Chicken Croquettes

A Tested Recipe

2 cups chopped cold chicken
2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
Few grains nutmeg
2 tablespoons water
1 egg
1 cup very thick white sauce
¾ cup fine bread crumbs

Put chicken through meat grinder. Add celery, nutmeg and hot White Sauce, and mix well. Season more if necessary. Chill. Form into croquettes or cutlets. Roll in crumbs, dip in slightly beaten egg diluted with water, and roll again in crumbs. Fry in deep hot Crisco (375 to 400 degrees F.) about 5 minutes. Drain on unglazed paper. (½ cup chopped cooked mushrooms may be added to this recipe if desired.)

WHITE SAUCE

2 tablespoons Crisco
4 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
¾ teaspoon salt

Melt Crisco, add flour, salt and pepper and mix well. Add milk slowly and bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly to avoid lumping. Place over hot water until ready to use.

(All measurements level)

In frying with Crisco, notice that Crisco never smokes or makes an unpleasant odor at proper frying temperature. Notice, too, how beautifully Crisco fries—the foods are crisp, golden brown outside; tender, digestible and well-cooked inside. And remember that Crisco alone meets your every need of a shortening and cooking fat. It is just the thing for light, tender cakes, fluffy biscuits, flaky pie crust and dainty desserts.

To test your cooking fat—taste it.
Crisco's sweet flavor will astonish you.

Crisco is the trade-mark for a superior shortening manufactured and guaranteed purely vegetable by The Procter & Gamble Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, U. S. A.

DOUGLAS PARK RABBITRY WILL ERECT BUILDINGS

Sutherlin Rabbit Farm to Have Three New Structures in Immediate Future.

SUTHERLIN, June 27.—W. D. Valentine, who returned here last week from a business trip to Southern California, where he inspected several large rabbitries, appears more enthusiastic than ever over the possibilities of the rabbit industry on the Pacific coast and is now arranging for the construction of three additional rabbitry buildings on the Douglas Park Stock Ranch. One of these buildings, for young stock, will be 18x150 feet in size while the other two will be 22x250 feet each. When these buildings are completed Sutherlin will have the largest rabbitry on the Pacific coast, and the industry promises much for the future of this community.

The Douglas Park Stock Ranch, a portion of which lies within the corporate limits of the city of Sutherlin, comprises 2000 acres and was formerly owned by F. B. Waite. It was purchased some two years ago by W. D. Valentine and F. G. Hogan with a view of utilizing the property for raising thoroughbred horses, cattle, sheep and other stock. For this purpose some fine horses were brought in, including the well known Percheron stallion, "Black Dupont," No. 173685, and five handsome registered dapple grey mares, known as "Garranza," No. 56609, "Julia," No. 173219, "Queen Esther," No. 171217, "Gertrude," No. 145825, and "Katherine," No. 145836.

Several months ago Messrs. Valentine and Hogan decided to include the rabbit industry as an additional feature of the ranch, and acting on this decision two buildings were constructed in which approximately five hundred thoroughbred rabbits are now housed. These include the following varieties, many of which are large in size and all having very attractive fur: White Flemish Giants—Royal Ermine strain; Black Flemish Giants, Sandy Flemish Giants, Steel Flemish Giants, New Zealand White, New Zealand Red, American Silver, American Blue Lilacs, Chinchilla, Spotted Giants, Himalayans, Silver Fox.

While the rabbit industry has been conducted in European countries for many years, it is comparatively new in the United States, where it is growing with great rapidity. Europeans have long been using rabbit meat as a staple article of food, but in America it is just coming into popularity, and is pronounced superior to chicken by epicureans. As illustrating the remarkable growth of rabbit meat as a staple article of food, a report from Los Angeles shows that while residents of that city consumed only 350 rabbits a day in 1920, this number had increased to 3500 a day in 1295. The demand for rabbit meat is now so great in various sections of the country that the supply does not begin to keep pace with the calls of the market.

American furriers are now importing over fifty million dollars' worth of rabbit furs each year from European countries and are turning the skins into imitations of seal, beaver, fox lynx, muskrat, wolf and many other varieties of furs which go on the market at high prices. Over sixty varieties of furs are manufactured from rabbit skins.

While Mr. Valentine is giving his personal attention to the rabbitry and other affairs at the Douglas Park stock ranch, his partner, Mr. Hogan, is looking after a large rabbitry at Alta Loma, Calif., in which he has $200,000 invested.

GOBBLERS MAKE PLANS FOR RODEO AND CELEBRATION

The Oakland Gobblers are completing the preparations for the annual Fourth of July celebration and rodeo to be held July 2, 3 and 4. The Gobblers, Oakland's booster club, have provided a real entertainment for this occasion, there being a daily program of riding, roping, bucking, races, athletic contests, etc., with dancing in the evening. Band concerts will be offered throughout each day, and on the 4th there will be a fine patriotic program in the morning. Several carloads of wild, unbroken horses are being brought in from Eastern Oregon to furnish material for exhibitions of bucking. There are also many fast horses being imported for the racing program.

MAJOR LEAGUE — RESULTS —

(By The Associated Press.)

Pitted against the runner-up clubs in red hot duels, the leaders of both Major leagues today were hauling out out all their hitting howitzers to hold the fort.

Lou Gehrig's 22nd home run helped the Yankees take the second half of a double header yesterday from their challengers, the Athletics, 7 to 3 after losing the first game, 4 to 3. Babe Ruth was out of the line-up with an injured knee and Gehrig's slam carried him to within striking distance of the big Bam's homer total of 24.

In the other headline battle of the day, the pirates loosed a terrific batting barrage that riddled the Cardinals, 9 to 3. The Pirates needed the victory as they had but a slim half game advantage over the Cardinals.

After beating the Pirates Saturday the Cubs fell victim to the last place Reds, when Luque pitched an 8 to 5 victory despite poor support. Connally's tight relief pitching marked the 9 to 7 decision for the White Sox over the Tigers.

The Giants fell before the Robins 7 to 1, Uncle Robbie's men threatening to pass them in the standings.

GeorgeUhle, of the Indians, bested Stewart of the Browns in a 2 to 0 pitchers' battle at Cleveland. Buckeye was less successful in the second game of the double bill, being batted from the box as the Browns won, 8 to 3.

Buddy Myer, traded this year to the Red Sox, turned on his former team mates at Washington and slammed out a homer, double and single, but the Carrigan clan lost out 8 to 7.

COAST LEAGUE — RESULTS —

(By The Associated Press.)

Oakland split a pair of pitching battles yesterday with Portland, the Acorns copping the first, 4-1, and the Beavers the second, 3-1.

The latter kicked five chances behind Larry French in the first encounter to spoil the youthful southpaw's pitching efforts. Krause opposing him, allowed eight scattered hits and whacked out a homer and a single. Batteries: First game: Krause and Bool; French, Tomlin, Kinney and Fischer, Yelle. Second Game: Craghead and Read; Ponder and Yelle.

San Francisco climbed into second place by downing the struggling Missions twice, 5 to 2 and 6 to 3. Batteries, first game: Lasley and Walters, Whitney; May and McCrea. Second game: Ludolph, Pillette, Weinert and Whitney; Mitchell and Rego.

Slamming a quartet of Solon hurlers for 37 hits, Seattle copped two lop-sided contests from Sacramento, 12-3, and 17-3. Batteries, first game: Vinci, Shea and Koehler; Graham and Jenkins. Second game: Keefe, Keating and Koehler; Knight and Schmidt, Borreani.

Los Angeles took the odd game of the series from Hollywood by winning a pair of one-sided frays, 16-2, and 8-1. Batteries, first game: Shellenback, A. Jacobs and D. Murphy; Wright and Hannah, Walby. Second game: Fullerton, McCabe, Mulcahy, and Cook, Agnew; Weathersby and Walby, Sandberg.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK—Water is to be turned into wine at Columbia University—into champagne, sherry and port—if claims made in behalf of two Belgian visitors are correct. Having promised to destroy their product, C. Brutaeye, a lawyer and George Vingerhoets, steamship officer, have obtained permission of prohibition authorities to demonstrate in the university's chemical laboratories a secret substance which, combined with water and sugar, it is asserted, makes wine of one per cent alcohol in three days and 13 per cent in 39 days.

SPOKANE—It cost half a million to put the De Autremont brothers behind the bars. Their pictures girdled the globe on more than 3,000,000 posters, and there were other expenses. The United States, the American Express and Southern Pacific paid for the man hunt.

NEW YORK—The inferiority complex of some college students is being studied by the Rockfeller Foundation. Says its annual report: "A number of students, the pride of fond parents and the heroes of small towns, suffer acutely from a feeling of inferiority and failure in a large university setting." The foundation considers it the task of the mental specialist to help such a student get adjusted to his new life.

BROCKTON, Mass.—Watt Terry, negro, was an assistant janitor of the Y. M. C. A. a dozen years ago. Today he owns real estate here and in the Harlem section of New York estimated to be valued at $2,000,000. His life is insured for $545,000.

DRY OFFICERS WHO MADE ERROR MUST PAY NEGRO $100

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., June 25.—One hundred dollars damages were awarded William Timms, colored bootblack today, against three prohibition officers who raided Timms' home last August.

Timms had sued for $50,000 damages. Defendants were Federal Prohibition Officer L. O. Shirley, and ex-county prohibition officers C. H. Bennett and Jo Swindler.

Testimony revealed that the officers had raided the wrong house.

Timms has resided in Klamath Falls 25 years.

POLA'S HUSBAND TO SUE MAN WHO ASSAILED TITLE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 27—The Times says a sheet of paper which Prince Serge M'Divani, husband of Pola Negri, Polish film star, declares is the key to other documents which prove he is a real prince was sent by him to New York Saturday as the opening shot in a pending battle which he believes will force retraction of abuse he asserts has been heaped upon his title.

He declared that within a week he would file suit in New York asking $100,000 for damages which he said he received at the hands of J. R. Quirk, publisher of a motion picture magazine, who called him a "nobleman with a questionable title."

The paper which M'Divani exhibited to reporters, and which he says is but one of the many documents that prove him to be a real prince, purports to show that the title "prince" first entered the M'Divani family in 1752, having been bestowed upon one Sblomon M'Divani by Tsa Irakly II, "for services rendered." Further record of the title, the paper says, is found in the collection of the Georgian society of history and ethnography, volume 1, Tiflis, 1909. The document exhibited by M'Divani came from the Georgian legation in Paris and is dated, November 13, 1925.

While the film star's husband began action to prove his rights to title, former compatriots of both he and his father openly took issue with the prince and declared that while the M'Divanis are of noble birth, they are not of the titled nobility and that the title was unheard of in their own country.

Close the Nestucca to Nets

Vote 322 X YES, on the Nestucca Fish Closing Bill

One of Oregon's important assets is the pleasure of outdoor life.

To protect these assets it is necessary to conserve the fish in our streams.

The Nestucca River is the most accessible and popular stream in the northwestern part of the state.

The use of nets in this stream threatens extermination of salmon and steelhead trout.

The catch taken by commercial fishermen is steadily decreasing.

The 1926 catch was 100,000 pounds less than that of the previous year.

Let us save the stream before the fish are all destroyed.

The Nestucca river belongs to all the people of the state and not to a small commercial group who are destroying a valuable state property.

In licenses the state received only $663.75 in 1926 from the commercial group on the Nestucca River.

The poundage tax paid the state in 1926 was only $1903.69.

It has cost the state far more to enforce the law than it has received in fees.

On the other hand, the tourist travel of residents and visitors results in millions of dollars being spent annually in Oregon.

Let us encourage and develop tourist attractions rather than destroy them.

Bill will appear on the Ballot Title as follows:

NESTUCCA BAY FISH CLOSING BILL—Purpose: to prohibit the taking or fishing for salmon or other food fish in Nestucca Bay and its tributaries at any time by any means whatsoever, except with hook and line, commonly called angling. 322 X YES—I vote for the proposed law.
