3100 Men to Camp

SALEM, Ore., June 13.—Early this week approximately 3100 national guardsmen of Oregon will mobilize at Camp Clatsop and Fort Stevens for 15 days of hard training. They will represent 20 Oregon counties. They will be in command of Brigadier General George A. White, commander of the 82nd brigade, who has completed preparations for the encampment.

Advance detachments will move tonight when 100 men will precede to the camp and prepare the place for the reception of the main body of the troops. The main body will begin moving Tuesday night when all units outside of Portland will entrain for that city. The entire force will be in Portland Wednesday morning and will proceed to the camp, eight special trains being used to carry the troops. The guardsmen will be in camp by noon and the afternoon will be devoted to organization, the only training for the day being formal guard mount at Camp Clatsop and Fort Stevens. Active training will start Thursday morning. During the last week 37 camp kitchens and other buildings were constructed at the camp at a cost to the government of $47,000. There is a possibility that the camp will be made permanent, and if it is an addition of $100,000 will be spent in the near future.

Troops that will take part in the training include the 162nd and 18th infantry regiments which compose the 82nd infantry brigade, also brigade attached units consisting of battery A, 21st field artillery; company A, 116 engineers, and hospital company 167, all of whom will be at Clatsop. At Fort Stevens will be the 249th coast artillery with a strength of 275 men.

Oregon cities that will send companies to the encampment are: Baker, La Grande, Union, Pendleton, The Dalles, Gresham, Portland, St. Helens, Astoria, Tillamook, Marshfield, Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass, Roseburg, Cottage Grove, Eugene, Springfield, Albany, Lebanon, Silverton, Salem, Woodburn, Corvallis, Dallas, McMinnville, Forest Grove and Oregon City.

TWO PRISONERS MAKE ESCAPE FROM CO. JAIL

was seen going out East Douglas street in which her husband fled a few minutes later. "It is our belief that she aided him in planning for the break and had an automobile waiting in which to make their escape." Sheriff Starmer, immediately after he was informed of the escape of the two prisoners, placed deputies on guard at numerous points along the highway. About 9:30 o'clock, C. H. Daugherty, at Yoncalla, was nearly knocked down by an auto that refused to heed his command to halt. The driver of the machine slowed the car down as the officer appeared, but then stepped on the gas and shot ahead, nearly striking the deputy sheriff. A telephone call was sent to Cottage Grove to head off the machine and Officer Daugherty started in pursuit, but apparently the car went off on a side road and eluded the officers, as it was not seen again.

Five prisoners confined in the jail refused to accept the offered parole of three weeks. Thurman Cannon and William Oliver, serving time on liquor charges, remained in jail, as did Jack O'Conner and Harry Johnson, auto theft suspects, wanted at Portland, and Anthony Ureta, held for the theft of a bicycle here Sunday.

Rogers who has been in jail for the past three weeks, was arrested on a charge of stealing turkeys near Yoncalla. He is said to be suspected of similar crimes in Josephine county. Spatcher was arrested at Cottage Grove driving a car belonging to Fred Hoffmeister of this city. He was brought back to this city last week and bound over to the grand jury.

STATE GAME BODY ACTS ON LICENSE AND FISH AFFAIRS (Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—The State Game Commission today struck to its former decision to charge Washington residents $10 for hunting and $5 for angling in Oregon. This puts the matter squarely to the Washington officials to abide by the reciprocity clause on its non-resident game laws. The Washington act sets the non-resident charge at the amount of the fee charged its own residents in other states. If successful the Oregon charge will reduce the Washington non-resident fee about $10 so far as Oregon residents are concerned.

For Idaho residents the commission will charge $5 for hunting license and $10 for angling, the fees charged Oregon people in that state. Linton and Benson Lakes in the McKenzie Pass district and Thomas, Blyue and Crabtree creeks were opened to fishing. Their tributaries remain closed.

Days for the twice-a-week Chi-nese pheasant hunting schedule for eastern Oregon, were set for Saturday and Sunday, the Wednesday, and Sunday, and Wednesday thereafter during August.

The fish commission met with the game commission this afternoon.

CLIFFORD BROWN'S DEATH DUE TO CAPSIZING BOAT (Associated Press Leased Wire.) SEATTLE, June 13.—Return here today of the yacht, Westward, which Clifford Brown of Salem, Ore., had chartered from Campbell Church, of Eugene, Oregon, for a cruise in Alaskan waters, brought little additional information concerning the drowning of Brown, June 3, in Wolf River, in southeastern Alaska. Brown was drowned when a small outboard motorboat he was using in bear hunting struck a rock in Wolf river and capsized.

TRIO OF HUNTERS KILL COUGAR AT DAYS CREEK There is one less predatory cougar in southern Douglas county, the result of a special hunt for him by Dale Bonney of Drew and Delbert and Walter Poole of Days Creek. The animal was killed on the hill immediately back of the Poole place at Days Creek last Saturday and the carcass was brought to Roseburg today for the collection of a bounty of $25. For the past several months the cougar had been killing sheep and goats in the vicinity of Days Creek. Saturday evening the trio of hunters found his tracks and Mr. Bonney's hounds trailed him to a place near the remains of a freshly killed deer, from which the yamout had taken his last meal. A shot from Delbert Poole's rifle struck the cougar near the heart and made a quick finish of him. Stock raisers in the Days Creek region are relieved to know they are in no further danger of losses from the cougar.

FATHER LEAVES BABY IN MEDFORD, DOESN'T RETURN (Associated Press Leased Wire.) MEDFORD, Ore., June 13.—Ten days ago a man giving the name of B. Spence, Klamath Falls, left a six-weeks' old baby girl at the home of Mrs. J. B. Barnett, this city, and paid for a week's care, saying he would keep in touch with Mrs. Barnett and call for the infant at the end of that time.

Since then the man has not been seen or heard from. Mrs. Barnett has notified local authorities and believes the baby has been abandoned. The man was young, about 35 years of age, appeared much agitated, which Mrs. Barnett ascribed to the fact he said his wife was very ill, and a patient at a local hospital, while he was working in this city.

Investigation showed no woman by that name has been a patient at any local hospital, nor does any family of that name reside here. With the baby the man left two dilapidated and travel stained suitcases, containing baby's clothing, most of it soiled, but neither on the suitcases nor the clothes was any mark of identification.

The baby is described as very pretty and in perfect health, and Mrs. Barnett is planning to take care of it until the parents are found or a home somewhere is provided.

GREAT NORTHERN TO OPERATE OWN TRAIN FROM BEND (Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—The Great Northern railway plans to operate its own train over the new line in central Oregon from Bend to Klamath Falls, it has been indicated. Joint use of the Cascade line of the Southern Pacific company, agreed upon last week, and half interest in the Oregon, California and Eastern, will be taken in the name of the Great Northern. Traffic arrangements have been made whereby the Great Northern will operate its trains over the Spokane, Portland and Seattle and the Oregon Trunk, subsidiaries which it owns jointly with the Northern Pacific from Spokane to Bend.

Preparation for construction of 45 miles of new road, all that will be needed for the Klamath Falls extension, in view of the acquisition of the Shevlin-Hixon logging road south of Bend and the agreement for joint use of the Cascade line, are being made at headquarters of the Oregon Trunk here. Though no announcement has been made, it is generally believed that the contract will go to Hauser Construction company which has been doing preliminary work along the right of way of the new line.
