The first of the spring series of golf tournaments to be played on the links of the Roseburg Country Club on Sunday will be the capture of interest for all members. The first of the club on that day will be a series of golfers from Marshfield are to be present, there being two 8-man teams participating in the event with the teams from the club. A number plan to spend the day at the club to watch the progress of the tournament.

The special day at the club to be reserved for women members is the cause of much anticipation among players, especially as a woman's team is to be formed soon to prepare for a tournament, for which a loving cup is to be offered as a prize.

A number of novel and delightful social affairs have been outstanding on the week's calendar—luncheons, bridge and sewing for groups, the series of afternoon affairs of which Mrs. C. H. Allen and Mrs. Chas. B. Wade entertained their friends were interesting events of early week. Mrs. Albert McCall and Mrs. E. R. Thibault were hostesses at a particularly charming afternoon party mid-week at which a number of smart matrons were gathered for bridge and are entertaining again this afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Quine, Mrs. Roy Catching and Mrs. Kenneth Quine are joining in entertaining their friends at a series of lovely spring affairs, the first being a bridge party Friday evening. The series will be continued the coming week.

Club groups also have found plenty of interest this week with afternoon meetings, bridge and sewing, and with five hundred and bridge.

Music Week beginning Sunday will have much to offer along interesting lines, one of the outstanding events in observance of the week being the presentation of the impressive sacred cantata, "The Great Light," by the Roseburg Choral Society on Monday evening. Sunday afternoon, in a new month to give instructions for lovely May Day parties.

Mrs. C. H. Bailey Home From East

Mrs. C. H. Bailey returned home Tuesday after a several weeks' stay in the east. She visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Conover, at Flint, Michigan, for some time and in Detroit was the guest of Judge and Mrs. J. G. Griffiths for a week or so. Enroute home she traveled through Minnesota, North Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, and Washington.

For Tuesday 25 were asked and on Wednesday 28.

Mrs. Gladys Ecker of Brownsville, who made her home here for a few years some time ago, is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Enger, formerly of Roseburg, who are now making their home at Bakersfield, California, for a month. Mr. and Mrs. Enger met their niece at Fresno, Friday, and they are remaining over today for the rain, which concludes with a Mardi Gras.

Sewing Circle Plans for Affair

The regular meeting of the Progressive Sewing Circle of St. Joseph's church was held at the Parish hall on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Margaret Hohl entertaining the members. The circle decided to sponsor another party at the Parish hall on the evening of May 18 and are making extensive plans for the affair. They also discussed plans for a food sale to be given May 14.

After the business session luncheon was served at prettily appointed tables, there being covers for 20.

Group Asked for Luncheon and Bridge

Mrs. Geo. A. Bradburn asked the members of the Monday Bridge club and added guests to her country home, Merlin Place, for luncheon followed by bridge on Monday afternoon.

Seated about the charmingly appointed table were Mrs. Harry Winston and Mrs. George M. Bradburn, guests and Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. Ben C. Ziegler, Mrs. W. F. Harris, Mrs. J. C. Ponder, Mrs. H. C. Waddell, Mrs. Dean Dubar and the hostess.

The afternoon's honors were held by Mrs. Waddell.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McLennan (Florence McLennan) of Portland are congratulating them on the birth of a daughter on Wednesday, April 27. Mrs. McLennan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kohlhaas of Roseburg and has a wide circle of friends in the city.

Group Honors Matrons Saturday

On last Saturday afternoon the ladies of the local order of Pythian Sisters as a surprise gathered to honor Mrs. Rufus Eapen, who is leaving to make her home in Portland, at her home on Jackson street.

The afternoon was informally spent and a most enjoyable refreshment was served. Mrs. Eapen was presented a gift by Mrs. C. W. Parker in behalf of the order. In token of appreciation of her work.

Enjoying the afternoon were the Mesdames Rufus Eapen, Jake Jones, Francis Ware, W. L. Torrey, Eva Marks, Julia Jones, C. W. Horner, C. W. Parker, Dell Rast, Clinton Gorby and Miss Pearl Jones.

Miss Ruth Willis, a former Roseburg girl, returned to San Francisco mid-week after a visit with friends in Portland and this city. She was the guest of her mother, Mrs. S. McClung, while here.

Sewing Is Diversion of Club

The members of the Sholke club were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. E. Melton for their meeting this week, sewing and chatting occupying the afternoon on Wednesday.

At the end of the afternoon luncheon was served at a table centered table, covers being placed for Mrs. Frank of Portland, a guest, and Mrs. H. C. Cochran, Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. James Soules, Mrs. Merle Deu and the hostess.

Students' Betrothal Is Made Known

Among the several engagement announcements made last week at the Oregon Agricultural college campus was the betrothal of Miss Crystal Wilcox of Newberg and Philip Sowersby of Riddle. Mr. Sowersby is a member of a family well known at Riddle and in this city. He is in his senior year at the college. Miss Wilcox is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and her affianced is a Theta Xi.

Woman's Club Postpones Meeting Until May 17

The regular meeting of the Roseburg Woman's Club which was to have been Tuesday, May 2, has been postponed because of the rehearsal for the comedy which the club is sponsoring the evening of the following day, and will be held instead on Tuesday afternoon, May 17, at the I. O. O. F. hall. At this time election of officers for the new year will be held. Concurrent with the first days of sunny spring weather comes the discussion of plans among various club groups to discontinue meetings until autumn. The meeting of the Woman's Club on May 17 will be one of the last to be held until after the summer months.

Attractive Bridge-Luncheons Given by Matrons

Two charming affairs of the week among the larger ones listed on the social calendar were the bridge-luncheons at which Mrs. Albert McCall and Mrs. E. R. Thibault joined in entertaining a number of matrons at the home of the former on Thursday and again this afternoon.

Yellow and blue were the predominating colors at the tables. Five tables of bridge were in play Tuesday and this afternoon. First prize was received by Mrs. Chas. K. Allen and second by Mrs. Fred Schwartz.

Ladies Entertain for Couple Leaving Soon

Mrs. W. R. Hash and Mrs. J. G. Hunter entertained on Wednesday evening with an attractive affair honoring Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stinger who are leaving the first of the week to make their home at Newberg. Ladies of Mooseheart Legion and their husbands were guests for the evening.

Mrs. Stinger, who has served as secretary of the legion, was presented with a lovely gift by the members. The evening was spent informally.

Included in the group were Mrs. Wm. M. Scott, Mrs. Wm. Allen, Mrs. Guy Calhoun, Mrs. Eva Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stinger, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Hobday, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gilham, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilham, Mr. and Mrs. D. Quiley, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. SILKEN ENSEMBLES BESPEAK THE GOTHAM FASHIONABLES' VERNAL MOOD

It Has Been Over a Decade Since Silk Has Been As Popular For Formal Wear, But Such Was the Chic Attire of at Least Half the Feminine Promenaders on Easter Sunday

Mrs. Orson Munn

BY BETSY SCHUYLER
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, April 28.—As holiday wear brings flowers to bloom—so the first little wanted air of spring crystallizes one full-grown style thought.

If a woman would express her gentler moods that are paramount in spring and summer, she simply must have a chic silk ensemble.

On Easter

It was impressive that half the Easter feminine promenaders chose either the three-piece silk ensemble or the silk dress and silk coat. It has been over a decade, according to the consensus of fashion opinion, since the formal silk costume held the enviable position in the sun that it now occupies.

Great Variety

Of course, there is wide diversity seen daily in the silk ensemble type—short jackets with dresses, long coats with skirts and jumpers, three-quarters coats with one-piece trousers.

And as silk has a veiled quality of charm that complements a woman's womanliness, so the tendency in lines is towards feminine styling—softly bloused effects, seamings, yokes, bows.

I saw Mrs. W. Eugene Kimball on Easter summing up style in her choice of black satin coat ensemble fashioned with jabot revers. A turban of gleaming satin put its ray into the charming picture she made.

Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte showed her individuality by choosing beige taffeta for her Easter straight line coat with lynx trimmings. Also she broke the rule and wore a large brimmed tau felt hat and a veil.

Full Flares

Front flares that gave excessive fullness marked the luxurious black silk coat of Mrs. Harold C. Richards. Also her very high crowned small felt turban was the last Paris word.

Black, though still popular, loses its vote to beige, tan, and cream tones. I saw Miss Barbara Brehaw launching at the Ritz last week wearing a delectable cream tulle ensemble with lynx trimmings and a cream felt turban that framed her face charmingly. Betty Strong chose blonde satin for her Easter promenade. Very summery did she look with a long coat ensemble and large picture hat of matching horsehair braid trimmed in orange velvet flowers.

Browns, curiously, are coming to the front again though blues still rage everywhere. Marion Gifford looked her best on Park avenue early in the week wearing a straight brown satin coat with mink trimming, a tan straw hat with tan lace trimming and matching footgear.

Freida Hempel

At the theatre the other afternoon Freida Hempel caused many neck cranes. No wonder, for she wore a ducky Callot model of tan taffeta with small tan hat, all crisp and spring-like looking. Her famous pearls added their bit.

I do not mean to give the impression that kashas, tailored woolen suits and sport smokels have gone out of existence. I saw hundreds that I would not mind owning myself. The advent of the silk suit is simply the new note.

Virginia Luke's cloth coat with surprise opening was outlined with a handsome blonde lynx collar. She chose a tight turban of navy satin that snugged down just to meet the line of her large pink earrings.

Catherine Vanderpoole, one of the debutantes, looked her youthful best on Easter in a shimmering blue tasha and silk crepe ensemble, with squirrel trimmings.

Tiered Sleeves

The new silk suits combine all the latest fashion details in their tailoring. I noticed that Mrs. Orson Munn's latest purple-blue silk crepe coat ensemble had tiered sleeves, the up-in-front effect to both its dress and coat and a back yoke that was traced by stitchings.

Mary Shepard sponsored the new fuchsia shade Easter in her silk suit and it was a very satisfying effect.

Ornaments

Mrs. Hubert Van Ness was the picture of eyes at Sherb's last week wearing a smart beige felt with a stunning carved jade ornament set in diamonds edged by black onyx. Mrs. James Connell uses a chic gold buckle of intricate design to catch a smart rose-beige hat brim off her face.

Friends Local People Arrive From China

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. White and their two children, recently arrived from China where they were missionaries for several years, passed through Roseburg Friday afternoon on route south and were met at the train by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Campbell, for a short visit. Mr. and Mrs. White were teaching at the Presbyterian Missionary school in Soochow when they were forced to flee by the invading revolutionists into southern China. They crossed on the S. S. President Pierce, landing in Seattle on the night of April 26 and stopped in Portland. They are now en route to San Francisco where they will probably attend the meeting of the general assembly on May 19 after which they intend to return to the east and will be at their home near Kingston, Mo., late in June.

State President F. O. E. Visits Order

Following the regular business session of the Fraternal Order of Eagles on Wednesday evening at the Macabee hall, the members and their families enjoyed an informal program.

Charles Coike of Marshfield, state president of the order, was a guest and made a very interesting address. The lodge is sponsoring an old age pension in this state which has been passed by the order in several states in America and does away with farms, aged persons being cared for at a less expense under the pension system than under the present one.

The program presented included a piano duet by Melba Frew and Frances Burgh, reading by Mrs. Richard Bush, piano solo by Rosie Neuriter, piano solo by Dorothy Staley.

A supper was served at the close of the program. On the next meeting date, May 11, E. W. Bigelow, past state president of Washington will pay a visit to the lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Hodge of this city spent last weekend as guests at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Marsters.

Club Spends Afternoon Sewing

Mrs. David Busenbark was hostess Thursday afternoon to members of the Home Economics club at the Macabee hall. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent about the quilting frames. At the close a dainty luncheon was served. Mrs. Virgil Conn of Roseburg was a guest and members present were Miss Catherine Busenbark, the Mesdames John Busenbark, Sr., R. A. Busenbark, Tense Busenbark, J. Christensen, H. P. Conn, Thos. Lulley, Fred Gori, Vincent Prechtern, E. T. Reese and Emma P. Woods.

The next meeting will be May 12 at the home of Mrs. E. H. Fenn.

The DeMolay chapter dance which was to have been an event of last evening at the Moose hall has been postponed to an indefinite date.

Group Entertained at Five Hundred Party

Mrs. H. McAtee and Mrs. O. N. Wallace joined in entertaining a group of friends on Thursday evening, arranging five tables for five hundred.

At the end of the game Mrs. Roy Hutchings and Fred Fields served honors. Luncheon followed at the small tables.

Enjoying the evening were Mrs. C. H. Thurston, Mrs. Elizabeth Pierce, Mrs. S. McClung, Mrs. J. Schlenker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fields, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shields, Mr. and Mrs. B. Critcher, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hutchings, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Monroe of Richmond, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Monroe, O. D. Newland and the hostesses.

Bridge Party Is Attractive Affair on Friday Evening

Mrs. Ralph Quine, Mrs. Roy Catching and Mrs. Kenneth Quine entertained at the home of the former on the corner of Clair and
