radiant Star"—Walter S. Fisher, Gertrude Wickham, soprano; Charles Stanton, tenor; Mrs. J. O. Arthur, alto; M. S. Hamm, baritone. Chorus, Soprano Oblato, "Peace to the Earth"—Gertrude Wickham. Duet, Soprano and Tenor, "Call Him Jesus"—Gertrude Wickham, Walter S. Fisher.

Baritone Recitative, Double Male Quartette, "O Come Let Us Worship"—Walter S. Fisher, C. D. Fies, 1st tenors; Chas. Stanton, H. C. Church, 2nd tenors; M. S. Hamm, H. A. Canaday, 1st bass; Chas. McKinnin, Ernest Hellwell, 2nd bass.

Alto Solo and Oblato with Quartette, "Slumber Sweetly"—Grace Wickham Deets, Gertrude Wickham, soprano; Louise Compton, alto; C. D. Fies, tenor; M. S. Hamm, baritone.

Quartette, "Bethlehem"—Mattie Lee Taylor, soprano; Grace Wickham Deets, alto; Walter S. Fisher, tenor; Chas. McKinnin, bass.

Chorus—"Crown Him." Benediction—Rev. Frank B. Matthews.

Elsie Carleton Strang—Director. Frances Lintott—Accompanist.

The Roseburg Choral Society was formed to meet the demand of local musicians for group singing and is composed of vocalists from the church and others who are interested in choral music.

"The Incarnation" was selected for the society's first cantata, due to the Christmas theme. The next cantata, to be given in the spring, will be "The Crucifixion," by Starmer. Rehearsals will start January 17 at the Presbyterian church. The membership in the society is to be opened again for a brief period, and it is hoped that enough voices can be added to give more than 100 singers for the next offering.

Mrs. Strang, the director, has asked the News-Review to express her thanks to the members of the Everyday Manners for Boys and Girls.

Helen and Edward are very fond of each other. He wants to be just the right sort of boy to gain and hold the friendship of the right sort of girl. In Helen, he thinks he has found his ideal girl.

Sometimes Edward thoughtlessly or carelessly disregards little marks of courtesy. Helen wants to help him to be more considerate and less of a bore.

A couple of times Edward has resented criticism which Helen has made and more than once she has had occasion to blush for his actions.

But, being a well-mannered girl, she does not nag him because he is slow in learning.

He takes her to the theater, to the movies, buys her candy and some presents. They also go to dances and to parties.

Several times they have gotten into a discussion of how they should behave on certain occasions.

I have arranged for other Helens and Edwards the following etiquette test which mothers and fathers will be glad to try on their children. Now, boys and girls, see how well you can answer them. Just draw a line under the right word. Send your test to me with a self-addressed, stamped, return envelope and I will reply by giving you the right answers and grade you. You will find this test lots of fun and you will learn something valuable to you!

Name _____ Address _____

1. Is it proper for Helen and Edward to munch candy during the theater performance? (Yes, no.)

2. What should Helen say to Edward when he sees her home from a dance? (Come in. Call again. Thank you. Nothing.)

3. How should Edward get the attention of Helen who is across the street? (Calling out, whistling, or crossing.)

4. Is it bad taste for Helen to take Edward's arm? (Yes, no.)

5. Is it good taste for Edward to take Helen's arm when she steps up a curbstone? (Yes, no.)

6. If Edward wishes to provide flowers for Helen to wear should he ask the color of her dress? (Yes, no.)

7. Is it proper for Edward to "go with" Helen and not know her parents? (Yes, no.)

8. If Helen and Edward are not engaged what presents may he buy her? (Books, jewelry, stockings, candy, gloves, flowers.)

9. Should Edward learn against a post when talking with Helen? (Yes, no.)

10. Should Edward "sandwich himself" in walking with Helen and her sister? (Yes, no.)

11. How can Helen best improve Edward's manners? (By sarcasm, laughing at him, sympathetic interest.)

12. Should Edward unlock the outside door for Helen when he escorts her home? (Yes, no.)

13. If Edward invites Helen to something she knows he cannot afford what should she do? (Decline, suggest something else, accept.)

14. Should Helen allow Edward to kiss her when he has escorted her home? (Yes, no, sometimes.)

ATTENTION, L. F. T.
The dance has been postponed until Tuesday, December 28.

Choral society, Mrs. Lintott, accompanist and the Knight orchestra, for their cooperation in making the program a success. She also thanks the News-Review for publicity given and the audience for support and the generous offering which will assist the society in financing "The Incarnation" and will help in securing music and paying rental on the rooms used for rehearsals.

GOOD BOXING
CARD AT COTTAGE
GROVE MONDAY

Pat Padelford, who recently lost a close decision to Harry Harris, of Portland in a 10-round match at Roseburg, is to be given another opportunity with Harris and will be featured in a 10-round go at Cottage Grove next Monday. R. R. McPherson, the Roseburg promoter, has arranged a match at Cottage Grove in which Padelford and Harris will make up the main event, while Pat O'Brien of San Francisco, who recently appeared on a local card, and Johnny May of Portland will make up the semi-final. Two preliminary bouts and a curtain raiser are to be provided.

This has all appearances of being a good card and there will doubtless be a number of Roseburg boxing fans present to see Padelford and Harris continue their argument. Padelford is improving in condition, it is stated, and is working out hard. Although he outboxed Harris in the early part of their last match, he was not in proper condition to go the full time and lost out in the last of the fight, when Harris took the lead.

Former Resident of Roseburg Dead

Word was received today of the death of Richard Clive Morris, for many years a well known resident of Roseburg. Mr. Morris was a veteran railroad employee and was located in this city for a long period of time before going to Portland where his death occurred. He is survived by a widow, Fannie M. Morris, and was the father of Mrs. H. C. Stoenm, formerly of Roseburg, but now located at Portland, Edward R. Morris at Yakima. He is also survived by a brother, Harry D. Morris of San Francisco. The funeral was held at Portland this afternoon with burial in the Rose City cemetery.
