HIGHWAY BOARD REJECTS WILSON RIVER TOLL PLAN

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., April 20.—The state highway commission and members of the county courts of Tillamook and Washington counties by unanimous vote last night refused to grant a franchise for construction of the proposed Wilson river toll road.

Promoters of the road project, Messrs. Beals and Chandler, discussed the project with the commission but refused demands of the commission that contracts for construction of the road be let by competitive bidding, and that the highway commission be allowed to supervise the work. The commission insisted upon these conditions because it believed that the state eventually would be asked to buy the road.

After the Wilson road franchise was allowed, the Western Improvement association asked that when the commission wants to build a short cut between Portland and Tillamook—that the route between Beaver and Carlton, via Meadow lake, be considered. This is 80 miles as against 78 on the Wilson River, and is estimated to cost $500,000 as against $2,750,000 for the Wilson route.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH COMPLETES UNIQUE REVIVAL EFFORT

The Roseburg Christian church is completing one of the most unique and successful revival services in the history of the congregation. This revival, known as a silent revival, is a new plan which was recently tried out in eastern churches with great success, and was adopted with slight modifications for the local church.

The campaign started with a systematic visitation among the members. The city divided into four districts and church members were given cards bearing the names of the members residing within their own district, each district having a card of a different color. The object was for each member of the church to call on every other member within his district, the date of the call being written in on the card by the person upon whom the call was made. The congregation took a great deal of interest in this plan and calling groups were organized, so that often there were seventy-five to one hundred people out calling each evening. It proved so interesting and enjoyable that the congregation voted unanimously to try the same plan at a later date, as all became better acquainted and a great improvement in fellowship among members immediately resulted.

This was then followed by an evangelistic visitation during which members called upon prospective converts. The campaign was worked as a lodge or other organization would solicit memberships except that the evangelistic feature was added. During the visitation week the active workers met each evening at the church and enjoyed a supper together, during which time they received instructions and assignments.

The campaign culminated on Easter Sunday and as a result there were 36 additions to the church, 22 being new converts and the rest transfers of membership. Several others have pledged themselves to become members of the church, but have been prevented by illness, and it is anticipated that there will be well over forty additions by the time the work is completed.

Last night the church held a reception for its new members, enjoying an evening of social time in which the new members were given an opportunity to become acquainted with the other people in the church. The building was crowded for the event and everyone present had a good time.

The evangelistic campaign has been a radical departure from the old style of employing an outside preacher to come in to make a special effort. In this instance the work has been done entirely by the membership and has resulted in a far better feeling among the church members than if they had had no part in the work. At the same time the new converts have been brought into the church through personal contact and not under the stress of emotion, giving perhaps a more solid foundation upon which to base their future church activities.

The new revival plan is one which is fast sweeping the country and is proving very successful everywhere it is tried, and in the Roseburg church is expected to have more lasting results than any evangelistic campaign ever undertaken.

AMATEUR TENNIS AND GOLF BODIES BAR MARY BROWNE

NEW YORK, April 21.—Miss Mary K. Browne, for 16 years an outstanding figure in tennis and who has had a short period of meteoric success in golf, now is barred from amateur competition in both sports.

By voluntarily renouncing her amateur standing in tennis and accepting her skill last winter, she "acted in a manner detrimental to the best interests and true spirit of the game of golf," and henceforth will be ineligible for amateur play on links the executive committee of the United States Golf association announced.

The only woman athlete ever to reach national title finals in the two fields of athletics, accepted the decision with good natured resignation, although keenly disappointed. "You will probably find me in the galleries," she said when notified in Cleveland, where she recently opened a women's apparel and millinery shop.

You can have your private yacht

GIVE me a pipe and Prince Albert, and you can have your cabin-cruiser and your winter vacation. I won't envy you for a minute. In fact, I wouldn't trade places with anybody. I could even be happy on a desert island with a pipe and plenty of P. A.

Cool, as a breeze from the forward deck is cool. Sweet, with a sweetness that doesn't tire. Mild as milk, yet with plenty of body to let you know you're smoking. P. A. is neither too heavy nor too light, which makes it the middle-weight champ, so far as I'm concerned.

You'll understand my enthusiasm for this prince of smokes the minute you open the tidy red tin and get a whiff of real tobacco. But that's only a starter. The taste more than lives up to the promise of the aroma. Tuck a load in your jimmy-pipe, light up, and see.

Telling you about Prince Albert is one thing. Trying it in your pipe is another. You'll never know exactly what it is that holds millions of happy jimmy-pipers to this one brand until you make the personal test. When you do, you'll say I did you a favor in tipping you off.

LOCAL GUARD UNIT ANTICIPATING CAMP

Members of Co. D, 162nd Infantry, of the Oregon National Guard, are looking forward to camp training this summer on Clatsop Plains, the new site selected by General George A. White for the two weeks of extensive training.

The local guard unit with other Oregon National Guardsmen will entrain June 15. Camp Clatsop is said to be ideal in every way for the training camp, the entire section where the guardsmen will undergo field training also having much in the way of historical interest and incidents closely interwoven with the record of pioneer days on this coast.

The camp is easy of access from all points in the state and an additional feature is the proximity to Fort Stevens, where the 24th Coast Artillery will be given training. The camp is close to the sea and the moderate temperature prevailing throughout the summer makes it a pleasant spot for training. There are many spots in the county suitable for overnight bivouac and there are several miles of level open beach along Clatsop Plains, where excellent bathing may be enjoyed. Topographical conditions lead to perfect sanitation, an additional feature for a perfect camp site.

DEACONS ORDER STRATON TO QUIT TRIAL REPORTING

(Associated Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, April 21.—The latest of many difficulties between Dr. John Roach Straton and the Board of Deacons of the Cavalry Baptist Church has arisen over the pastor's journalistic efforts in the Snyder trial, the Herald Tribune says today.

The board yesterday drafted a resolution calling upon Dr. Straton to discontinue his reporting in the trial for a newspaper and last night called him before the board to show why the resolution should not be adopted.

H. A. Van Opstal, chairman of the board, after the conference, which lasted three hours, said that harmonious spirit prevailed in the church. He declined to say what action has been taken.

The Herald-Tribune, however, says it has learned that Dr. Straton would announce within a few days that he could spare no further time from his pastorate and must discontinue the murder articles. "I have nothing to say," was Dr. Straton's answer to questions.

HEAD OF VASSAR COLLEGE UPHELDS WOMEN SMOKING

(Associated Press Leased Wire) LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 21.—Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president of Vassar College, who addressed the Kentucky Educational association here last night, was apparently unmoved when approached following his lecture with a report that the athletic association at Vassar has ruled against smoking by girls on athletic teams.

"The matter of whether or not a girl should smoke appears to me a trivial one, without direct bearing on the subject of education," Dr. MacCracken said.

Dr. MacCracken explained that the Vassar College faculty does not interfere in matters of student interest. Such problems as cigarette smoking on the campus are handled entirely by the students, he said.

STRANGE BIBLES IN CONTEST IN ILLINOIS

PEKIN, Ill., April 21.—Bibles of many sizes and ages, some relics of circuit riding days and others survivors of war campaigns and jungle treks, have been taken from attic trunks and curio cases to vie for the attention of this community.

A Bible contest, at which the unusual volumes of the countryside are displayed, has been made an annual event by the First Christian Church and Rev. George A. Reinhardt, its pastor.

A circuit rider's Bible bound in gay Scotch plaid and with pages dimmed by 200 years of use is the most unique volume in this year's contest. It was handed down through seven generations, and was carried through the hills of Kentucky by a pioneer Methodist pastor.

The smallest Bible is less than three inches square and saw service in the world war. The largest, five generations old, weighs 15 pounds. The most traveled Bible has been carried 25,000 miles, across the meridian twice, through two typhoons and as many shipwrecks, and into the African wilds.

The oldest Bible is of German print, turned out in 1615.

STRIKE OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ON FOURTH WEEK

SUPERIOR, Wis., April 21.—Central High School's student strike, precipitated by the dismissal of Miss Lulu J. Dickinson, veteran member of the teaching staff, finished its third week today with opposing factions apparently at greater odds than ever. One thousand strikers and their parents at a mass meeting last night voted unanimously for an "orderly continuance" of the strike. Several speakers attacked the school board, Superintendent Paul R. Spencer and Mayor Fred A. Baxter for their attitude, and charged that politics had been playing football with the schools.
