MAIL PLANES HAVE EMERGENCY BASE AT MYRTLE CREEK

Scarlet Fever Epidemic Results in Closing of Theatres and Churches—May Close School

MYRTLE CREEK, Feb. 1.—(Special correspondence to the News-Review)—Something out of the usual order is attracting a good deal of attention about four miles south of Myrtle Creek on the R. W. Allapough farm. The air mail planes are alighting there frequently, where they are met by mail trucks and the mail transferred. This is being done as there is so much fog and so many storms on the divide to the south that it is frequently impossible for the planes to get through.

Myrtle Creek has a case of scarlet fever and the whole school is possibly exposed. In case other pupils develop symptoms of the disease the board has decided to close the school. The theatre and Sunday schools are already closed.

Edwin Weaver, ex-county commissioner, after eight years of public service, is back on the farm again looking after his many interests.

Mr. Ike Weaver, who has been very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fetterman at Spokane, Washington, is much improved, but will not be able to make the trip home for several weeks. Mr. Weaver is a pioneer and business man of Myrtle Creek.

Elden Fitzpatrick, a freshman from District 106, who is attending high school in Myrtle Creek, was given a surprise party at his home at the Umpqua Auto Camp one evening last week it being the occasion of his birthday. Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who is a royal entertainer, served refreshments, and all had a merry time.

Geo. B. Rice, son of Editor Chas. W. Rice, of the Myrtle Creek Mail, who has been working for an electrical crew on the installation of electrical equipment in the new Southern Pacific terminal being installed in Klamath Falls has recently been appointed foreman of the crew.

500 DOGS ESCAPE DEATH; NEEDED IN ALASKAN MOVIE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CULVER CITY, Calif., Feb. 1.—Lives of 500 dogs, under sentences of death in the pounds of southern California cities, are to be saved by a motion picture company filming a picture of early Alaskan gold rush days.

Since any dog able to pull a sled was pressed into service by the miners, those "extras" need not be Huskies. After paying the tax necessary to release the dogs, the producers will give them a brief course of training. At the conclusion of the picture work the director hopes that the dogs' prestige as screen actors will gain them homes.

have left the province, although two of them were imprisoned for many days before being allowed to depart. Except for a few depredations by river pirates and exactions by coolie bearers, there was no molestation in the general withdrawal.

All school buildings in Fukien missions have been taken over by the nationalists, and because many former mission students were leaders of anti-Christian mobs, some missionaries believe it would not be advisable to renew the educational work in any event. It is doubtful when, if ever, the missionary effort will again assume its former scale in Fukien.

Marines Leave Today WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Twelve hundred marines now concentrated at San Diego, Calif., will sail for Guam on the transport Chaumont on February 3, taking up quarters there on the departure of the detachment of three hundred marines which has been ordered to Manila so as to be nearby if needed in China.

The transport was due to leave Mare Island navy yard today for San Diego. With the enlarged detachment at Guam, the navy will be in better position to move men if they should be needed to protect American lives and property in the Orient.

SPEAKER QUILTS CLEVELAND CLUB, JOINS SENATORS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Tris Speaker, gray-haired veteran of twenty major league baseball seasons, who still packs a powerful punch in his war club, has turned in his 13-year-old Cleveland Indian uniform for the togs of a Washington Senator.

Word that the stocky "spoke" had agreed to play centerfield for Clark Griffith this coming season was received here last night by long distance telephone from Tampa, Fla., where the Washington club president is taking a brief rest. Griffith ter amplified his statement at Tampa, while Speaker, at New York, announced he would report to the Washington training camp March 1.

While neither Griffith nor Speaker, who reached the agreement in a telephone conversation between Tampa and New York, would divulge the salary to be stipulated in the contract, it was understood to be a fancy one.

"It was determined to get Tris,"

The Green school P. T. A. will hold a cooked food and candy sale, Saturday morning, at Zigler-Craven Hardware store. Home-made bread a specialty.

Griffith said, "and it would have taken a neat pile to get him from me."
