4 COAST LEAGUE BALL PLAYERS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SANTA ROSA, Calif., Feb. 19.—Four baseball players from the San Francisco Seals training camp at Boyes Springs were injured last night in an automobile collision near Sonoma. The injured were: Earl Averill, outfielder; Oliver Mitchell, south paw pitcher; Clarence Preston, and Ed Coleman.

The players were driving from Boyes Springs to Sonoma and were about a mile from that city when their machine and one driven by James Kearney, manager of the Sonoma Valley Lumber company, collided.

Averill escaped with cuts and bruises, but Mitchell suffered a scalp wound which required eight stitches. Preston suffered a leg injury, and Coleman was cut about the head and face. Kearney was also cut about the head and face.

FRANCE HAS NEW PROPOSAL TO PAY DEBT TO AMERICA

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Premier Poincare, according to the Echo de Paris, will ask the Washington administration—if he has not already done so—whether it is disposed to accept an arrangement for provisional payments on France's debts to the United States.

This arrangement, the paper says, would be similar to that concluded with Winston Churchill, chancellor of the British exchequer, in connection with the French debt to Great Britain.

Negotiations in Washington, Echo de Paris adds, are being carried on by Robert Lacour Gayet, financial attache of the French embassy, and in Paris, by Sheldon Whitehouse, counsellor of the American embassy, who is in close touch with the premier.

The paper declares that opinions are divided as to Washington's attitude toward the French offer, but it believes that "despite the disappointment caused by the French government's refusal of the invitation to a naval disarmament conference," President Coolidge and his cabinet will end by accepting the arrangement proposed by M. Poincare.

DEFUNCT RAILWAY RE-SOLD BY UNION COUNTY FOR DEBTS

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

DIVORCE ACTION SUMMONS BLOCKS SOCIETY WEDDING

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A new angle to the sudden postponement of the marriage of Miss Charlotte Simms, Dayton society girl, to Kenyon Anthony Soddard, Dayton, Ohio, set for today, has come to light with the information that a marriage license was issued to the two at Newport, Ky., last October 24.

Miss Simms and her mother are enroute to Florida, while Stoddard, who was served earlier in the week with a divorce action summons in the presence of his fiancee's father, has departed from Dayton for Philadelphia with the announced intention of spiking reports of his marriage to another bride there in 1922.

The divorce suit was brought by Edith Widing, of Portland, Maine, who, according to the service papers, stated she married in April, 1922, when he used the name of Herman Albrecht Yaffee. Dispatches from Portland said no such divorce action was on record here. Mr. Peck said he knew Stoddard had at one time used an assumed name.

"He told my niece all about this phase of his career before he promised marriage to her. He also admitted knowing a woman by the name of Widing ten years ago, but he did not say he had married her."

PAPER MAKERS TO GET CHANCE TO BUY TIMBER IN ALASKA

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 19—Paper manufacturers of the Pacific coast will have opportunity to bid on two lots of Alaskan timber, of about five billion feet each, which have been advertised by the forest service. Frank Heintzleman assistant district forester of Alaska, who has been conferring with Oregon companies regarding the proposals, made the announcement here today.

Each lot contains stock enough to keep a 500-ton paper plant in operation for fifty years, the term during which the cutting will be allowed. Bids will be opened at Washington April 15 and 25.

The total amount of the sale at premium prices advertised would be about $3,200,000. The aggregate will be higher, because contracts call for price adjustment to keep pace with a rising market.

Bees for the beginner are obtained in Oregon from mid March to mid April, says H. A. Scullen, bee specialist of the experiment station. Good colonies are bought from a dependable beekeeper in the neighborhood. If they cannot be had in this way they are shipped in a 2-pound combless packages, or in 2-frame nuclei. Sometimes a swarm is captured and transferred from a hollow tree, or is attracted by a decoy hive.

MONEY HIDDEN IN SHACK OBJECT OF FRENZIED SEARCH

PALMLRA, Wis., Feb. 19—Buried gold, the hidden treasure of the hermit Blackmore brothers, has lured villagers and farmers of this vicinity to a frenzied search of the Blackmore shack. Five thousand dollars has been found.

Searchers have clawed up the swampy ground about the shanty, and ripped the buildings' floors, broken beams and smashed the walls in quest of the hoard.

Sheriff Albert Austin of Jefferson county is placing signs forbidding treasure hunting on the property, and stationing guards there and additional guards have been ordered by Earl Garbutt, president of the Bank of Palmyra, who was appointed administrator of the property by the only surviving Blackmore brother, who has just left for England.

A week ago Mr. Garbutt found $2500 in federal gold notes, issue of 1863. Later Robert M. Clery, appraiser for the estate, stumbled over a loose floor board and found under it pieces of pipe, sealed with solder, each filled with gold coins, totalling $588. Later finds made the total above $5,000.

Before the Civil war the Blackmore family came here from England. When that war was declared the parents returned, but the four sons stayed, trapping, farming and doing day labor. They kept aloof from villagers. Two brothers died 14 years ago. Albert, a third, died three months ago aged 88, and Charles, over 70, alone survives. The money is to be sent to him in England.

TILLER STORE AND RANCH PURCHASED BY CALIFORNIAN

J. I. Roach, postmaster and storekeeper of Tiller, and T. M. Taylor, a recent arrival from Lankershim, a suburb of Los Angeles, Calif., were in Roseburg today attending to details of a deal whereby Mr. Taylor acquires the Tiller store and Mr. Roach's abutting ranch of 72 acres. As part consideration in the transaction Mr. Roach takes Mr. Taylor's city lot, two houses and garage at Lankershim, where he will make his future home as soon as the transfer of interest is completed. Mr. Roach, who has lived at Tiller for nearly 18 years, will immediately tender his resignation as postmaster, and it is expected that in due course of time the position will be assumed by Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor plans improvements on the Tiller property in the near future. These will include an enlarged store building and stock, the enlargement of the present residence on the ranch and the construction of an entirely new one, and the erection of several cabins for the accommodation of tourists and vacationists.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary of the Shawnee, Oklahoma, Board of Commerce.

E. E. Loomis, President of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, says:

That during 1926 the car loadings of the railroads of the United States have averaged slightly more than a million cars each week, whereas five years ago a million car week occurred perhaps once a year. The week of October 16, 1926 established a new loading record of 1,210,163 cars. Even more remarkable is the fact that that week was merely the last of five successive weeks in each of which car loadings exceeded 1,180,000; and at the end of this record breaking movement the railroad had surplus freight cars and motive power on hand and no car shortage had been experienced.

American railroads have approximately cut in half the average time consumed by freight shipments. They are securing a much prompter loading, unloading and movement of their cars. This improvement in the speed and certainty of transportation has enabled manufacturers to maintain their production with a smaller amount of capital tied up in raw materials and in finished goods. It has enabled wholesalers and retailers to carry on trade with less capital tied up in stocks. This has kept liquid some billions of dollars of industrial and mercantile capital, and has helped to supply an adequate amount of cheap money and credit for all the legitimate needs of the country. It has brought production closer to consumption and by so doing has eliminated a substantial part of the speculative hazards of business. At the same time, it has tended to stabilize employment and to disburse weekly in wages the purchasing power necessary to maintain the steady stream of consumption. The benefits have gone to labor and to capital, to the producer and the consumer.

The increase in public understanding of railroad problems, the increase in intelligent cooperation with the railroads by shippers and consignees, largely through the regional shippers advisory boards; the demonstrated economics of efficient and adequate railroad service; and the improvement in the earning power of the industry from this service have tended to attract increased interest in railroads as a form of investment. The public has come to realize that inadequate transportation is not cheap at any price. The rates paid no longer are regarded as important compared with the character of service given. This has helped enormously to stabilize the railroads' position. Of course, this movement needs to go much further before it can be said to have registered a definite advance. Many years of good earnings and more widespread dividend returns to stockholders will be necessary before the railroads can be assured that their position is properly safeguarded and their credit established at a point where they may keep continuously abreast of the demands of the commercial interests of the country without resort to borrowing money to make necessary improvements.

WRITER PUTS WASHINGTON ABOVE ABE AS STATESMAN

That Washington was a greater statesman and American than Abraham Lincoln is the contention made by Clifford Raymond in an article in this week's Liberty. The writer basis his assertion on the fact that Washington, a man of aristocratic training and background, staked his fortunes and life on the establishing of a democratic government; whereas, as he points out, a democratic government was the only kind that Lincoln ever knew.

"What the American people have now as a nation," the writer points out, "came from the character of the Virginian, who might have been a loyalist, but who founded the American Union. It was founded by his tenacity in spite of military misfortune; by his sense of the close national unity which should bind the jealous states and didn't; by his judgment against international sentimentalism; and by his insistence that Americans learn that they lived under a government and not above it.

"It is not a strange thing," the writer continues, "that Abraham Lincoln was for the maintenance, intact, of a popular government. It was all he had ever known. The strange thing is that Washington was devoted to the establishment of it. He had never seen it. Lincoln's motive in government was to save the Union; Washington's motive was to create it."
