NOTICE

To Whom It May Concern: Whereas, the Fish Commission of the State of Oregon has propagated and stocked and is propagating and stocking the waters of the Umpqua river and its tributaries, within the state of Oregon, with salmon and other food fish; and

Whereas, the Umpqua river and its tributaries are frequented by salmon and other food fish, and for the purpose of protecting the same, the said fish commission of the state of Oregon has decided to close the waters of the Umpqua river and its tributaries, as follows, to-wit:

All the waters of the Umpqua river and its tributaries above the juncture of Big Mill Creek and the Umpqua river, in Douglas county, State of Oregon, to net fishing or fishing for commercial purposes by any means for salmon and other food fish; provided, however, that during the months of January, February, March, July, August, September, October, November and December, of each year, it shall be lawful to fish in the waters of said Umpqua river by lawful means for commercial purposes for salmon and other food fish up to the juncture of the North Fork and the South Fork of the Umpqua river, in Douglas county, state of Oregon;

Now, therefore, Notice is hereby given by said Fish Commission of the State of Oregon, that the said waters of the Umpqua river and its tributaries, in the county of Douglas, state of Oregon, described as follows, to-wit:

All the waters of the Umpqua river and its tributaries above the juncture of Big Mill Creek and the Umpqua river, in Douglas county, state of Oregon, are hereby closed to net fishing or fishing for commercial purposes by any means, for salmon and other food fish, from and after the 1st day of June, 1927; provided, however, that during the months of January, February, March, July, August, September, October, November and December, of each year, it shall be lawful to fish in the waters of said Umpqua river by lawful means for commercial purposes, for salmon and other food fish up to the juncture of the North Fork and the South Fork of the Umpqua river, in Douglas county, state of Oregon, and the said waters herein closed shall remain closed until they are again opened to said fishing for salmon and other food fish herein prohibited, as provided for by section 8 of chapter 105 of the General Laws of Oregon of the year 1921.

And, that on and after the 1st day of June, 1927, it will be unlawful to fish for or take or catch with net or by means for commercial purposes any salmon or other food fishes in any of said waters closed by this order. Any and all persons violating the provisions of this notice will be prosecuted as by law provided.

All orders heretofore made and promulgated by the said Fish Commission relating to the waters of the Umpqua river are hereby revoked.

Dated this 2nd day of May, A. D. 1927.

Ritter, funeral director of the Roseburg Undertaking company, is in charge. Burial will be at the Elgarose cemetery.

HARNEY COUNTY WOULD RID JAIL OF LONE INMATE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Salem, Ore., May 21—Because Harney county, the largest county in Oregon, is maintaining its jail to care for only one prisoner, Lee Karperter, an appeal has come to Governor Patterson to free Karperter and save the county its jail expense. Karperter is doing time for bootlegging. He has served six months and is now serving additional time in lieu of paying a $500 fine. Karperter's case was presented to the governor yesterday by Pat Donegan, an attorney of Burns.

UMATILLA WATER WILL BE STOCKED WITH GAME FISH

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., May 21—McKay lake in Umatilla county is to be stocked with bass, croppies, cat fish and sunfish, M. L. Ryckman, superintendent of hatcheries announced today following his return last night with State Game Warden Harold Clifford, from eastern Oregon. The work of stocking the lake will start in June. Ryckman said this would assure Umatilla county a fishing lake.

Some work at the Umatilla hatcheries, including addition of ponds, was decided upon.

Game Warden Clifford said today that the commission at its last meeting ordered the opening of the foreign streams that had been closed.

In Umatilla county, north and south forks McKay Creek; north and south forks Umatilla river; north and south forks Meacham creek; Lake county: Hills creek, commonly known as Kitson creek.

MISSISSIPPI IS CHANGING COURSE, EXPERT OPINION

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 21—Two thousand men were battling in a downpour of rain today at McCrea on the east bank of the Atchafalaya to hold back the river. The current was threatening the embankments protecting two million acres and 107,000 persons in Louisiana's "sugar bowl."

Great chunks of the embankment were swept away from time to time, but each time the men had anticipated the slough and the water came against new ramparts.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 21—Possibility that the Mississippi river might be changing its course so that in the future the stream would run to the Gulf of Mexico thru the Atchafalaya basin, occupied river engineers here today. The opinion that this might happen was expressed by Major John Gotwals after a survey of the situation at Melville, George Schoenberger, chief state engineer and John Klorer, New Orleans levee board engineer said they believed it possible. However, D. C. Wadill, federal engineer in charge of the lower river, said that all that was keeping the mighty current from cutting a new and shorter channel to the gulf was a pair of stone sills, built in the bed of the Atchafalaya in 1896. Whether second hold against the terrific force of the current was problematical, he believed.

Refugees continued to pour out of Point Coupee parish as a result of a warning issued by John M. Parker, state relief commissioner. A crevasse in the levees at Point Coupee would inundate about 2,000,000 acres, the last of the fertile "sugar bowl" section, and affect about 100,000 persons. The danger zone is from 130 to 150 miles above New Orleans on the west side of the Mississippi.

While the evacuation was under way a force of 2500 men who worked all last night were fighting to save the levee at McCrea, 10 miles below the point where the Atchafalaya joins Old River.

GARAGE FIRE MAY PROVE FATAL TO UMATILLA MAN

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PENDLETON, Ore., May 21—Eldon Bledsoe, 26, of Banks, Oregon, was perhaps fatally burned at 3 o'clock this morning while attempting to extinguish a fire in the garage on the C. H. Hamster ranch in the Holdman district near here. Fire was thought to have started from a short circuit in a car. The inside was a seething mass of flames when Bledsoe opened the garage door and a sheet of flame enveloped him. He ran 100 yards to his own car despite the rain and rolled himself in a blanket extinguishing the flames. He is at a local hospital hovering between life and death. The farm garage a wheat granary and farm implements were burned. No estimate was made of the loss.
