AUTO AUCTION AT LOCKWOOD'S WILL BE LIVELY EVENT

Preparations Made at Ford Agency to Accommodate Expected Hundreds at Great Sale.

For several days the entire force of mechanics and salesmen at the C. A. Lockwood Motor company, have been busy preparing for what is probably the most efficiently organized auction sale ever pulled off in this city, and tomorrow a monster attendance is expected to attend the disposal of nearly a half hundred used cars of various makes and models. The Gregson Sales company, of Spokane, has charge of the arrangements, and "Greg," as he is known, is expected to be a whirlwind in his line of endeavors with auctions of the cars. A platform has been built next to the south wall of the mammoth shop, and each and every car sold will be driven onto this platform, where it will undergo inspection from probable buyers, and then sold. If any buyer is skeptical about the performance of the car, it will be privileged to demonstrate it to his entire satisfaction.

For a week mechanics, painters and helpers have been busy conditioning the cars to be auctioned. Under the personal direction of Norman Fisher, shop superintendent, these cars have undergone repairs and adjustments that entitle the Lockwood Motor company to guarantee each and every one of them. Batteries have been tested out by Ken, the battery man, and whenever needed have been recharged. Down in the painting department Fred Porter has given the finishing touch that brought the cars up to a good appearance, and after these automobiles were finally pronounced fit, Jack Ponsler's group of salesmen have placed them in the show room, where visitors are today looking them over.

There are cars of most makes in the group to be sold tomorrow, but of course Fords predominate. The usual Ford guarantee goes with each car sold, and Charley Lockwood, who has built up a wonderful business in this city since he took over Ford sales some years ago, expects this sale to be the biggest thing in car selling that he has ever undertaken.

The event has been advertised throughout the entire county and in parts of Coos county. More than 5000 posters, besides constant advertising in the News-Review all of this week, has acquainted the people of Southern Oregon with the date of the sale, and hundreds of buyers from all sections are expected to begin flocking to Roseburg early tomorrow to attend.

The auction will begin promptly at 2 p. m. Saturday and continue until evening, and then again at 7 o'clock the work will be resumed during the periods it is confidently expected that more than 25 cars will be sold, and terms will be given as the buyer may desire. There will be no "cappers" to bid in any car. In fact, this is positively prohibited by an affidavit made by Mr. Lockwood, who assures his patrons and friends that no such practices will be tolerated. A band will be on hand during the day to enliven the occasion with musical selections, and everything done to make the affair an enjoyable one for those attending. There will be seats for ladies—and the management wants it understood that ladies are especially invited to this sale. During the day a Ford touring car will positively be given amusement devices. These will add to the spirit of the occasion and give an opportunity for much entertainment.

Altogether plans for the carnival at the present time are advancing in a very satisfactory manner. The committees in charge of the various events report good progress, particularly in regard to the parades. The committee having the industrial parade in charge reports that local business houses are giving excellent cooperation and there is a prospect that there will be an exceptionally large number of entries.

Each business concern of the city is being asked to enter a float in the industrial parade. This is open to all, without restrictions, and entries may bear as much advertising as is desired by the designer. Judging will be done upon the uniqueness and attractiveness of the display. Prizes in the sum of $75, $50 and $25 are being offered for first, second and third places.

J. M. Judd is chairman of the committee having the plans for this parade in charge.

BROOM FACTORY FIRE

(Associated Press Special Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., May 13—Fire of undetermined origin early this morning completely razed the Standard broom factory, 1855 East Glisan street, causing a loss of $16,000, according to estimates of Captain McFarland of the fire marshal's office. It is being investigated.

BOSTON, May 13—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"A fair volume of wool is being sold in the eastern seaboard markets in a quiet way, including both foreign and domestic wools. Prices generally are slightly lower for the week.

"In the west, the market is moving moderately but apparently activity is increasing slightly with prices maintained fully on last week's level. Shearing has been delayed in the light wool sections hitherto and the movement is slow. "The goods market is moderately active with some indications of improvement. "Mohair is slow and without quotable change."

The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will print the following quotations: Scoured basis: Oregon—northern $1.05 to $1.07; fine and f. m. clothing 90 to 95; valley, No. 1, 90 to 95.

Distinctive Safeway Advantages

There are many unique and exclusive advantages afforded the public through Safeway methods of distributing foods. These advantages form the basis of the success and popularity of our stores and the broad service of saving they render. No other system of merchandising even approximates this unique combination of desirable features. They are Safeway innovations—the result of the expenditure of much money and long years of study of the problems of efficient and economical retailing—all prompted by a sincere desire to serve in the largest sense. Compare these advantages—check them against those claimed by any other system in existence, and—more than ever—you will be convinced of the desirability of buying all of your foods at Safeway Stores.

LOCOMOTIVE HITS FORD CAR AT LANE STREET CROSSING
Lloyd Moothart and his wife and two children had a narrow escape from death last night when their Ford sedan was struck by the S. P. switch engine at the Lane street crossing. Mr. Moothart's car stalled as he was crossing the railroad track leaving him directly in the path of the engine. He jumped and tried to tug the locomotive, but it was impossible to stop in the short distance and the auto was struck directly in the side and shoved to one side of the track. Mrs. Moothart and the two children were still in the car, but aside from a bad scare and minor bruises, were unharmed. The car was quite badly smashed.
