SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—It's all off—that divorce which Miss D. Virginia Lee, pretty editor of the Overland Monthly Magazine was going to get from her poet husband, S. Bert Cooksley, New York. They're reconciled.

The young poet inlaid with some heat that his wife's charges that she had done the supporting of the S. Bert Cooksley family was uncalled for, after which Miss Lee reluctantly admitted that she had abandoned her intention to file suit.

After a little coaxing by a photographer, Miss Lee, as she is known professionally, cuddled up to her husband and they were photographed.

"I didn't want to do it," she complained to the photographer. "When he's around he simply makes me do whatever he wants me to do. If I don't go back down town, call up my attorney, He may file that divorce suit any moment. I've got to go to Berkeley with Bert."

MASSACHUSETTS SUPREME JUDGES ARE UNDER GUARD

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
BOSTON, Mass., April 6.—Unusual precautions were taken today to guard members of the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts who yesterday without dissent denied a new trial in the internationally famous celebrated case of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, socialists convicted as murderers.

Guards were posted around the residence of Justice William Chubbur Waft, who wrote the opinion, and that of Judge Webster Thayer, who presided at the trial, as well as in the vicinity of the homes of other members of the court. At the Pemberton Square court house, special officers were armed at once, and persons not known to have business near chambers in which members of the court were sitting were placed under careful scrutiny.

It was not the first time that police protection has been invoked in the six-year fight of the two men to escape death in the electric chair which they face.

There have been radical disturbances on four continents, and, in this state, guards have frequently been stationed at homes and counsel identified with the case.

Sentence to electrocution is mandatory, but no time for imposition of sentence has been fixed.

One had a "monkey face" with only one eye and the other was a full grown lamb with a head on each end of the body. Another ewe gave birth to a normal lamb and a fifth leg, separated from the offspring. It is believed, however, that the leg—full sized and well developed—was attached to the body of the lamb before birth.

250 MILLION IN DEBT, JAPANESE FIRM SUSPENDS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
TOKYO, April 6.—With liabilities of approximately 500 million yen (about $2,300,000) the well known Suzuki firm of exporters and importers, announced a temporary suspension today. It announced also there would be no payment of bills for the present.

The temporary suspension of the firm, which controls from 60 to 70 large subsidiaries, affected the stock market and caused the yen to drop on the exchange.

Owing to the deficiency of the situation, both the finance ministry and the members of the Suzuki firm are very reticent about the suspension.

Certain vernacular newspapers print what purports to be a statement by Managing Director Kaneko to the effect that normal business will be restored within a week, but this feeling does not seem to be generally shared.

DEMAND FOR VOTE ON NEW TAX LAW TAKEN TO COURT

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., April 6.—Despite action taken by the State Tax Commission yesterday for the purpose of permitting county assessors to discard the "blue blank" questionnaire which it had been planned to use in fixing assessed valuations, mandamus proceedings were started in supreme court yesterday for the purpose of compelling Secretary of State Sam Kozar to authenticate a popular referendum on house bill 72 under which the questionnaire had been printed.

The proceedings were started by L. B. Smith, secretary of an organization of Portland men believed to have been organized for the purpose of having the measure defeated.

It is Smith's contention that the bill as enacted by the 1927 legislature was illegal in that it had to do with raising revenue and carried the emergency clause.

Secretary of State Kozar has taken the stand that the legality of the measure is for the courts to determine, his office being administrative rather than judicial.

It is known that it was necessary for business interests to bring considerable pressure to bear on the tax commission before it took its action yesterday and Smith declared that if possible he will have the law made a nullity in order that the question cannot be brought up again.

SENATOR MOSES SAYS COOLIDGE NOT TO RUN

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, April 6.—The Herald-Tribune today quotes Senator Moses of New Hampshire as saying President Coolidge will not be a candidate for reelection next year.

"Mr. Coolidge's psychology is such that he does not want to be confronted with four years of diminishing," said the senator.

No reports of activities by this prowler last night had been turned in this morning.

John Christ, 250 Wygant street, said the man ransacked his home shortly before 11:30 p. m. Monday, that he grappled with him on a porch, prising him in the kitchen, but that he got away. The kitchen was in total darkness at the time, Christ accidentally bumping into him as he searched the house after the family found all sleeping rooms ransacked.

The intruder escaped through an open window, as he had escaped in all other cases that same night. He dropped his knife in one of the bed rooms.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6.—A demurrer to proceedings in circuit court here for the appointment of a receiver for the Portland Telegram, was entered by George W. Joseph, attorney for J. E. Wheeler, owner of the Telegram, late yesterday, and argument on the demurrer was set for Friday afternoon.

Circuit Judge Evans indicated that Amede M. Smith, county commissioner, had consented to act as permanent receiver, but no appointment will be made until after the court renders a decision on the demurrer, which questions the jurisdiction of the court to act in the case.
