SALARIES DISCUSSED

Personal Property Tax Bill Will Have Hard Sledding In Prediction—Pioneers Honored.

SALEM, Jan. 18.—(By special correspondence to the News-Review)—Representative E. O. Potter of Eugene introduced a bill just before adjournment Thursday, January 13th, to abolish the pamphlet for candidates. It repeats three sections and amends another in the law governing corrupt practices in nominations and elections. It is H. B. 33.

Similar legislation was introduced by A. R. Hunter of La Grande in the senate at the same time. S. B. 37.

The house bill repeals sections 4114, 4115, and 4116 and amends section 4117 of chapter 14, Oregon laws. Repeal sections relate to printing, binding and distributing or mailing to voters. Amended section provides that county clerks shall send to secretary of state lists of voters both before primary elections and before general elections. The amendment eliminates sending before primary elections.

candidates' pamphlet, which is declared to be useless duplication and unnecessary expense. Expense Useless. Senator Hunter, who, six years ago, introduced a bill to abolish all voters' pamphlets, considers the cost of the candidates' pamphlet out of proportion to its usefulness, declaring that not 25 per cent of voters pay any heed to them. Senator Norblad says the entire pamphlet issue should be abolished, as a direct saving to the state. Representative Potter says his bill was made to apply particularly to the candidates' pamphlet because, of the two, the measure pamphlet has more merit under the direct primary than the former. He quotes figures to show that the candidates' pamphlet cost $15,104.24 in the 1923-24 election. For those years the state expended $31,229.97 for both pamphlets. Cost of candidates' pamphlet for 1925-26 was $9,457.65. Total for both $21,910.26.

Candidates paid in fees exactly $2100, according to records of Secretary of State Koser. On the showing made, many members of both houses favor abolition of the entire pamphlet system.

Salary Increase Proposed. SALEM, Jan. 18.—Discussion is active on the point of salary increase for three state officials—the secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general. Comparison is made with the duties and responsibilities of the governorship, which pays $7500 per year, while the three mentioned receive only $4500.

In the 33rd session of the Oregon legislature a measure was introduced making the salary $5400 for the three officials. This was accepted and passed by the legislature, but vetoed by Governor Pierce. It was among bills held over for action at this 24th legislative session. At first action was to postpone or lay on the table all vetoed bills, but by house resolution the salary bill was revived. There is considerable opinion favorable to the $900 increase, because the duties and responsibilities are deemed worthy of higher rewards, and it is possible that the increase will be adopted. No change in these salaries has been made since 1905, when the flat salary bill was introduced by Thomas Kay, present state treasurer. Previous to that time both of fees were on the fee system and were very remunerative.

Honoring Oregon Pioneers. SALEM, Jan. 18.—Statutes of Dr. John McLaughlin and Rev. Jason Lee, early Oregon historical figures are to be placed in the Hall of Fame at Washington, D. C., if a bill introduced into the senate by Senator Hall on January 13 is passed.

Thirty-five states of the union have already added statutes of their illustrious citizens to this collection situated in the old hall of the house of representatives. Oregon has proposed making an appropriation of $30,000 for this purpose. If the bill is passed a commission of prominent Oregonians, including the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, the president of the Oregon Historical Society, secretary of Oregon pioneer association and the president of the Portland art association will have authority to make the arrangements as described in the bill.

Tax Revision on Personal Property. SALEM, Jan. 18.—From casual remarks volunteered by members of the house it is evident that Representative Potter's bill, designated as house bill No. 19, relative to taxation will have hard sledding to find a place on the statute books of Oregon. The bill would restore to the tax rolls all household furniture, domestic fixtures, household goods and effects actually in use as such in homes and dwellings; also watches and jewelry. This would leave exempt only wearing apparel. While no estimate has been submitted as to the amount of additional revenue the measure would provide, a number of the members have indicated that it would provide a fund of approximately a million dollars to be divided between state, counties and municipalities. One point in favor of the bill as advocated by Representative Potter is that it would place practically every citizen on the tax rolls, thereby giving him a personal sense of responsibility in the administration of government affairs. It is already evident that the bill will not be favored by the county assessors of the state as a whole. Several representatives already heard from and have been urged to help defeat the bill. The assessors point out the work entailed and the difficulties that will be encountered in making assessments fair and equitable. Diamonds that have heretofore escaped taxation will come under the proposed amendment. Should a farm bloc develop in the house it would oppose the bill on the ground that the "idle fellow" was being hit while the big interests would not be affected.
