

JURY NEARING COMPLETION AT JACKSONVILLE

Opening Statements in 2nd DeAutremont Trial May Be Made Tomorrow.

COURT SPEEDS TASK

Prejudice Against Penalty of Death and Settled Opinions Bar Many From Service.

(Associated Press Leaded Wire.)

COURT HOUSE, Jacksonville, Ore., June 8.—The tedious task of securing a jury in the retrial of Hugh de Autremont, proceeded slowly this morning, veniremen called to the box revealing strong prejudices against the infliction of the death penalty upon circumstantial evidence, or having fixed opinions on the guilt of the defendant.

Clyde R. Higgins, assistant to the general agent of the California Oregon Power company of Medford, of 14 called, alone held no detrimental views. He was not a resident of southern Oregon when the crime was committed and was temporarily passed by both sides after an exhaustive examination.

Prisoner Is Stirred. Do Autremont, heretofore soberly indifferent, manifested new interest in the proceedings and moved to the edge of his chair, several times, when the questions became vital.

The court speeded up the steady passage of veniremen when he suggested to the state attorneys that their first question concern the attitude of the veniremen upon capital punishment.

The opening statements, at the present rate, will begin Thursday afternoon. The state's contentions will be outlined by either United States Attorney George Neuner or Special Prosecutor George M. Roberts.

Fred L. Smith of Eugene, chief counsel, will make the opening address for the defense.

Wading Through Venire. The state excused its first pre-emptory challenge this morning and excused O. N. Wilson, Medford realtor. In his place the name of Miss Mollie Songer of Ashland, was drawn. Opposition to the death penalty resulted in Miss Songer being excused by the court and Gail Robinson, Medford lumberman, was drawn in her place.

A special venire of fifty names, ordered yesterday by the court, was called and there were many who failed to answer. The sheriff was instructed to bring them to court.

J. H. Fuller, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Ashland, was passed by the state. Under defense interrogation he said he had aided indirectly, in the search for the bandits, entertained fixed opinions on the guilt of the accused, and was excused. F. M. Tucker of Ashland, carpenter, next called, was opposed to the death penalty, under circumstantial evidence, and was excused. Homer H. Elhart of Ashland, merchant, declared himself opposed to the death penalty under any circumstances and was excused. Floyd P. Whittle, of Ashland, transfer man, was called and excused because of fixed opinions.

The defense, exercising its third pre-emptory challenge excused D. H. Jackson of Ashland, former sheriff and John C. Mann, of Medford, merchant, was called. He held a fixed opinion from discussions of the case with officers of the law and friends, and was dismissed.

DELEGATES ARE CHOSEN FOR STATE LEGION SESSION

At a meeting of Umpqua Post of the American Legion held last night delegates to the state convention at La Grande were elected. The convention is to be held July 21, 22 and 23. The delegates chosen were Rudolph Ritzman, Glenn McAllister, Roy Young, John Flurry, Ralston Bridges and Frank Hills. The alternates are W. H. Gertson, Joe Denn, H. C. Wadwell, Harry Boyle, E. R. Thurber, C. E. Melton.

Prior to the business meeting a public session was held at which time H. L. Bromley, Copco cameraman, presented motion pictures taken during the strawberry carnival. The pictures were excellent and were greatly enjoyed by the large number of spectators.

During the business session it was reported that the work of incorporating the post has been completed. The capital stock is $1,500. A committee composed of John Flurry, Adam Flurry and L. A. Klecker was appointed to arrange for the transportation of the delegates, drum corps and other convention visitors from Roseburg to the La Grande convention.

IS A HEALTHIER STRONGER GIRL Because She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The fertile valleys of Oregon help to supply the tables of America. This is possible thru the magic of the humble tin can.

In one of the canning establishments, Julia Schmidt was employed. It was complicated work because she did sealing and other parts of the work. It was strenuous work and she was not a strong girl. Often she forced herself to work when she was hardly able to sit at her machine. At times she would have to stay at home for she was so weak she could hardly walk.

For five years she was in this weakened condition. She tried various medicines. At last, a friend of hers spoke of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Miss Schmidt gave it a trial.

"Everyone says I am a healthier and stronger girl," she writes. "I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends who tell me how they suffer and I am willing to answer letters from women asking about it." SCHOOL DISTRICT DEMANDS PART OF O. & C. PAYMENT money was granted and it is the belief of the court that congress intended for the money to be used to relieve the counties of a portion of the bonded debts.

Courts Will Settle. With particular reference to the common school fund, the court contends that the school districts have been paid, as the levies have been made from year to year on a basis of school population and payments made to the districts as required by law, excepting, of course, the discrepancies occurring through delinquent tax payments for which collection must yet be made.

The whole matter, however, hinges largely upon the action of the courts in the interpretation of the critical paragraph of the bill. If the moneys to be prorated are only special tax moneys, then the state and school districts will probably be unable to share, but if it is decided that all money received must be split up among the various funds, then all of the school districts will benefit and there will be only a very small sum left for bond retirement.

In the event the counties win the suit now pending in Marion county the matter, it is probable, will go no further, but if the state should win then the school districts will probably go to court to secure their share.

The Roseburg school district in taking the lead in this action is doing so after conferences with officials of other districts, it is understood, and should the matter come to the point of litigation it is expected that all school districts of the county will unite in legally presenting the claim.

BUSINESS MIND OF AMERICA IS HOPE OF WORLD

ferred to the Chileans which, if successfully worked out by them, will reestablish their main industry and eventually save the country from ruin. The increase in transportation facilities in Chile and the manufacture of products which will consume the production of nitrate was suggested, and until the Americans had entered into the discussion no solution had been offered. This, said Dr. Vining, is just one instance of what is being done at these great meetings.

Speaking of the outlook in the business world, Dr. Vining presented the startling fact that the income of the people of the country at the present time is ninety billions of dollars annually. "Tremendous strides are being made and you ask if this condition can continue," he said, "Instead of a decrease, the general outlook points to an increase in business. It was once a maxim that 'competition is the life blood of trade.' Now it is cooperation the mother of increased mass standardized production. Business men are engaged at the present time in lines to increase the demand, cooperating instead of competing."

Quoting Mr. Heard, chairman of the committee on agriculture of the United States Chamber of Commerce at the meeting in Washington, D. C., Dr. Vining said, "Let us review a few facts as to the national importance of agriculture. Nine hundred and twenty-five million acres in the United States are in farms of grazing. Twenty-four per cent of our population derives their living from the products of this acreage. Reliable figures show that in 1925 and 1926 there was invested in agriculture in this nation practically five billion dollars or 18% of our total national wealth. Impartial, fact-finding investigations show that the return on capital investment in agriculture in 1925-26 stood at the low remunerative return of but 3 1/2 per cent. Far less than the return being the same period on capital invested in other industry. Equally careful studies show that the average return per farmer for his own labor and management in the same period was $648 per person annually or less than half the earnings of workers in other industries as shown in 1924. These figures give convincing evidence of the need of level-headed business men giving their most efforts to assist in devising level-headed practical plans which in operation will enable agriculture to find its proper place in the sun or our national prosperity."

"Fortunately during the past year there have been manifest improvements in the agricultural situation. The drift in tenantry is not as rapid as was feared on certain agricultural products during the past year have shown a decided improvement, notably wool, hogs, butter and potatoes. Improved government credit facilities are still being extended to the farmers and plans are under way for extending production credit at reduced rates of interest. Improved farm machinery is helping to solve the farm labor problem. Range conditions have improved and the creation of ten-year livestock permits on the national forests has helped to stabilize the livestock industry. Standardization of farm products is being developed. The pure seed movement is growing. Better breeding is being practiced among livestock men. Crop diversification is becoming more of a national practice. Increase in bonded warehouses has resulted in the increased use of intermediate credit banks and the cooperative marketing movement is gaining in efficiency and business standards all of which helps to stabilize this great industry."

In discussing the tax situation of the nation briefly, Dr. Vining quoted a statement by Vice Mayor Graves, a member of the New York Tax Commission. He said, "The tax systems of the various states should be simplified, standardized, coordinated and synchronized according to some general plan. By this I do not mean that each state must of necessity have a tax system precisely like that of every other state, but I do wish to be understood as saying that there must be some general plan best suited for use in all states, a general plan to be modified and adapted according to the peculiar conditions existing in a given state."

Dr. Vining stressed the fact that the Pacific coast stands alone against the rest of the country and that the citizens of this coast should form a "Pacific Coast firm" to pool the presentation of the resources of this great territory.

Proceeding Dr. Vining's talk, Mrs. Fred Strang presented a musical program, introducing Bill Whipple who favored the gathering with several harmonica solos. Miss Gertrude Wickham then sang a group of solos, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lintott. Both of these musical numbers were heartily enjoyed.

Tom Neas introduced the speaker of the day and Jack Harding was the presiding chairman of the meeting.

MAJOR LEAGUE RESULTS

Battle flared of the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees still are flying at the top of the major leagues despite the efforts of 14 other clubs to lower them. All the home-run power in the bats of Ruth and Gehrig was needed by the Yankees yesterday to repulse the charging White Sox, but the league leaders managed to turn back their rivals by a count of 4-1.

Ruth made his 18th homer, Gehrig his 14th and Pat Collins added another, while Clancy of the White Sox cracked out one for the visitors' only tally.

Opening their series against the Giants, the National league leaders were as successful as the Yanks. The Pirates got 16 hits off the notoriously poor New York pitching and winning, 9 to 6.

Chicago's 7 to 6 victory over the Brooklyn meanwhile sent the Cubs to third place above the Giants and only a few points below the Cardinals.

Falcons May's seven-hit pitching gave the Cincinnati Reds a 5 to 1 start on their series with the Phillies, while the Red Sox just survived a Tiger rally in the ninth and held the long end of a 6-5 count.

Connie Mack's revised lineup won a hitting match from the Browns, 11 to 9.

The Boston Braves' 12 to 5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals was remarkable chiefly for the lack of consideration with which the visitors treated the champions' Senators' 10-8 decision over the Cleveland Indians was partly due to the hitting of Tris Speaker against his old team mates.

ROSEBURG GETS PREMIER SHOWING OF COPCO MOVIES

The premier showing of the Roseburg Strawberry carnival motion pictures taken here recently by H. L. Bromley, Copco cameraman, was given in this city last night through the courtesy of the California Oregon Power company. Although these films arrived at the Medford general office last Thursday, they were not released by the "Copco Current Events" news reel but were held for a premier presentation in this city.

A double showing of the pictures was given last night, the first being at a joint meeting of the American Legion and ladies auxiliary to which a number of outsiders were invited and the second before a large gathering at the broccoli grange dance and entertainment. A splendid record of the outstanding events of the Strawberry carnival was shown by the Copco miniature news-reel including the school parade, auto and float parade, baby parade, industrial parade, street sports and many other interesting items. The baby parade pictures were particularly good and made a big hit with both of last night's audiences.

Tonight these pictures as well as other recent current events will be shown at the Junior high school in connection with the Boy Scout program, this showing being open to the general public. Tomorrow noon the carnival pictures will be presented at the Rotary club luncheon and tomorrow night at a big community gathering at Sutherlin. The Copco pictures are shown entirely without charge by the Copco publicity department in order to promote the best interests of the various resources and industries of the territory within southern Oregon and northern California which is served by the Copco system.

MANY ARE GOING TO SUTHERLIN FOR MEETING TONIGHT

It is expected that nearly one hundred business men and their wives will go from Roseburg to Sutherlin tonight to join with the Sutherlin Chamber of Commerce in the meeting to be held there. Prior to the banquet at which Dr. Irving Vining will be the chief speaker, a visit will be made to the Sutherlin rabbitries owned by W. D. Valentine of the Douglas Park Stock ranch.

BROCCOLI GROWERS ENTERTAIN HUGE CROWD AT FROLIC

Over five hundred people were present last night at the Umpqua Valley Broccoli Growers warehouse in Edenbower for the frolic and program sponsored by the producers, who invited the Kiwanis and Rotarians together with their families, and the officers of the broccoli associations to be their guests for the evening.

All present report the entertainment as being one of the most enjoyable they ever attended and all were greatly pleased.

D. N. Busenbark presided and introduced Dr. C. H. Bailey, who spoke briefly regarding the history of broccoli in Douglas county. Short talks were made by J. E. McClintock of the Rotary Club and Napoleon Rice of the Kiwanis Club, after which the Copco motion pictures of the Strawberry Carnival were shown by H. L. Bromley.

The remainder of the evening was given over to a general good time. Music for dancing was furnished by Ott's orchestra and by E. H. Crane. The latter played a number of old-fashioned dance tunes and the crowd had a great time with the old dances.

The festivities lasted until midnight when the wives of the broccoli growers served delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee.

In the Market Place

IN certain parts of Europe some centuries ago, the farm laborer was wont to stand in the town market place holding a straw in his mouth as a sign that he was looking for employment.

Today the uninvested dollar places itself in the open market. As to an individual, it must be offered an occupation free from personal hazard, with steady employment and attractive wages.

In providing telephone facilities for nationwide service, the Bell System has employed millions of such dollars. The savings of more than half a million American telephone users, invested in Bell System Securities, have built the system that serves them. Theirs is an investment in service, and they themselves have served by investing.
