Club groups claimed several of the major affairs in woman's realm this week, among the notable being the Scholarship Loan Fund tea at which the members of the Roseburg Woman's club received on Tuesday afternoon at the I. O. O. F. hall. This yearly benefit sponsored by the club women draws a great deal of interest in social circles and this year was exceptionally well patronized. The Umpqua Chiefs and Squaws dance on Tuesday evening was another event proving delightful, and the Business and Professional Women's club held their yearly and much anticipated banquet and installation ceremonies at the Hotel Umpqua last evening, a comic program being a part of this year's entertainment.

For this evening Mrs. J. Harold Nichols is inviting a group of friends to her Brookway home for an attractive affair, one of a group at which she has been hostess.

A variety of club activities will be brought with next week. The L. F. T. club is having another of its delightful monthly dances, the features of which are to be a surprise to those aside from the committee working out the details. Tuesday in the evening is the time scheduled for the event at the Knights of Pythias hall with a group of prominent folk as hosts and hostesses.

Another pleasurable event will be on Wednesday evening, when the members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles plan to entertain their families on the monthly social night.

Betrothal of Popular Couple Made Known at Attractive Affair

Miss Hazel Strickland entertained a number of the younger set at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Roy Young, at dinner Wednesday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Helen Strickland. Tiny golden scripts tied with blue ribbon revealed the engagement of Helen Strickland to Wallace Rapp. The wedding is to be an event of the early spring. Both are popular members of the younger set. Seated at the table were the Misses Helen Strickland, Jean Whitney, Helen Bergh, Phyllis Shields, Lucille Germond, Rose Conroy, Vera Klore, Mrs. W. H. Carter, Mrs. John King, Mrs. Roy Young, and the hostess.

After the dinner hour, a group of young men were bidden for dancing and cards. Included were Wallace Rapp, Frank Long, Ed Jackson, Virgil Swanson, George Weber, Thomas Strickland, Truman Runyan, Noel Cavender, Allen Moore, John King, W. H. Carter, and Roy Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwartz are entertaining at their home on east Douglas street. Mr. Schwartz' two brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Schwartz and Mr. and Mrs. John Schwartz, who arrived this morning from Rochester, Minnesota.

Book Club and Guests Entertained at Luncheon Friday

Mrs. M. F. Rice was hostess for a lovely luncheon at her home on south Jackson street Friday, inviting the matrons of the Book Club and a few additional guests. Assisting were Mrs. I. B. Riddle and Miss Eva Rice.

The table was colorfully set with a low bowl of yellow blooms and ferns. Following luncheon the group spent an informal afternoon. Included in the guest list were Mrs. Foster Butler, Mrs. J. D. Osborn, Mrs. A. E. Kent, Mrs. F. W. Chase, Mrs. A. S. Coen and Mrs. I. S. Coen and Mrs. I. B. Riddle, and the club members were Mrs. Washington Hughes, Mrs. Dean Bubar, Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. Paul Bubar, Mrs. C. S. Heinline, Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Mrs. Chas. W. Wharton.

Former Roseburg Girl Weds San Franciscan

The following, taken from a recent issue of the Daily Index, published at Salinas, California, will be of interest to the circle of friends in the city of the bride who is a former Roseburg girl:

Norvil Martin and Miss Lucy Millikin, both residents of San Francisco, were quietly married at noon today at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. B. Thomson of Salinas. With the Rev. George McCormick officiating. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Thomson.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was enjoyed, after which the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to the northern part of the state. On their return they will reside in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Complimented by Friends Friday Evening

A pleasant surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Russell Friday evening when twenty-three of their friends gathered at their home. The guests arrived and surprised Mrs. Russell while Mr. Russell was in attendance at a short meeting of Philanthropic lodge, I. O. O. F. After the meeting Mr. Russell, who is clerk of the I. O. O. F. Canton, went to the Canton locker and settled himself for work on the Canton books, and a great deal of clever persuasion on the part of some of his friends was required before he was induced to abandon his work and return home, to meet his surprise.

The evening was spent at five hundred, after which a delicious luncheon, which had been prepared by the ladies in attendance, was served. At the close of the evening a beautiful and useful gift was presented to Mrs. Russell by Mrs. J. E. Piekens on behalf of the guests.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Piekens, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Piekens, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Iye, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bunker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Goff, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. French, Mrs. Emma Leux, Miss Ila Laubach, Mr. C. E. Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Russell, and Lester and Leland Russell.

Economics Club Has Afternoon Meeting

The Melrose Grange Home Economics Club met at the home of Mrs. T. B. Bunker on Thursday and the afternoon was pleasantly spent sewing and chatting. New members in attendance were Mrs. H. M. Morland, Mrs. Thos. Scott, and Mrs. V. Prechert, others members present were Mrs. J. B. Bunker, Mrs. H. P. Conn, Mrs. O. O. Matthews, Mrs. D. N. Bunker, Mrs. E. R. Penn, Mrs. F. A. Goff, Miss Katherine Bunker. The club now has 18 members and meets every two weeks. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Pleasant Afternoon Spent by Club Members

Mrs. A. N. Schneider made her cozy home attractive for the meeting of the Garden Valley Women's Club held Thursday afternoon. The business session was fully occupied with important committee reports and discussion concerning the club activities for the year.

At the close of an informal social hour, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Miller.

Those present were Mesdames G. C. Bailey, Ed Brown, R. A. Calhoun, R. Evans, Donna Ferguson, R. S. Hutton, E. E. LaBrie, W. D. Love, G. McDaniel, C. McKay, A. Niday, J. Erwin Page, Fred Parrott, Hugh Ritchie, Jr., H. Ritchie, Sr., A. N. Schneider, John Sinclair, Peter Sinclair, Jack Boyd, Edgar Miller, Hugh Ritter, and Misses Eula McKay, Margaret Ferguson, Georgina Sinclair and Elva Krantz.

Ladies of P. T. A. Entertained at Lindblom Home

Mrs. G. Lindblom provided a pleasant afternoon for the matrons of the Dixonville Parent-Teachers Association, inviting them to her home on North Deer Creek for the afternoon Friday, January 14th.

The afternoon was spent sewing and discussing plans for the program to be given Valentine's Day by the P. T. A.'s for the school children.

At the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were the Mesdames Chas. Kroger, Robert Hatfield, H. W. H. Brown, H. Koger, Grover Tyson, J. B. Kurtz, M. F. Weber, C. L. Branton and added guests were Mrs. O. C. Brown and Mrs. F. B. Lane, who are going to instruct the sewing clubs in their respective districts, No. 18 and No. 62.

Mrs. Branton has invited the ladies to her home for their next social meeting, February 18.

Mrs. J. H. Nichols Hostess at Bridge-Supper

Mrs. J. Harold Nichols entertained at a bridge supper on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock, inviting a group of prominent matrons to her Brookway home.

Attractive combinations of little rosebuds and jasmine with early spring blooms used at the table were also fragrant in the rooms where afterward tables were placed for bridge. Mrs. I. B. Nichols, Mrs. Clair K. Allen and Mrs. L. B. Skinner assisted in the rooms. At the end of the evening high honors went to Mrs. Sawyers and second to Mrs. Kidder.

Bidden to the affair were Mrs. C. A. Brand, Mrs. A. J. Young, Mrs. George A. Bradburn, Mrs. J. E. Sawyers, Mrs. George Wharton, Mrs. S. L. Kidder, Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, Mrs. B. Casey, Mrs. Clair K. Allen, Mrs. J. K. Fulbe, Mrs. C. Wade, Mrs. Chas. S. McElhinny, Mrs. Geo. Bacher, Mrs. R. Quinn, Mrs. H. C. Waddell, Mrs. Guy Cordon, Mrs. L. B. Skinner, Mrs. I. B. Nichols, Mrs. Greta Thornton, Miss Gertrude Rast.

L. F. T.'s to Dance Next Week

Proving so delightful to the members each month are the dances of the L. F. T. Club and the club has set aside next Tuesday evening for its next affair, the Knights of Pythias hall being reserved for the evening.

A good orchestra will play for the dancers and feature dances on the evening's program are in charge of A. B. Abbott. A number of details for the enjoyment of the guests are being kept secret and it is being anticipated that the affair will be a lively and entertaining one. A supper will be served later in the evening.

Hosts and hostesses for the affair are Mr. and Mrs. Story Iles, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lockwood, Dr. and Mrs. Lee A. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Bradburn, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McElhinny, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ott and Geo. Culver.

Eagles Will Entertain Families Wednesday Eve

On Wednesday evening the Fraternal Order of Eagles will entertain with one of the pleasant affairs of the week, inviting the members of their families for a social time at the Macabee hall following the lodge meeting.

A music program and games are planned for the evening and a supper will be served later.

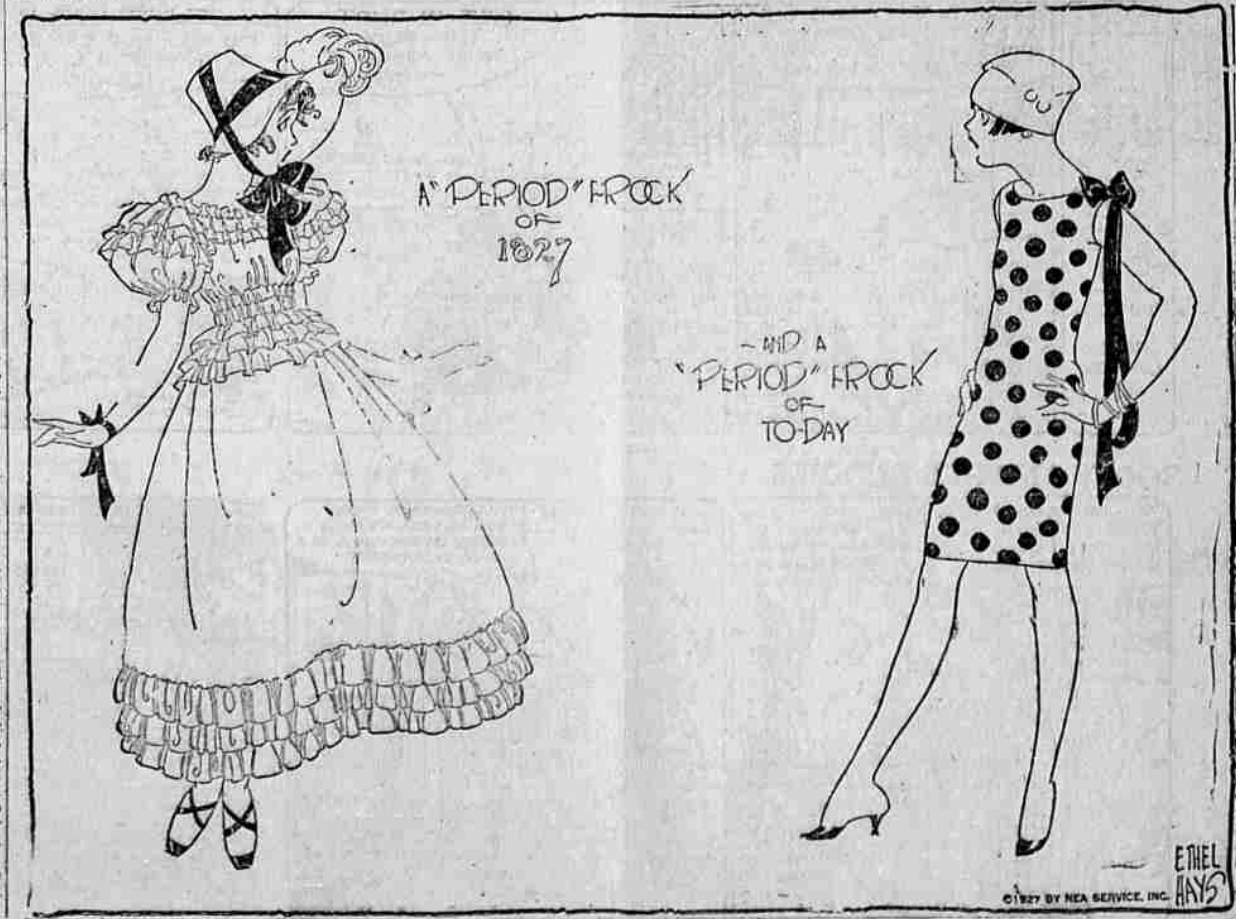

Bible Class Has Pleasant Social Evening

One of the pleasant affairs on Friday was the social meeting, a monthly affair, of the Westley Bible class of the First Methodist Episcopal church, which is instructed by J. E. McClintock.

The affair was held in the church parlors and the program was opened with a duet by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cully. Mrs. Joseph Shockey gave two cornet solos, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. C. S. Heinline and a reading was interestingly given by Miss Dent. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social time after the supper.

Mrs. C. H. Bailey left Friday for Flint, Michigan, where she will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Conover. Owing to the poor health of her father, Mrs. Bailey will be gone for two or three months. She is traveling the southern route.

ETHEL

SATIN IS THE STYLE GOD'S PET

It's Satin for Evening Wear in White or Pastel; It's Satin for Afternoon in Beige or Gray, and It's Satin Even for Sport

By Henri Bendel
For NEA Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Palm Beach creations inevitably brighten up the winter mode even for women in colder climates and color and flowers make their influence felt among the blacks and neutrals. The transition from winter to spring modes is going to be a gradual and painless one this year with no sudden changes of feeling or revolutionary policies so that the two seasons will blend easily. Clothes have become too comfortable, too practical and too suited to our present day existence to be discarded for no better reason than a change of season.

The short pleated skirt and over blouse have become classics and are more in evidence this year than ever before. Just now the fancy silk and wool sweaters in bright and pastel colors worn with flannel or pleated crepe skirts are the regulation uniform at our winter resorts as well as on the Riviera.

As a material, satin is of the greatest importance. For evening the simple white satin frock is the mode of the moment with pastel shade also very popular.

Vary With Dark Reds
For afternoon beige and gray, and black, of course, are varied by dark reds and greens. Even the newest sport clothes are made up in this shiny faced material. Quite frequently the only trimming is a dull material of the same color. Stitching and embroidery in moth threads is also appropriate. In colors one must take into consideration the rising importance of black and the sudden comeback of blue, in all shades, particularly the lighter and grayed tints. The blue evening gown has been featured all winter—blue chiffon is quite lovely and cloud-like a material as can be found. Black Crepe is Choice gowns that meet the late winter requirements of such social functions as bridge parties, tea dances and matinees. Each is easy to wear, easy to get into, and easy to complement in millinery, which consideration should never be overlooked.

First in importance is the short sleeved model, for Paris is again sponsoring the abbreviated sleeve. This one is one of the popular two-piece affairs, the skirt being made of a Japanese embroidered scarf in which blue is the predominant color and a skirt of navy blue crepe pleated at the sides to give ease in dancing.

The neck finish is only a lapel of the blue silk and the V motif of the collar line is pleasingly repeated in the long point of the blouse. This frock could be worn unbelieved but it is much smarter with the tailored belt.

Another interesting frock is the black crepe with the pointed yoke and sleeves made of embroidered flowers in green and gold that have tiny glittering mirrors for centers. The skirt is box pleated at the sides, another concession to the dancing age, and a band of crepe across the back forms the sash and ties at the sides.

The dress is typically French in feeling and has the elegance and imagination that is a bit underplayed in these days when the elimination of every superfluous bit of trimming is considered the height of sophisticated costuming.

A glorified sport costume that is really meant for the afternoon is the crepe frock that is in a lovely salmon pink with a deep pointed yoke and skirt trimmed with self-colored buttons and self-colored flower on the shoulder.

The tendency to use such a frock for dancing instead of the more feminine and frilly type of frock grows. For the slender, girlish, "flapper" type, there can be no happier choice.

Conservatory Is Commended by Publication

The following article, reprinted from the December issue of the Musical Observer published in New York City, will interest those in musical circles in the city:

It is chiefly through the efforts of Mrs. Charles Heinline that the Heinline Conservatory of Music and Art of Roseburg, Oregon, has reached that position which it occupies today. Since it was opened, sixteen years ago, it has extended its scope and enlarged its faculty until, today, it offers to the serious student of music advantages unmatched in Southern Oregon.

In addition to the usual branches taught in a conservatory, a musical kindergarten is included in the curriculum. Mrs. Heinline is a specialist in this work, having been in charge of the Music Department of the Pollock Kindergarten of Washington, D. C.

Students at the Heinline Conservatory have attained success as pianists and organists, and are accredited at Eugene University. Some of the best-known and most successful teachers of the state have also received their musical education at the school.

Affair Compliments Roseburg Maid

A delightful event of Saturday was given by Mrs. Mark Simpson at her home on South Mill street when she invited a group of young folk to an evening party honoring her sister, Miss Ruby Lawrence, whose birthday anniversary occurred on that date.

Games and music were arranged for the enjoyment of the guests followed by a supper when the honoree was presented with a large birthday cake, which she cut. Bidden were Agnes Pearce, Marion Pearce, Annie Deardorf, Opal Lawrence, Grace Ellen Simpson and Edwin Deardorf, Lenor Deardorf, Walter Welker, Charles Coates, Bert Lawrence, Glen Coates, Harold Smith, James Lawrence, Dale Adair, Clyde Green.

Attractive Maid Honored at Bridge

Mrs. Wayne E. Jones and Miss Virginia Riggs planned a charming bridge party in honor of Miss Kathleen McClelland of Ponca City, Oklahoma, who is an attractive visitor here, inviting a group of young maids and matrons to the Umpqua Park Golf Club for the evening Thursday.

Bridge honors for the evening were held by Miss McClelland and second prize went to Miss Mary McCullagh. Low score was held by Mrs. J. F. Dillard.

Seated about the daintily appointed luncheon tables at the end of the game were Miss McClelland, the Mesdames J. F. Dillard, L. J. Craften, Phil Harth, May Pyron, C. M. Boyd, Blanche Taylor, Gladys Collins, the Misses Naomi Scott, Helen Casey, Hazel Goodwin, Verita Kahlhagen, Verus Houser, Rosina Porter, Velma Goff, Eva Rice, Josephine McElhinny, Mary McCullagh.

Mrs. Joe Melner of Portland arrived Friday to be the house guest of Mrs. Ralph Quine over the weekend. Mrs. Melner was Miss Mahala Ray before her marriage and will be remembered by a number here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booth and son, Edwin Booth, are spending a month or six weeks enjoying a motor trip in the south. Their trip will include visits to various points in California, Arizona and New Mexico. They will spend most of their time in Los Angeles, Tucson, San Diego and Phoenix.

Mid-Winter Recitals to Be Started Friday

The mid-winter recital series will be started by the Heinline Conservatory of Music with a number of pupils presented on Friday evening next. Piano and violin students and pupils from the band department will give numbers on the program, to which the public is extended an invitation to attend. The recital will be given at the studio recital hall, opening at 8 o'clock.

Squaws and Chiefs Join in Affair of Interest Tuesday

One of the affairs of the early part of the week of particular social interest was the joint entertainment of the Umpqua Chiefs and Squaws on Tuesday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall, installation of the new officers in both organizations preceding the evening's program.

Dancing was the diversion arranged for the evening and at the supper hour a delightful tamale supper was served the Chiefs and the number of additional guests attending by the Squaws.

Scholarship Loan Fund Tea Well Patronized

Among the affairs claiming social interest early in the week was the Scholarship Loan Fund tea, a benefit annually given by the Roseburg Woman's Club, which this year was given at the I. O. O. F. hall on Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 o'clock and was exceptionally well patronized.

A business meeting for the club women preceded the tea and reception. Mrs. W. S. Jost presided. During the afternoon, the club program, in charge of Mrs. Wm. Bell and Mrs. C. S. Heinline, was given, including a piano solo by Miss Marie Langenberg; soprano solo by Mrs. Frank Lilburn, accompanied by Miss Gladys Strong; reading by Miss Lois Cobb; cornet solo by Mrs. Joseph Shockey, accompanied by Mrs. C. S. Heinline; musical reading by Mrs. H. A. Canaday, accompanied by Mrs. Heinline; saxophone solo by Louis Langenberg, accompanied by Miss Langenberg.

Mrs. Wm. Bell gave a talk on the Scholarship Loan Fund, its origination, and explained its part as one of the federation's major works during the year, and how annually funds are raised to send to the board.

The refreshment committee, including Mrs. D. H. Morgan, Mrs. H. R. Kerbes, Mrs. Carl B. Neal, Mrs. T. H. Ness, Mrs. T. M. Ollivant, Mrs. W. E. Ott and Miss Josephine Parrott presided at the attractively arranged serving table and Mrs. W. R. Willis and Mrs. Helen Smick poured.

Teachers' Club Has Interesting Meeting

The Douglas County Rural Teachers' club met at the offices of the county school superintendent January 15, the regular session being attended by a good number.

The chief points taken up at the meeting were those pertaining to the Oregon History, this subject being a matter of some concern recently introduced to the state course of study.

The county this year will receive hand-made books in lieu of the state examination. It was made known during the session. The Glenbrook, South Deer Creek, Peel and Yoncalla schools have already handed in some splendid exhibits. The grades accredited to these books will be recorded for the pupil-author. The books, made concurrently with the study of the text, are illustrated with pen drawn pictures and cut out pictures. Each contains several maps of Oregon in its various stages of development; many bits of interesting information, songs, lists of Oregon authors, lists of the counties and county seats, a local history story and numerous biographies of noted pioneers of the state. It is a very worthwhile product, each pupil having an achievement of his own.

Business Women Have Banquet and Install Officers Friday Eve

One of the most entertaining and interesting affairs in clubdom this season was the Business and Professional Women's club banquet Friday evening in the Indian Room of the Hotel Umpqua, installation of the new officers being a part of the program.

During the dinner hour instrumental numbers were given by Miss Naomi Scott, violinist; Miss Gladys Strong, pianist; Miss Maxine Moore, flute. Clever songs of the club members originated by Miss Virginia Riggs was sung by her and added to the amusement of the program. Mrs. Chas. A. Brand sang a few delightful numbers.

Mrs. S. M. Kelley was the installing officer and the officers who will serve this year are Dr. Lucetta Smith, president; Mrs. (Continued on page six.)
