THE EPISTLE TO PHILEMON—THE ORIGINAL EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION

The Epistle to Philemon was written from Paul's prison in Rome at the same time and sent by the hand of the same messenger as Colossians, for Philemon was a leading member of the church at Colossae in whose home the church met for worship.

Onesimus was a slave of Philemon who ran away, probably stealing some of his master's money to assist him in reaching Rome. At Rome he came under the influence of Paul's preaching and was genuinely converted, and confessed his whole past to Paul, and was induced by Paul to return to his master at Colossae and try to make amends for his unfaithfulness.

To make the slave's return easier, and to assure a kindly reception for the returning prodigal, Paul wrote this purely personal letter which is a perfect gem of courtesy and tact.

The time was when this letter to Philemon was made the strong defense of human slavery. But to so regard it is utterly to miss its spirit and intent. In fact it asserts a fundamental social principle, based upon the democracy of Jesus Christ, which, when finally accepted by society, outlawed human slavery in the civilized world.

It was a perfectly unique thing, in that day when human slavery was so universally recognized as right and necessary, for any one of Paul's standing to speak of a slave as Paul does of Onesimus: "For love's sake * * * I beseech thee for my child, who I have begotten in my bonds. Onesimus, who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable to thee and to me, whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that is, my very heart."

He even dares to appeal to Philemon to receive back the runaway slave "no longer as a servant, but more than a servant, a brother beloved, in the flesh and in the Lord."

Think of it! A slave to be a "brother beloved" to his master because both are now Christians and servants of one common Master.

Paul was confident that his appeal for the runaway would be heeded, and that Philemon would go even beyond his request in love for Onesimus, for he says: "Having confidence in thine obedience I write unto thee, knowing that thou wilt do even beyond what I say."

It is this "beyond" this "good measure" this "second mile" that interests us in studying the outlawing of human slavery. Paul did not command that Philemon should set Onesimus free. Neither did Jesus explicitly forbid human slavery. But both Jesus and Paul did proclaim principles of brotherhood and universal love, which, when practiced even imperfectly, make human slavery impossible, because intolerable.

Thus the gospel of equality and brotherly love works quietly but irresistibly as leaven in the ideal of society and human slavery has been outlawed by the love that goes "even beyond what is commanded."

War is the next world curse which must be outlawed. But it can only be done as men and women in sufficient numbers in all nations practice the brotherly love taught by Jesus, the love which "goes beyond" and regards even the worst as "a brother beloved."

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Canby Valley, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Mr. Reetz, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a. m. The attendance is fine, however, the Sunday school ought to be for everybody, and that takes in you. Stay for the after service at eleven. All welcome. Mid-week service Thursday, May 5th, in the evening.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Ten Mile, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Mr. Godfrey, superintendent. Preaching at 7:30 p. m. There is always a fine program arranged by Mrs. Smith, who has charge of the choir. The members of the choir are to be congratulated. You will surely miss a treat if you do not hear them sing Sunday night. The invitation is for everybody. Mid-week services Friday evening, May 6th.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Dillard, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Mr. Hercher, superintendent. We want everyone that was with us Sunday night past to be in Sunday school Sunday and bring another one with you. Just try this once and I am sure the habit will soon grow and you will be saying why did I ever stay away from Sunday school so long, I am surely glad I am back. Everybody come.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Looking Glass, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Mr. Rodley, superintendent. There was a fine attendance last Sunday but we hope to fill the church this Sunday. Make your motto "I will be in Sunday school every Sunday." What a wonderful opportunity you have to help in the work. Learn more of God's word and take the "good news" to those around about you and what a blessing you will get for yourself. Just try it. Classes for all sizes and all ages. You are invited. Come.

During the week beginning with the 22nd of May, to the 29th, the Rev. J. M. Taylor, an outstanding evangelist, from Pasadena, California will be at the Dillard church, Dillard, Oregon. This is expected to be a great week of meetings. It is hoped the people will take the opportunity to hear this great man of God who has a great message. The Rev. J. M. Taylor is a personal friend of the pastor at Dillard, T. F. Allen. Further, announce him to be given later of the meetings and the subjects the evangelist will use in his meetings here, watch for them.

First Presbyterian Church, corner of Lane and Jackson streets. R. W. Achon, pastor. Sunday school 9:45. W. C. Harding, Supt. There was a splendid attendance last Sunday, let us increase that attendance next Sabbath. Give your children an opportunity to study the greatest man who ever lived. Jesus Christ was that man. His teachings are studied here. Let your boys and girls learn them and give the children the opportunity to follow in His way. Bring your child to Sunday school. Next year may be too late. Morning worship 11 a. m. Come and learn of the greatest and lasting achievement which the Presbyterian church is endeavoring to accomplish this year. Special music by the choir. Christian Endeavor 7 p. m. Mr. Mirvan Beals, leader. Topic, "What Vocations Are Worth While?" 1 Cor. 3:16. Evening service 8 p. m. Subject: "The Great Temptation."

The Church of Christ on corner of Cobb and Roberts streets meets each Lord's day at 10 a. m. for Bible study. Preaching at 11. Communion at 12. A most cordial invitation is extended to one and all to attend. We welcome all. C. T. Springs, minister.

St. George's Episcopal. Corner E. Cass and main. Sunday, May 1st. 9:45 a. m. Church School. 11:00 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon. 7:30 p. m. Evening Prayer and Sermon. Especial attention is called to the cancellation of the early service for May 1st. This is due to the forced absence of our Vicar.

The First Methodist Church. Corner of Main and Lane streets. Joseph Knotts, pastor. Sunday School meets at 9:45 a. m. The Junior Church meets at 11 a. m. in the basement. The Epworth League meets at 7 p. m. We are to be favored this Sunday morning with the presence of Dr. J. M. Canse, president of the Kimball School of Theology. Dr. Canse is both an interesting and a strong preacher and will no doubt bring a great message. There will be no evening service this Sunday. The following splendid music has been arranged for the morning hour by the choir under the direction of Mrs. C. S. Heinline: Anthem, "All Praise to Him," Wilson; Response, "The Lord's Prayer," Solo, "O ne Sweetly Solemn Thought," Ambrose, Mrs. Willis Myers.

Free Methodist Church—Harvard and Unqua streets. After a few warm days, we had a little shower that made things look refreshed—those things that were green it seemed to make them look more green. We may have dry seasons, but we can have showers of blessings if we will—right here at this little church is a good place to receive a few drops of refreshing rain upon your parched soul. I say drops? Yes drops upon drops until it will be a downpour. Come along and receive your portion without delay. If you don't come one else will receive your share. Sunday services as follows. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 10:15 a. m. Subject, "The Old Commandment and the New Commandment." Come hear it. Nothing grand, but just plain gospel truth as set forth in the Bible. Evening services, 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting every evening at 7:45 a. m. Come along and be one with us. Otto Fuson, pastor.

First Baptist Church, Lane and Rose. Frank B. Matthews, pastor. Thursday night meeting was the largest and the best of the week, an especially good program of music being offered. Friday night Ward Baker will introduce his choir of children and they have some very interesting numbers. In addition to these, he will submit his usual attractive and varied list of selections. The orchestra begins to play at 7. Sermon by the pastor, Sunday, 9:45. The Bible school, Large attendance anticipated. Make the "on time" record a good one, 11:00. Morning worship. We will use this period as an evangelistic service. Ward Baker and others will provide the best of music. Gospel sermon by the pastor, 7:00. The B. Y. P. U. for young people, 8:00. Evangelistic service. Again the pastor will do the preaching. A simple gospel theme will be used. Orchestra will commence to play about half an hour before the time set for the service. Better come early, for last Sunday night

Catholic Church, Kane and Oak streets. May 1st: Mass and sermon at 8 a. m. The Altar society will meet immediately after. Catechism classes and Biblical instruction at 9:45 a. m. 2nd mass and sermon at 10:30 a. m. Rosary and benediction of the M. B. S. in the evening at 7:30. Glendale: Mass and sermon at 9:30 a. m.

Glide Church of Christ. The regular meeting conducted by Mr. Toogood and Mr. Perebee closed last night until Sunday. There will be services again on Sunday morning and evening. The last service will be Sunday evening. The sermon topics for Sunday will be "At the Cross Roads," in the morning and in the evening, "The Story of The Cross."

Christian Church. The first week of May is an important week in our calendar this year. It is "Boys' Week" over the country. Stress is being given to the boys' welfare. It is also the beginning of the spring clinics for the examination of all children to ascertain their health needs. That is for all children whose parents desire this service. It is also the beginning of Music week, which is now an annual treat looked forward to by the music lovers of Roseburg. This will be opened with the Cantata presented by the Choral club at the Junior high school, Monday evening. There is just one way to be next this week right. Go to church next Sunday. Every effort will be used to make the day one of real spiritual help to you. Be sure to attend both services, morning and evening. A fine program is being prepared for the young folks at seven o'clock. Sunday evening. Last Sunday evening all were immensely interested in the pile of curios from our mission in Africa. Young folks, don't miss this session Sunday night.

Methodist Episcopal Church, South, corner of East Lane and South Main streets. C. S. Coberly, pastor. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. W. L. Cobb, Supt. Public worship at 11; sermon by the pastor; special music. Evening preaching services at 8 o'clock. Senior League devotional meeting beginning at 7 o'clock; Junior League at the 11 o'clock hour, led by Mrs. Merle Clark. Official board meeting Monday evening at 7. A full attendance of the Board is desired. Woman's Missionary meeting on Thursday afternoon at 2:30. There will be no meeting in this church on Wednesday evening owing to the Baptist evangelistic meetings now being conducted at the Baptist church by Dr. Matthews. A cordial invitation to worship with Bible Standard Temple, corner Chadwick and East Douglas Sts., P. E. Crook, pastor. Sunday school begins at 9:45 sharp. Mrs. C. W. Groves, Supt. The subject for the morning sermon at 11 o'clock will be, "A Broken Reed Will Not Break." There will be preaching at Glenary school house at 2:30 p. m. Sunday to which service we give all in that community a special invitation to attend and also friends in and around Roseburg. Our Crusaders who meet at their regular service every Sunday evening at the Temple would be glad to see you in their midst next Sunday evening at 6:30. You will enjoy the young people's meeting that is so inspiring to young and old. The Junior young people have a service at the same hour in the Temple Sunday evening also. Come, bring a friend. The message for the evening will be, "Weighed in God's Balances." A fine orchestra was organized last night at the Temple composed of 35 pieces under the leadership of T. M. Olsen of this city, and will say we feel very thankful to get hold of an instructor of his ability to conduct our musical training. We are in hopes to soon be able under our splendid leader to furnish some music that will be appreciated by all music lovers of this city.

O. C. & E. RAILWAY ASKS MORE TIME TO BEGIN NEW JOB

WASHINGTON, April 29.—In view of the unsettled situation facing construction projects in central Oregon, the Oregon, California and Eastern railroad asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today to extend for six months from May 3, the period in which it has been ordered to begin a construction program the commission had previously authorized.

The Oregon, California and Eastern is involved in the controversy between the Southern Pacific and the Hill railroads over the right to extend their lines in Oregon.

The Oregon, California and Eastern had been authorized to build several branch lines but in its application today it said that since the larger railroads had not been able to get their own building programs approved, it would be unfair to require the Oregon, California and Eastern to proceed immediately. The six months' extension was asked to allow a final decision to be made before the Oregon, California and Eastern has to begin its investments in the territory.
