AGRICULTURE IS GIVEN SETBACK BY ADVERSE WEATHER

Weather Disturbances All Over Country Do Much Damage to Various Crops.

April provided many set-backs for what had promised to be an early agricultural season, reports the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture in its May 1 review of the farm situation. Reports to the bureau record, every possible sort of weather disturbance over the country last month. The inundation of cotton lands in the lower Mississippi Valley, according to the bureau, will unquestionably have an effect on cotton acreage this year. Rains and frozes in the West caused delay in spring work and widespread damage to fruit and grain, although the spring wheat territory has been benefited by soil moisture.

The far West experienced severe snowstorms and low temperatures with resulting injury to fruit and tender crops even on the coast. Portions of the East have been too dry for good soil preparation, abnormally warm weather alternating with heavy frosts. The season is advanced in the South as regards general farm work, but operations elsewhere have begun to lag behind schedule.

Southern truck crop acreages are reported to have been increased over last season by probably one-half more early celery and carrots, one-third more early lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, beans and strawberries, and Florida and Texas potatoes. Southern deciduous fruits have shown a fairly good bloom but the extent of recent frost damage is not yet fully known.

The decline in prices of hogs last month is reported as the most significant development among the livestock industries. The decline is attributed chiefly to lessened demand, European markets being weaker and domestic consumption of pork products, especially in the South, having decreased.

A strong demand for cattle is reported, with cattlemen restocking their ranches. The new crops of calves, pigs, and lambs which come most heavily in April encountered bad weather conditions, livestock reports beginning to reflect losses from that cause.

Discussions of the recent estimate of a decrease of 649,000 persons in the farm population last year, the report states that there has been a total loss of around 3,000,000 in farm population since the census of 1920, "a factor of more consequence than all current shifts of weather, production or prices."

Rapid consumption of apples is cited as an outstanding feature of the cold storage situation, 2,000,000 barrels having moved into consumption during March, and April 1 stocks only a little heavier than the average stored on that date in the last five years. Storage stocks of butter have been reduced to a negligible quantity.

The cold storage situation, says the bureau, "would seem to be encouraging to producers of butter, beef cattle, and hogs. It increasingly suggests that the poultry industry is in the midst of a period of expansion and that egg producers would do well to watch the signs ahead."

The bureau's general index of purchasing power of farm products in terms of non-agricultural commodities remained at 82 in March, the five pre-war years being considered as 100. This compares with 87 in the same month a year ago, 91 two years ago, and 79 three years ago.

DELEGATES ARE SELECTED BY THE RIDDLE GROWERS

The third of the series of four prize meetings being held in the county by the extension service was held at Myrtle Creek last night in the L. O. O. F. hall. According to Mr. Leedy, county agent, the meeting was well attended and much interest manifested in the report of the bureau of agricultural economics on the northwest prune industry.

One point brought out in the discussion last night showed that whereas the average packing and selling costs for the northwest prune were approximately 21 cents per pound, that the interests affiliated with the North Pacific

News and Views of Women

AURORA, N. Y., May 6.—Miss Emily Howland of Sherwood, who celebrated her one hundredth birthday in November believes there ought to be compulsory education for all women over 70.

After 79 is the time to begin studying the things for which you never before have had time," says Miss Howland, whose Quaker father compelled her to quit school at 16.

Since reaching three score and ten Miss Howland has been director of the Aurora National Bank and manager of two farms. She is said to be the first woman in the world to become a bank director.

The University of the State of New York recently conferred upon Miss Howland an honorary degree for founding, financing and conducting the Sherwood Select School, taken over by the state a year ago.

COLUMBUS, O., May 6.—To finance a concert career, Faye Ferguson, a pianist of London, has incorporated herself under the laws of Ohio. She lacks funds to finish her musical training, so she became Faye Ferguson, Inc., and sold stock to her friends.

A board of directors will govern and declare dividends on her. She has appeared already in New York and Philadelphia as a soloist with the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra and although only 29, has given 500 concerts.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 6.—While it has been the custom with democrats of Hudson county, N. J., not to elect a representative for more than three terms, Miss May 15 of this city has been endorsed for a fifth. Democratic nomination in the county is equivalent to election.

Miss Carly, named as "the most liberal school teacher of the state," is opposed to prohibition, and Anti-Saloon League and Sunday "blue" laws.

MARKETS

(Associated Press Local Wire.)

BOSTON, May 6.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "The demand for wool in the eastern seaboard markets continues moderate and prices have favored the buyer rather than the seller during the week, although there is the belief that the downward movement has about run its course. The movement of the new clip is becoming broader and with the sale of the Jericho pool at 30½ cents, is expected to become still brisker. Sales in the far west have generally been in the range of 28 to 30 cents this week. In Ohio and Michigan, wool is being bought in a moderate manner from dealers' account at around 33 cents."

London opened, as predicted, par to five per cent under the previous series, closing rates, for both Merinos and cross breeds. Since the opening, prices have ruled steady with more general demand.

Mohair is rather quiet but steady.

Flyes Who Saved Thousands in Flood

Aviators, circling over the flooded wastes of the Mississippi river, have saved thousands of lives. This group of Arkansas National Guard flyes, from Little Rock, helped in the rescue work by locating the homeless, many of whom were perched on housetops, narrow levees or in trees throughout the flood area.
