ARTICLE No. 56

THE EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS—SHADOWS AND SUBSTANCE IN RELIGION

Whether written by Paul or Apollon or some other unknown author, the Epistle to the Hebrews is Pauline throughout in its thought and argument.

It contains a series of contrasts between the best there was in the religion of the Hebrews and the better things taught by and embodied in Jesus Christ. Accordingly the key word is "better."

The author tells them how in former days God had spoken unto them by the prophets, but in these last days by His Son, who is "the fulgurance of His glory and the very image of His substance."

He tells them how Christ is "so much better than the angels"; how He "was counted worthy of more glory than Moses," for "Moses was faithful—as a servant—but Christ as a Son over His own house"; and how He is greater than Joshua as a leader of His people into a place of rest.

He takes up the priesthood of Aaron and Levi and contrasts their imperfections with the "more excellent ministry" of Christ, which "brings in a better hope" because "Jesus was made a surety of a better testament" as "the mediator of a better covenant established upon better promises."

He speaks of the architecture of the tabernacle and temple and shows that it was a mere type and foreshadowing of the "greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hands," in which Christ as the true high priest offered the "better sacrifices," "the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things than that of Abel," and which needed not therefore to be repeated annually, but which once for all obtained eternal redemption.

"For Christ entered not into a holy place made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God for us; nor yet that He should offer Himself often; * * * but now once * * * to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself."

Thus through 10 chapters the doctrine of the superiority of the person, the priesthood and the propitiation of Christ are set forth, before the author comes, in the last three chapters, to the exhortation to put these things to practice in the life of faith as did the great heroes of faith of Hebrew history, Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, Joshua and innumerable hosts of others.

"This faith which he commends as the ruling principle of their lives is to be centered in 'Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today and forever.'"

When a building is to be constructed of concrete a great preliminary network of forms and scaffolding is necessary. Into these forms the concrete is poured and allowed to set. Then the forms and scaffolding are removed, having served their purpose.

So in the Epistle to the Hebrews we see the purpose of the types and shadows, the services and sacrifices and ritual of the Old Testament. They were merely to indicate and foreshadow the form to be taken by the true and eternal things of Jesus Christ which were to be of "a better and an enduring substance."

room makes it fine for the class study. You that have not been coming, we hope to see you Sunday. You who send the children come with them, father and mother, otherwise the day will come when they will want to stay home, too. There is a place for all. Mid-week service Thursday, May 19th, 7:30 p. m. Please remember the time as the Rev. J. M. Taylor, the evangelist, will bring the message. We hope the room will be filled so the meeting starts on time. Tell your friends.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

First Church of Christ, Scientist. Regular services are held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. This meeting includes testimonies of leading through Christian Science. Sunday school convenes each Sunday morning at 9:45. All pupils to the age of 20 years may be admitted. The reading room, side entrance to the church is open daily except Sundays and holidays from 2 to 4 p. m. Here all authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed or purchased. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and use the reading room. Subject of Sunday's lesson "Mortals and Immortals."

Myrtle Creek Church of Christ. Through our evangelistic meeting closed last Sunday the enthusiasm and spirit of it will last a good while. We rejoice that during the meeting there were 26 people who took their stand with Christ and the church here. We are hoping that the Bible school next Sunday will be above low. At 1 o'clock the Lord's supper will be observed, and the sermon will be "After the Meeting, What?" The Christian Endeavor meeting will be changed to 7 p. m., and the evening song service and sermon will be at 8 p. m. The sermon will be "When Man Sees God," Walter E. Strain, minister.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Dillard, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. R. A. Hercher, superintendent. Come and learn something of the source of the spiritual power. We did not get the attendance up to one hundred last Sunday, but we depend on you to put it over Sunday. Don't miss the Bible school at 10:30 a. m. night mid-week service we expect to have the Rev. J. M. Taylor with us and lead the meeting. Come and worship with us. Brother Taylor is the evangelist who will have charge of the special meetings May 22 to 29. Watch the papers for further announcements.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Looking Glass, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. T. Rodley, superintendent. Attendance is fine, however, we will not be satisfied until the church is filled then we will arrange for larger quarters. How much are you interested in seeing this accomplished? Come, get enthusiastic about it and get others enthused. If you will do this, we will be long before the change will come. "The work cannot bury Christ. The earth is not deep enough for His tomb; the clouds are not wide enough for His widening shroud. He ascends into the heavens, but the heavens cannot contain Him. He still lives in the church which burns unquenched with His love; in the truth that reflects His image; in the heart that burns as He talks with them by the way."—Edward Thompson.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Ten Mile, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. T. L. Godfrey, superintendent. We are rejoicing at the splendid attendance, but we want just a few more. Just keep coming until we get satisfied and this includes those who come for the first time. Sunday, Preaching at 11 a. m. Every-body invited to all services. Mid-week service Friday evening, May 20th, the Rev. J. M. Taylor will be present and bring the message. Be sure to hear him, it will be a great message. This might be an opportunity that you will never have again. Tell your friends.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Camas Valley, T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m. W. Reets, superintendent. The Sunday school work is certainly encouraging, however, for your information we have lots of room. Having the

The subject for the adult study will be "The Great Multitude." "After this I beheld, and, to a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands."—Rev. 7:9. You are welcome.

The First Methodist Church, corner of Main and Lane streets, Joseph Knotts, pastor. These are the days when parents should insist on regular attendance at Sunday school by coming with their children. The hour is 9:45 a. m. Interesting classes for all. Junior church for the children immediately after Sunday school. The Epworth League meets at 7 p. m. The morning sermon theme is "The Value of Personal Experience." The evening sermon theme is "The Exaltation of Jesus." This sermon deals with such questions as: What are angels? Why does God have them? Are they equal to Christ? Are they superior to men? Are they equal to men? Are they everlasting? We are devoting our evening services to an intensive presentation of the wonderful book of Hebrews. Do not miss this splendid opportunity of scripture instruction. A cordial invitation is extended to the choir. The following music by the choir under the direction of Mrs. C. S. Heimlich has been arranged:

Morning Anthem, "How Majestic Are Thy Works," Wilson. Instrumental solo, Mrs. Gerald Geddes. Instrumental Trio, "Reverie," Ahlton, Mrs. A. J. Young, Mrs. J. Shockey and Mrs. Heimlich. Evening Anthem, "Teach Me, O Lord," Danks. Soprano Solo, Selected, Miss Faye Geddes.

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

FLASHES OF LIFE

NEW YORK—The derby and Tammany are quite closely connected. For a long time a brown derby was Al Smith's distinctive head gear. A Tammany delegation is to attend the Kentucky derby—Mr. Olvany, Mayor Walker, Secretary Egan, Surgeon General and some more. Mr. Woolton of Indiana recently paid a social call on Mr. Olvany, and the latter said politics was not discussed. The announcement is that there is no political significance to the trip to Louisville; everybody's just going to the race.

TARRYTOWN, N. J.—John D. Rockefeller now owns about five square miles in the Pómatanco hills of West Chester county. He has just increased his holdings by paying $150,000 for 150 acres for which a real estate development was planned.

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Charles M. Schwab seems to have made a hit with the boys at the military academy. Heading a delegation of visiting engineers he spoke to the cadets in the mess hall and because they were hungry, cut the speech short, telling them to read it in the papers.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa—The Rev. "Uncle Henry" Delout, marrying parson, is dead at 92. He had united 2,900 couples at weddings in various places from theatres to airplanes. He came westward with Brigham Young, left him, worked in a gambling house and as a cowboy, then was converted by an

Workers' Queen

The poor working girl has found a place in the sun, at least in Wichita, Kans., where keen competition for beauty honors resulted in the choice of Miss Bonita Munoz (above). Miss Munoz is a perfect blonde, but of Spanish descent.

NEW YORK—Gobs' preferences are like other gentlemen's. The Atlantic fleet voted and the following was given out a typical of 2500 ballots: "A girl with blonde hair, blue eyes, robed stockings, short skirts; of medium height, with boyish bob, of a talkative nature, and with 20 summers behind her."

TORONTO—More than grease must be worn by girls seeking to win a $50,000 water marathon at the Canadian national exhibition next fall. Official rules call for regulation bathing suits.

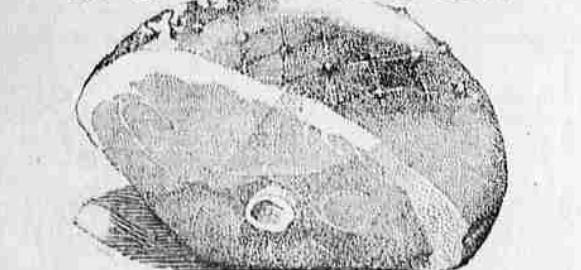

LONDON—Stamps bearing an up to date likeness of the Prince of Wales are being made for Newfoundland. Current issues picture him as a curly headed baby or a naval cadet. The empire's oldest colony is the only one to have the heir to the throne on its mail.

NEWARK, N. J.—Mrs. Theodore Hoffman was puzzled when she got a postcard telling of the birth of a second grandchild at Bona Brook, 25 miles away. Then she looked at the card again. It was postmarked December 25, 1915.

NEW YORK—The latest marathon craze is black bottoming by the mile. Margaret Miller, 18, has been awarded a silver cup at a dance hall. When she stopped a pedometer registered 39.5 miles.
