

STATE GROUPS TIMBER LANDS IN ONE BLOCK

Exchange With Government Gives Oregon
Forestry Laboratory.

DEAL STARTED IN 1912

School Fund Will Receive
Revenue for Timber Operations on Newly Obtained Lands.

The creation of a state forest in western Coos and Douglas counties through the exchange of isolated school tracts for government lands is a deal which will prove of great benefit to the state and to the government, it is believed. The deal is one that has been in process of negotiation since 1912 when the Oregon state board of forestry proposed to the government that exchanges between school and national forest lands be made so that holdings might be grouped into solid blocks.

To fully understand this transaction one must follow the history of the Oregon school lands. The state was given, through a federal grant, certain lands in each township to be used to maintain the public school system. As these lands were sold to private individuals or interests by the state the money went into the school fund. Gradually the better tracts were sold, leaving only the more inaccessible and poorer tracts still in the hands of the state. Then the government created its national forests and included within the forest boundaries were many of these school tracts, presenting an obstacle to timber sales, reforestation and general administration of the forests.

Several years ago the state legislature passed an act authorizing the exchange of state school lands for government lands of equal value. The state and forest service then decided upon the transfers, but these arose differences regarding appraisals and valuations. The world war then interrupted proceedings and for a few years the matter progressed no further.

Then the matter was again taken up, principally concerning lands located within the Siuslaw national forest. The government decided to give the state what is known as the Millcreek forest in exchange for the small tracts inside the Siuslaw national forest and this was agreed upon. This, however, brought another difficulty as the Millcreek forest was not all in one block, due to the fact that there were several pieces of O. & C. land mixed in. At two sessions of congress the matter was considered.

LINDY'S

NEA Service, Washington Bureau
One of the many decorations and honors to be bestowed upon Captain Lindbergh at Washington is the Smithsonian Institution's prized Langley Medal, for "aerodynamics." Lindy will be only the fifth recipient of this rare award.

and at the last session an act was passed whereby the exchange of O. & C. lands was approved on the same basis as forest lands.

The state is giving up 118 isolated and separate tracts of timber located in the Siuslaw national forest and adjacent to that reserve and is taking a solid block of timber covering 70,500 acres. The tract is divided almost equally between Douglas and Coos counties the north boundary being on the Umpqua river, while the western line roughly parallels the Pacific ocean about eight miles inland.

The formal application by the state forest shall be in the hands of the Oregon state board of forestry, while the technical management will be with the state school of forestry, maintained by the Oregon Agricultural college. Under these arrangements the state obtains the services of technical men to handle the forest management at a low cost, while the college will be furnished with a practical laboratory where experiments may be carried on under natural conditions and upon an unlimited scale. So far as is known there is no school of forestry in the world with such a forest upon which students may be trained.

The forest also offers an opportunity for considerable revenue to the state. It is estimated that about 1100 acres can be cut over yearly, giving an annual yield of almost one million board feet. The state may sell this timber and use the revenue for the school fund.

The lands embraced in this exchange are in townships 22, 23 and 24 south, range 11 west. The state change are in townships 22, 23 and 24 south, range 11 west. The state change are in townships 22, 23 and 24 south, range 11 west. The state change are in townships 22, 23 and 24 south, range 11 west.

It is possible that in the future exchanges of a like nature to consolidate government and state holdings that are now broken up as a result of isolated tracts, will be made.

NOTED CATERER DIES AFTER SIX YEARS' ILLNESS

(Continued from page 1.)

retired from politics in 1912 at his wife's request. He was a warm supporter of Theodore Roosevelt in the latter's Bull Moose campaign.

During the world war he executed several confidential missions for the emergency fleet corporation of the shipping board. National attraction was brought him when, in 1921, he advocated cessation of the manufacture and sale of pistols, offering $1,000 to any person who would show him "why they should be sold."

Frank Hals' "The Laughing Mandolin Player," for which he paid $250,000, topped his distinctive collection of canvases, chiefly paintings of the Italian Renaissance school. His art works were valued at nearly $1,000,000.

Extra good mop sticks 15c, at Powell's Furniture store.

Cottage cheese, Roseburg Dairy, Phone 185.

PRIZE CLOCK HELD BY LOCAL AGENCY

The General Petroleum company is offering to its agencies throughout the state a beautiful mahogany mantel clock as a prize for the best record during the year, and the prize is held this month by the Roseburg agency, R. L. Angst, manager.

The competition is based on sales, maintenance, accidents, etc., the percentage of which is computed each month. Previously the prize has been held by A. B. White, manager of the Pendleton agency, but was awarded to Mr. Angst for the record maintained by the local agency during the month of May. On each side of the clock is a silver plate with the months of the year and the name of the manager holding the prize for each month engraved thereon. At the end of the year the clock will become the property of the manager whose name appears the greatest number of times on these plates.

When you want bargains in beds, springs, mattresses. See us first and save money. Powell Furniture.

NEXT WEEK'S WEATHER

(Associated Press Licensed Wire.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The weather outlook for the week beginning June 19 was announced here today by the United States weather bureau as follows:

Far western states: The outlook is for generally fair weather with fog along the coast and unsettled considerably during the middle of the week in Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Temperatures will be somewhat above normal in the interior early in the week and normal thereafter.

Parabane Motor Oil 100 per cent pure paraffine base. At General Independent Dealers.

exchanges of a like nature to consolidate government and state holdings that are now broken up as a result of isolated tracts, will be made.

LOCAL NEWS

From Dillard—
Mrs. S. Sheridan, of Dillard, was in this city Friday afternoon visiting with friends and shopping.

Visitor Friday—
Mrs. Abner Rice, of Dillard, spent a few hours Friday in this city visiting with friends and shopping.

From Millwood—
Martin Rasmussen, of Millwood, spent Friday afternoon in this city visiting with friends and transacting business.

From Looking Glass—
Arthur Mullard, resident of Looking Glass, was in Roseburg attending to business interests and visiting on Friday.

On Business—
Geo. DeBernard, of Glendale, spent several hours in Roseburg Friday visiting with friends and looking after business affairs.

From Oakland—
Mr. Roy Miller, of Oakland, was in Roseburg Friday afternoon visiting with friends and attending to business affairs.

From Oakland—
James Dealing, of Oakland, was a Roseburg visitor Friday afternoon and was attending to business matters and trading.

From Hoaglin—
Mrs. N. Hatfield, of Hoaglin, was a visitor in Roseburg Friday, spending the afternoon with relatives and shopping.

Visitors Friday—
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilcox, residents of Oakland, were in Roseburg for several hours Friday visiting with friends and trading.

From Rice Hill—
Mrs. Irvin Rice, of Rice Hill, spent several hours Friday visiting with friends and attending to business matters in this city.

Washington Matron Visitor—
Mrs. Gladys Curtis, of Centralia, Washington, has been the guest of Mrs. W. R. Winkler at her home in this city for the past week.

To Anchor—
E. A. Betsow returned to Anchor yesterday afternoon after visiting and looking after business matters in this city during the day.

From Melrose—
Fred Johnson, of Melrose, was a visitor in Roseburg for a few hours yesterday and was trading and attending to business affairs.

Visitor Friday—
Mrs. H. C. Hirst, of Millwood, was in this city for a few hours on Friday attending to business matters and visiting with friends.

Return Anchor—
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Olinghouse returned to Anchor yesterday afternoon after spending the day in this city visiting with friends and shopping.

Back from Portland—
Dr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Bacher have returned from Portland where they spent the week visiting with friends and attending the Rose festival.

At Portland—
Miss Myrtle Hercher is spending several days in Portland, having gone to the metropolis to attend the Rose festival and visit with friends.

Visitor from South—
Miss Nevada Davenport, of Oakland, Oregon, formerly of this city, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harlan Moore, and with relatives at Edenhower for a few weeks.

Editor and Publisher Visits—
Ramsey Oppenheim, editor and publisher of Western Advertising, of San Francisco was a visitor in this city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Oppenheim was enroute to Portland to attend the convention of advertising men.

Visit at Golgert Home—
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Golgert had as guests at their home yesterday Henry Held and Lillian Fennell, of Lewiston, Idaho, old friends of the Golgert family when they also made their home at Lewiston. The party are enroute to Long Beach and other southern points.

Fine Showing Prunes—
Lou Knight, of Canyonville, has a fine crop of Date prunes this year and as proof of her claim she has placed on display at the News-Review office a prune branch upon which the prunes are already as large as good sized almonds and the branch is showing blossoms at the same time.

Couple Married Today—
But one marriage license was issued yesterday at the office of the county clerk. It was granted to John M. Pittrell of Roseburg and Miss Elsie F. Brown of Douglas county. The wedding was to be celebrated today at the home of the bridegroom's parents in this city, and a number of out of town guests came for the ceremony. Corvallis Gazette Times.

Leaving on Extended Trip—
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Page are leaving Sunday for Salem, where they will attend the Grand Encampment of the G. A. R. the coming week. Later they will go to Gladstone to visit, from that city on to Spokane, via Seattle, and to Garfield, where they will be guests of relatives. They plan later, providing Mr. Page's health permits, to go to the Dakotas and Minnesota to visit. They will be gone for several weeks.

From Elkton—
Miss Daniel of Elkton was an arrival here last evening to visit here for the day.

From Montana—
Mrs. L. M. Sorenson of Hardin, Montana, was the guest of Mrs. J. A. C. King at Coos Bay Junction this week.

Visitor Friday—
Mrs. Edna Sponaugle, of South Deer Creek, was in Roseburg yesterday for a few hours shopping and visiting with friends.

Motor to Eugene—
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gille, accompanied by Mrs. J. D. Osborn and Mrs. L. B. Riddle, motored to Eugene this morning to spend the day.

Here From Oakridge—
Mrs. H. McIntyre and daughter arrived this morning from Oakridge to visit with Mr. McIntyre today. They will go on to Ashland for Sunday.

From Eugene—
Mrs. Emma Weyer of Eugene has taken a position at King's station at Coos Junction for the summer.

Home From Festival—
Mrs. W. D. Miles returned this morning from Portland where she has been spending the week visiting friends and attending the Rose festival.

Returning Here Today—
Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bates and son, Ross, are expected to arrive here late this afternoon from Portland. Mr. Bates has been attending the week there with his family and they will probably remain here for a time visiting.

Accepts Position Here—
J. R. Fisher and family have arrived in Roseburg from Vancouver, Wash., to remain permanent. Mr. Fisher will be sales manager of the California Oregon Power company electric store here. He is an experienced electrical dealer and comes to the Coosco organization well recommended.

Maud Ragan Here—
Miss Maud Ragan, formerly of Roseburg who has for the past year been teaching in the Portland public schools, arrived here this morning and will visit for a few days at the home of her niece, Mrs. V. S. French, before going on to Ashland, where she will take a summer course at the Southern Oregon Normal school.

Picnic at Idlewild Park.

GREAT OVATION GIVEN LINDY IN HIS HOME CITY

(Continued from page 1.)

were as hysterical as the women in their rushing hero worship.

The women who did not join the rush shrieked joyfully and waved handkerchiefs and men tossed their hats into the field.

Dwight Davis, himself a St. Louisan, secretary of war; Assistant Secretary of War McCracken, Mayor Miller and army and navy officers awaited Lindbergh in the hotel's court yard. With its start there, the parade route lay thru deep lines of shouting humanity in Lindell Boulevard, Locust street, Twentieth street, Washington avenue, Fourth street, Olive, Twelfth and back to Locust, with a halt at the Coronado Hotel for luncheon. In the reviewing stand near the Coronado Hotel 15,000 persons, admitted by ticket only, waited to see the only formality of the parade—the induction of Lindbergh into the Boy Scouts, as an honorary member of troop 2, the oldest in St. Louis.

Murray Yabell, 15, was chosen to administer the Scout oath.

Joseph Gehardt, 14, of troop 2, got his 63rd honor when he was selected to present the new Boy Scout with a Scout knife engraved "To Scout Lindbergh from the Boy Scouts of St. Louis." Gehardt wears 62 badges, St. Louis' record.

"Lindbergh Co." Explained
NEW YORK, June 18.—Charles E. Lindbergh, a Cleveland fireman, is named one of the incorporators of an aeronautical company with which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has denied any connection. Attention was directed to the Lindbergh Aeronautics Corporation by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce which asked the William J. Burns International Detective Agency to investigate the company.

"The flyer," said R. W. Budd, manager of the Burns Agency, referring to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, "asked us to issue a formal denial that he had any connection with the company."

But said that immediately after Lindbergh had made this request on Thursday he went to the dinner of the aeronautical chamber of commerce. There he issued general warning against wild aeronautical schemes.

To Lunch Stock Sale
The agency's investigation Budd explained, was the result of a wire from Gertrude Casaway, manager of the Wilmington Chamber, stating that Vincent Dudas, of Cleveland had announced that he would launch a campaign to sell $10,000,000 worth of stock in the Lindbergh company.

Budd said Casaway quoted Dudas as saying Colonel Lindbergh had no connection with the company then, but was expected to come in, shortly. Budd said the two Lindberghs were not related. The incorporators were W. M. Fisher, A. C. Kearney, F. F. Lunt and Eugene Bailey of Cleveland.

Try our buttermilk—it's different. Roseburg Dairy, Phone 185.

MAKES IMPROVEMENT AT JUNCTION STATION

Jack King, owner of King's Service Station at Coos Bay Junction has recently completed improvements to the value of $1,000 on his buildings there. Starting a few years ago with a small service station the business has grown to a large store and confectionery, with all service station supplies and auto accessories for sale, with a repair shop in an adjoining building. In the store, which carries quite a large stock, a refrigerating plant has been installed. Stages bound for Coos Bay meet north and south bound stages there now, and the junction presents a lively appearance at times.

Eat barbecue sandwiches and live forever. Brand's Road Stand.

A new cherry stoner just at hand. To introduce, we have priced at 25 cts. each. With these we also received a sample shipment of larger stoners of a retail value of $1.50. As crop is short and as shipment is late in delivery we will offer these for this season only, at $1.00. These latter stone two cherries at one operation—get one now as offer will not be repeated.

Churchill Hdw. Co.

Rules Rotarians

Arthur H. Sapp, of Huntington, Ind., new president of the International Rotary. His election was the outstanding feature of the annual Rotarian foregathering at Ostend, Belgium.

Picnic at Idlewild Park.

GREAT OVATION GIVEN LINDY IN HIS HOME CITY

(Continued from page 1.)

were as hysterical as the women in their rushing hero worship.

The women who did not join the rush shrieked joyfully and waved handkerchiefs and men tossed their hats into the field.

Dwight Davis, himself a St. Louisan, secretary of war; Assistant Secretary of War McCracken, Mayor Miller and army and navy officers awaited Lindbergh in the hotel's court yard. With its start there, the parade route lay thru deep lines of shouting humanity in Lindell Boulevard, Locust street, Twentieth street, Washington avenue, Fourth street, Olive, Twelfth and back to Locust, with a halt at the Coronado Hotel for luncheon. In the reviewing stand near the Coronado Hotel 15,000 persons, admitted by ticket only, waited to see the only formality of the parade—the induction of Lindbergh into the Boy Scouts, as an honorary member of troop 2, the oldest in St. Louis.

Murray Yabell, 15, was chosen to administer the Scout oath.

Joseph Gehardt, 14, of troop 2, got his 63rd honor when he was selected to present the new Boy Scout with a Scout knife engraved "To Scout Lindbergh from the Boy Scouts of St. Louis." Gehardt wears 62 badges, St. Louis' record.

"Lindbergh Co." Explained
NEW YORK, June 18.—Charles E. Lindbergh, a Cleveland fireman, is named one of the incorporators of an aeronautical company with which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has denied any connection. Attention was directed to the Lindbergh Aeronautics Corporation by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce which asked the William J. Burns International Detective Agency to investigate the company.

"The flyer," said R. W. Budd, manager of the Burns Agency, referring to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, "asked us to issue a formal denial that he had any connection with the company."

But said that immediately after Lindbergh had made this request on Thursday he went to the dinner of the aeronautical chamber of commerce. There he issued general warning against wild aeronautical schemes.

To Lunch Stock Sale
The agency's investigation Budd explained, was the result of a wire from Gertrude Casaway, manager of the Wilmington Chamber, stating that Vincent Dudas, of Cleveland had announced that he would launch a campaign to sell $10,000,000 worth of stock in the Lindbergh company.

Budd said Casaway quoted Dudas as saying Colonel Lindbergh had no connection with the company then, but was expected to come in, shortly. Budd said the two Lindberghs were not related. The incorporators were W. M. Fisher, A. C. Kearney, F. F. Lunt and Eugene Bailey of Cleveland.

Try our buttermilk—it's different. Roseburg Dairy, Phone 185.

MRS. CHARLES HEINLINE

Teacher of Piano and Harmony

Studio Open All Summer During Morning Hours.

Rooms 1 and 2 Kohlhaugen Bldg. Res. Phone 626-R
Phone 390

Going to Can Some Berries?

We have the choicest strawberries obtainable. Phone us and say how many crates you can use.

Better order sugar now, too.

ECONOMY GROCERY

"The Store That Serves You Best"

344 N. Jackson St. Phone 63
O. L. Johnson

DIRECTORS

W. F. Harris, Pres. A. G. Sutherland, H. O. Pargeter,
Henry Harth, Vice-Pres. Sec'y-Treasurer,
Joseph McCall

Douglas Abstract Co.

Incorporated

CAPITAL $25,000.00

Abstracts, Blue Prints, Farm Loans, City Loans,
Title Insurance.

OPEN EVENINGS

THE PIONEER DRUG STORE

Is Now Open Evenings
During The Summer

Our new Frigidaire Fountain with our delicious home made Ice Cream and Syrups enables us to give you the best there is.

W. R. SIEG, Prop.

TEX EXPECTS $2,000,000 ON BOUTS THIS SUMMER

Rickard Has Leading Fighters Signed For Outdoor Scraps

NEW YORK, June 17.—Wherever there's gold you'll find a good miner.

A long, long time ago a smart fellow named Snookum Jim made a strike on Bonanza Creek out in the Klondike. He had a pal named Tex, who didn't amount to shucks as a panhandler. But Tex opened the biggest gambling house north of 53 and became famed as keeper of the "Northern" saloon.

But deep down in his heart, Tex longed to be a successful miner like his pal, Snookum Jim. He dealt cards, raked in chips and bought whiskey in wholesale lots for many a year.

Then one day he made a strike. He mined a nifty little bit of gold out in, appropriately enough, Goldfield, Nevada. He promoted the Gans-Nelson fight and drew down a lot of pay dirt.

"There's gold in them thar boxing bills," mused Tex, whose last name was Rickard.

This summer, to bring our little yarn up to date, this miner is swinging his pick into the juiciest season of bouts the boxing world has ever seen.

He will take in, he says, more than $2,000,000 in receipts.

He has certain nose-busters lined up, among whom are Jack Delaney, Mike McTigue, Jim McInerney, Jack Sharkey, Pauline Vaccaro, not to mention Champion Gene Tunney, who will draw a steady stream of dollars into the claims he has staked out in wooden rooms.

During his life, Rickard estimates he has taken in more than $10,000,000 in boxing receipts alone.

Fifteen of his fights have drawn gates of more than $150,000, 11 more than $200,000, nine more than $250,000, six more than $300,000, four more than $500,000, three more than $1,000,000, and one twice that sum.

More than half of these receipts have been clear profits.

The velvet in other sports has been nearly as high. The last six-day bike race, for instance, drew receipts of $400,000 and his "expenses were only $100,000.

Because Tex has been such a

TEX
RICKARD

RAISED IT FROM A LITTLE SEED

$2,000,000 FIGHT ALONG competent miner, his associates in the Madison Square Garden corporation gave him a big testimonial dinner at the Commodore here May 16.

Famous figures in finance, politics, the professions, sports, all kinds of notables were there.

Snookum Jim made mining history in the Klondike.

He was a piker compared to his pal, Tex.

Sending Old Golds By Express To Coast

The unprecedented response to advertising on Old Gold Cigarettes in the Pacific Coast territory made it necessary to express a solid carload of O. Gs. in order to keep the trade supplied, pending the arrival of solid cars by freight. This movement almost constituted a time record, for the express car was unloaded in San Francisco the fourth day after leaving New York City.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

J. R. WILLIAMS

©1927 C. A. NEA SERVICE, INC.