KIWANIS CLUB HEARS FINE TALK

A very interesting program was enjoyed today by the Roseburg Kiwanis club. The musical program was featured by a trumpet solo by Claude Crocker and by a group of soprano solos by Miss Evelyn Quine. The main address was given by W. C. Schuppel of the Oregon Life Insurance company, who used as his topic, "Mental Hazards," showing how a spirit of failure is contagious and can affect an entire community, while on the other hand a belief in success can bring success. The talk was very humorous and inspirational in character and was greatly appreciated by the Kiwanians.

CITY DIRECTORY CANVASS WILL START TOMORROW

The task of canvassing for the new city directory which is to be issued by the Roseburg Woman's club is to be started tomorrow. The high school students have volunteered for this work and there will be over 100 canvassers in the field. The homes will be visited after 4 p. m. on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and residents are urged to be home on those days if possible and give the desired information to the students who call.

The city has been divided into two districts and a prize of $25 is to be given to the team making the best showing in its district. Students are to solicit for the sale of the directory and the individual making the sale will be given 25 per cent of the proceeds.

ABANDONED CAR OF J. R. WEBB FOUND

The Ford coupe belonging to J. R. Webb, an employee of the Willard Battery Station, which was stolen while parked on South Stephens street late one afternoon last following Christmas, was found Monday afternoon in the canyon south of the Pioneer bridge, where it had evidently been pushed over the embankment from the highway by the person or persons who took it and abandoned. The car was pushed over an embankment about 200 feet downward and was in such a place that it would not have been seen by any one from the highway. It was discovered by R. L. Brockley and G. S. Carroll, local telephone employees, who were working on the lines across the creek from where the car lay. The machine is a total loss, having been stripped of the motor, wheels and running gear being taken. All the glass was broken out and the body badly dented when it went into the ravine. No insurance was carried by Mr. Webb.

STATE MARKET AGENT'S LETTER

(By Seymour Jones)
A very important meeting of Oregon and Washington prune growers and packers was held at Salem on April 12 to consider the problems which are faced by the producers of this fruit and the best means of making its production profitable. There was a large attendance from all parts of the Oregon and Washington prune belts, the principal purpose being to hear the reports of the exhaustive investigation which has been conducted for several months by B. H. Critchfield, C. L. Christensen

FIRE IN WEST ROSEBURG

A serious roof fire occurred shortly after 1 o'clock today at the Dean home near the Soldiers home in West Roseburg. The fire apparently started from a spark dropping from the chimney. As the fire was outside the city limits the alarm was not sounded but the small truck answered the alarm and extinguished the blaze with chemical.

GOOD MUSIC FOR FORUM LUNCHEON PROGRAM

The forum luncheon to be sponsored tomorrow by the Chamber of Commerce will be featured by musical selections by Miss Naomi Scott and Miss Gladys Strong. The address tomorrow is to be given by E. J. Dism, of the Pacific Co-operative Poultry Producers association.

Corn utilizes manure applied in the spring better than most crops, according to the Oregon experiment station. Spring applications of manure give better results on corn ground than on wheat, oat or barley crops.

Late planting of spring grain is not a good Oregon practice. Grain planted after the first of May gives small yields according to results at the experiment station. It is important that wheat, oats and barley be planted as soon as the seed bed can be prepared in the spring.

ROSEBURG MAN HURT IN AUTO WRECK AT EUGENE

J. T. Williams, of Roseburg received a badly bruised hip when a car which he was driving was overturned on Sixth avenue west near Lawrence street at about 4:30 yesterday afternoon, says the Eugene Register. The accident occurred, according to members of the family who were riding in the car, when the driver applied the brakes in order to prevent crashing into a machine which was entering the intersection.

The Williams cars is said to have skidded completely around on the wet pavement and then turned over, pinning Mr. Williams underneath it. After being rushed to the Pacific Christian hospital, X-ray pictures were taken which revealed that no bones had been broken.

The car was occupied besides Mr. Williams by his wife, Mrs. W. E. Hercher and her 9-month-old baby and Ivan Williams, all of him home.

ROSEBURG. No one was hurt except Mr. Williams.

Will Visit in Eugene—
